DAMP BUT BEAUTIFUL WEATHER

Hayakawa To Bare Decision Tomorrow

College's Vice President Resigns To Clear Decks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — New acting president S. I. Hayakawa of embattled San Francisco State College is expected to announce a major decision tomorrow. Regardless of what it is, a violent reaction is anticipated.

If the famed semanticist orders the 18,000-student campus reopened Monday, radical blacks and whites are expected to intensify a general strike which has resulted in violence and virtually idled the campus for the past three weeks.

Dr. DeVere Pentony announced today his resignation as deputy president of the troubled state college.

He said he acted so new acting president Hayakawa "should be free to choose his own administrative staff."

STAYS AS DEAN

If Hayakawa postpones the opening, he is sure to draw the ire of the State College Board of Trustees, which appointed him Tuesday after accepting the resignation of President Robert Smith.

Smith was criticized by the trustees and State College Chancellor Glenn Dumke and Gov. Ronald Reagan for closing the campus after a brief melee between militant students and city police.

Hayakawa was scheduled to spend most of today at San Francisco State in closed sessions with attorneys to discuss Wednesday's order by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court that Hayakawa open the campus Monday or appear before him to explain why the campus should remain closed.

The order was the result of a suit filed Wednesday by John Frederick Craemer of Greenbrae on behalf of himself and other students at the strike-bound college. See also page 23.)

Hayakawa was also scheduled to meet with Mayor Joseph Alioto today and to confer with deans and department heads in preparation for tomorrow's scheduled announcement of plans for reopening the campus.

The remainder of the day Hayakawa said he will spend writing a speech for tomorrow's 11 a.m. press conference at the Lake Merced campus.

STRIKE'S CAUSE

The student strike was called by the Black Students Union following the suspension of Black Panther George Murray as a parttime English instructor for urging minorities to carry guns on campus as protection against "racist administrators."

The BSU and another minority group, the Third World Liberation Front, has since made 15 demands designed to give minorities on campus a far greater share in determining the shape of their own educations. They describe the demands as "non-negotiable."

GUARD NEEDED?

Faculty members, some of whom have supported the student strike, fear that regardless of what Hayakawa's decision may be, the presence of police —and possibly National Guardsmen—is inevitable.

But radical students claim it will take more than a token force of National Guardsmen to keep the campus buildings open.

"They'll need a soldier every five feet in the corridor," said one.

Viet Cong Ready Terrorism Sweep

HONG KONG (AP) — The Viet Cong today ordered a new guerrilla and terrorist offensive against American and South Vietnamese units and officials.

Issued in the name of the military high command of the Viet Cong's liberation armed forces, the order was beamed to South Vietnam by Radio Hanoi and monitored in Hong Kong.

American - South Vietnamese pacification teams working in rural farm and village areas in an attempt to win peasants and villagers over to the Saigon government.

American and combined American - South Vietnamese search-and-destroy units which it said were moving deeper afield and "destroying our villages and occuping our areas."

The order was addressed to the Viet Cong's regular troops, guerrilla units, and "semi-armed" units. The latter are underground units that function as farmers by day and fight by night.

"The military high command," the order declared, "calls upon all the units of the main forces army, the regional army, the guerrilla forces, and the semiarmed units to make certain that the above orders are strictly obeyed in order to obtain greater and more glorious victories for our people."

The command promised to "reward those units and individuals who make outstanding achievements in carrying out these orders."

The command also ordered its military and civilian infiltration

B52s Pound Corridors Into Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—In their heaviest raids around Saigon in a month, U.S. B52s dropped at least a million pounds of bombs yesterday and today onto Communist infiltration corridors toward the capital, most of them from Cambodia.

A semiofficial Cambodian news magazine meantime confirmed that allied commanders have been saying for months—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers are bivouacked in Cambodia, free from American bombs and troops.

The disclosure in the Nov. 22 issue of Realites Cambodiennes said six North Vietnamese soldiers had been captured in Cambodia and were turned over to the Viet Cong emissary in Phnom Penh, the capital.

Ten formations of three to 12 B52s pounded Communist nests around Saigon where allied soldiers listed 511 guerrillas slain since Monday, U.S. headquarters said.

Five of the raids centered in Bien Hoa and Long Binh provinces north of the capital, home of a major U.S. Air Force base and headquarters for the U.S. Army in Vietnam. The other strikes ranged along the Cambodian frontier northwest of Saigon and the Mekong Delta to the Southeast.

U.S. military intelligence pinpointed at least 30,000 Communist soldiers gathered on the Cambodian border last month and sent the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division to help break

U.N. Doors Closed To Keep Out Students

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. guards temporarily closed the public gates and stood armed with clubs today to block several thousand protesting New York high school pupils from entering U.N. headquarters.

The pupils had been milling about in the area for several hours, protesting the decision by school authorities to keep schools open the day after Thanksgiving. Holiday time off has been curtailed in order to make up ground lost in the recent teachers' strike.

Hanoi Charges U.S. Of Bomb Violations

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam charged today the United States carried out new bombing attacks deep in its territory yesterday and demanded an end of what it said "were acts of war."

American comment on the North Vietnamese charge was not immediately available.

Reports from Saigon have carried no mention of bombing attacks north of the demilitariztd Zone dividing North and South Vietnam.

A spokesman for Hanoi's delegation at the Paris peace talks asserted the American bombings had occurred for the third straight day yesterday.

"The United States' acts of war are in violation of national sovereignty and security of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam," he said.

The spokesman charged that three F4 jets of the U.S. Air Force dropped explosives and fragmentation bombs on four villages and hamlets in the Province of Quang Binh. One of the villages attacked, he said, is more than 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

The United States has claimed the right to send planes, under armed escort, over North Vietnam for reconnaissance. It also has warned the North Vietnamese that U.S. authorities will not hesitate to defend Americans imperiled by hostile actions or to go to the rescue of the crews of downed aircraft.

Regardless of that dispute, the spokesman asserted the Americans attecked yesterday and the action was in no way connected with rescue operations.

"We protest against these acts of war, and we demand that they be stopped," the spokesman said in a statement issued by the North Vietnamese delegation to the Peace talks.

Meanwhile the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front issued a statement saying: "If the United States wants to settle the South Vietnamese problem by peaceful means, it should start conversations with the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam ... The puppet administration of Saigon, which is only an instrument in the service of American aggression, represents nobody."

The Front reiterated its stand that it had agreed to take part

Middle East Mission Set For Scranton

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon announced today he will send former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton on a nine-day fact-finding mission next week to Israel and five other Middle East nations.

The announcement was made through spokesman Ron Ziegler, who said Scranton would leave New York Monday and would meet with chiefs of state, heads of government and top officials in Iran, Lebanon, the United Arab Republic, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Israel.

Through diplomatic channels, Nixon wired heads of all the governments involved asking them to receive Scranton "and give him a full and frank exposition of your views of the situation in your country and the region as a whole."

Ziegler said the Scranton mission "will be reportorial in nature" and that the former governor would report promptly to Nixon upon returning to New York Dec. 11.

In his wire to government leaders, Nixon said the trip was being made "in preparation for my administration."

Inasmuch as Scranton made a similar journey to Western Europe at Nixon's behalf during the presidential campaign, the new assignment strengthened speculation that Scranton might eventually emerge as Nixon's secretary of state or ambassador to the United Nations—jobs the Pennsylvanian has said he does not want.

Location Of Cleaver Still Remains Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The whereabouts of Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, sought for three days as a parole violator, remained a mystery today to law enforcement agencies.

Cleaver, 33, was shadowed by plainclothesmen off and on for months while he was free pending appeals on an order which would return him to prison.

But he failed to surrender Wednesday as ordered, and has been listed as a fugitive by the California Adult Authority since that time.

Cleaver was paroled from prison in 1966, after serving nine years of a 13-year sentence for assault and rape. He detailed the crimes in a best selling book, "Soul on Ice."

His parole was canceled last April when Cleaver was wounded and a 17-year-old Black Panther was killed in a gun battle with Oakland police. The latest of a series of appeals, grounds the parole was revoked because of his political beliefs, was denied Tuesday by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Black Panther minister of information also faces trial on assault charges, from which he is free on bail, in connection with the Oakland shootout.

Authorities said Cleaver was not at the house here where he lived with his wife, Kathleen. But the house contained armor plate and several shotgun-bearings Black Panthers, who said they were protecting Mrs. Cleaver.

Cleaver was quoted as saying, "I'd rather be shot down in the street" than go back to San Quentin prison.

A Stockholm newspaper said he may be trying to seek asylum in Sweden as "a political refugee." Other speculation has placed him in Canada, New York and Cuba.

Freezing Weather Hits Nothern Italy

BRESCIA, Italy (AP) — Freezing weather and fog covered northern Italy yesterday and helped trigger a 100-car chain collision on the Bergamo-Brescia highway that killed three persons and injured 20 others.

Visbility was limited to a few yards when the collisions started between the towns of Grumello and Seriate. Police closed the highway to avert more pileups.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Youth Alive?

BERLIN (AP) — A youth who was believed killed when two mines exploded near the Berlin Wall Monday is alive and cared for in an East German hospital, the official Communist news agency ADN claimed yesterday.

Bavarian police had said the youth screamed, "I have no more legs," after two mines exploded. They assumed he was an East German fleeing to the West and said the East Germans left him to bleed to death.

ADN said the youth, identified as Guenther Oppermann, 16, was a West German. It denied reports that the youth had been allowed to bleed to death, saying he was "immediately given first aid by border troops."

Second Wave

SEOUL (AP) — A second group of North Korean commandos is believed to have slipped ashore on South Korea's eastern coast, following 60 guerrillas who landed there Nov. 2 military sources said today.

Of the 60 who landed first, 54 have been killed and five captured.

Evidence found in sweeping operations indicates more Communist infiltrators might have sneaked into the mountainous coastal area south of here the sources said.

South Korean military officials said the manhunt along the Eastern coast would continue "for some time on this assumption."

Salazar On Mend

LISBON (UPI)—Former Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar could be released from a hospital where he has been recovering from a nassive stroke in from two to three weeks, hospital sources said yesterday.

The Staten Island ferry service began in 1713.

A Rare Wine

LONDON (AP) Seven half bottles of Tokay Essence, a rare wine supposed to revive the dying, sold at auction yesterday for $204 each. All went to an anonymous buyer.

One of the sellers was Dennis Wheatley, writer of thrillers, who acquired his two bottles, vintage 1868 and 1906, from the cellars of the King of Saxony before World War I.

The wine is sweet and greenish in color. It was made in a small region of Hungary from grapes dried in the sun.

Michael Broadbent, wine expert at Christies Auctioners, said: "It's said that the life of one of the popes was prolonged for six weeks by small doses sent by the Emperor Franz Joseph. I don't know if it is still being made."

Prince Threat

CAERNARVON, Wales (AP) — Police are investigating a threat to kill Prince Charles, whose July 1 investiture ceremony as Prince of Wales in ancient Caernarvon Castle has been threatened with sabotage by home rule extremists.

Queen Elizabeth II asked the Home Office last summer to provide a security guard for the 20-year-old prince. It is said to be stronger than Secret Service protection for a U.S. president.

Scotland Yard has assigned a special detective force to investigate the risks to Charles in the investiture ceremony and at the University of Aberystwyth, where he will take a crash course in the Welsh language and Welsh affairs next April.

Twins Separated

TOKYO (AP) —Twin 13-day-old sisters joined at the abdomen and the heart area were successfully separated yesterday in Hanoi, the Vietnam News Agency reported today.

The operation was conducted at the Vietnamese-German Friendship Hospital by two surgical teams directed by Prof. Ton That Tung, ADN said.

One of the Siamese twins was doing well seven hours after the operation, the agency reported. "But the other, whose cyanosis had worsened and required urgent operation, is in less satisfactory condition," it said.

Cyanosis is caused by insufficient oxygen which turns the skin a bluish color.

Water Tank Collapse Kills Three Workmen

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Three workmen were killed today when a huge water tank collapsed at a 10-story building under construction in downtown Buenos Aires.

The 40,000-gallon tank, being installed, fell to street level and tore loose huge chunks of the building as it fell. Several nearby buildings and two cars were damaged, but none of their occupants was injured.

New Jersey Jail Inmates Lock Up Guards, Escape

LAKELAND, N. J. (AP) — Six prisoners described as possibly dangerous overpowered two guards early today and escaped from the Camden County Prison Annex.

Authorities said the guards, Charles Mellon and Eugene Evans, were handcuffed inside the medium security cellblock. They were reported not seriously hurt.

Warden Charles Galasso said one of the prisoners who had been ill feigned sickness and Mellon brought him some prescription medicine. Mellon was overpowered and the noise attracted the second guard. Evans, who also was subdued.

The escape was reported when another inmate heard the shouts of one of the imprisoned guards. The inmate called a Lakeland operator on an emergency telephone, Galasso said. A Lakeland police officer, responding to the call, found the locked up guards, he said.

Galasso said the six escapees "may be dangerous."

He gave their names as Jay Carpenter, 23, of Williamstown, N. J., Charles Long, 30, Camden, Francis Mahon, 24, Philadelphia, Mearle Miller, 20, Camden, Alvin Parker, 24, Albion, N. J., and Stanley Roberts, 20, Camden.

Miller had been convicted on a charge of receiving stolen property, Galasso said, and Carpenter was awaiting grand jury action on an extortion charge.

He said the other four were awaiting trial-Roberts and Mahon on charges of braking and entering, Long on a larceny charge and Parker "on several criminal charges."

The prison annex, located 14 miles southeast of Camden, is mainly a minimum security institution. Inmates serve on work details at various county institutions in the area. Those who escaped were among the few confined to medium security, authorities said.

Harvest End Does Not Ease Strike

DELANO (AP) — The grape harvest ended in California but there has been no slackening of activity in the labor dispute that has plagued the rich vineyards of the San Joaquin Valley for four years.

Cesar Chavez' AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee is continuing its boycott of California table grapes. The growers, on the other hand, are girding for the next round of the struggle that will begin with the 1969 harvest.

The committee announced last week plans to step up boycott activity in an effort to cut into holiday sales of stores that have refused to take grapes from the shelves.

MORE PICKETS

Union officials say plans call for establishment of informational picket lines around stores as well as appeals to members of other unions not to buy grapes.

The boycott, which developed political overtones during this election year—it was supported by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and opposed by President-elect Richard M. Nixon—is an outgrowth of "la huelga," Spanish for the strike.

Technically, no strike exists; members of the committee merely are refusing to accept jobs. Nonunion workers harvested this year's crop.

DISPUTE GROWS

For four years, however, the dispute has grown steadily more bitter, reaching a peak early this year when the boycott was established.

The key word in the dispute is table. Wine and raisin grapes are not involved — the union has signed contracts with a number of vintners and raisin producers. No table grape grower has signed.

On one side of the issue are the growers, whose lands lie among fields producing 37 per cent of the fruits and vegetables sold in the United States.

On the other are Mexican-Americans who bring in the harvest, traveling from one spread to another in season. When the harvest is done, so is their job —until the next time.

Chavez insists that these laborers come under the National Labor Relations Act. He contends that growers exploit the farm workers, paying low wages, providing poor housing.

HOLIDAY TRAGEDY

Youth Braves A Snowstorm For Help In Crash Of Plane

EUREKA, Utah (AP) — As his parents and sister lay pinned in the wreckage of their airplane Thanksgiving eve, 15-year-old William Rigby set off into a snowstorm to find help.

"My dad was pinned underneath the instrument panel," William, the son of Beverly Hills, heart Surgeon Dr. Elmer C. Rigby Jr., said yesterday, "My sister was caught beneath two chairs. Mom was trapped beneath the wreckage. I knew I had to get some help."

He freed himself from the wreckage of the twin-engine plane and started walking—in the wrong direction.

Then he spotted headlights on U.S. 50-6 and turned toward the road. He had walked about four miles over snow-covered ground.

An unidentified Nevada motorist stopped, picked up the boy, carefully marked his mileage, drove 10 miles north to Eureka and led rescuers directly to the spot where he picked up the youth, said Sheriff A. Duane Sperry.

"It was good thing, too, because I think those people would have frozen to death if we'd had to search for the plane," Sperry said.

"The plane appeared to have come down hard, rolled on its side and finally came to rest on its top. It was literally torn apart by the impact," the sheriff said.

The boy's mother, Penelope, 46, was dead on arrival at Juab County Hospital.

His 53-year-old father was in poor condition today at University Hospital in Salt Lake City. The prominent physician, one of the first to perform open heart surgery in the Los Angeles area, suffered chest injuries, broken legs, back and head injuries. Nikola Rigby, 16, was in satisfactory condition with a broken leg.

The boy was staying with relatives in Provo.

Another daughter, Judith, 21, would have been on the flight from Van Nuys airport to Salt Lake, to spend Thanksgiving with Dr. Rigby's parents, but she missed a connection in traveling from Berkeley to Beverly Hills. She attends the University of California.

William told officers the flight began in good weather. But snow and fog closed in and the plane began icing up.

"Dad decided to circle for a few minutes. Then he said he was going to make an emergency landing," William told Sheriff Sperry.

Sperry said the doctor apparently mistook a plowed field for a road about a mile west of U.S. 50-6. The plane touched down, hit a depression and flipped over.

Families Flee Gaseous Eruptions In Michigan

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP) — Natural gas cracked through the ground, sending thunderous rumblings through Marshall, hurling water 20 feet into the air and forcing about 15 families to flee from their homes in a half-mile-square area early Thanksgiving Day.

Red tags were hung on the homes to show that they were dangerous and the families would not be permitted to return. Authorities said they did not know when the tags would be removed.

The source of the highly volatile gas was unknown but geologists said it almost certainly came from underground pockets. Gas company workers said they could find no leaks in any lines.

Water pressure in wells rose sharply. Swampland bubbled. A 20-foot section of paved street was torn up as a geyser of gaseous water erupted from the middle of the rubble.

"It looks iike Yellowstone Park down there," said geologist James Woodruff of the State Conservation Department, of the Kalamazoo River bank, were most of the gas appeared to be escaping.

The level of the river dropped roughly seven feet in the area about the same time that an explosion ripped through the house of Raymond Kulzick and his family, who were away on a visit. Damage to the house was estimated to be $25,000.

It was the second time in a month that mysterious underground gas pressure built up in Lower Michigan. Earlier, a seven-mile square area at Lee Township about 12 miles away in south central Michigan, was punctuated by the gas-and-water geysers.

"People are wondering where it is going to stop," said Mrs. George P. Bonnell, one of those forced to flee. "We're all kind of scared at the moment. We don't know if we want to live there."

Synagogues To Receive Torahs

NEW YORK (AP) — Four synagogues which have been targets in a recent series of religious desecrations are each going to receive a priceless torah from the Israeli government.

Saying "if a scroll is damaged we are in mourning," Rehaveam Amir, the Israeli consul general, explained that the ancient documents of the Hebrew scribes would help replace religious articles damaged in several synagogue fires.

Eleven Jewish houses of worship have been desecrated during the last three months. Ten persons, including seven teen-agers, have been arrested in connection with the incidents.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Youth Alive?

BERLIN (AP) — A youth who was believed killed when two mines exploded near the Berlin Wall Monday is alive and cared for in an East German hospital, the official Communist news agency ADN claimed yesterday.

Bavarian police had said the youth screamed, "I have no more legs," after two mines exploded. They assumed he was an East German fleeing to the West and said the East Germans left him to bleed to death.

ADN said the youth, identified as Guenther Oppermann, 16, was a West German. It denied reports that the youth had been allowed to bleed to death, saying he was "immediately given first aid by border troops."

Second Wave

SEOUL (AP) — A second group of North Korean commandos is believed to have slipped ashore on South Korea's eastern coast, following 60 guerrillas who landed there Nov. 2 military sources said today.

Of the 60 who landed first, 54 have been killed and five captured.

Evidence found in sweeping operations indicates more Communist infiltrators might have sneaked into the mountainous coastal area south of here the sources said.

South Korean military officials said the manhunt along the Eastern coast would continue "for some time on this assumption."

Salazar On Mend

LISBON (UPI)—Former Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar could be released from a hospital where he has been recovering from a nassive stroke in from two to three weeks, hospital sources said yesterday.

The Staten Island ferry service began in 1713.

A Rare Wine

LONDON (AP) Seven half bottles of Tokay Essence, a rare wine supposed to revive the dying, sold at auction yesterday for $204 each. All went to an anonymous buyer.

One of the sellers was Dennis Wheatley, writer of thrillers, who acquired his two bottles, vintage 1868 and 1906, from the cellars of the King of Saxony before World War I.

The wine is sweet and greenish in color. It was made in a small region of Hungary from grapes dried in the sun.

Michael Broadbent, wine expert at Christies Auctioners, said: "It's said that the life of one of the popes was prolonged for six weeks by small doses sent by the Emperor Franz Joseph. I don't know if it is still being made."

Wine Binge, Vandalism Jail Teeners

Four Oakland teen-agers were arrested in Larkspur early today after they reportedly tore up the turf in three city baseball parks while on a wine-drinking binge.

Thomas Joseph Harvath Racz, 18, was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of malicious mischief, possession of wine by a minor and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

A 17-year-old boy and two 14-year-old girls were booked at Juvenile Hall for investigation of the first two charges, according to Police Chief Howard Clark.

Clark said the teens were found with their car mired in the mud in the southeast corner of Piper Park. They got there by crossing the Henry C. Hall School, Bundy and Piper Park baseball fields, Clark said.

The teens told police they purchased the wine in Sausalito.

Racz was freed on $1,005 bail and is to appear in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Quiet Ranch Day For President

There were no special announcements from the Texas White House and press secretary George Christian said a relatively quiet day was expected.

Johnson had received a "pouch or two of materials" of normal work items and got busy on them in his ranch office, Christian reported.

Trouble Stalls Liner's Test

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — The Queen Elizabeth II, Britain's newest ocean liner, was forced to cut short speed trials today because of machinery trouble.

The 65,000-ton luxury ship, which made her first run under her own power 10 days ago, asked tugboats to stand by as a precautionary measure, but they were not needed.

John Rannie, managing director of Upper Clyde Shipbuilders which built the ship, said: "We found certain minor defects in the machinery installation."

Two Injured As Car Overturns

A San Francisco woman and her daughter were injured Wednesday afternoon when their car overturned on Highway 101 north of San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Norma G. Boyd, 32, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a broken right wrist and her daughter, Marilyn A. Boyd, 6, was admitted for observation of a head injury. The girl was to be released today.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Boyd was driving north at 3:55 p.m. when her car swerved right, then left, then overturned in the center divider strip near the Lucas Valley overcrossing.

TALKS

The South Vietnamese government, meanwhile, was reported preparing a peace plan to be submitted to the expanded talks when they get under way.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the major priority in his government's plan would be an early cease-fire.

Nguyen Van An, the deputy chief of Saigon's observer mission here, said South Vietnam also will demand "strong and effective international guarantees" in any final settlement.

The North Vietnamese and the NFL have said a cease-fire is unlikely to be discussed until later in the negotiating process. They have said such discussion must be preceded by the withdrawal of American and other foreign troops from South Vietnam.

Van An spoke in an interview as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. delegation, prepared to head home Sunday for a brief Washington visit.

Aides said Harriman plans to carry out duties he has as head of a commission on human rights. He is expected to return to Paris next Thursday or Friday.

Vietnam consultations were not listed as the main reason for his return, but Harriman was expected to confer with Pentagon officials on the fourthcoming conference in which Saigon will participate.

The expanded parley now is expected to get going in the second week in Demcember. The Saigon delegation, whose absence held up the meeting for a month, is due in Paris next week.

Mexican Campus Operates Again

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Most of the 94,000 students in Mexico's National University system returned to class yesterday, but some students and teachers asked for police protection.

This followed a renewal of violence Wednesday when a student who was part of a minority group that wants to continue the strike was shot through the head.

Police said the group of between 100 and 200 students were armed with a submachine gun, several pistols and a quantity of sticks and chains.

Newark Under Emergency Law

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio declared Newark in a "state of emergency" today because of a sick-call strike by hundreds of policemen and firemen.

The mayor clamped a midnight to 6 a.m. curfew on the city and ordered suspension of all liquor sales.

Addonizio also asked Gov. Richard J. Hughes for state aid, but the governor told him there was no way within the law he could send in state police or National Guardsmen unless there was a "civil emergency or insurrection."

Tip Nabs Suspect On Marijuana

After an unknown neighbor called Novato police to report that three young men were smoking marijuana in Pioneer Memorial Park, police found one of them with a dagger in his boot and a plastic bag containing a substance thought to be marijuana.

Released from Marin County Jail on $625 bail on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana was Rodney John Arnold, 18, of 576 Fernando Drive, Novato. He is scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that when they approached the three youths, Arnold challenged them to put him through a drunk test. When Arnold stood on one foot with the other in front of him, police found a dagger in his boot. He was arrested and searched later at the police station where the substance thought to be marijuana was found.

His two companions were not held, according to police.

Novato Woman's Wallet Looted

A wallet taken from a Novato woman at one grocery store Wednesday turned up in the parking lot of another grocery store about three hours later, minus $135 in cash, Novato police reported today.

Mrs. Ethel A. Chillson, 60, of 1695 Indian Valley Road, last used her wallet when shopping at the D and L Market at 850 Grant Avenue about 4 p.m., according to police, who surmised that someone took it out of her open purse as she left the store.

The wallet was found, minus the money, by an unidentified man at 7:25 p.m. the same day in the parking lot at the 7-11 market at 815 Diablo Avenue, and turned over to the clerk, Mrs. Muriel M. Falco, according to police.

Prowler Flees Kentfield Home

There were two startled people when Mrs. Maxine R. Handley opened the front door of her house at 5 Inman Avenue, Kentfield, at 12:40 a.m. today.

The first was Mrs. Handley, who found herself face to face with a strange man, standing in the hallway, said sheriff's officers.

Mrs. Handley said she could not describe him.

Dockworkers Return To Jobs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nearly 2,000 dockworkers returned to work in the harbor today and shipowners called for more to catch up on unloading after a 10-day stoppage because of a rat dispute.

"We've got 44 vessels in port and they're unloading 25 ships," said John MacEvoy, manager of Pacific Maritime Association. "The other 19 are idle for lack of manpower.

"Men will work nights and weekends in an effort to catch up on the backlog."

OBITUARIES

Shirley Lee Sunke Dies Of Fall

Shirley Lee Sunke, 33, of Bel Marin Keys, died at Marin General Hospital yesterday of head injuries suffered when thrown from a horse at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

According to Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine, Mrs. Sunke was riding with her husband, William J. Sunke of 305 Montego Key Boulevard, a salesman, on the Pacheco ranch off Indian Valley Road when her horse reared and threw her.

Mrs. Sunke was taken first to Novato General Hospital, then transferred to Marin General Hospital for brain surgery Wednesday night, but died at 6:41 a.m. yesterday. She never regained consciousness after the accident, Fontaine said.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by six children, William J. Jr., Kim, Gregory, Allison, Darce and Cynthia Sunke, all of Novato; her father, George Stone of San Francisco, and a brother, Douglas Stone of San Bruno.

Funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the funeral chapels of Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley. Interment Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

HUGH HALL

Funeral service for Hugh M. Hall, 63, of 410 Sonoma Lane, Rohnert Park, was held today in San Francisco. Entombment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Born in Colorado, he had lived in California for 40 years and in Rohnert Park for three years. He was a retired accounting clerk for the Bethlehem Steel Co.

He was a member of Excelsior Lodge no. 166, Free and Accepted Masons; past associate guardian Bethel no. 37, International Order of Job's Daughters, and the Heart Association of the Redwood Empire, Santa Rosa.

He is survived by two daughters, Judith Jamsgard of Seattle and Mrs. Robin Bailey of Daly City.

GEORGE BOGUE

George W. Bogue, 55, of 3590 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Born in New York, he entered the Air Force in 1940, serving in Europe during World War II. He retired two months ago as a master sergeant at Hamilton Air Force Base. He had lived in Petaluma for three years.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

FRANCES LYSLE

Frances F. Lysle, 70, wife of James C. Lysle of Kent Woodlands, died yesterday in a local hospital after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Lysle, of 516 Woodland Road, was born in New Orleans, La., and grew up in Kansas City, Mo. In 1921 she was married and moved to Leavenworth, Kan., where her husband was president of the J. C. Lysle Milling Co.

Twelve years ago they moved to Marin County. Before her illness Mrs. Lysle was active in the Marin County Humane Society. She was also a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Geddes W. Carrington of Winnetka, Ill., Mrs. G. Robert McMahon of Kentfield and Mrs. L. Patton Kline of Kansas City, Mo., two brothers, Joseph C. Fennelly of San Francisco and John Fennelly of Lake Forest, Ill., and 10 grandchildren.

The funeral will be at noon tomorrow at St. John's Episcopal Church. Burial will be in Leavenworth, Kan.

Girl Is Victim Of Indecent Pictures

A 9-year-old Novato girl was the victim of exposure to obscene photographs at the Lynwood School ground, her mother has reported to Novato police.

A man, described as 40 to 50 years of age, greyhaired with a bald spot and wearing a white shirt, beige sweater, brown pants and glasses, showed approximately 15 obscene photographs to the girl about 4:30 p.m. last Friday, according to police. The girl did not tell her mother of the incident until Wednesday when she reported it to Novato police.

A 17-year-old boy and two 14-year-old girls were booked at Juvenile Hall for investigation of the first two charges, according to Police Chief Howard Clark.

Clark said the teens were found with their car mired in the mud in the southeast corner of Piper Park. They got there by crossing the Henry C. Hall School, Bundy and Piper Park baseball fields, Clark said.

The teens told police they purchased the wine in Sausalito.

Racz was freed on $1,005 bail and is to appear in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Quiet Ranch Day For President

There were no special announcements from the Texas White House and press secretary George Christian said a relatively quiet day was expected.

Johnson had received a "pouch or two of materials" of normal work items and got busy on them in his ranch office, Christian reported.

Trouble Stalls Liner's Test

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — The Queen Elizabeth II, Britain's newest ocean liner, was forced to cut short speed trials today because of machinery trouble.

The 65,000-ton luxury ship, which made her first run under her own power 10 days ago, asked tugboats to stand by as a precautionary measure, but they were not needed.

John Rannie, managing director of Upper Clyde Shipbuilders which built the ship, said: "We found certain minor defects in the machinery installation."

Two Injured As Car Overturns

A San Francisco woman and her daughter were injured Wednesday afternoon when their car overturned on Highway 101 north of San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Norma G. Boyd, 32, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a broken right wrist and her daughter, Marilyn A. Boyd, 6, was admitted for observation of a head injury. The girl was to be released today.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Boyd was driving north at 3:55 p.m. when her car swerved right, then left, then overturned in the center divider strip near the Lucas Valley overcrossing.

TALKS

in the Paris talks as an independent party, on equal footing with other parties.

The South Vietnamese government, meanwhile, was reported preparing a peace plan to be submitted to the expanded talks when they get under way.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the major priority in his government's plan would be an early cease-fire.

Nguyen Van An, the deputy chief of Saigon's observer mission here, said South Vietnam also will demand "strong and effective international guarantees" in any final settlement.

The North Vietnamese and the NFL have said a cease-fire is unlikely to be discussed until later in the negotiating process. They have said such discussion must be preceded by the withdrawal of American and other foreign troops from South Vietnam.

Van An spoke in an interview as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. delegation, prepared to head home Sunday for a brief Washington visit.

Aides said Harriman plans to carry out duties he has as head of a commission on human rights. He is expected to return to Paris next Thursday or Friday.

Vietnam consultations were not listed as the main reason for his return, but Harriman was expected to confer with Pentagon officials on the fourthcoming conference in which Saigon will participate.

The expanded parley now is expected to get going in the second week in Demcember. The Saigon delegation, whose absence held up the meeting for a month, is due in Paris next week.

Mexican Campus Operates Again

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Most of the 94,000 students in Mexico's National University system returned to class yesterday, but some students and teachers asked for police protection.

This followed a renewal of violence Wednesday when a student who was part of a minority group that wants to continue the strike was shot through the head.

Police said the group of between 100 and 200 students were armed with a submachine gun, several pistols and a quantity of sticks and chains.

Newark Under Emergency Law

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio declared Newark in a "state of emergency" today because of a sick-call strike by hundreds of policemen and firemen.

The mayor clamped a midnight to 6 a.m. curfew on the city and ordered suspension of all liquor sales.

Addonizio also asked Gov. Richard J. Hughes for state aid, but the governor told him there was no way within the law he could send in state police or National Guardsmen unless there was a "civil emergency or insurrection."

Tip Nabs Suspect On Marijuana

After an unknown neighbor called Novato police to report that three young men were smoking marijuana in Pioneer Memorial Park, police found one of them with a dagger in his boot and a plastic bag containing a substance thought to be marijuana.

Released from Marin County Jail on $625 bail on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana was Rodney John Arnold, 18, of 576 Fernando Drive, Novato. He is scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that when they approached the three youths, Arnold challenged them to put him through a drunk test. When Arnold stood on one foot with the other in front of him, police found a dagger in his boot. He was arrested and searched later at the police station where the substance thought to be marijuana was found.

His two companions were not held, according to police.

Novato Woman's Wallet Looted

A wallet taken from a Novato woman at one grocery store Wednesday turned up in the parking lot of another grocery store about three hours later, minus $135 in cash, Novato police reported today.

Mrs. Ethel A. Chillson, 60, of 1695 Indian Valley Road, last used her wallet when shopping at the D and L Market at 850 Grant Avenue about 4 p.m., according to police, who surmised that someone took it out of her open purse as she left the store.

The wallet was found, minus the money, by an unidentified man at 7:25 p.m. the same day in the parking lot at the 7-11 market at 815 Diablo Avenue, and turned over to the clerk, Mrs. Muriel M. Falco, according to police.

Prowler Flees Kentfield Home

There were two startled people when Mrs. Maxine R. Handley opened the front door of her house at 5 Inman Avenue, Kentfield, at 12:40 a.m. today.

The first was Mrs. Handley, who found herself face to face with a strange man, standing in the hallway, said sheriff's officers.

Mrs. Handley said she could not describe him.

Dockworkers Return To Jobs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nearly 2,000 dockworkers returned to work in the harbor today and shipowners called for more to catch up on unloading after a 10-day stoppage because of a rat dispute.

"We've got 44 vessels in port and they're unloading 25 ships," said John MacEvoy, manager of Pacific Maritime Association. "The other 19 are idle for lack of manpower.

"Men will work nights and weekends in an effort to catch up on the backlog."

OBITUARIES

Shirley Lee Sunke Dies Of Fall

Shirley Lee Sunke, 33, of Bel Marin Keys, died at Marin General Hospital yesterday of head injuries suffered when thrown from a horse at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

According to Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine, Mrs. Sunke was riding with her husband, William J. Sunke of 305 Montego Key Boulevard, a salesman, on the Pacheco ranch off Indian Valley Road when her horse reared and threw her.

Mrs. Sunke was taken first to Novato General Hospital, then transferred to Marin General Hospital for brain surgery Wednesday night, but died at 6:41 a.m. yesterday. She never regained consciousness after the accident, Fontaine said.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by six children, William J. Jr., Kim, Gregory, Allison, Darce and Cynthia Sunke, all of Novato; her father, George Stone of San Francisco, and a brother, Douglas Stone of San Bruno.

Funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the funeral chapels of Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley. Interment Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

HUGH HALL

Funeral service for Hugh M. Hall, 63, of 410 Sonoma Lane, Rohnert Park, was held today in San Francisco. Entombment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Born in Colorado, he had lived in California for 40 years and in Rohnert Park for three years. He was a retired accounting clerk for the Bethlehem Steel Co.

He was a member of Excelsior Lodge no. 166, Free and Accepted Masons; past associate guardian Bethel no. 37, International Order of Job's Daughters, and the Heart Association of the Redwood Empire, Santa Rosa.

He is survived by two daughters, Judith Jamsgard of Seattle and Mrs. Robin Bailey of Daly City.

GEORGE BOGUE

George W. Bogue, 55, of 3590 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Born in New York, he entered the Air Force in 1940, serving in Europe during World War II. He retired two months ago as a master sergeant at Hamilton Air Force Base. He had lived in Petaluma for three years.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Nazis Convicted For Pogrom

DARMSTADT, Germany (AP) — A criminal court today convicted seven former Nazi SS officers of complicity in the World War II murder of 60,000 Jews in the Ukraine. All were sentenced to prison terms.

Three other defendants accused of participating in the slayings in Kiev and Kharkov during the last six months of 1941 also were found guilty. But the court ruled their degree of guilt did not warrant prison terms.

The chief defendant, SS Capt. Kuno Callsen, 55, was sentenced to 15 years in prison. Sentences for the other six ranged from nine to four years.

There were 175 witnesses in the 14-month trial. One defendant, Heinrich Huhn, died during the trial.

$63 Million Deficit In Balance Of Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States balance of trade showed a deficit of $63 million in October with both exports and imports falling sharply from their record September levels, the Commerce Department said today.

October exports of $2.594 billion showed an adjusted decline of 20 per cent from the September high. The decrease was spread generally throughout all commodity groups.

Among nonagricultural products, which accounted for more than five-sixths of the drop, notable declines showed in exports of nonelectrical machinery, chemicals, crude materials and fuels.

October imports declined slightly more than 10 per cent from September, totaling $2.657 billion.

The decrease was widespread, with lower shipments reported particularly in coffee and crude materials, including both rubber and iron and other ores, as well as metals generally.

The government said the threat of a dock strike at the beginning of October along the East Coast, appears to have been the most important factor affecting both September and October trade developments.

The strike, which was forestalled by an injunction, tended to boost sea borne trade in September and cut it in October.

The department forecast a trade rebound for November and December as shipping pipelines are refilled before the expiration of the injunction on Dec. 20.

The Commerce Department said it was still looking for an export surplus of between $1 billion and $1.5 billion for 1968 as a whole but that the experience of October suggested the favorable balance will be nearer the lower figure.

This would contrast with the 1967 favorable trade balance $4.1 billion.

The government noted that recent developments in Western Europe could possibly affect U.S. trade in the coming months. Changes in border taxes should improve the trade balance in West Germany, the department said, but the restraints imposed by both Britain and France are likely to make it more difficult for the U.S. to expand exports to those two countries.

Boat Harbor Fire Called Act Of Arson

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A three-alarm boat yard fire, which officials said appeared to have been set, destroyed three buildings and damaged 25 to 40 boats last night, causing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $1 million.

No one was injured. The blaze at Brown's Gloucester Yacht Yard threatened a house before firemen, aided by fire fighters from Manchester and Rockport, controlled it in about two hours.

The fire destroyed a carpentry shop and two storage buildings. Fire officials said some of the yachts stored in the building were valued at between $75,000 and $100,000 each.

Deputy Fire Chief Carleton McKay said someone set the fire, the second at the yard in 15 days. He said the first fire, a two-alarm blaze, probably was set also.

The Thursday night fire also destroyed equipment, such as masts, for boats stored at the yard, located along the ocean in the east section of the city.

News Blackout Is Ordered In Flag Mutilation Case

VAN NUYS (UPI) — A judge has imposed a pre-trial news blackout in the case of an artist accused of mutilating an American flag by converting it into a Nehru jacket.

The defendant is Jared Townley Hill, 25, of La Crescenta, whose star spangled blouse attracted the attention of a Los Angeles policeman in Sunland Park last June 22.

Municipal Court Judge Charles M. Hughes this week ordered prosecution and defense not to discuss the case before it goes to trial Dec. 18. At the same time, the judge ordered th police report of Hill's arrest withheld from the press.

Testimony may be printed if the trial is held, however.

Hill has appealed to the Los Angeles County Superior Court, asking that his arrest be declared illegal, on the grounds that no mutilation of the flag occurred before the arresting officer's eyes.

Hills's motion to that effect has been denied by the municipal court. A ruling from the superior court is expected sometime before the trial date.

Judge Hughes advanced no reasons for the blackout, but said it had been agreed on at a conference with defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Under California law, flag mutilation is a misdemeanor. If convicted, Hill would face the possibility of a sentence of as much as six months in jail and a fine of up to $500.

No one was injured. The blaze at Brown's Gloucester Yacht Yard threatened a house before firemen, aided by fire fighters from Manchester and Rockport, controlled it in about two hours.

The fire destroyed a carpentry shop and two storage buildings. Fire officials said some of the yachts stored in the building were valued at between $75,000 and $100,000 each.

Deputy Fire Chief Carleton McKay said someone set the fire, the second at the yard in 15 days. He said the first fire, a two-alarm blaze, probably was set also.

The Thursday night fire also destroyed equipment, such as masts, for boats stored at the yard, located along the ocean in the east section of the city.

News Blackout Is Ordered In Flag Mutilation Case

VAN NUYS (UPI) — A judge has imposed a pre-trial news blackout in the case of an artist accused of mutilating an American flag by converting it into a Nehru jacket.

The defendant is Jared Townley Hill, 25, of La Crescenta, whose star spangled blouse attracted the attention of a Los Angeles policeman in Sunland Park last June 22.

Municipal Court Judge Charles M. Hughes this week ordered prosecution and defense not to discuss the case before it goes to trial Dec. 18. At the same time, the judge ordered th police report of Hill's arrest withheld from the press.

Testimony may be printed if the trial is held, however.

Hill has appealed to the Los Angeles County Superior Court, asking that his arrest be declared illegal, on the grounds that no mutilation of the flag occurred before the arresting officer's eyes.

Hills's motion to that effect has been denied by the municipal court. A ruling from the superior court is expected sometime before the trial date.

Judge Hughes advanced no reasons for the blackout, but said it had been agreed on at a conference with defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Under California law, flag mutilation is a misdemeanor. If convicted, Hill would face the possibility of a sentence of as much as six months in jail and a fine of up to $500.

"SEATTLE'S TOUGHEST FIRE" — That's how Fire Chief Gordon Vickery describes the Thanksgiving Day blaze that raged more than 12 hours, claimed one fireman's life and injured 28 others at the Todd ship yards. (AP Wirephoto)

Seattle Fire In Shipyards Costs A Life

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Fire believed caused by a cable short circuit under a pier roared through a dock area leaving one fireman dead, 28 others injured and an estimated $250,000 damage.

Henry C. Gronnerud, 41, a 12-year veteran fireman, was killed early today when he stepped onto a high voltage wire at the scene. Most of the injuries were from smoke inhalation.

Twenty-six boats helped battle the flames, which broke out on the underside of the dock yesterday.

Quick work by Todd Shipyard officials may have saved three vessels from heavy damage as tugs towed the three—a tanker and two Navy ships—away from their moorings soon after the fire broke out. A small blaze on the tanker was extinguished quickly.

Heavy-creosoted pilings aflame sent clouds of smoke high into the air over Puget Sound.

It was the second major fire at Todd Shipyards since Aug. 13.

Princess Expecting

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Princess, Margrethe, heiress to the Danish throne, is expecting her second child baby in June, a spokesman for the royal family said yesterday.

Australian City Hit By Bushfire Disaster

SYDNEY (AP) — Five men are dead, seven are missing and about 200 injured in midsummer bushfires that caused millions of dollars worth of damage within a 50-mile radius of Sydney in the past two days.

The fire danger diminished in Sydney's outer suburbs today as the wind abated and temperatures dropped 20 degrees from yesterday's high of 90.

Isolated fires still burned in the Blue Mountains 50 miles west of Sydney but they were reported under control.

A thousand firefighters including professionals, volunteers and soldiers stood by to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's disaster when flames destroyed 150 houses, shops, churches and other buildings.

Train service resumed today and roads in the region reopened.

New South Wales Chief Secretary Eric A. Willis said damage would run into millions of dollars. Relief funds for about 600 persons left homeless were begun.

"It was a taste of hell," said one firefighter.

An Englishwoman said in a radio interview: "It was worse than the blitz in London. You knew then when it was coming. Here it just came on you, the noise, smoke and flames."

Doctors Sue Medical Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four physicians have filed suit in Superior Court challenging the State Board of Medical Examiners which had performed the abortions illegally for women who had been exposed to German measles. Women so exposed run a risk of giving birth to deformed babies.

Licenses of the doctors had been suspended for 90 days, although that suspension had been suspended on condition of good conduct for one year.

The four filing the suit Wednesday are Dr. Gregory Smith, Dr. Anthony J. Franzi, Dr. Andrew Chogos and Dr. Maxwell V. Parker, all of San Francisco.

Pink Pachyderm, White Sheep Stolen

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Police, perhaps wondering whether someone been observing Thanksgiving with something more than somber reverence, received reports yesterday of a white sheep and pink elephant being stolen.

Investigation revealed that the sheep was a rubber specimen stolen from a nativity scene at an artificial flower company shop. The elephant was of the stuffed variety, and was taken from a drug store display window.

Giant LSD Haul In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Federal authorities reported seizure of LSD described as the biggest such haul in California history along with the arrest of a young writer for an avant garde newspaper.

Thomas David Farber, 24, was caught with 75,000 tablets of the hallucinatory drug — valued at between $350,000 and $750,000 — which he planned to sell to a "customer" from New York, said Emmett Warner, chief of the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Warned said yesterday Farber was arrested in a Mission Street motel after the "customer" turned out to be an undercover agent.

Farber was booked on a federal charge of illegal sale of a dangerous drug and was held for appearance before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith.

Eastern States Hit By Cold, Wet Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold and wet storm spread rain from Pennsylvania and New Jersey through New England today. Light snow and snow flurries fell along the Great Lakes in the storm's wake.

Gale warnings were posted from Maine to Massachusetts along the Atlantic Seaboard and from Lake Michigan to Lake Ontario. The fierce storm prowled the Northeast after it dumped rain, sleet and snow on the Midwest.

The storm, which crept out of Mexico early in the week, then dawdled over Texas storing up moisture and power, galloped across the Southern plains, the Midwest and Ohio Valley Thanksgiving Day.

The holiday weather effects were numerous and widespread: flood-swollen rivers and streams in middle Tennessee, snow-coated landscape and highways intermittently from Missouri to Michigan. Rains measuring more than six inches swamped Tennessee from the Mississippi River to the Cumberland Mountains yesterday. After a day of warnings of possibly serious flooding on the Harpeth River near Nashville, the Weather Bureau stopped its flood bulletins late Thursday and indicated the threat had passed.

Heavy rains ranged northward across Illinois and South and West into Mississippi and Arkansas, where some flooding was reported.

Snow mixed with sleet made holiday travel treacherous north of the rain area. Two to 5 inches of snow whitened the area from northeastern Missouri into central Lower Michigan. Up to 8 inches covered some northern Lower Michigan communities.

High winds accompanied the daylong downpours across the Midwest, and into the Northeast today. Gale warnings continued on all the Great Lakes and were extended to include the Northern Atlantic Coast.

The winds tore down part of the steel superstructure for a high school auditorium being built north of Indianapolis. Damage was estimated at nearly $250,000. Eastward in Ohio, the gusts knocked out power in many part of Cincinnati and smashed numerous store display windows.

Outside the storm area, portions of Colorado and Wyoming received up to six inches of snow, and Colorado ski areas reported in unusually large number of skiers for a Thanksgiving.

Ahead of the storm, much of the Eastern seaboard was fanned by September-like mildness during the night. Low temperatures in the 60s were common from Washington to Boston.

And heavy-snow warnings were issued for mountain areas of New Mexico.

Some early morning reports: Boston 60 rain, New York 63 partly cloudy, Philadelphia 65 partly cloudy, Washington 67 partly cloudy, Atlanta 48 clear, Miami 72 partly cloudy, Detroit 45 cloudy, Chicago 36 snow, Minneapolis-St. Paul 29 cloudy, St. Louis 37 cloudy, Kansas City 32 cloudy, Dallas 39 clear, Denver 17 partly cloudy, Phoenix 52 clear, Los Angeles 54 clear, San Francisco 48 clear, Seattle 44 cloudy, Anchorage 21 snow, Honolulu 70 rain.

World War Relic Wounds Teener

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A 15-year-old American boy suffered severe injuries yesterday when a World War II 70 mm shell he was playing with exploded, U.S. military authorities said.

The youth, John Howland was admitted to Camp Kue hospital yesterday. The exploding device reportedly severed both his legs below the knees, nearly severed a left hand and caused wounds in his chest and throat, officials said. His condition was listed as very serious.

Cosmos 255 Aloft

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched today No. 255 in its unmanned series of Cosmos satellites, a catchall program used for space research, reconnaissance and trial runs for manned flights. As usual, the announcement did not disclose the purpose of the new launch.

Eastern States Hit By Cold, Wet Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold and wet storm spread rain from Pennsylvania and New Jersey through New England today. Light snow and snow flurries fell along the Great Lakes in the storm's wake.

Gale warnings were posted from Maine to Massachusetts along the Atlantic Seaboard and from Lake Michigan to Lake Ontario. The fierce storm prowled the Northeast after it dumped rain, sleet and snow on the Midwest.

The storm, which crept out of Mexico early in the week, then dawdled over Texas storing up moisture and power, galloped across the Southern plains, the Midwest and Ohio Valley Thanksgiving Day.

The holiday weather effects were numerous and widespread: flood-swollen rivers and streams in middle Tennessee, snow-coated landscape and highways intermittently from Missouri to Michigan. Rains measuring more than six inches swamped Tennessee from the Mississippi River to the Cumberland Mountains yesterday. After a day of warnings of possibly serious flooding on the Harpeth River near Nashville, the Weather Bureau stopped its flood bulletins late Thursday and indicated the threat had passed.

Heavy rains ranged northward across Illinois and South and West into Mississippi and Arkansas, where some flooding was reported.

Snow mixed with sleet made holiday travel treacherous north of the rain area. Two to 5 inches of snow whitened the area from northeastern Missouri into central Lower Michigan. Up to 8 inches covered some northern Lower Michigan communities.

High winds accompanied the daylong downpours across the Midwest, and into the Northeast today. Gale warnings continued on all the Great Lakes and were extended to include the Northern Atlantic Coast.

The winds tore down part of the steel superstructure for a high school auditorium being built north of Indianapolis. Damage was estimated at nearly $250,000. Eastward in Ohio, the gusts knocked out power in many part of Cincinnati and smashed numerous store display windows.

Outside the storm area, portions of Colorado and Wyoming received up to six inches of snow, and Colorado ski areas reported in unusually large number of skiers for a Thanksgiving.

Ahead of the storm, much of the Eastern seaboard was fanned by September-like mildness during the night. Low temperatures in the 60s were common from Washington to Boston.

And heavy-snow warnings were issued for mountain areas of New Mexico.

Some early morning reports: Boston 60 rain, New York 63 partly cloudy, Philadelphia 65 partly cloudy, Washington 67 partly cloudy, Atlanta 48 clear, Miami 72 partly cloudy, Detroit 45 cloudy, Chicago 36 snow, Minneapolis-St. Paul 29 cloudy, St. Louis 37 cloudy, Kansas City 32 cloudy, Dallas 39 clear, Denver 17 partly cloudy, Phoenix 52 clear, Los Angeles 54 clear, San Francisco 48 clear, Seattle 44 cloudy, Anchorage 21 snow, Honolulu 70 rain.

World War Relic Wounds Teener

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A 15-year-old American boy suffered severe injuries yesterday when a World War II 70 mm shell he was playing with exploded, U.S. military authorities said.

The youth, John Howland was admitted to Camp Kue hospital yesterday. The exploding device reportedly severed both his legs below the knees, nearly severed a left hand and caused wounds in his chest and throat, officials said. His condition was listed as very serious.

TITO RETURNS — Citizens of the Yugoslavian town of Jajce welcome President Josip Broz Tito and his wife. The independent Communist leader returned yesterday to the town where he formed a parliament 25 years ago, defying both the royalist regime in exile and the occupying Germans.

Tito Again Hits Kremlin Stand On 25th Anniversary Of His Rule

Tito, who broke with Moscow in forging Yugoslavia's Communist regime and who championed Czechoslovakia's attempt to go its own way, called in his speech for each country to find its own destiny.

Speaking at the spot where he founded his regime 25 years ago today, Tito said, "Our conception of the role and position of the working man as a free and independent creator in a self-managing society also assumes the full freedom and independence of each people and nationality."

He said every nation must respect other countries' independence. "If these principles which include the fundamental right of each people to be master of its own country are not respected, new crises and focuses of trouble will arise and there will be no stabilization of international conditions," he said.

His statement did not jibe with the Soviet justification for its Aug. 21 invasion and occupation of Czechoslovakia. The Kremlin said it can intervene in any Communist state if it believes communism is being threatened.

Tito broke with the Soviet Union in 1948 because he wanted Yugoslavia to run its own affairs.

Today he told the crowd gathered in this Bosnian mountain town where his regime was proclaimed during a pause in anti-German guerrilla warfare that he views "with alarm the serious deterioration in the international situation, particularly of late."

He did not mention the Soviets by name in this connection. Western observers said Tito's plea for self-determination applied to the West as well as the East.

In Belgrade, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug today gave casualty figures in antigovernment demonstrations Wednesday in the provincial capital of Pristina. Tanjug said 41 persons including 10 policemen and four firemen were injured and one person was killed. The demonstration in Pristina, and others in the nearby area, came in a section heavily populated by persons of Albanian origin.

Relations between Yugoslavia and Albania are brittle at best. Albania is the sole European ally of the Chinese Communists, who have made Tito a favorite propaganda target because of his national brand of communism.

Tanjug quoted Veli Deva, a party leader in the troubled area, as blaming the demonstrations on "foreign forces which have sinister goals toward Yugoslavia."

On Nov. 29, 1943, Tito, then a guerrilla leader fighting Adolf Hitler's troops, called together a parliament of peasants and workers who laid the groundwork for a Communist nation.

Now 76, Tito came back yesterday in a six-door black limousine. The town's 8,000 residents showered him with flowers and regaled him with slogans wishing him long life and good health.

Jajce gave him a key to the city and told him how much it appreciated what he and his followers had done. Tito climbed from his limousine and walked the streets, shaking hands and chatting with the townspeople.

From Washington, President Johnson sent his greetings "to confirm again our interests for Yugoslavia's independence and the well-being of its peoples."

From Moscow, the ruling Soviet troika told him it was "deeply convinced" that friendly relations between the two nations would promote "the cause of building socialism and communism and strengthening world peace."

Tito broke with the Soviets' Eastern European economic bloc in 1948 and sought economic ties with the West. Yugoslavia's economy embraces Marxist principles and some capitalist methods and prospers from the mixture.

Relations with the Soviet Union were further strained in August when Tito sympathized with Czechoslovakia's liberal reform movement before the Soviet bloc invasion. Tito warned the Kremlin any attempt to invade Yugoslavia would be met with force.

Tito, dapper in a dark suit and fedora, took Jajce's welcome with a smile and a wave. He opened a new bridge across the Vrbas River and then rested for the anniversary of the day he called together the Parliament in a gymnastic club hall that is now a national museum.

The year 1943 saw Tito's guerrillas, recruited from the peasantry and working class, fighting a furious campaign arainst the Germans in the hills of Yugoslavia.

King Peter and his political advisers had fled to London where they were recognized as the government in exile. The Germans had a puppet government in Belgrade. And Tito had his guerrilla Parliament, which has survived to this day.

Terrier dogs were bred chiefly for hunting rabbits and foxes.

Power Saw Stolen

A hand-held power saw valued at $85 was stolen Wednesday from J. B. Madden of Building R, Hilarita housing, Tiburon, while he was working at the Boys' Club of Southern Marin in Marin City, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Novato Man Found Dead In San Rafael

The body of Andre Bernard Bottini, 26, of Novato, was found hanging from a beam in the basement of his mother's San Rafael home Wednesday night, the Marin County coroner's office reported yesterday.

Bottini, who was separated from his wife and living temporarily with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Bottini Sr. of 509 C Street, apparently hanged himself between noon and 7 p.m., said Eugene R. Fontaine, assistant coroner.

Bottini had been hospitalized from Monday to Wednesday morning with a concussion suffered at his job as a frame man for Western California Telephone Co. in Novato, according to Fontaine.

When Mrs. Bottini Sr. did not find her son at home when she returned at 5 p.m., she called her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Horton of Novato, and Horton found Bottini's body in the basement at 7 p.m.

Bottini, whose home was at 9 Romar Court, is survived by his wife, Sheryl Bottini, a son, Troy Bottini, both of Novato; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bottini Sr. and his sister, Mrs. Horton.

Private funeral was held today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Seven Bodies Removed From Sunken Vessel

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — The bodies of seven men were found entombed yesterday in the work boat Triple Crown on the floor of the Pacific Ocean. Two others were sought.

The men still missing, unlike the others, were on the deck working when the vessel suddenly capsized and sank Monday.

Six deep sea divers, making five trips, recovered the seven bodies from inside the sunken hull of the 174-foot boat resting in 250 feet of Santa Barbara channel water.

The bodies recovered were those of William M. Thomasson of Torrance; Mark Von Mills, 46, Newport; Alvin Dean Taylor, 37, and Frank L. Calloway, 27, both of Ventura, Jack William McDaniel of Lakewood and Lloyd E. Voight Jr., 19, of Santa Barbara, crewmen of the Triple Crown, and Richard Taylor of Ventura, a surveyor.

The divers found a door to the main cabin buckled and another blocked by radio equipment. With special equipment, they got to the cabin where six bodies were found. The surveyor was found in the lower port bunk room.

Trial On Striking Two Women Slated

Trial for Peter L. Goldstein, 34, a former San Anselmo publicist now living in San Francisco, has been set for Jan. 20 in San Francisco Municipal Court on charges he struck a woman acquaintance and her daughter in that city July 28.

Goldstein, brother of Marin Municipal Court Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., allegedly struck a friend, Mrs. Patricia Rogers, and her daughter, Jillian, 19, at Rogers' home.

Humphrey Eyes Post At University

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says he is seriously considering "a very attractive offer" from the University of Minnesota involving part-time teaching after he leaves office in January.

Humphrey said the job would not make heavy demands on his schedule and would leave him time to work toward strengthening the Democratic party. He said he wanted to broaden its base and encourage young people to participate.

Humphrey, who lost the Nov. 5 presidential election to Republican Richard M. Nixon, made the comments to reporters during a duck-hunting visit Wednesday at the game preserve of James P. Wilmot, millionaire Rochester real-estate developer.

The vice president said he intended to join an organization raising money and helping to select candidates for key elections in 1970, when 25 Democratic senators may be up for re-election.

He said he had not decided whether to run for the Senate himself that year.

Humphrey called the Democrats' Chicago convention "a catastrophe" that left the party in a "shambles." Had the convention been held in July instead of August, he said, his election chances would have been better.

Humphrey said he had a contract to publish his memoirs.

Gold Reserves Increase Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States boosted its gold stocks by $33 million last month despite the current monetary crisis.

A federal reserve board report yesterday showed U.S. $10.755 billion in September to $10.788 billion in October.

Treasury Department spokesmen said most of the gain came from French sales of bullion for the dollars needed to support the sagging franc.

Sonoma County Nurses Picketing Supervisors

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors — who on Tuesday approved salary hikes averaging 5 per cent for most county employees and a better than 13 per cent raise for themselves — are now faced with lines of picketing nurses who got no raise.

Nurses on the county payroll have been carrying placards with slogans threatening a strike and parading in front of the county administration building here, since Tuesday's action.

Justifying the strike threat, James Gallagher, economic advisor for the California Nurses Association, said the nurses were protesting, because the 10 to 15 per cent increase they had requested was denied. He said the shortage of nurses, forcing them to work dougle shifts, is also at the top of the grievance list.

The threatened strike is not expected to affect Southern Sonoma hospitals. Mrs. Loree Smith, administrator at Hillcrest Hospital, Petaluma, said she has heard no grumbling among her staff. "The nurses here seem to be pretty satisfied," she said.

David Nichols, assistant county administrator, said the salary review committee is continuing to collect data on nursing salaries and will present its finding at the Dec. 12 meeting of the civil service commission. A recommendation will be presented to the supervisors the first week of January, but any pay hikes recommended would not go into effect until July.

The approved salary increases were granted to 562 employees in 75 job descriptions. The highest raises of 10 per cent were given employees in five classifications in Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Supervisor Arthur R. Ruonavaara, who served on the salary study committee, said the raises would cost $83,382 for the period between Jan. 1 and July 31, 1969.

The supervisors approved salary increases for themselves, raising pay from $10,000 to $13,200 starting Jan. 1. Two years ago they were paid $8,400.

The board recently passed a resolution requiring future salary studies to be completed by January of each year so that supervisors can act on them by mid-February and decisions may go into effect on July 1.

Chase Leads To Charges By Builder

A partner in a construction company, which is building homes on Vivian Court in Novato, felled a thief with a piece of lumber Wednesday night, police reported today.

The partner, Billie R. Evans of Novato, said he saw two men loading plywood onto a truck at 8:15 p.m. at the site at 17 Vivian Court.

When they saw him, Evans said, the men ran. But Evans reported he overtook one, Theodore Henry Pilat, 38, of 7530 Redwood Highway, Novato, and knocked him down with a piece of lumber after Pilat threw a punch at him.

Police were called and Pilat was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of grand theft of 30 sheets of plywood and a pickup truck belonging to the Roberts and Aguirre Co., of which Evans is part owner.

The other man was later apprehended by police, but freed after reporting that Pilat had paid him $20 to help move a supply of plywood. Police confirmed his story.

Pilat was identified as a former employee of Roberts and Aguirre. No bail was set today and Pilat was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Monday.

San Franciscan Hurt In Accident

Louise M. Hansen, 57, of San Francisco, was treated for a cut upper lip, a chest bruise and a cut hand Wednesday at Marin General Hospital after her car hit a center divider on Highway 101 as she tried to avoid an earlier crash, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Hansen was northbound at 4:45 p.m. when she came upon a five-car noninjury accident on Alto Hill entering Corte Madera. Her car swerved into the divider when she braked, the patrol said.

High Winds Hit Hawaiian Islands

HONOLULU (UPI) — High winds, up to 50 miles an hour, struck the Hawaiian Islands yesterday, felling power lines, uprooting trees and creating dangerous conditions in some areas of the state.

The winds, accompanied by driving rain as a result of a cold front moving eastward across the islands, shattered a large plate-glass window of a bank in Honolulu late Thursday forcing police to provide guards at the building.

Rug Sale Try Leads To $60,000 In Loot

Police pounced yesterday on a posh Pacific Heights apartment, crammed with $60,000 worth of reportedly stolen furnishings, after one of its occupants made a one-in-a-thousand mistake — he tried to sell a stolen rug back to its original owner in Sausalito.

Among the loot found in the apartment was a 1750 Russian muzzle-loading rifle which Sausalito Detective Jack L. Heringer said was taken Monday from the Sausalito home of William F. Roche in a burglary of $14,000 worth of paintings and antiques.

Police arrested one occupant of the apartment, Les Aubin, 26, on suspicion of possessing stolen property. They are seeking his roommate, Ed Hoffman, 26, an unemployed beautician. Aubin, police said, is a bank trust department employee.

Heringer said a third occupant of the apartment unknowingly made the mistake of offering a stolen rug to an acquaintance — the Sausalito man it was stolen from. The Sausalitan reported the offer to Heringer, and said the seller told him he had several antiques in his San Francisco apartment.

Heringer said police are also searching for the hapless third occupant, whom he did not name, for questioning about the apartmentful of stolen luxuries.

Heringer called San Francisco police and joined two burglary inspectors in an all-night stakeout of the apartment at 2200 Sacramento Street. Heringer left the stakeout at 6 a.m. and the San Francisco police closed in and arrested Aubin at 1:30 p.m.

Heringer went through the apartment late yesterday, but said the antique rifle was the only item he could identify from the Sausalito burglary.

He was to return to the apartment this afternoon to take inventory and see if any other Sausalito loot is there.

San Francisco police said the stolen furnishings came from other burglaries in Pacific Heights, including some thefts within the same building, and included lobby palms, rugs, chairs, silverware and even the food found in the apartment.

$2.5 Billion Hike Asked For Financing Of Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen called today for an increase in federal spending for elementary and secondary education from $1.5 billion to the full $3.5 billion authorized by Congress.

Speaking before the annual conference of the National Council for Social Studies, Cohen said the federal government now provides 8 per cent of the expenditures for elementary and secondary schools. This share, he said, should be sharply increased.

"I believe," he said, "that we should increase our appropriations under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, year by year, from $1.5 billion to the full authorization of $3.5 billion annually within the next four years."

Cohen also voiced new support for a national assessment of learning across the country.

"Without such an assessment, the federal government cannot know where its financial help is most needed," Cohen declared.

Some state school administrators have opposed the assessment program as a step toward possible eventual federal control of public school curricula.

Cohen noted that the federal investment in expanding and improving American education has more than tripled over the past five years. But he said the nation still is only "barely keeping pace" with growing and constantly changing educational needs.

"We must resolve that sufficient federal resources be made available to see that no student of ability will be denied an opportunity to develop his talents because of financial inability to meet the cost of obtaining an adequate education beyond high school," Cohen said.

Cohen also called for increased investment of attention, time and money in stimulating very young, pre-school children to learn and develop.

Looking ahead to the 1970's, Cohen said the nation's goals in education should include enriched high school education for every child, genuine equality of educational opportunity, expanded vocational education and training for all who want it and the elimination of all financial barriers to higher education.

Hamilton Helps In Plane Search

Aboard were Sid Beamer, 49, Ukiah civic leader and businessman, and his wife, Audrey, 42.

Hunting for the missing Beechcraft Muskateer were Coast Guard and Civil Air Patrol planes along with a liason craft from the Air Rescue Service at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The search area extended 60 to 100 miles out to sea, along the coast from Mendocino County to Santa Cruz, and inland to Reno.

Beamer's father, Steven R. Beamer of Sacramento, has offered a $10,000 reward to anyone locating the missing plane or the Beamers.

An 18th Century practice was to have servants whistle when carrying food to the dining area so that they could not taste the food they were carrying.

Pakistan Police Use Tear Gas On Students

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Police fired tear gas and made repeated baton charges today to disperse nearly 2,000 demonstrators in Rawalpindi.

The protesters, mainly teenagers, had paraded through the main streets for three hours carrying banners and chanting slogans demanding the release of political prisoners, freedom of the press and reforms in the government.

Riot police charged into the crowds of onlookers in the crowded market areas in an apparent effort to prevent the size of the demonstration from growing.

More police arrived in open trucks but they too were stoned and tear gas shells were fired to disperse the crowd.

Army patrols were stationed in key parts of the city and around President Mohammed Ayub Khan's residence. An army spotter plane flew over the demonstrating students for their entire three-mile route.

Many shops remained closed in response to a call by student leaders for a citywide strike, although most businesses generally do not open on Friday which is the traditional off-day in Pakistan.

In Lisbon, Portugal, three thousand Lisbon University students held an unauthorized meeting today to demand education reforms and the return of professors living abroad for political reasons.

The students, all belonging to the liberal arts school, appointed a committee to express their stand to university authorities.

It was the second such meeting this month. The students have been agitating for removal of the university from government control, for a greater voice in school affairs, for better facilities and for more teachers.

They want the government to facilitate the return of professors they say were forced to work abroad because of their opposition to the authoritarian regime of ex-Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

Bus Driver Slain During An Argument

Killed as the result of a bullet through the shoulder which ranged down to his heart was Fred Butler, 31, who, police said, was in the act of threatening merchant seaman James W. Nethers, 60, with a tire iron.

No charges were filed against Nethers pending an investigation by the district attorney's office.

Police said Butler went to the apartment of Dolores Thomas, 27, a divorcee who lived in an apartment below her father, and demanded return of an expensive radio he had given her as a gift.

Police said Butler rushed upstairs to Nethers' apartment and demaned the father help him get the radio. Butler, in a rage, got a tire iron from his car and "ran back screaming threats," according to witnesses.

Nethers said he shot Butler in the left wrist and fired again when he kept coming at him.

Field Trips Schedule Set By Audubons

Field trips, a bicycle ride, a canoe trip and a lecture are among the December activities scheduled by the Marin Audubon Society.

A trip across Golden Gate Bridge for bird-watching bicyclers is planned for Dec. 16. Cyclists will meet at 10 a.m. in the toll plaza parking lot, then cycle to Fort Baker and Sausalito to see migrating waterfowl.

Next Friday, Prof. Emanuel Fritz, professor emeritus of forestry from the University of California, will speak on the ecology of the coast redwoods at the society's meeting at 8 p.m. in the county supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Fritz will also lead a Dec. 14 field trip to Muir Woods National Monument, which will start at 10 a.m. in the Muir Woods parking lot.

Another field trip is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Dec. 8 in Rutherford, Napa County, at the junction of highways 29 and 128.

A canoeing trip is scheduled for Dec. 9 on Lagunitas Creek. Canoers will meet at 10 a.m. at the White House Pool parking area at Bear Valley Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Reservations are required and may be made with Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger of 308 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Terwilliger will also lead a hike Monday on Mount Tamalpais. Hikers will meet at 9:15 a.m. at Purity Market in Mill Valley or at 10 a.m. at Pan Toll Ranger Station on the mountain.

Guest Organist

Lyn Larsen will be guest organist at the Christmas dinner and concert of the Marin Baldwin Organ Club at 6 p.m. Sunday at Dominic's restaurant in San Rafael.

More Tests Set; Blasts Rock Mine

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Officials today decided to drill two more holes in the Mannington No. 9 coal mine to determine if 78 men trapped nine days ago could have found life-sustaining air in any of the mine's many "rooms" deep underground.

Another "major" explosion shook the mine's Llewellyn portal today at 1:16 a.m. It was the 16th major explosion since the men were trapped before dawn Nov. 20. The 15th major blast occurred at the Mahan portal early Thanksgiving Day. There also had been about a dozen minor explosions.

The decision to bore two additional holes, the 9th and 10th, meant officials were not ready yet to give up all hope for the possible survival of some of the trapped men.

The seventh hole was completed last night and the eighth early today.

Thus far, all air samples brought up through the eight bore holes drilled to levels between 700 feet and 900 feet underground showed the presence of lethal gases.

Senator Asks Truth At Gasoline Pumps

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., today called for "truth in gasoline" regulations to require service stations to post the exact octane rating of their gasoline at the pumps.

In a letter to Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, Proxmire said consumers now have no way of determining the octane rating of different brands of gasoline supposedly of the same grade.

New telephone rates effective December 2.

Your December telephone bill will reflect the new telephone rates which become effective on December 2, 1968. While the cost of basic Exchange Service has been increased, many Long Distance rates have been reduced and the local calling area of many exchanges will be enlarged.

Saturday rates reduced for long distance calls within California— other long distance rate reductions

Beginning December 2, you can call anywhere within California all day Saturday at the lowest night discount rates. These lowest rates now apply all weekend — starting at 6 p.m. Friday evening and ending at 6 a.m. Monday morning for all Long Distance calls between California communities.

In addition, Station-to-Station Long Distance rates between California communities, primarily between 36 and 80 miles distance, have been reduced.

As soon as we are able to complete the necessary changes and additions to our equipment and lines (within three years), Long Distance calls for which you now pay 10¢ for three minutes will become toll free. Similarly, three-minute message unit calls for which you are now charged two message units will become local (toll free) calls.

Residence party lines to be eliminated in the San Francisco-East Bay metropolitan area

Also as soon as we are able to make the necessary equipment and line changes (within three years), all Party Line Residence Service will be discontinued in the San Francisco - East Bay metropolitan area.

Instead, One-Party Flat Rate (unlimited) Service and One-Party Measured (limited) Service will be offered. Measured Service will be available in two ways—with an allowance of 60 local calls per month without extra charge, or an even lower cost service with an allowance of 30 local calls per month without extra charge.

Business phones

Beginning December 2, the basic monthly rate for message business telephones will include an allowance of 80 local calls per month without extra charge.

Important Change
The message unit allowance for residence and business Measured Service will apply to local calls only. It will no longer apply to calls outside your local calling area.

Israel Will Allow Arabs Entry For Holiday Worship

TEL AVIV (AP) — Christians and Moslems from the Arab states will be permitted to celebrate Christmas and Moslem religious rites at the Israeli-held holy places, Prime Minister Levi Eshkol said today.

"The Ministry of the Interior will issue an order shortly to permit anyone from any Middle East country into Israel for Christmas unless he is considered a security risk," Eshkol told a group of Israeli editors.

"We have a long account to settle with Jordan, which never permitted Jews to visit holy places in their territory. But we have decided to act differently."

The announcement came as a series of restrictions went into effect on travel between Jordan and the occupied West bank after a bomb explosion in Jerusalem that killed 12 persons.

Israel offered to let all citizens of Middle East countries visit Bethlehem and Jerusalem last Christmas, but the offer was not taken up.

Turning to world affairs, Eshkol referring to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, said: "The same man who declared his support for us at the United Nations in 1947, today says some shocking things about us."

In reply to a question, he said he would visit Washington "when the United States has sorted out its affairs."

It was understood he meant he was putting off his visit, originally scheduled for January, until President Richard M. Nixon's administration was firmly established in Washington.

San Marin High Will Open Monday

Alarm clocks for 620 students and 28 teachers of San Marin High School will be set ahead Monday as they go to school at 8 a.m. in the new $2,327,000 high school on Novato Boulevard and San Marin Drive in Novato.

The students and teachers thus far in the fall term have been able to sleep late as they went only in the afternoon. San Marin was on split sessions with Novato High which used Novato High facilities in the mornings.

Now the students of both high schools will be on full schedule of six 50-minute periods starting at 8 a.m.

All 32 classrooms in the first phase of the high school are ready for occupancy now, according to Henry Moroski, principal of San Marin High.

The shop building, which has been used for storage, is going through the final finishing of the floors with equipment being moved into place. It should be ready by late Tuesday or Wednesday, Moroski said.

Workers were still hanging drapes and installing furniture in the administration building this week but the other buildings were ready for occupancy, according to building inspector Arnold Grewe.

These buildings are: the library, the science building, the social science building, the business education building and one small utilities building, he said.

The lockers and showers in the gymnasium are nearly completed and should be finished in a few days. The gymnasium itself will not be ready until about Christmas, Moroski said.

In the meantime, the physical education classes will be taught theory and first aid, Moroski said.

The football and basketball teams will practice at Novato High until the new gymnasium is completed he said.

The Novato Unified School district purchased the 40-acre site for $445,215, preparation cost $149,784, and the buildings at $1,651,543 or $19.37 per square foot, according to Asst. Supt. Eugene De Brecht. Furniture, paving, sidewalks, playing field equipment and other such items constituted the rest of the total cost of the school, De Brecht said.

In spite of all of the careful planning and a delay of three months, there are still a few minor items which will need immediate attention. The main one is that three classrooms do not have thermostats installed and will not have heating on Monday morning.

Otherwise, it will be a complete new high school ready to receive its first students.

Homeowners' Tax Refund Due In June

The homeowners' property tax relief payment of $70, approved Nov. 5 by passage of Proposition 1-A, will be made by the state to individual homeowners by next June 15, the state Board of Equalization reported yesterday.

H. F. Freeman, executive secretary of the state board, wrote to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, outlining the steps that must be taken to process the payments.

Freeman announced that the equalization board will hold a hearing in Sacramento at 1:30 p.m., Dec. 4 to discuss a procedure by which county assessors can identify each property so that duplicate claims and payments will not be made.

Forms for claiming the $70 payment will be made available by each county assessor by March next year, Freeman reported. He said homeowners will have until April 15, 1969, to file for the $70 payment.

Board Of Education Due Bus Contract

The Marin County Board of Education, meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the county schools office in Corte Madera, is scheduled to consider approval of a contract to provide bus transportation to Marin City students.

Under the agreement, the county board will lend the Tamalpais High School District enough money to continue busing of students from Marin City to Tamalpais High School until the end of the school year.

MARIN NAMES

McNear To Represent Bay Area

Denman K. McNear of Kentfield, vice president of Southern Pacific Co., will represent Junior Achievement of San Francisco at Junior Achievement's 50th anniversary meeting Thursday in New York City.

McNear is president of Junior Achievement in the area covering Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Corte Madera Denies Permit To Javelin Club

The Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission has denied the use of Town Park to the Javelin Club for Boys.

The Commission on Wednesday said permission would be granted if the club were limited to boys from Corte Madera and Larkspur and if the club could qualify as a nonprofit agency under California laws.

The Club, directed by Frank J. Selas, includes boys from Terra Linda to Sausalito. For an hourly fee, activities include golf, judo, tennis, swimming, horseback riding, crafts and archery. Selas said 35 boys ranging in age from 5 to 13 are now involved in the program.

The commission suggested that Selas work with Robert Bundy, town recreation director, to involve more local boys in the club.

Commission members cancelled the December meeting because of the Christmas holidays. The next meeting will be Jan. 22.

NORAD Session Set At Hamilton

A conference of operations officers for the Western Region of the North American Air Defense Command will be held Monday and Tuesday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The conference will be attended by approximately 25 officers from United States and Canadian armed forces, charged with defending the western portion of the North American continent against air attack.

The conference will study results of the recent continent-wide exercise. Representatives from the central, eastern northern and Alaskan Norad regions will also attend the meeting.

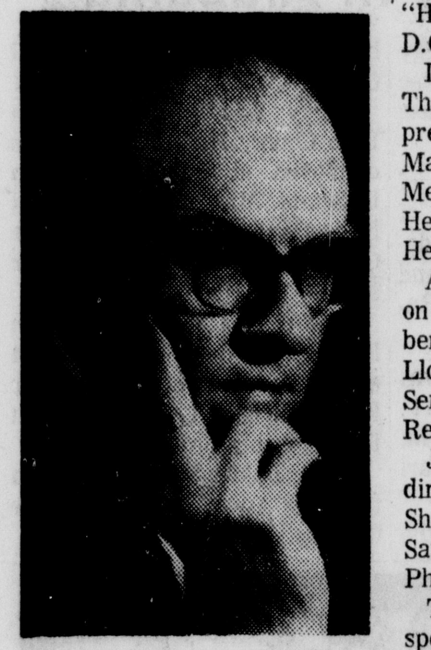
Philip Burton Will Speak On Shakespeare

"Everything I've learned about the theater, I've learned from Philip," Richard Burton has said of his foster-father, Philip Burton, who appears on this season's new A.M. morning series in a program "The Miracle That Was Shakespeare," on Dec. 6 at 10:30 a.m. in the Tamalpais Theatre in San Anselmo.

Shakespeare and Philip Burton are inextricably intertwined. Since 1962 when the noted British director-actor and teacher came to the United States he has instructed American actors in the works of Shakespeare at the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in New York City. Among the artists he has worked with as director or teacher are Celeste Holm, Mildred Dunnock, Betty Field, Rosemary Harris, Elizabeth Ashley, Dina Merrill, Water Slezak, James Daly, Maximilian Scheil and George Grizzard.



PHILIP BURTON

He presented a notable series of 20 lectures on "The Actor's Shakespeare" in New York's Steinway Hall, did a series of Shakespeare programs at the Library of Congress and during the summer of 1967 directed what turned out to be a recordbreaking production of "Hamlet" for the Washington, D.C., Shakespeare Festival.

In his program, "The Miracle That Was Shakespeare," he presents selections from Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, The Merchant of Venice, Cymbeline, Henry IV (Part I), Henry V, Henry VI (Part III).

Admissions are available both on a single and season membership basis through Mrs. Lloyd Bergstrom, Family Service League secretary, 242 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley.

John Brebner, managing director of the Marin Shakespeare Festival and a Sausalito resident, will introduce Philip Burton.

The A.M. lecture series is sponsored by the Family Service League of Marin.

Anesthesiologists—The Unsung Surgical Heroes

By Barbara J. Culliton
Science Service

For every publicized surgeon wielding the scalpel, there is an anesthesiologist — the unsung linebacker of the operating room — to keep track of the patient's life signs, maintaining the delicate balance between sleep and catastrophe.

But they are more than linebackers.

Moving slowly but surely from the world of everyday medicine into basic research, these men are using their sleep-inducing drugs as tools for exploring everything from the world of the unborn to the behavior of genetic material. And they are finding things of which their scalpel-wielding colleagues must be aware. Results of new studies were reported at the annual meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists in Washington, D. C.

For some time, obstetricians have generally agreed that for a woman in labor a local anesthetic is the best method of relieving pain. Using a new method of analyzing a few as three drops of blood from the scalp of a fetus, San Francisco researchers find reason to challenge that assumption. Dr. Sol M. Shnider and coworkers at the University of California Medical Center ran tests on the infants of 13 healthy women given a common anesthetic called mepivacaine to relieve labor pains and found that high concentrations of the anesthetic migrated to the fetus, where they caused an abnormal slowing of heart beat prior to birth. Concentrations of the anesthetic drug were higher in the infant than in its mother.

Mepivacaine, like many local anesthetic drugs, is injected into tissue on either side of the womb where it spreads widely and blocks the nerve fibers which carry pain sensations during labor.

Dr. Shnider believes that the scalp blood sampling technique for measuring drug levels in the fetus before birth opens the door to study of other compounds frequently used in obstetrics, including Demerol, a common narcotic.

In another test, Dr. John J. Bonica of the University of Washington learned that the anesthetic pentobarbital causes a sharp drop in maternal blood pressure and hence a decrease in blood flow to the womb. Dr. Bonica monitored the placenta — the protective environment which serves as the lungs, kidney, liver and intestines of the fetus — studying maternal and fetus circulation and arterial pressure by means of tubes inserted into both mother and child. In this case, experiments were conducted on pregnant rhesus monkeys, but the results appear to apply to humans as well.

In other research, anesthesiologists have discovered that halothane, a sweet-smelling anesthetic, commonly used because it induces unconsciousness rapidly and smoothly, affects antibody production and cell division.

Following surgery, patients are known to be particularly susceptible to infection. According to Drs. Daniel W. Wingard and Loren J. Humphrey of the University of Kentucky Medical Center this may be explained by the fact that the anesthetic reduces the quantity of infection-fighting antibodies in the body. Experiments on 130 rats showed that antibody production is usually at its lowest in the first hour or two after halothane anesthesia.

Halothane also slows the process of cell division — the normal process by which the body repairs and replaces tissue cells. Again, experimental evidence comes from animal studies — rats,

Tips On Cooking For The New Bride

By BETTY FROST

What bride wouldn't like to have the advice of a cooking expert? A chance to ask some questions about the many bewildering details of cuisine of an acknowledged authority?

That's the opportunity that Mrs. Edward E. Hutchison, the former Barbro Eddy of Ross, had one afternoon last week. That was the day she met Shirley Sarvis, author of "Table for Two," the recently published book of recipes, menus and guidance for the new cook starting out, or the older cook who finds she's back to setting the table with only two places after the children are grown.

ACTUALLY BOTH Shirley and Barbro learned from their encounter.

The bride, who was married at St. John's Church in Ross on Oct. 12 to Edward Eric Hutchison, the son of the Edward Hutchisons of Kentfield, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eddy of Ross. Her new home is in San Mateo.

Shirley, who majored in both home economics and journalism, at Kansas State University, was staff home economist at Sunset Magazine for five years, and has published five books on food. "Table for Two," just published by Doubleday and Co. is her newest book.

In response to a question from Barbro about garnishes, the writer said "Garnishes are good for color, and eye appeal. I believe that there should be some appropriateness about it. If there is lemon in the recipe or lemon is good with the dish, use a slice of lemon and perhaps lemon leaves as garnish. If the dish has crushed red peppers, pimiento strips make an appropriate garnish. If there is rosemary in the recipe and the cook has fresh rosemary, it makes an attractive garnish. If the dish is made with wine, a small bunch of grapes is a pleasant accompaniment."

FOR A TWOSOME, Shirley finds a main dish with a vegetable-meat combination, or a fruit-meat combination, with the blending of flavors is both tasty and practical. With this as a basis the hostess need add only a few items to make a complete and attractive meal.

"I enjoy cooking now, and I always want to be happy cooking," said Barbro. "I want everything to look nice, and to be easy to serve, because we like to linger over dinner and talk."

Shirley agreed, "I believe good things happen in the kitchen when you're happy and things do work. Kitchen disasters seem to happen when you're hurried and not very enthusiastic. But," she continued, "some people can make a success out of a flop. If something doesn't turn out just as you had hoped, patch it up the best you can and present it with assurance.

"Develop your own style. Don't be terrified of establishing your individuality. Do what you feel like doing, not what is expected. Don't be nervous about what is appropriate."

Barbro said that when cooking on a budget, she finds that she doesn't always have the appropriate seasonings and herbs, "So I make do with what I have in the pantry."

"WHEN WE have less to work with, it often causes creativity," Shirley told the bride, whose open attitude and willingness to experiment she approved.

When a turkey, large roast, or other traditional holiday fare seems too large for a twosome," why not celebrate the holiday season by indulging in favorite things?" the home economist asked.

An intriguing menu featuring Cornish game hens would be festive fare for the novice and an interesting addition to the repertoire of the accomplished cook.

"Roast one Cornish game hen per person," Miss Sarvis advises. "Perch the brace of them on a bed of watercress, and surround with small roasted potatoes. Serve chilled sliced oranges for salad and a light-bodied but smooth red wine.

Italian prosciutto interlines the flesh of each bird. Peppered cream cheese makes the stuffing and saucing; as you eat, fork it over meat and potatoes."

CORNISH GAME HENS WITH HAM INTERLINING

Salt
4 ounces very thinly sliced Italian Prosciutto or ham
4 ounces (half of a large package) cream cheese softened
Freshly ground black pepper
About 2 tablespoons melted butter
6 small new potatoes, peeled

Thaw game hens if necessary. Sprinkle cavity of each lightly with salt. Loosen skin from flesh over breast and back of each bird by gently slipping fingers between, reaching from neck and body openings. Insert prosciutto slices so they cover breast and back meat of each bird. Mix cream cheese and about one-quarter teaspoon coarsely ground pepper and spoon half into body cavity of each bird. Close body and neck openings with small skewers. Place birds, breasts up on rimmed baking sheet. Brush with melted butter. Coat potatoes with melted butter, season with salt and pepper and place alongside birds. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 50 minutes.

Another recipe which could be a happy holiday choice features spareribs and artichokes. This is one of the meat-vegetable combinations which Shirley favors for two at the table. To complete the meal, she suggests only corn bread, or French bread, and a smooth red table wine.

SHERRY GLAZED SPARERIBS AND ARTICHOKES

1 side pork spareribs (about 2 pounds), cracked
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ cup each dry sherry and honey
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
3 tablespoons minced fresh onion
1 clove garlic, minced or mashed
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 package (about 9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts, thawed just to separate

Sprinkle spareribs generously on both sides with salt and pepper. Place in shallow roasting pan, and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for 40 minutes. Drain off accumulated fat. Mix together remaining ingredients, except artichokes, and pour over spareribs. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees, and bake ribs for 40 minutes more, basting occasionally. Add artichokes to roasting pan, and stir into sauce to coat. Bake for 10 minutes more or until artichokes are tender. Arrange spareribs on serving platter with artichokes and sauce spooned over.

Recognizing that not all eating for two is dining, "Table for Two," has sections on paired picnics, significant snacks, soup and pie suppers, breakfasts and brunches, and midnight breakfasts.

One interesting suggestion for an after-the-party repast is

SWEDISH OVEN PANCAKE

3 slices bacon, cut into small pieces
⅔ cup sifted flour
1½ tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1⅓ cups milk
About ⅔ cup heavy cream, whipped
About ⅔ cup lingonberry preserves or cranberries in sauce

Cook bacon in 9 inch frying pan until crisp (do not pour off drippings unless in excess of 3 tablespoons). Sift flour, sugar and salt together into bowl. Beat eggs lightly with milk, add to dry ingredients, and beat until smooth. Pour batter over bacon in hot frying pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 30 minutes or until set and golden brown. Serve immediately: cut into wedges, top with whipped cream, then lingonberries or cranberries.

Toppings for Swedish Oven Pancake can be varied. A savory topping of unsweetened whipped cream and parsley or a sweet topping of whipped cream sprinkled with cinnamon and drizzled with mild honey are also suggested by Miss Sarvis.

"IF THE COOK only has one cookpot it should be a large one," Shirley Sarvis tells Barbro Hutchison. She points out other essentials from her check list—a French knife, spatula, slotted pancake turner, rolling pin, beaters, pepper grinders. "It's nice to have a blender," the author of five cookbooks tells the recent bride. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

"TWO PLACES CAN be set on a coffee table for dining in a small apartment when no dining room is available," Shirley Sarvis, author of "Table for Two," advises Mrs. Edward E. Hutchison, a recent bride. "The centerpiece must be low," the cooking expert suggested.

Philip Burton Will Speak On Shakespeare

"Everything I've learned about the theater, I've learned from Philip," Richard Burton has said of his foster-father, Philip Burton, who appears on this season's new A.M. morning series in a program "The Miracle That Was Shakespeare," on Dec. 6 at 10:30 a.m. in the Tamalpais Theatre in San Anselmo.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mid-Teen Puzzled With Results Of Communication Attempt

DEAR HELEN:

My boy friend who is 15, wrote me a poem. At the bottom he put "P.S. Please excuse my awful spelling. I can't help being dumb."

He isn't dumb, and I didn't want him to think he is, so I casually suggested he use a dictionary when unsure of a word.

He looked very hurt and said he wished he'd never written the poem.

I only wanted to help. What did I do wrong? — D.T.H.

DEAR D:

If a boy brought you flowers, would you tell him a few are wilted? This was no time to play teacher, Honey. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The new morality as I understand it, is making your own decision, based on the common good. That is, toss out rigid rules like "Good girls don't" and ask, "Is this right for us, and will it hurt anyone?"

Well, maybe that works for very mature people. But the mature ones aren't buying the philosophy as much as the immature ones who figure it means "Anything goes, and if I don't go along, I won't get to go out with anyone."

If we were very wise, we could live without rules. Isn't it a shame we aren't taught first to be wise — through sex education in schools for one thing — before we're handed a new concept we aren't ready for? — PHILOSOPHER J. G.

DEAR PHIL:

Certainly is. The greatest shame is that the too-young latch on to the idea without understanding the concept. What may sometimes work for mature, thinking adults can turn a teen's life into a shambles. And I have thousands of letters to prove it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We started dating when I was 16 and he was 18. He was the first fellow I really loved. I didn't want to go all the way, but he convinced me it was right.

About two weeks later, he broke up with me because he had found another girl. In a month, he was back, and he almost cried when he apologized for dumping me. He said he'll always love me, and — well, I tried to tell him I didn't want any more sneaking, but somehow he won because I love him.

It's now kind of like we're an old married couple, except we aren't, and I hate the physical part because it's all shame and worry, and being afraid someone will catch us when we park on lonely roads. But if I stop that part, he'll drop me. He gets mad and says I'm foolish to be so old-fashioned, but I can't help the way I feel. Can you tell me where all this will end? — GUILTY

DEAR GUILTY:

All this can end several ways — either in pregnancy, a bitter break-up, or a so-so marriage; but I can almost guarantee you won't "live together happily ever afterward." You have too much guilt and resentment between you — and there are no surer stifflers of love. — H.

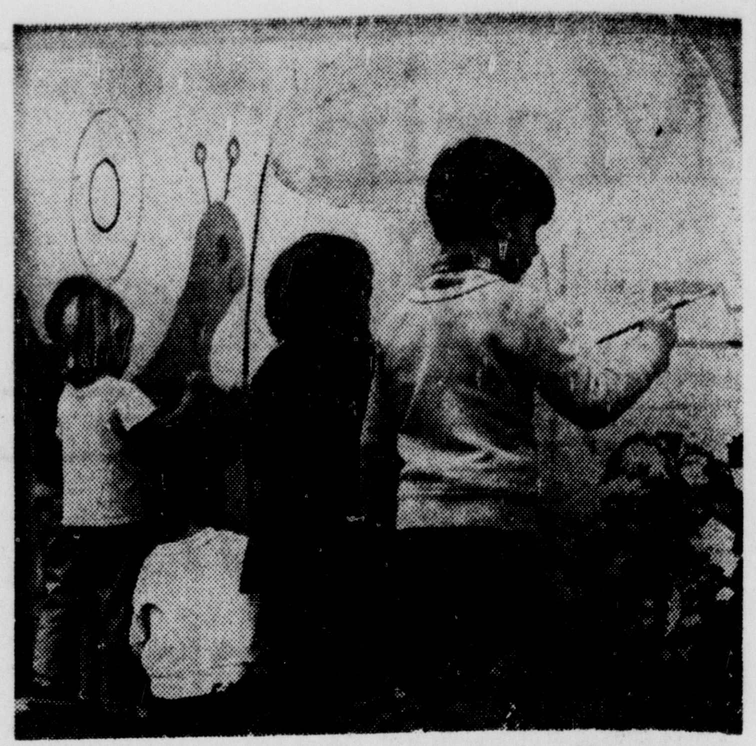
SKETCHES BLOSSOM

An organized paint-in was completed this week at Marin Montessori School in San Rafael. Pre-school youngsters were joined by students from the College of Marin art classes to paint on a wall, sketches of a toy train, giant snail, sunflower and other objects of interest to children. Preparing more paint as children wield brushes are COM students Mark Stevens (pouring paint), Johanna Hausle with back to the camera and Margery Craig, looking at the wall. Children in the foreground are, left to right, Scott Shihadeh, ChiChai Broman, Kerry Stack, Heidi Blum and Lydia Smith. In the background are Shawn Robinson, Jocelyn Nerrie, Ellen Turner and Randi Schoenstadt.



ATTACKING A WALL of the Marin Montessori School and adding their ideas to the paint-in are, left to right, Gail Richardson, Bart Hoey, Heidi Blum and Patrick Bennett. The 14 by 50 foot wall is located in the play yard of the school. "Montessori students are led to believe they have the freedom to affect their environment" commented Miss Margy Craig, director of the school. Miss Craig was assisted in planning the project by Allen Widenhofer, design instructor at COM who expanded an idea for the paint-in from a suggestion made during a parent's meeting at the school.

Miss Hoppe To Be Wed On Jan. 30

Announced at a family party Sunday given by Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hoppe at their home in Mill Valley was the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Hoppe, to Michael Browning. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Browning of Helena, Mont.

DEBORAH HOPPE

The couple will be married on Jan. 30 in Mill Valley.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Deborah is in her first year at the College of Marin. She is the sister of Stephanie and Peter Hoppe of Mill Valley.

Michael was graduated from high school in Helena and is attending City College of San Francisco.

Beds Present Delivery Problems

NEW YORK (UPI)—Beds may be getting bigger, but bedroom doors are the same old size. That just about sums up the supersize bedding delivery problem. The Latex Foam Rubber Council surveyed the top furniture retail stores in the country and found they are selling more king and queensize bedding, despite supersize headaches when it comes time to deliver.

Conventional innerspring supersize mattresses are heavy and rigid and cause difficulty in both king and queen sizes. Bending an innerspring to get it through a door can permanently damage the mattress. Modern latex foam rubber supersizes have the answer here. They are light and fold in half, easily, for trouble-free delivery, yet are sufficiently firm to support the body evenly and comfortably.

Boxsprings for a kingsize bed are easy to deliver, because two twin boxsprings are used and joined together in the home.

Queensize boxsprings, measuring 60 by 80 inches, do present a delivery problem, since they are made "all in one," and are completely inflexible. Recognizing this problem, bedding manufacturers now make and deliver queensize boxsprings in two parts.

this time. Dr. David L. Bruce and co-workers at Northwestern University Medical School gave rats radioactive thymidine (one of the basic components of genetic material) and exposed them to halothane for between 10 minutes and 24 hours. Cells divide in regular cyclic patterns, in which the synthesis of the genetic material DNA preceeds mistosis or actual cell division. In control animals, exposed only to air, DNA synthesis took 6.1 hours. In animals exposed to 0.1 percent halothane in air, synthesis took 7.9 hours and in those exposed to 0.5 percent of the anesthetic systhesis lasted 10.2 hours.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mid-Teen Puzzled With Results Of Communication Attempt

DEAR HELEN:

My boy friend who is 15, wrote me a poem. At the bottom he put "P.S. Please excuse my awful spelling. I can't help being dumb."

He isn't dumb, and I didn't want him to think he is, so I casually suggested he use a dictionary when unsure of a word.

He looked very hurt and said he wished he'd never written the poem.

I only wanted to help. What did I do wrong? — D.T.H.

DEAR D:

If a boy brought you flowers, would you tell him a few are wilted? This was no time to play teacher, Honey. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The new morality as I understand it, is making your own decision, based on the common good. That is, toss out rigid rules like "Good girls don't" and ask, "Is this right for us, and will it hurt anyone?"

Well, maybe that works for very mature people. But the mature ones aren't buying the philosophy as much as the immature ones who figure it means "Anything goes, and if I don't go along, I won't get to go out with anyone."

If we were very wise, we could live without rules. Isn't it a shame we aren't taught first to be wise — through sex education in schools for one thing — before we're handed a new concept we aren't ready for? — PHILOSOPHER J. G.

DEAR PHIL:

Certainly is. The greatest shame is that the too-young latch on to the idea without understanding the concept. What may sometimes work for mature, thinking adults can turn a teen's life into a shambles. And I have thousands of letters to prove it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We started dating when I was 16 and he was 18. He was the first fellow I really loved. I didn't want to go all the way, but he convinced me it was right.

About two weeks later, he broke up with me because he had found another girl. In a month, he was back, and he almost cried when he apologized for dumping me. He said he'll always love me, and — well, I tried to tell him I didn't want any more sneaking, but somehow he won because I love him.

It's now kind of like we're an old married couple, except we aren't, and I hate the physical part because it's all shame and worry, and being afraid someone will catch us when we park on lonely roads. But if I stop that part, he'll drop me. He gets mad and says I'm foolish to be so old-fashioned, but I can't help the way I feel. Can you tell me where all this will end? — GUILTY

DEAR GUILTY:

All this can end several ways — either in pregnancy, a bitter break-up, or a so-so marriage; but I can almost guarantee you won't "live together happily ever afterward." You have too much guilt and resentment between you — and there are no surer stifflers of love. — H.

Marin Children Will Share Christmas With Youngsters

Children in Marin County are starting early to plan gifts for other children who will be spending Christmas day in residence at either Sonoma State Hospital or Children's Center at Napa State Hospital.

Their preparations have been sparked by plans for the second annual Children's Party to be held at Marin Co-op in Corte Madera, Dec. 14. Admission fee to either the 2 p.m. or the 3 p.m. party will be one new or like-new gift for a child, unwrapped. Barrels will be placed in the Co-op store Sunday where gifts may be dropped earlier by adults and others wishing to brighten the holidays for the young patients at Sonoma and Napa.

Plans are proceeding under the guidance of a committee that includes Mrs. Lee Collor of the Co-op staff; Mrs. Dan Beittel, Mrs. Larry Mishkind and Mrs. Donald Wolter of Marin Association for Mental Health Auxiliary; Mrs. Fernando Herrera representing Marin Aid to Retarded Children, and Mrs. Bradford Godfrey of Ladies Aid to Retarded Children.

Scout troops, Brownies and even nursery schools are involved in the decorating for the party and making gift items.

Entertainment highlight will be two puppet shows by Joanne Syrek's Migrant Theater of Berkeley. At 2:30 p.m. she will present "The Gift of the Magi," and at 3:15 p.m. "Mrs. Santa and the Toy Thieves." Group singing will be led by Mrs. William Lamers and her guitar, with the help of Brownie Troop 499 of Kentfield.

Christmas Collages is the theme of the decorating that will be the work of Girl Scout Troop 2058 of Terra Linda, assisted in this project by Mrs. Arthur Reiss. Among groups making gifts are Brownie Troop 499, hand puppets; Corte Madera-Larkspur Cooperative Nursery School, bean bags and Ross Nursery School.

Marin Association for Mental Health's Auxiliary is handling publicity, will help conduct the party and will be in charge of sorting the gifts before they are collected by the hospitals.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS Wiggin have been installed as worthy patron and worthy matron of Novato Chapter 609, Order of Eastern Star.

Installing officers were Mrs. Joseph Wilson and Earl Marshall, the retiring worthy matron and worthy patron; Mrs. Ida Chilcoat and Robert Coursey, installing officers; Mrs. Robert McKeay and Mrs. Lee Wise, marshals; and Mrs. Marie Tubb, chaplain.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bussman are associate patron and matron and Mesdames Calvin Ball, secretary; George Weatherstone, treasurer; Wallace Campbell, conductors; Earl Marshall, associate conductress; Joe Lewis, marshal; Lee Conyers, organist; Mr. Earl Marshall, chaplain; and Mesdames Stephen Shoemaker, Adah; Henry Torget, Ruth; Stanford Warner, Esther; Fred Meggers, Electa; and Miss Sharyn Betts, Martha.

Mrs. Roy Butler will serve as warden and George Weatherstone as sentinel.

MRS. DAVID DUNHAM of Terra Linda will be in charge of a booth for Gamma Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi tomorrow. The sorority members will be selling Christmas wreaths at the Co-Op Food Store in Corte Madera from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. The sale is in cooperation with other organizations in a community effort to display holiday ideas.

INTERNATIONAL ORDER of Job's Daughters Bethel 48 will hold initiation Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in San Rafael. Girls to be initiated are Kristine Adamson, Sharon Benedict, Kathryn Burke, Sheryl Cazheaux, Sharon Vincilione, Kathryn Weichert and Claudia Woodland. Presiding will be honored queen Jonna Peden.

Installation of the guardian council will follow: Mrs. Thelma Tabor, guardian; Henry Aubel, associate guardian; Mrs. Louise Stephens, secretary; Mrs. Life Ostern, treasurer; Mrs. John Peden, director of music; Mrs. Richard West, director of epochs; Mrs. Frank Bertch, promoter of sociability; Mrs. Robert Wales, custodian of paraphernalia; and Lawrence Hollman, director of finance.

The council members will be installed by Mrs. Angie Goulder, deputy grand guardian of the state of California.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 29, the 334th day of 1968 with 32 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

A thought for the day: Henry David Thoreau said, "How many a man has dated a new era in his life from the reading of a book."

NOT TYPICAL

Mrs. Fritzi Gordon and Mrs. Rixi Markus, who defended against six spades in the hand shown today, don't sound typically English; and perhaps they're not. Members of the world championship Viennese team of 1937, they made their way to England during the years of turmoil in Europe. By now they are considered as English as marmalade.

Mrs. Gordon led the queen of diamonds, and South won, drew trumps, cashed the clubs and the other top diamond and got out with a diamond.

Mrs. Gordon knew that she had to return a heart since a club return would abviously allow dummy to ruff while South discarded a heart. The question was which heart to lead.

UNUSUAL RETURN

Most players would thoughtlessly return a low heart from the West hand. South would play dummy's eight, and East would have to put up the queen to drive out the ace. South would then lead a heart to win a finesses with dummy's ten, making the slam.

HIGH RETURN

Mrs. Gordon was familiar with the problem, and also with the solution. Upon being given her diamond trick she returned the jack of hearts.

Now declarer still had to lose a heart trick. If he won in his own hand, he would later have to lose a trick to East's queen; and if he won in dummy, he would later lose a trick either to the queen or to the nine.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs.

You have only 3 points in high cards, but you should count 3 points for the singleton, and 1 point for extra length in partner's suit. The total is enough for a raise.

No Holes Here

NORFOLK, England (UPI)—There were no holes in one—or in 10 or 20 or 30 either—at Gorleston golf course one day recently. Players found all 18 flags had been cemented into the cups by vandals. Workmen had to cut new ones.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs.

You have only 3 points in high cards, but you should count 3 points for the singleton, and 1 point for extra length in partner's suit. The total is enough for a raise.

No Holes Here

NORFOLK, England (UPI)—There were no holes in one—or in 10 or 20 or 30 either—at Gorleston golf course one day recently. Players found all 18 flags had been cemented into the cups by vandals. Workmen had to cut new ones.

ART REVIEW

A Practitioner Of The Art Of Mosaics

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Since around the 13th Century when frescoes supplanted mosaics in mural art, mosaics have found few fine arts practitioners. Most artists seem disinclined to bother with the laborous tile-setting process.

A present day exception is Belveder artist, Helen Steinau Rich. In her show of mosaics and cartoons (drawings for the finished product) through Dec. 21 at the Mill Valley Library gallery, Mrs. Rich revitalizes the ancient technique with shimmering interest.

Her thick, multi-leveled interpretations of birds, bugs and other things have the excitement of stained glass colors and natural stone, fractured by crusty grout and metal and set into motion with sweeps of Van Gogh-like lines.

The effect can be strangely prehistoric as in "Pelican," its spreading form winging darkly through ribbons of glistening night and sunset colors. In fact, a Fantasia aura resides in much of Mrs. Rich's work as in the triple panel "Insects Imaginary," where insect shapes emerge from a network of boiling lines and colors which spin suddenly from quiet tones.

The materials Mrs. Rich uses are her greatest strength. Soft opaque stones changing to rows of opalescent shells and mirrored or transparent chips create depth and catch the light in myriad ways. They take full advantage of the angle of incidence as do up-ended chunks which feather many of her birds.

Her colors add even more. Blues are deep and intense building to torquoise and greens and offset against hot colors, hammered gold and corroded copper.

As for the cartoons which accompany many of the finished pieces, they are of interest in showing how flexible even the final tile setting remains. These drawings do little more than establish design and subject matter in loose, usually grayscale terms.

The rush of life and motion is omitted, showing that in mosaics, as in other media, immediacy and unmechanical freshness depend of the moment of creation and on the mind and hand of the individual artist.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

Battle Beneath the Earth — Science fiction. War Lord has constructed network of tunnels in U.S. complete with atom bombs. Marine combat team foils the enemy.

The Parent Trap — Happy farce-comedy of teen-age twins separated when infants by parents' divorce and kept in total ignorance of each other.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Dr. Zhivago — Superb photography that produces an unforgettable picture of life in Russia during the revolution.

For the Love of Ivy — A romantic comedy, shiny and unreal, exploit comic misconceptions on both sides of race question. Torrid bed scene and some language startlingly frank.

From Russia With Love — A preposterous James Bond espionage. Perplexing action punctuated by sexy situations and spectacular refinements of death-dealing gadgets.

In Enemy Country — Well told World War II counter-espionage drama keeps up goodly amount of surprises and excitement.

Up the Down Staircase — Excellent drama. Realistic portrayal of young woman who teaches school in New York's slum area. Touchy moments delicately handled. Humor smoothly interwoven.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

Never Too Late — Intimate marriage relations held up to ridicule, a silly and tasteless attempt at comedy.

Thunderball — James Bond uses much sex and violence to provoke laughter. Unpalatable cruelty is passed off as "Spoof" and morals simply do not exist.

ADULTS ONLY

Barbarella — Adult comic strip goes so far beyond mere vulgarity in sex, nudity and perverted brutality that it is close to pornography.

Coogan's Bluff — Deputy sheriff from Arizona is assigned to bring back escaped killer being held by New York police. Sadistic suspense film with undertones of sexual promiscuity and nudity.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklas — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

Lady in Cement — Tony Rome again searches the haunts of the underworld gangsters; crime is treated as comedy.

Ulysses — Straight adaptation of James Joyce's controversial novel. More candid and explicit in its treatment of sex than any film to date.

'Tartuffe' Slated By San Rafael High Students

"Tartuffe," Moliere's classic farce about an unfrocked priest and the family he fleeces, will be presented by San Rafael High School at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Dec. 7 in the school auditorium.

David Kirschner will play the title role. Other players are Derek Taylor as Orgon, Leslie Corston as Elmire, Cindy Prescott as Mariane, Michael Allen as Valere, Greg Shore as Damis, Sherri Friedman as Dorine, Holly Vernon as Madame Pernelle, Charles Langlais as the bailiff, Frank Riggs as a policeman and Colette Savage as a maid.

Schools-Police Report On Tap

The Fairfax School District Board will hear a report Tuesday on recent staff meetings with Fairfax Police Chief James R. Orr to improve liaison between police and schools. The board will meet at 7:45 p.m. in the district office, 58 Park Road.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said he will report a proposal to have school principals meet regularly with policemen to discuss potential problems.

The board will also consider renewal of Hammond's contract, which will expire July 1, 1969, and will hear a committee report on plans for family life education.

Pueblo Crew Statements Confirmed

An American spokesman denied, however, that the tapes contained Christmas messages to families of Pueblo crewmen being held in North Korea.

"They are not Christmas greetings from Pueblo crew members," the spokesman said, "but contain material that already has been received by Pueblo next of kin." He did not elaborate.

The spokesman added that the U.S. government has copies of the tapes in its possession and that the originals "now (are) being held by West Berlin authorities."

A West Berlin newspaper reported last Saturday that the tapes had been found and seized and that they apparently were Christmas messages from Pueblo crew members.

The newspaper account said the tapes had been brought here by a West Berlin buyer with trade connections to the North Korean Embassy in East Berlin. Police said only that investigation is continuing.

Filming Moves To Formosa City

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Shooting began today in Taipei on sequences of a film "The Chairman" that originally were scheduled to be shot in Hong Kong.

The government in the British crown colony refused to allow producer Mort Abrahams to film there after supporters of Chinese Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung threatened violence.

Abrahams denied yesterday that the film was anti-Mao or against the Chinese people. He said it was "an entertainment picture and totally nonpolitical."

College Band Sets Concert On Dec. 7

The winter concert of the College of Marin Community Band will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 7 in the fine arts theater on the college campus.

John H. Myers will conduct the band in works by Sousa, Douglas Moore, Don Gillis, Gustav Holst and other composers. Admission is free.

African Pact Set

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI)— Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania announced through a spokesman yesterday they will sign on agreement soon for joint construction of Africa's first satellite communication system making possible television transmission and direct dial telephone calls from Europe.

ART REVIEW

A Practitioner Of The Art Of Mosaics

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Since around the 13th Century when frescoes supplanted mosaics in mural art, mosaics have found few fine arts practitioners. Most artists seem disinclined to bother with the laborous tile-setting process.

A present day exception is Belveder artist, Helen Steinau Rich. In her show of mosaics and cartoons (drawings for the finished product) through Dec. 21 at the Mill Valley Library gallery, Mrs. Rich revitalizes the ancient technique with shimmering interest.

Her thick, multi-leveled interpretations of birds, bugs and other things have the excitement of stained glass colors and natural stone, fractured by crusty grout and metal and set into motion with sweeps of Van Gogh-like lines.

The effect can be strangely prehistoric as in "Pelican," its spreading form winging darkly through ribbons of glistening night and sunset colors. In fact, a Fantasia aura resides in much of Mrs. Rich's work as in the triple panel "Insects Imaginary," where insect shapes emerge from a network of boiling lines and colors which spin suddenly from quiet tones.

The materials Mrs. Rich uses are her greatest strength. Soft opaque stones changing to rows of opalescent shells and mirrored or transparent chips create depth and catch the light in myriad ways. They take full advantage of the angle of incidence as do up-ended chunks which feather many of her birds.

Her colors add even more. Blues are deep and intense building to torquoise and greens and offset against hot colors, hammered gold and corroded copper.

As for the cartoons which accompany many of the finished pieces, they are of interest in showing how flexible even the final tile setting remains. These drawings do little more than establish design and subject matter in loose, usually gray-scale terms.

The rush of life and motion is omitted, showing that in mosaics, as in other media, immediacy and unmechanical freshness depend of the moment of creation and on the mind and hand of the individual artist.

Troubador Pablo Castro Brings His Own New Songs To Ramona's

If the repertory of troubador Pablo Castro at Ramona's these days seems to be more varied — it is.

Pablo, a composer of no mean talent, has been turned out some catchy Latin-American songs of his own and at the same time increasing his knowledge of others, mostly in Spanish. He's added many of the recently popular and several old standards to his supply.

One exception, with the words in English, is a song you might have thought he'd have learned long ago. But while it's a familiar tune here it evidently never made the hit parade as far south of the border as Chile, and that's Ramona. It's a natural theme song for this restaurant.

In any event he's finally learned the English words and you can tell that he's quite proud of the accomplishment. Pablo, by the way, is developing a strong outside following and is in great demand for private parties with his guitar and excellent voice.

And increasing in demand at Ramona's is her carne asada, teamed up with an enchilada verde, chalupa, rice and beans, beverage and Ramona's special sundae for dessert. This is quite a spread; meat is juicy and tender and you should enjoy it.

THERE'S A NEW MENU out at Sabella's, with more classic seafood selections and combinations than the average person is likely to try in his lifetime. All the old Sabella favorites are represented: abalone a la Giovanni, stuffed turbot, craviolis, baked flounder gourmet, plus many more.

And I see something that I believe was not on the menu before — a $3.75 "Shore Dinner," with a choice of rex sole, sand dabs, filet of sole or Farallon Island rock bass.

Just in case your family is split on red flesh or fish, there is a fine choice of steaks, brochettes, chops, chicken and scallopini.

Lou Sabella is continuing his research into the early development of the Italian fishing industry in the Bay Area and the part the Sabella family played in it. A number of early photographs are on display and so, too, is a beautiful model of the Flying Cloud, an early clipper ship he had specially prepared for the restaurant exhibit.

The new menu, by the way, carries a historical summary of the Sabella family from the time Luciano Sabella at the age of 15 migrated to San Francisco in the 1880s.

Organ music still is furnished by Bob Stewart Tuesdays through Saturdays and by Jean Denning on Monday nights. Hours are from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

And in case you haven't noticed lovely Rosalind Sabella, youngest daughter of the late Angelo Sabella, who suddenly grew up and has been getting more and more into the family picture. She is in charge of much of the restaurant's publicity work.

SO YOU THINK Thanksgiving is all over except for the leftovers and the wishbone. Not so. Jean's Kitchen in Ross, closed yesterday as were many Marin restaurants, is offering up a Thanksgiving turkey dinner tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday for those who didn't get enough white meat or got none at all. Trimmings include Jean Dobson's usual fine home-cooked food, including cornbread dressing and Tennessee pumpkin pie.

But if you're fed up on turkey for awhile, you might look in at Jean's tonight and order her crab lasagne complete dinner at $3.25. It's in great demand.

COMES NOW the season of holiday parties. Many dineries have spacious banquet rooms to offer for gatherings. Space for such affairs, however, has a way of booking up fast. If you have a group event on the calendar and haven't tied it down, don't tarry in checking out the possibilities and making a reservation.

Christmas Day itself is not an especially big day for restaurants and you will find a number of them closing, with a few giving token recognition to scattered diners who prefer not to eat at home.

Next big event is New Year's Eve and it won't be necessary to go to the city to look for adequate facilities for celebration if space is reserved early enough in advance. In particular, where a full evening of dinner, music and dancing is provided reservations book up fast during December.

Based on what happened last year, here are a few places likely to close out their reservations early:

Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai in Tiburon — You'll need early reservations for the upstairs party, but probably not for dinner downstairs.

Windjammer, Tiburon — Early reservations suggested.

Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera — This is likely to be much more popular this year and you should at least make an early inquiry.

Sabella's, Mill Valley, is a large place and occasionally tables are available at a late hour — but don't count on it.

Inn Marin, Strawberry, is bound to have some kind of New Year's Eve program under Ron Hennig's management. Worth checking early.

Rancho Nicasio — Usually has a package arrangement every year for the entire evening and closes reservations very early.

Rubini's, Fairfax — Partytime dinner is from 10 p.m. on New Year's Eve. Make reservations soon. Early diners will have to be out by that time.

La Petite Auberge, San Rafael — Another place that books up its 10 p.m. party quickly. Don't wait on this.

Executive Lounge, San Rafael, a newcomer on the scene this year, is expected to have a "package New Year's Eve party" by reservation only. This could book up fast.

Taberna, San Rafael — While the schedule here has been changed recently it may be changed again for a big New Year's. Keep in close touch.

Le Chalet Basque, Santa Venetia — Frequently is booked up a week or more before New Year's.

Between now and New Year's Eve more information will be given on this page as it received.

ANOTHER FASHION SHOW is scheduled for the Executive Lounge in the Kaehler-Farrar Building, San Rafael next Friday evening. The same winsome ex-Playboy bunny is putting it on. Styles are different, of course.

THIS IS THE LAST weekend Manka's Czech Restaurant at Inverness Lodge will be open for a month. On Monday it will close down until Dec. 31 while Milan and Judy Prokupak spend their annual winter holiday skiing in Aspen, Colo.

AFTER BEING CLOSED since last Saturday, Rubini's in Fairfax is open again tonight with its usual excellent choice of steaks and seafoods.

Larkspur artist Katy Blades will have her award winning paintings on display here throughout the month of December.

Students Search For Addition To Allegiance Pledge

The daily pledge of allegiance has "lost meaning for many students through constant repetition," according to three Terra Linda High School students, and might be replaced or augmented by other observances.

The school student council has appointed a five-member committee to study "meaningful alternatives" to the pledge after Ken Downs and two other students complained that the pledge has "lost its meaning and there are no alternatives."

Downs said the state law calls for a daily "patriotic observance," but not specifically the pledge. He suggested patriotic songs as an alternative and said the pledge need not be dropped but other observances could be added.

Downs, Mark Manion and Skip Whitney asked the student council for the study and were named to the committee along with council members Sue McCue and Al Kerr.

Erosion Concerns Bolinas Board

Concern over the continual erosion of Bolinas Harbor at the end of the Kent Estates was expressed at the Bolinas Harbor District Board meeting Wednesday night.

Planner Norman T. Gilroy said the sandy beach has been undercut by ocean waves with some areas being eroded as much as 300 feet. He said high tides in mid December, coupled with occasional sea storms could endanger the nearby tennis courts.

Parents Who Spare The Rod May Change Child's Hormone Pattern

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — Man's poor adjustment to civilized life has been blamed for everything from stomach ulcers to warfare. According to theory, he has the adrenaline system of a primitive and the social needs of a civilized man.

The stress hormone — adrenaline — enabled primitive man to fight or flee for his life, but modern man can't express himself so easily that way.

This argument depends, however, on how stable the adrenaline system is and how impervious to experience.

According to a growing body of information, human adrenaline patterns are not at all immune to the effects of early experience. There is reason to believe that the kind of discipline a child receives in his early years greatly affects his adrenaline pattern, and not only the kind of punishment, but the specific age at which it is given.

Very early punishment — a good hard smack a day for children less than 21 months old — seems to create an adrenaline pattern suggesting aggressive traits. But later punishment at the same rate appears to have opposite effects — creating anxiety rather than aggressiveness.

The theory is that early punishment may habituate the child to stress, making him aggressive, while the same discipline given after a critical period results in intense reaction to stress, and a fearful child.

Evidence of such correlations between child discipline and adrenaline patterns comes from a cross culture study of Swedish and Formosan children. The study is not yet complete.

An individual's adrenaline pattern can best be understood as the ratio between two substances, one called noradrenaline and related to aggression; the other called adrenaline and related to fear. Much work suggests that these two substances represent very different, opposing functions, says Dr. Patsy Sampson, a physiological psychologist at Wellsley College in Massachusetts and one of the investigators in the cross cultural work.

Apparently, the higher the ratio of noradrenaline over adrenaline, the more aggressive the individual will be, says Dr. Sampson.

In Sweden and Taiwan, the ratios vary according to the kind of punishment a child receives and its timing.

Formosan mothers start punishment late, compared to Western practice, but it can be quite severe. Of 64 children studied by Dr. Arthur Wolf of Cornell University, about half were hit rather than scolded as the typical means of discipline. These children had high adrenaline levels. The others, typically scolded, did not.

In a first draft of their preliminary work, the authors, which also include Dr. William Lambert, Cornell sociologist, speculate that the combination of late and rather harsh punishment could raise adrenaline levels to a point where children are living biochemically like laboratory subjects under stress.

The Swedish material gave quite different results and pointed up existence of a critical age period. Dr. Lambert found that those children who were consistently smacked prior to 21 months of age had much lower adrenaline levels than those whose punishment began later.

They can also, of course, reflect genetic differences between children or cultures, which in turn cause parents to use different punishment methods.

"That is always a possibility with correlation studies," says Dr. Sampson. But she points out that the data looks much neater if punishment is viewed as a cause rather than an effect of adrenaline patterns.

"At this point, the material is suggestive and very interesting, but tentative," she says.

Further confirmation should come from analysis of actual behavior among the Swedish and Formosan children, now in process, and from experimental work on animals, which so far supports the findings.

Perhaps the main argument in its favor, however, is its logic. The adrenalines, along with other hormones of the nervous system, have now been thoroughly implicated in personality. The level of noradrenaline, for instance, affects mood, and a common treatment for depression is to raise noradrenaline levels with antidepressant drugs.

If the hormones are viewed as personality traits, it only makes sense that parents, in shaping the child's personality, also shape his biochemistry.

Annual Rice Raids Started

BANGKOK (AP) — Communist troops in Laos have begun their annual rice raids in the Mekong Valley and foreign observers expect them to last a month or more.

Some 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in Laos together with thousands of Pathet Lao soldiers and supporters. They live mostly in food-short mountainous areas.

If they don't raid the lowlands, the rice has to be brought down the Ho Chi Minh trail from North Vietnam, where rice is far from plentiful.

Besides feeding the resident Communist troops, the rice also goes to infiltrating North Vietnamese troops passing through Laos on their way to battle zones in South Vietnam. The current infiltration rate is estimated at 15,000 to 20,000 a month.

Women Lead The Money Losing List

NEW YORK (AP) — Women are twice as likely to lose money as men, reports a study of what happens to the roughly $2 billion cash Americans lose each year.

About seven million Americans last year had money lost, stolen or accidentally destroyed. The loss figure is double that of 1965, and up from about $700 million Americans lost in 1961-1962.

Women are most likely to lose money at home or shopping, when they give a clerk a $10 bill instead of a $1 or when they don't bother to count their change. Setting a pocketbook down on a counter for a few minutes—enough time for a thief to grab it—is another common way women lose money.

Men are less likely to lose money at home, but lose it about twice as often on the job or at a place of entertainment.

The study for American Express Co. showed a college-educated person is more loss prone than one with a high school education or less. Managers are more than twice as likely to let money slip through their fingers as workers, farmers or professional people.

Among age groups, youth is more loss-prone and older people are the most tight fisted. The tendency to lose money starts to decline at about age 30 and drops off permanently after 50.

Most people who lose money remember where they lose it, but more than half don't recall how the loss occurred. People with lower incomes tend to recall how they lost money more often than more prosperous Americans.

About 21 per cent of losses involves sums of $200 or more and roughly 9 per cent are losses of less than $9.

Parents Who Spare The Rod May Change Child's Hormone Pattern

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — Man's poor adjustment to civilized life has been blamed for everything from stomach ulcers to warfare. According to theory, he has the adrenaline system of a primitive and the social needs of a civilized man.

The stress hormone — adrenaline — enabled primitive man to fight or flee for his life, but modern man can't express himself so easily that way.

This argument depends, however, on how stable the adrenaline system is and how impervious to experience.

According to a growing body of information, human adrenaline patterns are not at all immune to the effects of early experience. There is reason to believe that the kind of discipline a child receives in his early years greatly affects his adrenaline pattern, and not only the kind of punishment, but the specific age at which it is given.

Very early punishment — a good hard smack a day for children less than 21 months old — seems to create an adrenaline pattern suggesting aggressive traits. But later punishment at the same rate appears to have opposite effects — creating anxiety rather than aggressiveness.

The theory is that early punishment may habituate the child to stress, making him aggressive, while the same discipline given after a critical period results in intense reaction to stress, and a fearful child.

Evidence of such correlations between child discipline and adrenaline patterns comes from a cross culture study of Swedish and Formosan children. The study is not yet complete.

An individual's adrenaline pattern can best be understood as the ratio between two substances, one called noradrenaline and related to aggression; the other called adrenaline and related to fear. Much work suggests that these two substances represent very different, opposing functions, says Dr. Patsy Sampson, a physiological psychologist at Wellsley College in Massachusetts and one of the investigators in the cross cultural work.

Apparently, the higher the ratio of noradrenaline over adrenaline, the more aggressive the individual will be, says Dr. Sampson.

In Sweden and Taiwan, the ratios vary according to the kind of punishment a child receives and its timing.

Formosan mothers start punishment late, compared to Western practice, but it can be quite severe. Of 64 children studied by Dr. Arthur Wolf of Cornell University, about half were hit rather than scolded as the typical means of discipline. These children had high adrenaline levels. The others, typically scolded, did not.

In a first draft of their preliminary work, the authors, which also include Dr. William Lambert, Cornell sociologist, speculate that the combination of late and rather harsh punishment could raise adrenaline levels to a point where children are living biochemically like laboratory subjects under stress.

The Swedish material gave quite different results and pointed up existence of a critical age period. Dr. Lambert found that those children who were consistently smacked prior to 21 months of age had much lower adrenaline levels than those whose punishment began later.

They can also, of course, reflect genetic differences between children or cultures, which in turn cause parents to use different punishment methods.

"That is always a possibility with correlation studies," says Dr. Sampson. But she points out that the data looks much neater if punishment is viewed as a cause rather than an effect of adrenaline patterns.

"At this point, the material is suggestive and very interesting, but tentative," she says.

Further confirmation should come from analysis of actual behavior among the Swedish and Formosan children, now in process, and from experimental work on animals, which so far supports the findings.

Perhaps the main argument in its favor, however, is its logic. The adrenalines, along with other hormones of the nervous system, have now been thoroughly implicated in personality. The level of noradrenaline, for instance, affects mood, and a common treatment for depression is to raise noradrenaline levels with antidepressant drugs.

If the hormones are viewed as personality traits, it only makes sense that parents, in shaping the child's personality, also shape his biochemistry.

Some 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in Laos together with thousands of Pathet Lao soldiers and supporters. They live mostly in food-short mountainous areas.

If they don't raid the lowlands, the rice has to be brought down the Ho Chi Minh trail from North Vietnam, where rice is far from plentiful.

Besides feeding the resident Communist troops, the rice also goes to infiltrating North Vietnamese troops passing through Laos on their way to battle zones in South Vietnam. The current infiltration rate is estimated at 15,000 to 20,00 0 a month.

Women Lead The Money Losing List

NEW YORK (AP) — Women are twice as likely to lose money as men, reports a study of what happens to the roughly $2 billion cash Americans lose each year.

About seven million Americans last year had money lost, stolen or accidentally destroyed. The loss figure is double that of 1965, and up from about $700 million Americans lost in 1961-1962.

Women are most likely to lose money at home or shopping, when they give a clerk a $10 bill instead of a $1 or when they don't bother to count their change. Setting a pocketbook down on a counter for a few minutes—enough time for a thief to grab it—is another common way women lose money.

Men are less likely to lose money at home, but lose it about twice as often on the job or at a place of entertainment.

The study for American Express Co. showed a college-educated person is more loss prone than one with a high school education or less. Managers are more than twice as likely to let money slip through their fingers as workers, farmers or professional people.

Among age groups, youth is more loss-prone and older people are the most tight fisted. The tendency to lose money starts to decline at about age 30 and drops off permanently after 50.

Most people who lose money remember where they lose it, but more than half don't recall how the loss occurred. People with lower incomes tend to recall how they lost money more often than more prosperous Americans.

About 21 per cent of losses involves sums of $200 or more and roughly 9 per cent are losses of less than $9.

SLEUTH'S INTUITION

Predawn Bike Theft Rash Solved By Chief

Terra Linda Fire Chief George A. Walser was credited today with cracking a one-boy bicycle theft ring which has plagued Terra Linda's two-wheeler set for the past three weeks.

Walser, a special deputy sheriff, told San Rafael police his peace officer's intuition paid off with the capture of a 15-yea-old Terra Linda boy, peddling on a stolen bike, at 5:15 a.m. today.

Several bicycles have been stolen in the area in recent weeks, the chief said. As he worked the case, Walser said, he began to notice a modus operandi.

Apparently, the bikes were stolen in the early morning hours, he said. The thief always seemed to abandon the stolen two wheelers somewhere near the point of theft. To Walser, this looked like the work of a newspaper delivery boy.

This morning, he proved his theory correct. His suspect, caught at the corner of Del Ganado and Las Raposas roads, admitted stealing the Stingray he was riding at from a house near Vallejo Way and Duran Drive.

What's more, he admitted stealing nine other bikes in the past three weeks. His bicycle has been broken and he needs one for his morning newspaper route, he reportedly told the chief.

San Rafael police said the boy sees nothing wrong with the thefts. He prefers to think of it as borrowing, since he always leaves the bikes in the neighborhood where he steals them.

He was turned over to his father and told to come to the police department Wednesday for a talk with the city's juvenile officer.

Color TV Stolen

A $400 color television set was stolen from the loading dock of Pacific Motor Transit Terminal at 35 Jordan Street, San Rafael, sometime Tuesday night, San Rafael police reported today.

House Fire A Surprise To Guests

A Woodacre man who arrived home last night at about 10:20 found his guests in the living room unaware that the other end of the house was in flames.

Tommas Tomplins of 249 Redwood Drive drove to the fire department a few blocks away to report the fire because he had no phone, firemen said.

When the Marin County Fire Department's trucks arrived, a few minutes later, the fire had spread from the garage and back bedroom throughout the wood-paneled house, Chief Louis J. Bloom said.

The four guests, whom Bloom described along with Tompkins as "hippies," had noticed the fire by this time and were standing outside.

The $15,000 house, owned by Alexander Eagle of San Francisco, was totally destroyed. Bloom said that the furnishings, valued at $6,000 which mostly belonged to Eagle, were also lost.

The fire apparently started in the garage in a chimney to a wood stove in the back bedroom, according to Bloom.

Man Is Arrested In Name Fuss

A 21-year-old Oakland man was arrested early today by Mill Valley police after he refused to identify himself when officers found him sitting in a police car parked behind city hall.

William B. Peavey Jr. was booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of resisting arrest and failure to identify himself. He posted $785 bail. He was scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said a matron on duty at 1:30 a.m. today noticed Peavey standing by the parked police cars. When Sgt. John Castellani went to investigate he found Peavey getting out of one of the patrol cars.

Castellani said he asked Peavey to identify himself several times and when he refused, placed him under arrest. Peavey then struggled to escape but was subdued and taken to jail, Castellani reported.

College Is Neutral On Careers Plans

The College of Marin administration declined today to endorse either of two proposals for a New Careers program administered by the County of Marin.

Dr. Louis H. Herkenoff, acting president of the college, said it was up to county government to decide on the best program to introduce members of minority groups to new fields of employment. The college, expected to play a large role in educational, counseling and tutorial services for the new careerists, would then join in implementing the program, Herkenhoff said.

The county board .of supervisors on Tuesday endorsed in principle a plan by the county administrator's office to create 26 jobs for new careerists in the next fiscal year at a cost of $245,000, with the county paying $185,000.

Dr. Arthur Pearl, a consultant hired by the county last spring, has proposed a conflicting program that would absorb disadvantaged persons intc present county positions at, he claimed, little cost.

Although Herkenhoff said the college was interested in the program, he declined on KTIM's Sounding Board to be drawn into the controversy between Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella and Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the human rights department, over which proposal was best.

Campanella and Thompson also appeared on the radio program, with Campanella defending the administrator's plan and Thompson reaffirming support of Pearl's proposal.

A fourth panelist on the show was Robert H. Elliott, county personnel director, who said a New Careers program would not disturb the county employees' merit system.

Leake Sees Student Civil War At Hand

I-J Special Report

RICHMOND — Paul R. Leake, state Board of Equalization member and Woodland editor, told Richmond Rotarians today that "anyone who isn't hot and bothered about what is going on in our colleges has to be high on an LSD trip. The civil war is not just around the corner . . . it is here and in full bloom."

However, Leake said at the luncheon meeting, "it is a war that is too one-sided. If a majority of students really want an education, why do they kowtow to a handful of faculty scarecrows and a small mob of roughnecks, many of whom don't care a damn about an education and are only out to promote turmoil."

He praised the suit, brought by John Frederick Craemer, 20, of Greenbrae, which earned a Marin Superior Court order that acting president S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State open the college Monday or show cause why he should not. (See also, page 1.)

Craemer, a student at the strike-bound college, filed his action on behalf of himself and the colleges 17,000 other students.

"Let's hope that the Craemer lad's idea will catch on with the other students who represent the silent majority of San Francisco State College," Leake said.

Burglary Case Hearing Is Set

Benney Jones, 28, San Francisco street sweeper arrested on suspicion of burglary of a Corte Madera Shopping Center store yesterday, will appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday. He was released from Marin County Jail after paying $3,750 bail.

Police were still seeking today a second man allegedly involved in the burglary of 50 suits from Mr. Smith's, a men's clothing store.

Jones was arrested after a pre-dawn high-speed chase along Highway 101, near the Mill Valley exit when he fled his car which had jumped a curb and landed on a divider. The other man being sought for questioning after escaping in the shopping center, according to police, is Charles Edward, 29, of San Francisco.

Crash Hurts Prove Fatal To Teen-Ager

Adams had been a passenger in a car driven by Daniel W. David, 19, of 832 Wilmac Avenue, Novato, which struck a parked garbage truck, according to the California Highway Patrol. Yesterday David was transferred from Memorial Hospital to Sonoma County Community Hospital in Santa Rosa where he was reported in critical condition today.

Born in San Luis Obispo, Adams had lived in Petaluma for two years and was a senior at Petaluma Senior High School. He is survived by his parents, Mrs. Colleen Heidecker of Sparks, Nev., and Edgar Adams, of San Luis Obispo, and a brother, Louis Heidecker of Sparks, Nev.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Innocent Pleas To Murder Count

Daniel Nyhan, 43, of Tiburon, and his mother, Mrs. Elsie F. Nyhan, 72, of San Francisco, have pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of murder.

The mother and son, held without bail in San Francisco County Jail, are accused of killing Mrs. Genevieve Dolan, 61, whom Mrs. Nyhan called "my best friend."

Mrs. Dolan was found dead of head injuries in Mrs. Nyhan's apartment Oct. 25.

The mother and son are to appear in San Francisco Superior Court Tuesday for setting of a jury trial date.

Car Pilfering Suspect Arrested After Chase

A 41-year-old San Francisco man who eluded a Corte Madera police officer in a foot chase was arrested shortly after yesterday and booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of auto theft and petty theft.

The man, Leonard Paul Jason, was held in lieu of $1,515 bail.

Corte Madera Officer Martin van Drunen, on duty but going to a Greenbrae restaurant for a sandwich about 4:15 a.m. said he saw Jason beside a parked car at the rear of the Union service station at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bretano Way.

Jason was apparently pilfering an outdoor soft drink machine, the officer said. He reported that when he halted his own vehicle, Jason fled across the lot. Van Drunen said he gave chase afoot, lost Jason, and returned to the vehicles and gave a radio alert.

A check disclosed the second vehicle had been stolen in San Francisco from Virginia M. Russel of Red Bluff.

Van Drunen said the drink machine had been pried open but it wasn't determined if any money had been taken.

Jason was seen and arrested by sheriff's officers about 90 minutes later near the Hi Ho restaurant, 707 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley.

Corte Madera Burglars Take $1,200 Home Goods

Theft of $1,200 worth of items including a $500 color television set in a burglary of the home of Raymond Paul Paganini, 14 Paloma Drive, was reported today by Corte Madera police.

Paganini told officers he discovered the loss when he returned home about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. He said a key apparently was used to enter the house.

Included in the loot were two clock radios, three men's suits, a portable stereophonic set and kitchen items.

Officers said a witness told of seeing a station wagon with three men and a woman halt at the home. Three persons entered the house and loaded several items in the vehicle before departing, the witness added.

Mill Valley Teeners Accused Of Marijuana

Two Mill Valley boys, ages 16 and 17, were cited yesterday afternoon for possession of marijuana after police reportedly found the two smoking marijuana cigarettes in a vacant lot at East Blithedale and Kipling avenues.

A check of the cigarettes they attempted to get rid of when approached revealed they contained marijuana, Mill Valley police said.

Petaluman Among Laos Crash Dead

A Petaluma man with the U.S. Agency for International Development was killed Monday along with 23 other persons when an Air America aircraft crashed at Savannakhet, Laos.

Donald Kobayashi, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kobayashi, 865 Liberty Road, had been working in Laos for three years as an irrigation engineer.

A native of Whittier, he is also survived by a brother, Hitoshi Kobayashi of Petaluma, and three sisters, Nancy and Helen Kobayashi of Petaluma, and Mrs. Catherine Nagarenda of El Cerrito.

SPLENDID ANACHRONISM
This is the kind of home that people don't often live in these days, but should. Obsolescent, impractical, inconvenient, and absolutely delightful. Completely fenced three quarters of an acre with fabulous landscaping attributed to John McLaren, a big absolutely private swimming pool and a moon-viewing terrace. Rambling old house with a view of Mt. Tamalpais, 2 fireplaces, quarry tile floors, and old-fashioned charm. House and grounds are private, serene, and sundrenched. The price for all this glory? A mere $47,500, far below present owner's cost. Exclusive.

VERY SELDOM

does a realtor have the opportunity to present, for sale, a home as spectacular & handsomely built as this one. Located at the water's edge on Belvedere Island, it commands a panoramic view of San Francisco & the Bay Area. 8 plus rooms surround a center court patio & large swimming pool extending out over the bay. Designed for both formal & informal living, this home has 4 or 5 bdrms., 6 baths, library, large kitchen, sauna bath, 3 car garage. No expense was spared in construction. Detailing is perfect down to the $20,000 sound system throughout the home which includes underwater speakers in the pool. This residence is a result of a lifelong dream and would not be for sale except for extenuating circumstances. It is being offered at well below its replacement cost. For further particulars call W. Bruce Shafer or Emerson Best at 332-4743.

VERY SELDOM

does a realtor have the opportunity to present, for sale, a home as spectacular & handsomely built as this one. Located at the water's edge on Belvedere Island, it commands a panoramic view of San Francisco & the Bay Area. 8 plus rooms surround a center court patio & large swimming pool extending out over the bay. Designed for both formal & informal living, this home has 4 or 5 bdrms., 6 baths, library, large kitchen, sauna bath, 3 car garage. No expense was spared in construction. Detailing is perfect down to the $20,000 sound system throughout the home which includes underwater speakers in the pool. This residence is a result of a lifelong dream and would not be for sale except for extenuating circumstances. It is being offered at well below its replacement cost. For further particulars call W. (General)
No. 52437

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin.

ALMA GENE BROOKS, Plaintiff
BOBBY JOE BROOKS, Defendant

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Thursday, December 19, 1968, at the hour of 10:00 a.m. at the Fourth Street entrance of the Marin County Courthouse, San Rafael, State of California, DOMENIC J. CANNIZZARO, as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States of America, all payable at the time of sale, real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the center line of Wilson Avenue, which point is the Southwesterly corner of lot 221, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "AMENDED MAP NO. 1 OF SUBDIVISION C OF THE NOVATO RANCH, MARIN, COUNTY, CALIFORNIA", filed for record July 6, 1910 in Book 3 of Maps at page 53, Marin County Records; running thence from said point of beginning along the center line of said Wilson Avenue, North 34° 57' 30" East 90 feet, thence leaving said last mentioned line, South 60° 45' East 200 feet; thence South 29° 15' West 90 feet to the Southerly line of said Lot 221; and thence along said Southerly line North 60° 45' West 200 feet to the point of beginning.

The sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession, or encumbrances to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by LEO JAMES BENNETT, a married man, as his sole and separate property, and LOIS VERZUH, a married woman, as her sole and separate property, to CALIFORNIA LAND TITLE COMPANY, a California corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of MARIAN W. DE LANEY, the named beneficiary, dated June 27, 1966, and recorded June 29, 1966, in Book 2061 at page 109 of Official Records of the County of Marin, State of California.

The undersigned Trustee was appointed and substituted as Trustee under the mentioned Deed of Trust by an instrument dated June 14, 1968, recorded on June 14, 1968, in Book 2218 at page 271 in the Official Records of Marin County and executed by CHARLES W. DE LANEY as special administrator of the Estate of MARIAN W. DE LANEY, pursuant to the provisions of said Deed of Trust.

Notice of Default and Election To Sell the described real property under the aforementioned Deed of Trust was recorded on June 21, 1968 in Book 2220 at page 65 of the Official Records of Marin County.

Said substitution of attorney and Notice of Default and Election to Sell, and the contents thereto, are specifically referred to hereby and incorporated herein by reference.

DATED: November 14, 1968.

No. 52437

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin.
ALMA GENE BROOKS, Plaintiff
vs.
BOBBY JOE BROOKS, Defendant

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Thursday, December 19, 1968, at the hour of 10:00 a.m. at the Fourth Street entrance of the Marin County Courthouse, San Rafael, State of California, DOMENIC J. CANNIZZARO, as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States of America, all payable at the time of sale, real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the center line of Wilson Avenue, which point is the Southwesterly corner of lot 221, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "AMENDED MAP NO. 1 OF SUBDIVISION C OF THE NOVATO RANCH, MARIN, COUNTY, CALIFORNIA", filed for record July 6, 1910 in Book 3 of Maps at page 53, Marin County Records; running thence from said point of beginning along the center line of said Wilson Avenue, North 34° 57' 30" East 90 feet, thence leaving said last mentioned line, South 60° 45' East 200 feet; thence South 29° 15' West 90 feet to the Southerly line of said Lot 221; and thence along said Southerly line North 60° 45' West 200 feet to the point of beginning.

The sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession, or encumbrances to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by LEO JAMES BENNETT, a married man, as his sole and separate property, and LOIS VERZUH, a married woman, as her sole and separate property, to CALIFORNIA LAND TITLE COMPANY, a California corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of MARIAN W. DE LANEY, the named beneficiary, dated June 27, 1966, and recorded June 29, 1966, in Book 2061 at page 109 of Official Records of the County of Marin, State of California.

The undersigned Trustee was appointed and substituted as Trustee under the mentioned Deed of Trust by an instrument dated June 14, 1968, recorded on June 14, 1968, in Book 2218 at page 271 in the Official Records of Marin County and executed by CHARLES W. DE LANEY as special administrator of the Estate of MARIAN W. DE LANEY, pursuant to the provisions of said Deed of Trust.

Notice of Default and Election To Sell the described real property under the aforementioned Deed of Trust was recorded on June 21, 1968 in Book 2220 at page 65 of the Official Records of Marin County.

Said substitution of attorney and Notice of Default and Election to Sell, and the contents thereto, are specifically referred to hereby and incorporated herein by reference.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Driver Error Still Ranks High As Cause Of Traffic Fatalities

VAN DELLEN

The driver is becoming traffic's forgotten man. For many years, it has been stressed that the most important aspect of any car is the man behind the wheel. We still believe this, despite the publicity associated with mechanical designs. Time will tell whether manufacturing safer automobiles will offset human error and other factors that influence driving.

To avoid misunderstanding, we are aware that the driver is not always responsible for accidents. And that the small group of accident repeaters do not cause the largest proportion of them.

On the other hand, mounting evidence indicates that heavy drinkers are responsible for half our traffic fatalities.

BECAUSE I AM not sold on the idea that boozers are sick, I go along with the theory that they have a responsibility, sober or drunk. The marked reduction in highway accidents in England since it is required that those involved in accidents undergo alcohol tests, tends to bear this out.

Many accidents also are traced to speeding, failure to yield, tailgating, and inattention. In addition to these violations, a questionnaire survery of 370 Maryland state police officers listed ignorance of and or disregard for the law; unqualified, untrained, inexperienced drivers; recklessness, carelessness, lack of courtesy; attitudes; temperament; emotions; and improper passing and turns. All of these involve driver error.

THE EXCEPTION was an inadequate magistrate system. Officers believed that heavier penalites and more stringent enforcement of traffic laws were needed. Enforcement obviously reduces speeding violations and injuries.

Our federal government might insist on building automobiles so heavy and solid that nothing could make them crumble — except a careless driver.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

TUMOR OVER COLLAR BONE

Mrs. P. wrties: I thought the lump on my collar bone was cancer, but the doctor called it a lipoma. He didn't recommend any treatment. Are these lesions dangerous?

REPLY

Lipomas are fatty tumors; they rarely become cancerous. Removal is advised only when the lesion is in the way or unsightly.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Child Stealing Held A Crime

Tilly divorces Tom, and the court awards custody of their two daughters to Tilly. Tom, who is attached to his little girls, is not satisfied with weekly visiting rights. One day Tom takes off with his daughters and goes to another country.

For child-stealing the law has a criminal as well as a civil penalty. It is both a public crime, for which the court could sentence the offender to jail or prison; and a tort, a private wrong for which the court can make the offender pay damages to the injured person.

Any person who forcibly or fraudulently keeps and hides a child from his parents or his lawful custodian is guilty of a felony. For this crime he may have to serve a twenty-year prison term.

In a child-stealing charge one must prove to the court that the offender meant to hold and hide the child from the parent.

Child stealing was not proved in one case where two 16-year-old girls had planned to run away to a distant city. A neighbor got them to go to a nearby resort instead, where they were well-treated and under no restraint. But the neighbor did not tell the parents where they were. The parents charged the neighobr with child-stealing. But the court ruled that although there was "concealment," there was no "detention." The girls could have gone home any time.

As a rule where there is no divorce both parents have equal custody. Third persons, like grandparents who help a father with custody to take the child from the mother who also has custody, are still guilty of child-stealing. Taking the child can cause anxiety and grief-for which a parent can sue the third person in the civil court for damages.

In one such case, a girl's mother and father had separated, and the mother took care of the girl. The father and grandfather took the child and hid her from the mother in another state. The mother spent much money looking for her. Finally, unable to find her husband, she sued her father-in-law. The court upheld her suit. Even though her husband had the right to custody, the father-in-law did not.

Child stealing and kidnaping are two quite different crimes.

In kidnaping, the victim (of any age) is forcibly taken and held against his will. In child stealing there is an element of malice—the law regards child stealing as a crime against the parent, not against the child.

Best-seller time is tonight

For every I-J advertiser, an advantage in selling

When you, as an advertiser, purchase space in the I-J, your message gains a TIME ADVANTAGE worth dollars and cents in the till. For as an EVENING NEWSPAPER, the I-J reaches your customer prospects at the PRIME BUYING TIME . . . in the evening, when people have the MOST TIME to read and consider your merchandise and prices.

This EVENING READING TIME is nothing to pass over lightly. This is when buying decisions are made . . . when people are relaxed, receptive, actively in search of advertised values. Contrast this with radio, with morning newspapers, with circulars. In the I-J, readers search the ads, page by page. They WANT TO READ, have TIME to read . . . have time to "talk it over," compare, decide. Even the kids get into the act! Small wonder the I-J is Marin's first choice for advertising . . . by both readers and advertisers.

MORE FOR YOUR STORE

The I-J out-sells all other newspapers in Marin. More daily Marin circulation than the Chronicle and Examiner combined.

CITY OF LARKSPUR
NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Council of the City of Larkspur will hold a public hearing on proposed amendments to the zoning regulations of the City of Larkspur, which said amendments, in general will provide as follows:

1. The pre-zoning of a certain area lying within the unincorporated area of the County of Marin into the Light Industrial District (L-1), said area being generally described as an approximate 69.5 acre parcel of land lying northeasterly of the intersection of Highway 101 and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

2. Adding quarry operations to the permitted uses (subject to securing a Use Permit) within the Light Industrial District (L-1).

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that said hearing will be held in the City Hall, Larkspur, California, upon the 11th day of December, 1968, at the hour of eight o'clock P.M. and all interested persons are invited to attend and be heard upon said proposed amendment.

Dated at Larkspur, California, November 26, 1968.

No. 1628 Nov. 29, 1968.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF FAIRFAX ON FINAL REPORT OF THE PLANNING COMMISSION REZONING OF PROPERTY

WHEREAS, heretofore the Planning Commission of the Town of Fairfax, County of Marin, State of California, on its own initiative called a public hearing for the amendment of Ordinance 230 by changing the district classification of all that certain real property in the Town of Fairfax, County of Marin, State of California, and more particularly described as follows, from C (Commercial) to R-3 (Multiple):

The property on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard described as Lots 164 through 189 (Assessor's Parcels Nos. 1-236-57 through 77), Ridgeway Park, as set forth in Book 2, Page 23, of the Assessor's Map Book for the County of Marin as revised February 29, 1968.

WHEREAS, the City Planning Commission of the Town of Fairfax held such public hearing as required by law on the 21st day of November, 1968, when and where all interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be heard;

WHEREAS, it appears that in all respects due and legal notice of said public hearing was given and same was held and conducted in the manner prescribed by law, and the requirements of the City Planning Commission of the Town of Fairfax;

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission of the Town of Fairfax has made and filed its Final Report with the City Council of the Town of Fairfax, all in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided;

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that there will be a public hearing on said Final Report on December 9, 1968, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock p.m. at the Council Chambers, Fairfax Women's Club Building, 46 Park Road, in the City of Fairfax, County of Marin, State of California, before said City Council, at which time and place all interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Reference is hereby made to the Final Report of the Planning Commission on file in the office of the City Clerk of the Town of Fairfax for further particulars.

Frances R. Lestanguet,
City Clerk

Best-seller time is tonight

For every I-J advertiser, an advantage in selling

When you, as an advertiser, purchase space in the I-J, your message gains a TIME ADVANTAGE worth dollars and cents in the till. For as an EVENING NEWSPAPER, the I-J reaches your customer prospects at the PRIME BUYING TIME . . . in the evening, when people have the MOST TIME to read and consider your merchandise and prices.

This EVENING READING TIME is nothing to pass over lightly. This is when buying decisions are made . . . when people are relaxed, receptive, actively in search of advertised values. Contrast this with radio, with morning newspapers, with circulars. In the I-J, readers search the ads, page by page. They WANT TO READ, have TIME to read . . . have time to "talk it over," compare, decide. Even the kids get into the act! Small wonder the I-J is Marin's first choice for advertising . . . by both readers and advertisers.

MORE FOR YOUR STORE

The I-J out-sells all other newspapers in Marin. More daily Marin circulation than the Chronicle and Examiner combined.

UP... UP and AWAY!

Though Russia claims Furvin Kryakutskoi trapped foul-smelling smoke in a bag and rose to the height of a birch tree in 1731, historians credit Joseph and Etienne Montgolfier with the invention of the hot-air balloon in 1783. Today this invention is almost unchanged, and hot-air ballooning is again touching the imagination of adventuresome people.

Of the approximately 50 registered hot-air balloons owned in America, two belong to the Stateline, Nev., Quicksilver Productions Corp., of which Deke Sonnichsen is president when not a Lockheed Missiles and Space Company Senior Vehicle Test Coordinator who resides in Menlo Park, Calif.

Deke, co-founder of the Sport Balloon Society of the United States of America, which is affiliated with the Balloon Federation of America, last year filed claim for six new world records to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, which formulates records and sanctions all air events and rules throughout the world.

But it is not merely for competition that Deke, wife Joanne and son Kirke, use the two flying machines.

On weekends, neighbors are invited over and the smaller balloon, tied to a lengthy tether line, lifts friends and children above the treetops. At other times, Deke helps train future balloonists at the Daedalus School of Free-Ballooning, the first in the country, at the Menlo Oaks Balloon Field in his city, or at nearby Tracy, Calif. Before and during firing up the balloon, he explains its history and workings, then joins the student to rise skyward.

When speaking before flying clubs, aeronautical groups and schools, Deke discusses the relation between ballooning and the mighty rockets for outer space which Lockheed produces.

In the sport of hot-air ballooning, there are two controllable directions: up and down. The winds create lateral movement and any ascension might end miles from take-off.

For Deke, whose brightly-colored aircraft (representing the orange, red and yellow of the heat spectrum's lower end) have replaced his parachuting efforts (he led the U.S. Parachute Team in 1962, 1963 and 1964 to FAI meets), these moments of free-flight have replaced free-fall. He shares the silent ride above the rolling California country with those who seek to be up, up and away in that magnificent flying machine.

Teachers Decry Felony Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two high school teachers have demanded that felony charges be dropped against at least some of the 33 persons arrested after a takeover of the San Fernando Valley State College administration building.

"Our students are not criminals," said Dorothy Milhause and Levi Dangerfield, teachers at Manual Arts High School. Some of their former students were among those arrested. The teachers said yesterday that between 35 and 50 other Manual Arts teachers also support them.

"We cannot be silent when they are made scapegoats for a long-standing problem of American society," they said.

They said they knew three of the students very well. They were "the cream of the crop . . . the very best students we had," they said.

Sign For Service Station Approved

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee Wednesday night approved a free standing sign for a proposed Union Oil Co. service station at 930 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The round sign measures 21 feet high and five feet in width. The committee asked the company to modify landscaping plans by adding larger trees to the design.

Guns, Money Taken After Door Forced

Burglars forced the door of Albert A. Huillade's home at 53 Castle Rock Drive, Homestead Valley, Tuesday and stole guns and money valued at more than $700, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Items stolen from the house included a pistol, a shotgun, and anti-tank rifle, another rifle, a radio and 100 silver dollars, deputies said.

Other burglaries reported by the sheriff today included:

Theft of two diamond rings, valued at $1,250, from the home of Charles Hedberg at 28 Rhinestone Terrace, Marinwood, sometime within the last week.

Houston Heart Patient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — George Henry BeBord, 46, is dead after living about five months with a transplanted heart.

DeBord, a Helotes, Tex. contractor who received a new heart July 2, died yesterday in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said DeBord was readmitted about a week ago showing signs of rejecting the donor heart. The spokesman said he failed to respond to treatment and suffered a series of cardiac arrests during the past two days. Doctors were able to restart the heart during a failure yesterday, the spokesman said.

Decision On Freeway In January

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A final decision by the state on the controversial Junipero Serra Freeway route is not expected until January, according to San Francisco officials.

City administrators expect their choice of routes to win approval over a state - preferred route, thus ending a lengthy battle between San Francisco and Sacramento.

The dispute has concerned a 4.5 mile segment of the 50 mile freeway that will run near the Crystal Springs Lake. The lake is San Francisco's main water supply and the city has insisted that the freeway be built on a ridge away from the shore to prevent pollution of the water.

City officials also objected to the freeway separating the lake from a 23,000 acre land area that could be developed for recreational purposes.

The state has persistently backed the shoreline route but recently received a serious setback when the federal government, which supplies 92 per cent of freeway funds, threw its support to the city-backed ridge route.

Federal Highway Administrator Lowell K. Bridwell also warned that if San Francisco and state officials did not reach agreement soon, the federal government would abandon the freeway and try to "recover all funds already spent."

State Transportation Secretary Gordon Luce said at the time the federal action was "unwarranted intervention" in a local dispute.

However, the state agreed to reconsider the ridge route and has been holding hearings on the plan. The district engineer of the state Division of Highways is expected to report his recommendations to the state highway engineer within a few days.

The next and possibly final step will then be up to the state highway commission.

Typhoon Rakes Past Manila

MANILA (UPI) — Typhoon Ora ripped across the Philippines' main population centers and rice farmlands on Luzon today. Its eye passed within 80 miles north of Manila.

Ora's peak winds slightly diminished from 103 to 88 miles per hour roaring inland from the Pacific along a west northwest course across central Luzon —the Philippines' rice bowl.

Authorities closed down schools for the weekend.

Hungary Opens Colleges To West

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary announced today it has opened its universities to students from the West.

The news agency MTI said "interest in Hungarian universities and colleges has been increasing in recent years in the developed capitalist countries such as the United States, Canada and even Australia.

"This was the reason for the latest decision of the Hungarian Ministry of Education to admit to Hungarian universities individual applicants from the West."

Up to now the universities were restricted to students from Communist countries and developing areas. There are 1,500 foreign students at Hungarian universities from 70 countries.

Paintings Stolen

TRIESTE, Italy (UPI)—Sixteen valuable paintings including a $160,000 "Blue Madonna" by Flemish painter Peter Bruegel were stolen from the castle of Prince Raimondo of Torre e Tasso in Duino, police said yesterday.

Teachers Decry Felony Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two high school teachers have demanded that felony charges be dropped against at least some of the 33 persons arrested after a takeover of the San Fernando Valley State College administration building.

"Our students are not criminals," said Dorothy Milhause and Levi Dangerfield, teachers at Manual Arts High School. Some of their former students were among those arrested. The teachers said yesterday that between 35 and 50 other Manual Arts teachers also support them.

"We cannot be silent when they are made scapegoats for a long-standing problem of American society," they said.

They said they knew three of the students very well. They were "the cream of the crop . . . the very best students we had," they said.

Sign For Service Station Approved

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee Wednesday night approved a free standing sign for a proposed Union Oil Co. service station at 930 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The round sign measures 21 feet high and five feet in width. The committee asked the company to modify landscaping plans by adding larger trees to the design.

Guns, Money Taken After Door Forced

Burglars forced the door of Albert A. Huillade's home at 53 Castle Rock Drive, Homestead Valley, Tuesday and stole guns and money valued at more than $700, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Items stolen from the house included a pistol, a shotgun, and anti-tank rifle, another rifle, a radio and 100 silver dollars, deputies said.

Other burglaries reported by the sheriff today included:

Theft of two diamond rings, valued at $1,250, from the home of Charles Hedberg at 28 Rhinestone Terrace, Marinwood, sometime within the last week.

Houston Heart Patient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — George Henry BeBord, 46, is dead after living about five months with a transplanted heart.

DeBord, a Helotes, Tex. contractor who received a new heart July 2, died yesterday in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said DeBord was readmitted about a week ago showing signs of rejecting the donor heart. The spokesman said he failed to respond to treatment and suffered a series of cardiac arrests during the past two days. Doctors were able to restart the heart during a failure yesterday, the spokesman said.

Decision On Freeway In January

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A final decision by the state on the controversial Junipero Serra Freeway route is not expected until January, according to San Francisco officials.

City administrators expect their choice of routes to win approval over a state - preferred route, thus ending a lengthy battle between San Francisco and Sacramento.

The dispute has concerned a 4.5 mile segment of the 50 mile freeway that will run near the Crystal Springs Lake. The lake is San Francisco's main water supply and the city has insisted that the freeway be built on a ridge away from the shore to prevent pollution of the water.

City officials also objected to the freeway separating the lake from a 23,000 acre land area that could be developed for recreational purposes.

The state has persistently backed the shoreline route but recently received a serious setback when the federal government, which supplies 92 per cent of freeway funds, threw its support to the city-backed ridge route.

Federal Highway Administrator Lowell K. Bridwell also warned that if San Francisco and state officials did not reach agreement soon, the federal government would abandon the freeway and try to "recover all funds already spent."

State Transportation Secretary Gordon Luce said at the time the federal action was "unwarranted intervention" in a local dispute.

However, the state agreed to reconsider the ridge route and has been holding hearings on the plan. The district engineer of the state Division of Highways is expected to report his recommendations to the state highway engineer within a few days.

The next and possibly final step will then be up to the state highway commission.

Typhoon Rakes Past Manila

MANILA (UPI) — Typhoon Ora ripped across the Philippines' main population centers and rice farmlands on Luzon today. Its eye passed within 80 miles north of Manila.

Ora's peak winds slightly diminished from 103 to 88 miles per hour roaring inland from the Pacific along a west northwest course across central Luzon —the Philippines' rice bowl.

Authorities closed down schools for the weekend.

Hungary Opens Colleges To West

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary announced today it has opened its universities to students from the West.

The news agency MTI said "interest in Hungarian universities and colleges has been increasing in recent years in the developed capitalist countries such as the United States, Canada and even Australia.

"This was the reason for the latest decision of the Hungarian Ministry of Education to admit to Hungarian universities individual applicants from the West."

Up to now the universities were restricted to students from Communist countries and developing areas. There are 1,500 foreign students at Hungarian universities from 70 countries.

Paintings Stolen

TRIESTE, Italy (UPI)—Sixteen valuable paintings including a $160,000 "Blue Madonna" by Flemish painter Peter Bruegel were stolen from the castle of Prince Raimondo of Torre e Tasso in Duino, police said yesterday.

Raiders Beat Lowly Buffalo Bills—Barely

Atkinson, the Oakland Raiders' rookie cornerback, played a key role in the Raiders' important 13-10 American Football League victory yesterday over the Buffalo Bills, who are suddenly in the running for Simpson, Southern California's great running back who will be the prize of the college draft.

The victory kept the Raiders tied with Kansas City, also a winner yesterday, for the Western Division title.

All Atkinson did to beat the plodding, but fired-up Bills was:
— Intercept a pass that led to a field goal by George Blanda, putting the Raiders ahead 6-3 in the third quarter.

—Intercept another pass moments later and run it back for a 33-yard touchdown that gave the Raiders a 13-3 lead.

—Make a bone-crunching tackle of Buffalo quarterback Ed Rutkowski on the Oakland one-yard line with less than three minutes to go, forcing a fumble that ended a Bills' drive.

—And bat down two passes on the last Buffalo effort that culminated in a short 42-yard field-goal attempt by Bruce Alford.

Buffalo, with only one game left in its dismal season, is now 1-11-1. The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League are 1-11 with two games remaining. The team with the poorest record gets the first draft choice, who will almost certainly be Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

"Hell no, we weren't worried about Simpson," answered Johnson to someone who dared submit the question. "If we were, we wouldn't have been throwing late in the game. We're trying to win football games, not worry about the draft or anything else."

Naturally," Johnson added, "I think Simpson will go in the first round. I'd hate to be the club that had a chance at him and passed him up."

The Raiders, who have been averaging nearly 500 yards a game in their last five contests, played poorly, losing the total offense yardage battle to Buffalo 343-186.

"There's no doubt about it," said Coach John Rauch, "We just came up with a flat ball game. But if you can win when you're playing a flat game, you must be pretty good."

"It's just a psychological thing," he said. "But we'll take it any way we can get it."

Tars Fall To Fresno City College In Playoffs

PARDON MY CLEATS — Marin halfback Tim Garvin steps over blocker Doug Guillon while struggling for extra yardage in Marin's 20-13 loss to Fresno City College in the State J. C. football playoffs yesterday in Fresno. Other Marin players are tackle Ron Heidinger (74) and fullback Jim Finnegan (rear).

Gridders Suffer 20-13 Defeat

By KIMO CAMPBELL

For the second straight year, Marin lost a game it could well have won, bowing 20-13 yesterday afternoon at Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium to the Fresno City College Rams, sixth-rated in the state.

But even the most rabid Fresno fan in the Turkey Day crowd of 3,500 would admit that a) the Tars had by far the worst of the breaks and b) that they killed themselves as much as Fresno beat them.

FIVE STEALS

Five interceptions and two crucial clipping penalties were the difference as Marin outpassed, outgained, and out-first downed the host team, only to bog down whenever a score seemed likely.

Two first-quarter passes were underthrown to open receivers, and three second quarter passes were intercepted. Marin also failed on three scoring chances in the second quarter, once when a field-goal try was blocked and twice on clips that nullified long gains.

Fresno, quarterbacked superbly by cool Mike Rasmussen, moved 79 yards to score on its second possession of the game, with Rasmussen scrambling for 24 yards on a play where his receivers were covered, and then passing 26 yards to halfback Vic Lamanuzzi (who ran for 115 yards for the day) for a first down at the Marin six. On second down, Rasmussen found star end Steve Natsues (who was contained well on all but this play) for the touchdown. Lamanuzzi's kick was good.

FIRST DOWN

Marin then got a first down on pass interference, but on successive plays, a pass was underthrown to an open receiver at the goal line, and another went to a Fresno defensive back. Three short passes set up Fresno's second touchdown moments later, as John Figueroa bulled over from four yards out. The kick was no good, leaving it 13-0 for the Rams.

Marin had interceptions on their next two series, but the defense, which played possibly its best game, held at the Tar 23 to stop the only dangerous drive. On the third series, a weird progression of agonizing errors began. Marin's Tim Garvin, brilliant as usual, tore off a classic Garvin run, sifting through the pursuit and scampering down the sidelines for 39 yards to the Fresno six, only to have the play called back for clipping.

PIERI STARS

Marin gave up the ball, held Fresno, and Len Pieri —who played one of his best games in his last appearance in a Marin uniform — took the kick back 74 yards for a touchdown. Forget it. Clipping again.

Third time's the charm. Val Sabuco hit Garvin on the sideline, with the same pass that has been the Tars' best this year

JIM GILMARTIN

Some Ex-Footballers Don't Forget Coach

JIM SHORTS:

Paul A. Miller hasn't coached a team at San Rafael High School for more years than I care to remember, but he will be honored by a bunch of his former Bulldog athletes next Friday night at Nave Lanes near Ignacio. Committeemen George Pfeffer, Ray Taylor and Milt Schwartz, three of Miller's better athletes in the glory days of yesteryear, are planning a rollicking night — strictly stag ("No broads," said Schwartz). Space is limited, so you'd better make reservations pronto by calling Nave Lanes.

YES, THAT Joe DeMaestri who led the Novato High junior varsity basketball team to victory over Vallejo the other day is the son of Joseph Paul DeMaestri, the former New York Yankee shortstop, now a prominent beer baron (distributor). Young Joe should become "one of the best basketball players ever to come out of Marin County," according to former College of Marin All-American Walt Moreno.

Mike's Record Certified

Suyderhoud's jump was another of sportsdom's barrier breakers because no one had ever cracked the 160-foot mark in sanctioned competition.

RACING BUFFS will be interested to know that Radio KTIM will broadcast the Rex Mays "300" from Riverside International Raceway this Sunday. It is similar to races that will take place at the new Sears Point Raceway complex that is nearing completion.

PARTICIPANTS IN the Jan. 18 Novato-San Rafael high schools alumni football game will be issued equipment tomorrow, 11 a.m. at the San Rafael High gym.

Whereas And Therefores

GOLLY, THEY do things right proper up Rohnert Park way. Town fathers in that city in southern Sonoma County have issued resolutions extending heartiest congratulations to the Rohnert Park Junior High School football team and the College View Pop Warner Conference teams for their recent 1968 championships. I hope the City of San Anselmo has passed out some whereases and therefores to its junior grid champs, the Drake Junior Pirates.

ON THE SUBJECT, our heartiest congrats to Coach Dick Read and his College of Marin Tars for their championship in the new Camino Norte Conference. It was Marin's first season in the state's "large schools" classification and the title points out the tremendous job Read has done in bringing the Kentfield school into football prominence — on a par with its always great basketball program.

ROOS-ATKINS at San Rafael's Northgate Shopping Center will serve as Marin County ticket outlet for the sixth annual All-American Games track and field meet, scheduled Jan. 4 at the Cow Palace, San Francisco. The ducats range from $3 to $6.

UPI ALL-COAST FOOTBALL

USC Lands Six Players

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The University of Southern California, with Heisman Trophy winner O. J. Simpson showing the way, placed six men on the 1968 United Press International All Pacific Coast college football team announced yesterday.

The team included five All-Americas in all and was selected for UPI by a panel of sportswriters, sportscasters and coaches.

Simpson was the only unanimous selection on the team with Stanford flanker Gene Washington, Oregon State fullback Bill Enyart and center John Didion and defensive backs Mike Battle of USC, Al Worley of Washington and Mark Gustafson of UCLA next in the balloting.

All but Washington were named to the UPI All-America team as well and all except Didion are repeaters from the 1967 All-Coast team. The other repeater on this year's team was defensive back Ken Wiedemann of California.

Quarterback Steve Sogge, offensive end Bob Klein, offensive guard Steve Lehmer and defensive end Jim Gunn were the other Trojans on the first team besides Simpson and Battle.

Chiefs Knock Off Oilers To Give Jets East Title

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There is no letup in the pressure on the three teams battling for the Western Division championship in the American Football League's photo finish. And the big prize still belongs to "the team that wants it the most," Kansas City's Hank Stram said.

Stram's Chiefs dispatched fallen Eastern Division champion Houston almost routinely yesterday, 24-10, for a 10-2 record in the West, but still remain tied with Oakland for first place. The Raiders also won yesterday.

TITLE TO JETS

The New York Jets claimed the Eastern Division title by virtue of Houston's loss, and the Jets will be host to the AFL championship game Dec. 29.

"The pressure is still on all of us," Stram said.

"It's still up in the air, and the team that wants it the most can grab it. We know we've got to win our last two games to assure ourselves of anything."

Kansas City plays at San Diego Dec. 8 and at Denver Dec. 14 in its final two games.

17 OF 23

Dawson, whose season passing statistics are impressive considering the fact that injuries to his receivers and to him almost wiped out the Chiefs' aerial game in midseason, completed 17 of 23 for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

He hit Mike Garrett on a 37-yard touchdown strike just before halftime for a 7-3 Kansas City lead, then kept the Chiefs comfortably in front with scoring tosses of 33 and 43 yards to Frank Pitts in the second half. Jan Stenerud added a 17-yard field goal for Kansas City.

"I didn't know for sure how well I was doing out there," Dawson said when told he had completed 10 passes in a row from his first touchdown completion to the third scoring toss.

THROW AWAYS

"I know one thing: They were coming in so strong early in the game I had to throw away the first two passes I tried."

Wayne Walker put the Oilers in front 3-0 with a 39-yard field goal 2:12 before halftime, but Dawson's pass to Garrett wiped that out.

Houston scored again late in the third quarter on Pete Beathard's 66-yard pass to Jim Bierne to trim the Chiefs' lead to 14-10 but it wasn't close after that.

"We finally got good field position and that made all the difference in the world," said Stram.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Texas Wins, It's On To Cotton Bowl

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Houston and Florida State play a college football game tonight in the Gator Bowl but their high-powered offenses may turn it into the Scoreboard Bowl.

The game is the only one on tonight's schedule. Four major college games were played yesterday as two bowl berths were settled and 16 more are on tap tomorrow as the regular season comes to a close, save for the Dec. 7 meeting in University Park, Pa., between Penn State and Syracuse.

Texas won its way into a Cotton Bowl date against Tennessee by trouncing traditional rival Texas A&M 35-14 yesterday.

The victory gained the Longhorns a share of the Southwest Conference championship with Arkansas but Texas goes to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of a 39-29 win over the Razorbacks. Arkansas settled for the Sugar Bowl against unbeaten Georgia.

Elsewhere, Liberty Bowl-bound Virginia Tech walloped VMI 55-6, Tulsa sent Wichita State to a winless season 23-7 and, in a night game, Louisiana Tech, which is in the Grantland Rice Bowl, knocked off its fourth major opponent 42-24.

Tomorrow's slate is hightlighted by the meeting in Los Angeles between second-ranked Southern California and No. 9 Notre Dame. Other top attractions include Army-Navy, Georgia Tech-Georgia, Tennessee-Vanderbilt, Oklahoma-Oklahoma State, Alabama-Auburn and Arizona State-Arizona.

Tonight's pairing should be a wild one. Houston, ranked 10th, is the top offensive team in the nation with an alltime mark of 5,185 yards. The Cougars also lead in scoring with an average of 45 points a game.

Paul Gipson is fifth in rushing with 1,386 yards and the Ken Bailey-to-Elmo Wright combination is a passing threat. The Cougars have slaughtered Idaho 77-3 and Tulsa 100-6 in their last two starts. To make matters worse, they rank fifth nationally in total defense.

Texas raced to a 35-0 halftime lead over the Texas Aggies behind a balanced attack and a defense that intercepted five of Edd Hargett's passes. Chris Gilbert gained 85 yards in 25 carries and finished his regular season career third among alltime runners with 3,231 yards.

Baylor's Football Coach, John Bridgers, Is Fired

Baylor President Abner McCall announced that he had decided to uphold a recommendation by the five-man athletic council that the 43-year old Bridgers be dismissed.

McCall said no one had been contacted for the coaching job but that, in the interim, R.E. Henderson would serve as athletic director.

"I would speculate that we will seek out a top assistant in some successful football program across the country," McCall said.

McCall said he believes it would have been better to have announced Bridgers' dismissal after Saturday's final game of the season— against Rice.

But, he said, some members of the athletic council wanted to go ahead and get the business over with.

Tar Cagers Open Slate In Kentfield

College of Marin's basketball team opens its 1968-69 basketball season tonight at 8 o'clock in Kentfield against an old Golden Valley Conference rival, Sierra College.

Coach Cal Riemcke's five, entering its first season in the new Camino Norte Conference, has a long and rowdy history of tough games with Sierra's Wolverines, usually tight, high-scoring affairs, and Riemcke expects more of the same tonight.

"Sierra has about the same type of club we do—young, mostly freshmen, but good freshmen. I always anticipate first-game jitters, but it ought to be a good game, high-scoring. We like to run a lot, and Sierra plays the same type of game, so it should be a good game".

Marin will start veteran Andre Horn and transfer Joe Smith at guards, both 5-10. Center will be 6-7 transfer Ken Kramer, while frosh Tom Seidenberg and Pat Schafer (6-5 and 6-4 respectively) will be at the forwards.

The COM frosh will play Marin Catholic High at six p.m. in the preliminary.

The Tars play Diablo Valley College in Concord at 8 tomorrow night.

In other Marin County high school cage action, Redwood hosts Lincoln of San Francisco in Larkspur and San Rafael plays Napa, at Napa. Both games are at 7 p.m.

Naturally," Johnson added, "I think Simpson will go in the first round. I'd hate to be the club that had a chance at him and passed him up."

The Raiders, who have been averaging nearly 500 yards a game in their last five contests, played poorly, losing the total offense yardage battle to Buffalo 343-186.

"There's no doubt about it," said Coach John Rauch, "We just came up with a flat ball game. But if you can win when you're playing a flat game, you must be pretty good."

"It's just a psychological thing," he said. "But we'll take it any way we can get it."

JIM GILMARTIN

Some Ex-Footballers Don't Forget Coach

JIM SHORTS:

Paul A. Miller hasn't coached a team at San Rafael High School for more years than I care to remember, but he will be honored by a bunch of his former Bulldog athletes next Friday night at Nave Lanes near Ignacio. Committeemen George Pfeffer, Ray Taylor and Milt Schwartz, three of Miller's better athletes in the glory days of yesteryear, are planning a rollicking night — strictly stag ("No broads," said Schwartz). Space is limited, so you'd better make reservations pronto by calling Nave Lanes.

YES, THAT Joe DeMaestri who led the Novato High junior varsity basketball team to victory over Vallejo the other day is the son of Joseph Paul DeMaestri, the former New York Yankee shortstop, now a prominent beer baron (distributor). Young Joe should become "one of the best basketball players ever to come out of Marin County," according to former College of Marin All-American Walt Moreno.

Mike's Record Certified

Suyderhoud's jump was another of sportsdom's barrier breakers because no one had ever cracked the 160-foot mark in sanctioned competition.

RACING BUFFS will be interested to know that Radio KTIM will broadcast the Rex Mays "300" from Riverside International Raceway this Sunday. It is similar to races that will take place at the new Sears Point Raceway complex that is nearing completion.

PARTICIPANTS IN the Jan. 18 Novato-San Rafael high schools alumni football game will be issued equipment tomorrow, 11 a.m. at the San Rafael High gym.

Whereas And Therefores

GOLLY, THEY do things right proper up Rohnert Park way. Town fathers in that city in southern Sonoma County have issued resolutions extending heartiest congratulations to the Rohnert Park Junior High School football team and the College View Pop Warner Conference teams for their recent 1968 championships. I hope the City of San Anselmo has passed out some whereases and therefores to its junior grid champs, the Drake Junior Pirates.

ON THE SUBJECT, our heartiest congrats to Coach Dick Read and his College of Marin Tars for their championship in the new Camino Norte Conference. It was Marin's first season in the state's "large schools" classification and the title points out the tremendous job Read has done in bringing the Kentfield school into football prominence — on a par with its always great basketball program.

ROOS-ATKINS at San Rafael's Northgate Shopping Center will serve as Marin County ticket outlet for the sixth annual All-American Games track and field meet, scheduled Jan. 4 at the Cow Palace, San Francisco. The ducats range from $3 to $6.

Gridders Suffer 20-13 Defeat

By KIMO CAMPBELL

For the second straight year, Marin lost a game it could well have won, bowing 20-13 yesterday afternoon at Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium to the Fresno City College Rams, sixth-rated in the state.

But even the most rabid Fresno fan in the Turkey Day crowd of 3,500 would admit that a) the Tars had by far the worst of the breaks and b) that they killed themselves as much as Fresno beat them.

FIVE STEALS

Five interceptions and two crucial clipping penalties were the difference as Marin outpassed, outgained, and out-first downed the host team, only to bog down whenever a score seemed likely.

Two first-quarter passes were underthrown to open receivers, and three second quarter passes were intercepted. Marin also failed on three scoring chances in the second quarter, once when a field-goal try was blocked and twice on clips that nullified long gains.

Fresno, quarterbacked superbly by cool Mike Rasmussen, moved 79 yards to score on its second possession of the game, with Rasmussen scrambling for 24 yards on a play where his receivers were covered, and then passing 26 yards to halfback Vic Lamanuzzi (who ran for 115 yards for the day) for a first down at the Marin six. On second down, Rasmussen found star end Steve Natsues (who was contained well on all but this play) for the touchdown. Lamanuzzi's kick was good.

FIRST DOWN

Marin then got a first down on pass interference, but on successive plays, a pass was underthrown to an open receiver at the goal line, and another went to a Fresno defensive back. Three short passes set up Fresno's second touchdown moments later, as John Figueroa bulled over from four yards out. The kick was no good, leaving it 13-0 for the Rams.

Marin had interceptions on their next two series, but the defense, which played possibly its best game, held at the Tar 23 to stop the only dangerous drive. On the third series, a weird progression of agonizing errors began. Marin's Tim Garvin, brilliant as usual, tore off a classic Garvin run, sifting through the pursuit and scampering down the sidelines for 39 yards to the Fresno six, only to have the play called back for clipping.

PIERI STARS

Marin gave up the ball, held Fresno, and Len Pieri —who played one of his best games in his last appearance in a Marin uniform — took the kick back 74 yards for a touchdown. Forget it. Clipping again.

Third time's the charm. Val Sabuco hit Garvin on the sideline, with the same pass that has been the Tars' best this year

UPI ALL-COAST FOOTBALL

USC Lands Six Players

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The University of Southern California, with Heisman Trophy winner O. J. Simpson showing the way, placed six men on the 1968 United Press International All Pacific Coast college football team announced yesterday.

The team included five All-Americas in all and was selected for UPI by a panel of sportswriters, sportscasters and coaches.

Simpson was the only unanimous selection on the team with Stanford flanker Gene Washington, Oregon State fullback Bill Enyart and center John Didion and defensive backs Mike Battle of USC, Al Worley of Washington and Mark Gustafson of UCLA next in the balloting.

All but Washington were named to the UPI All-America team as well and all except Didion are repeaters from the 1967 All-Coast team. The other repeater on this year's team was defensive back Ken Wiedemann of California.

Quarterback Steve Sogge, offensive end Bob Klein, offensive guard Steve Lehmer and defensive end Jim Gunn were the other Trojans on the first team besides Simpson and Battle.

Chiefs Knock Off Oilers To Give Jets East Title

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There is no letup in the pressure on the three teams battling for the Western Division championship in the American Football League's photo finish. And the big prize still belongs to "the team that wants it the most," Kansas City's Hank Stram said.

Stram's Chiefs dispatched fallen Eastern Division champion Houston almost routinely yesterday, 24-10, for a 10-2 record in the West, but still remain tied with Oakland for first place. The Raiders also won yesterday.

TITLE TO JETS

The New York Jets claimed the Eastern Division title by virtue of Houston's loss, and the Jets will be host to the AFL championship game Dec. 29.

"The pressure is still on all of us," Stram said.

"It's still up in the air, and the team that wants it the most can grab it. We know we've got to win our last two games to assure ourselves of anything."

Kansas City plays at San Diego Dec. 8 and at Denver Dec. 14 in its final two games.

17 OF 23

Dawson, whose season passing statistics are impressive considering the fact that injuries to his receivers and to him almost wiped out the Chiefs' aerial game in midseason, completed 17 of 23 for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

He hit Mike Garrett on a 37-yard touchdown strike just before halftime for a 7-3 Kansas City lead, then kept the Chiefs comfortably in front with scoring tosses of 33 and 43 yards to Frank Pitts in the second half. Jan Stenerud added a 17-yard field goal for Kansas City.

"I didn't know for sure how well I was doing out there," Dawson said when told he had completed 10 passes in a row from his first touchdown completion to the third scoring toss.

THROW AWAYS

"I know one thing: They were coming in so strong early in the game I had to throw away the first two passes I tried."

Wayne Walker put the Oilers in front 3-0 with a 39-yard field goal 2:12 before halftime, but Dawson's pass to Garrett wiped that out.

Houston scored again late in the third quarter on Pete Beathard's 66-yard pass to Jim Bierne to trim the Chiefs' lead to 14-10 but it wasn't close after that.

"We finally got good field position and that made all the difference in the world," said Stram.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Texas Wins, It's On To Cotton Bowl

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Houston and Florida State play a college football game tonight in the Gator Bowl but their high-powered offenses may turn it into the Scoreboard Bowl.

The game is the only one on tonight's schedule. Four major college games were played yesterday as two bowl berths were settled and 16 more are on tap tomorrow as the regular season comes to a close, save for the Dec. 7 meeting in University Park, Pa., between Penn State and Syracuse.

Texas won its way into a Cotton Bowl date against Tennessee by trouncing traditional rival Texas A&M 35-14 yesterday.

The victory gained the Longhorns a share of the Southwest Conference championship with Arkansas but Texas goes to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of a 39-29 win over the Razorbacks. Arkansas settled for the Sugar Bowl against unbeaten Georgia.

Elsewhere, Liberty Bowl-bound Virginia Tech walloped VMI 55-6, Tulsa sent Wichita State to a winless season 23-7 and, in a night game, Louisiana Tech, which is in the Grantland Rice Bowl, knocked off its fourth major opponent 42-24.

Tomorrow's slate is hightlighted by the meeting in Los Angeles between second-ranked Southern California and No. 9 Notre Dame. Other top attractions include Army-Navy, Georgia Tech-Georgia, Tennessee-Vanderbilt, Oklahoma-Oklahoma State, Alabama - Auburn and Arizona State-Arizona.

Tonight's pairing should be a wild one. Houston, ranked 10th, is the top offensive team in the nation with an alltime mark of 5,185 yards. The Cougars also lead in scoring with an average of 45 points a game.

Paul Gipson is fifth in rushing with 1,386 yards and the Ken Bailey-to-Elmo Wright combination is a passing threat. The Cougars have slaughtered Idaho 77-3 and Tulsa 100-6 in their last two starts. To make matters worse, they rank fifth nationally in total defense.

Texas raced to a 35-0 halftime lead over the Texas Aggies behind a balanced attack and a defense that intercepted five of Edd Hargett's passes. Chris Gilbert gained 85 yards in 25 carries and finished his regular season career third among alltime runners with 3,231 yards.

Baylor's Football Coach, John Bridgers, Is Fired

Baylor President Abner McCall announced that he had decided to uphold a recommendation by the five-man athletic council that the 43-year old Bridgers be dismissed.

McCall said no one had been contacted for the coaching job but that, in the interim, R.E. Henderson would serve as athletic director.

"I would speculate that we will seek out a top assistant in some successful football program across the country," McCall said.

McCall said he believes it would have been better to have announced Bridgers' dismissal after Saturday's final game of the season— against Rice.

But, he said, some members of the athletic council wanted to go ahead and get the business over with.

Tar Cagers Open Slate In Kentfield

College of Marin's basketball team opens its 1968-69 basketball season tonight at 8 o'clock in Kentfield against an old Golden Valley Conference rival, Sierra College.

Coach Cal Riemcke's five, entering its first season in the new Camino Norte Conference, has a long and rowdy history of tough games with Sierra's Wolverines, usually tight, high-scoring affairs, and Riemcke expects more of the same tonight.

"Sierra has about the same type of club we do—young, mostly freshmen, but good freshmen. I always anticipate first-game jitters, but it ought to be a good game, high-scoring. We like to run a lot, and Sierra plays the same type of game, so it should be a good game".

Marin will start veteran Andre Horn and transfer Joe Smith at guards, both 5-10. Center will be 6-7 transfer Ken Kramer, while frosh Tom Seidenberg and Pat Schafer (6-5 and 6-4 respectively) will be at the forwards.

The COM frosh will play Marin Catholic High at six p.m. in the preliminary.

The Tars play Diablo Valley College in Concord at 8 tomorrow night.

In other Marin County high school cage action, Redwood hosts Lincoln of San Francisco in Larkspur and San Rafael plays Napa, at Napa. Both games are at 7 p.m.

Mental Attitude Key To Pro Grid Success

A football field is no place to day dream. Even a temporary mental lapse is dangerous. All pros are aware of this and consequently try to stay alert every second they are on the field.

Personal safety is a sufficient reason for an intelligent and watchful attitude of a player involved in the action. Common sense and natural instinct of survival dictate an alert attitude.

But there is another reason for a constant state of concentration. It is essential to success.

"In a game like pro football, you've got to concentrate on every play," said Donny Anderson whose punting, ball carrying and pass catching has kept the Green Bay Packers in contention for another possible title this year.

"YOU'VE GOT to think. If you forget, somebody will hit you hard enough to remind you. It's best to remind yourself. It's sometimes difficult to do."

Anderson is averaging 42 yards on 41 punts this season, has caught 24 passes for 315 yards and carried the ball 134 times for 595 yards.

Without the 6-3, 220, backfield ace the Packers, plagued by injuries to aging veterans this year, would not still be in contention in the National Football League's Central Division.

THE 5-5-1 record of the Packers is identical with that of the 49ers. While the Packers are only half a game behind the Minnesota Vikings whose 6-5 record leads the Central Division, the 49ers are out of the Coastal Division race. The 49ers could win all three of their remaining games, including Sunday's session in Kezar with the Packers, and still not catch the Baltimore Colts (10-1) even if the Colts lost their remaining games.

SOME YEARS ago when Joe Perry was establishing 49er and NFL fullback records he was asked the secret of his success. Perry attributed it to mental attitude.

"All teams in the league have capable men, physically able men," he said. "So the difference in winning or losing must be in the mental approach to each game.

"To win you must be alert every minute you are on the field. If you are alert, there never is any hesitation in making a split second decision.

"IF YOU are mentally sluggish, the muscles hesitate momentarily. A moment's hesitation invariably is fatal to an indecisive cut inside or outside a potential tackler. That's the way I explain it."

Anderson and Perry may not use the same words but they arrived at the same point in a most logical manner.

Game Crucial For Packers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers go into Sunday's contest against the Green Bay Packers a four-point underdog.

The game is a crucial one for the Packers, defending National Football League and Super Bowl champions. They have a 5-5-1 record and are only one-half game behind Minnesota, the leader in thek Central Division.

The 49ers are also 5-5-1 and are in third place in the Coastal Division behind Baltimore and Los Angeles.

TOMORROW

Cal Faces Explosive Hawaii '11'

HONOLULU (AP) — California closes out its first winning football season in a decade tomorrow when it visits the University of Hawaii in a night game.

The Bears take a 6-3-1 record in against high-scoring Hawaii, which is 7-2 against college-division opponents.

The Bears are heavily favored but aren't taking the Rainbows lightly since, according to Assistant Coach Bill Dutton who did the scouting, "they have football players who can play for any major college team. They pass a lot and have a very explosive offense."

Hawaii has amassed 300 points for a 33.0 point-per-game average and has yet to be held to less than 14 points.

TALENT, SPEED

"They can score from anywhere," warned Dutton. "They have the talent and speed to give us trouble."

Cal will have to shake off the effects of its 20-0 loss to Stanford last week, the first shutout suffered by the Bears since 1966.

All-American guard candidate Ed White, down with the flu last week, says he is fully recovered and should be at top speed for his last college game.

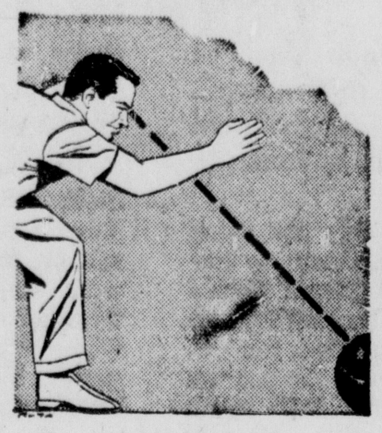
Calgary Gridders Hit By Flu Bug

TORONTO (AP) — The Calgary Stampeders were confined to their hotel yesterday, two days before the Grey Cup football game against Ottawa here, after seven players were stricken with influenza.

A scheduled afternoon practice was called off because not enough players were well enough to participate. Trainer Larry Chase said the illness usually takes two or three days to wear off.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you're using the spot system, really use it. Some bowlers have a target spot in mind and watch it as they start their approach, but then fail to see if the ball actually goes over the spot. The whole theory of spot bowling goes out the window if you don't know whether you're hitting your target or not.

Arkansas Vs. Georgians In Sugar Bowl

Arkansas officially accepted its Sugar Bowl invitation yesterday. Coach Frank Broyles said he'll be here today to sign the contracts.

Georgia and Arkansas have never clashed in football. The Razorbacks ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, Georgia was fourth.

Arkansas, 9-1, finished its season last Saturday by whipping Texas Tech 42-7.

Arkansas shared the SWC title with Texas. Since Texas beat the Razorbacks in regular season play, the Longhorns got the post spot in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

The Bandage Bowl Game At San Jose

SAN JOSE, (AP) — San Jose State's football team, minus its seven Negro members, closes out its disappointing and troubled 1968 football season tomorrow when it hosts Brigham Young University.

Coach Harry Anderson, in his last game with the Spartans, has named a patched-up lineup to fill in for the Negroes who say they are boycotting the game as a protest against what they say are the discriminatory racial policies of the Morman Church, which runs Brigham Young.

Anderson is resigning at the end of the season in which San Jose won only two games while losing seven. The Cougars have an identical record.

MANY INJURIES

The game has been dubbed "The Bandage Bowl" because of numerous injuries suffered by both sides.

"The game ball should go to the trainer of the winning team," quipped San Jose publicist Larry Close.

The latest Spartan to bite the dust is split end John Crivello, the team's leading receiver, who suffered a shoulder separation during the second quarter of a 66-0 loss to Arizona State last week.

Brigham Young, which has lost 14 regulars during the season, is led by sophomore fullback Chris Reading, who scored three touchdowns in a 35-6 victory over winless New Mexico last week.

Very Lucky Winner

USC, Notre Dame In TV Grid Battle Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame and the unbeaten Trojans of Southern California collide on the football field for the 40th time tomorrow in their finale of the regular season.

The contest will be televised nationally — ABC at 1:30 p.m. — and viewed by some 75,000 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

For the Irish, there is the will to close out the campaign on a winning note. Coach Ara Parseghian's lads, as ex-coach Frank Leahy was fond of calling the players, have won seven games but they lost two big ones.

Those were to Purdue, 37-33, and Michigan State, 21-17.

Coach John McKay's Trojans are 9-0. They have won 19 of their last 20 games and are Rose Bowl-bound, with O.J. Simpson leading the charge to play Ohio State. If the Trojans needed more incentive, they got it this week when The Associated Press pollsters dropped them from No. 1 to No. 2 behind Ohio State.

"We still think we are No. 1," said Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

Notre Dame has been damaged by injuries to key players. The most serious was the loss of quarterback Terry Hanratty. A sophomore, Joe Theismann, is his replacement. He guided ND past Georgia Tech 34-6 and Pittsburgh 56-7.

"Notre Dame is as good a looking team as I have seen in years," says McKay. "That quarterback Theismann looks like Steve Preece of Oregon State when he runs and like Jim Plunkett of Stanford when he passes."

"Stopping Southern Cal is a big order," counters Parseghian. "First you have to contend with the finest running back in college football.

"The one thing that surprises most of all is that many people have over looked the great job Steve Sogge has done at quarterback.

"They have lots of weapons and McKay utilizes all of them so well that you can't concentrate on any one person or phase of their offense."

Southern Cal has a few stops to make, also, such as halfback Bob Gadieux, who has led the Irish rushers with 133 carries for 596 yards and 11 touchdowns.

And there is pass-snagging Jim Seymour—49 for 671 yards and four touchdowns.

Oaks Go Against Kentucky Tonight

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The Oakland Oaks hope to widen their Western Division lead tonight when they take on the Kentucky Colonels in an American Basketball Association game.

The Oaks, 15-2, maintained their 5½-game lead over Los Angeles Wednesday night with a 130-116 victory over the Miami Floridians.

Mental Attitude Key To Pro Grid Success

A football field is no place to day dream. Even a temporary mental lapse is dangerous. All pros are aware of this and consequently try to stay alert every second they are on the field.

Personal safety is a sufficient reason for an intelligent and watchful attitude of a player involved in the action. Common sense and natural instinct of survival dictate an alert attitude.

But there is another reason for a constant state of concentration. It is essential to success.

"In a game like pro football, you've got to concentrate on every play," said Donny Anderson whose punting, ball carrying and pass catching has kept the Green Bay Packers in contention for another possible title this year.

"YOU'VE GOT to think. If you forget, somebody will hit you hard enough to remind you. It's best to remind yourself. It's sometimes difficult to do."

Anderson is averaging 42 yards on 41 punts this season, has caught 24 passes for 315 yards and carried the ball 134 times for 595 yards.

Without the 6-3, 220, backfield ace the Packers, plagued by injuries to aging veterans this year, would not still be in contention in the National Football League's Central Division.

THE 5-5-1 record of the Packers is identical with that of the 49ers. While the Packers are only half a game behind the Minnesota Vikings whose 6-5 record leads the Central Division, the 49ers are out of the Coastal Division race. The 49ers could win all three of their remaining games, including Sunday's session in Kezar with the Packers, and still not catch the Baltimore Colts (10-1) even if the Colts lost their remaining games.

SOME YEARS ago when Joe Perry was establishing 49er and NFL fullback records he was asked the secret of his success. Perry attributed it to mental attitude.

"All teams in the league have capable men, physically able men," he said. "So the difference in winning or losing must be in the mental approach to each game.

"To win you must be alert every minute you are on the field. If you are alert, there never is any hesitation in making a split second decision.

"IF YOU are mentally sluggish, the muscles hesitate momentarily. A moment's hesitation invariably is fatal to an indecisive cut inside or outside a potential tackler. That's the way I explain it."

Anderson and Perry may not use the same words but they arrived at the same point in a most logical manner.

Game Crucial For Packers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers go into Sunday's contest against the Green Bay Packers a four-point underdog.

The game is a crucial one for the Packers, defending National Football League and Super Bowl champions. They have a 5-5-1 record and are only one-half game behind Minnesota, the leader in thek Central Division.

The 49ers are also 5-5-1 and are in third place in the Coastal Division behind Baltimore and Los Angeles.

TOMORROW

Cal Faces Explosive Hawaii '11'

HONOLULU (AP) — California closes out its first winning football season in a decade tomorrow when it visits the University of Hawaii in a night game.

The Bears take a 6-3-1 record in against high-scoring Hawaii, which is 7-2 against college-division opponents.

The Bears are heavily favored but aren't taking the Rainbows lightly since, according to Assistant Coach Bill Dutton who did the scouting, "they have football players who can play for any major college team. They pass a lot and have a very explosive offense."

Hawaii has amassed 300 points for a 33.0 point-per-game average and has yet to be held to less than 14 points.

TALENT, SPEED

"They can score from anywhere," warned Dutton. "They have the talent and speed to give us trouble."

Cal will have to shake off the effects of its 20-0 loss to Stanford last week, the first shutout suffered by the Bears since 1966.

All-American guard candidate Ed White, down with the flu last week, says he is fully recovered and should be at top speed for his last college game.

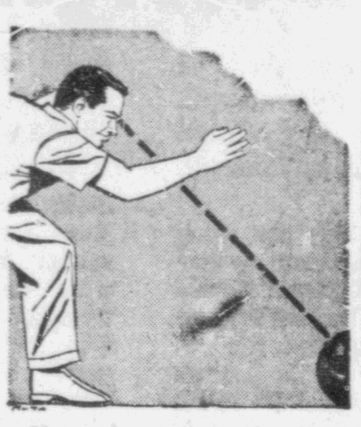
Calgary Gridders Hit By Flu Bug

TORONTO (AP) — The Calgary Stampeders were confined to their hotel yesterday, two days before the Grey Cup football game against Ottawa here, after seven players were stricken with influenza.

A scheduled afternoon practice was called off because not enough players were well enough to participate. Trainer Larry Chase said the illness usually takes two or three days to wear off.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you're using the spot system, really use it. Some bowlers have a target spot in mind and watch it as they start their approach, but then fail to see if the ball actually goes over the spot. The whole theory of spot bowling goes out the window if you don't know whether you're hitting your target or not.

Arkansas Vs. Georgians In Sugar Bowl

Arkansas officially accepted its Sugar Bowl invitation yesterday. Coach Frank Broyles said he'll be here today to sign the contracts.

Georgia and Arkansas have never clashed in football. The Razorbacks ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, Georgia was fourth.

Arkansas, 9-1, finished its season last Saturday by whipping Texas Tech 42-7.

Arkansas shared the SWC title with Texas. Since Texas beat the Razorbacks in regular season play, the Longhorns got the post spot in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

The Bandage Bowl Game At San Jose

SAN JOSE, (AP) — San Jose State's football team, minus its seven Negro members, closes out its disappointing and troubled 1968 football season tomorrow when it hosts Brigham Young University.

Coach Harry Anderson, in his last game with the Spartans, has named a patched-up lineup to fill in for the Negroes who say they are boycotting the game as a protest against what they say are the discriminatory racial policies of the Morman Church, which runs Brigham Young.

Anderson is resigning at the end of the season in which San Jose won only two games while losing seven. The Cougars have an identical record.

MANY INJURIES

The game has been dubbed "The Bandage Bowl" because of numerous injuries suffered by both sides.

"The game ball should go to the trainer of the winning team," quipped San Jose publicist Larry Close.

The latest Spartan to bite the dust is split end John Crivello, the team's leading receiver, who suffered a shoulder separation during the second quarter of a 66-0 loss to Arizona State last week.

Brigham Young, which has lost 14 regulars during the season, is led by sophomore fullback Chris Reading, who scored three touchdowns in a 35-6 victory over winless New Mexico last week.

Very Lucky Winner

USC, Notre Dame In TV Grid Battle Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame and the unbeaten Trojans of Southern California collide on the football field for the 40th time tomorrow in their finale of the regular season.

The contest will be televised nationally — ABC at 1:30 p.m. — and viewed by some 75,000 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

For the Irish, there is the will to close out the campaign on a winning note. Coach Ara Parseghian's lads, as ex-coach Frank Leahy was fond of calling the players, have won seven games but they lost two big ones.

Those were to Purdue, 37-33, and Michigan State, 21-17.

Coach John McKay's Trojans are 9-0. They have won 19 of their last 20 games and are Rose Bowl-bound, with O.J. Simpson leading the charge to play Ohio State. If the Trojans needed more incentive, they got it this week when The Associated Press pollsters dropped them from No. 1 to No. 2 behind Ohio State.

"We still think we are No. 1," said Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

Notre Dame has been damaged by injuries to key players. The most serious was the loss of quarterback Terry Hanratty. A sophomore, Joe Theismann, is his replacement. He guided ND past Georgia Tech 34-6 and Pittsburgh 56-7.

"Notre Dame is as good a looking team as I have seen in years," says McKay. "That quarterback Theismann looks like Steve Preece of Oregon State when he runs and like Jim Plunkett of Stanford when he passes."

"Stopping Southern Cal is a big order," counters Parseghian. "First you have to contend with the finest running back in college football.

"The one thing that surprises most of all is that many people have over looked the great job Steve Sogge has done at quarterback.

"They have lots of weapons and McKay utilizes all of them so well that you can't concentrate on any one person or phase of their offense."

Southern Cal has a few stops to make, also, such as halfback Bob Gadieux, who has led the Irish rushers with 133 carries for 596 yards and 11 touchdowns.

And there is pass-snagging Jim Seymour—49 for 671 yards and four touchdowns.

Oaks Go Against Kentucky Tonight

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The Oakland Oaks hope to widen their Western Division lead tonight when they take on the Kentucky Colonels in an American Basketball Association game.

The Oaks, 15-2, maintained their 5½-game lead over Los Angeles Wednesday night with a 130-116 victory over the Miami Floridians.

Fresno '11' Drops Marin

—a halfback pass in the flat — and Tim did his thing, outracing, outfaking, and just plain beating a selection of Rams on his way to the end zone. Sixty-nine yards and a Bill Hickerson conversion later, it was 13-7.

Marin recovered a Fresno fumble at the Rams' 23 with four seconds left, but Hickerson's field goal try was blocked.

BOG DOWN

The Tars moved to the Fresno 23 and 35 yard lines on their first two possessions of the second half, only to bog down. Fresno was being stymied at every turn on defense, as Bill McClelland, Hickerson, Rick Woodall, Tom Heacox and Rick Smith were outstanding as pass rushers and as tacklers.

Finally, Fresno got the break it needed when a Marin punt went 22 yards, setting up Rasmussen and Co. at the Tars' 34. A 26-yard run by Lamanuzzi was the big play, followed by Rasmussen's nine-yard toss to tight-end Bob Burdick. The PAT was good, leaving the score 20-7 with 4:13 to go.

Marin threw four incomplete passes, held Fresno at the Tar 30, and went back to work. Pieri made a fine grab of a Kevin Wilson pass for 28 yards, then capitalized on the one big Marin break of the afternoon-a pass that bounced off a defender into his hands — for 48 yards and a much-needed TD. Hickerson's boot was blocked, putting more pressure on the Mariners.

DOESN'T WORK

With 1:55 left, Marin tried an unsuccessful onsides kick, but held Fresno and got the ball back with 45 seconds left and 88 yards to go. Wilson ran for eight when trapped, then hit Pieri and Mike Fowler to bring the ball to the Tar 39, from which point his last-play pass was intercepted as the receivers desperately fought to get free.

Marin coach Dick Read felt his team gave a good effort but beat themselves. "We've done this all year. It's natural with so many freshmen and with two inexperienced quarterbacks," Read said, and added, "But Val and Kevin have improved, they've done a good job all year. We did a fine job representing the conference. We were happy to make the playoffs for two years in a row, and I was real pleased with the job the players and coaches did this year."

PRAISE

Read and assistant coaches Ed Grimm (backs) and Pete Limm (line) praised the defensive line for its best pass rush of the season, the defensive backs for holding Rasmussen to 78 air yards, only 20 to Natsues on four catches, and the running backs for good all-around performances, blocking and catching as well as carrying the ball.

Hickerson, McLelland, offensive guard Doug Guillon, Pieri, and Garvin drew the most praise, with Read saying of Garvin: "He's great — a superback, like Tim Harr was last year. He did a great job, has tremendous ability."

Grimm had perhaps the last word on Marin's luck in playoffs: "Two years in a row like this is hard to take. Always the bridesmaid, never the bride."

But Read was happy, if subdued. Many of his squad are coming back next year, and as he said, "This club came a long way with what it had. It was a real pleasure coaching them. This was one of the most courageous teams we've had — it came back all year long, and we're proud of it."

Seals Take On The Canadiens

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals return to their home ice tonight against the high-flying Montreal Canadiens, leaders in the National Hockey League's East Division.

In uniform for the first time for the Seals is Bob Dillabough, center-forward acquired from Pittsburgh in a straight player swap for Bill Harris.

Penny Ann May Give Up Her Fight

The 25-year-old blond divorcee, unsuccessful in three attempts to ride at Churchill Downs, did not make a reported appearance at the track either as a rider or a spectator, a track official said.

The spokesman said he had been informed that Miss Early would not try again to be a woman jockey because she was tired, apparently from her brief professional basketball debut Wednesday night with the Kentucky Colonels.

Hickerson, McLelland, offensive guard Doug Guillon, Pieri, and Garvin drew the most praise, with Read saying of Garvin: "He's great — a superback, like Tim Harr was last year. He did a great job, has tremendous ability."

Grimm had perhaps the last word on Marin's luck in playoffs: "Two years in a row like this is hard to take. Always the bridesmaid, never the bride."

But Read was happy, if subdued. Many of his squad are coming back next year, and as he said, "This club came a long way with what it had. It was a real pleasure coaching them. This was one of the most courageous teams we've had — it came back all year long, and we're proud of it."

Seals Take On The Canadiens

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals return to their home ice tonight against the high-flying Montreal Canadiens, leaders in the National Hockey League's East Division.

In uniform for the first time for the Seals is Bob Dillabough, center-forward acquired from Pittsburgh in a straight player swap for Bill Harris.

Penny Ann May Give Up Her Fight

The 25-year-old blond divorcee, unsuccessful in three attempts to ride at Churchill Downs, did not make a reported appearance at the track either as a rider or a spectator, a track official said.

The spokesman said he had been informed that Miss Early would not try again to be a woman jockey because she was tired, apparently from her brief professional basketball debut Wednesday night with the Kentucky Colonels.

The Long-Awaited Return Of Diplomatic Mr. Hayes

OK, everybody, shape up! Wayne Woodrow Hayes and the Scarlet Scourge of Ohio State is coming to the Rose Bowl.

There'll have to be a few changes made. First of all, of course, the Rose Parade is OUT. Disturbs the concentration of the players.

There'll be no band marching on the field at halftime. It they play their cards right, Woody may let them bring a recording. He hasn't made up his mind about card tricks.

SPORTSWRITERS HAD better learn to take a 9-count. And to duck. Woody decks them when they get too close.

Practices will be open—to God and Woody (not necessarily in that order).

Sportswriters, Tournament of Roses officials and/or spectators will not be permitted to view the team live and in color. But Woody will distribute black-and-white photographs of it to qualified parties—provided they wear the uniform in school colors and have their name, rank and serial number stamped on the back. They will be asked to sign for the photos and to stand in a roped-off area of the room before distribution.

SO THAT those covering the game will be sufficiently backgrounded Woody will permit selected screenings of the 1910 Michigan-Ohio State game.

If Woody wins, we may expect some suitably-muted post-game elation—such as an observation or two that O. J. Simpson couldn't make first string on HIS squad, or the Big 10 All-Conference, or that USC was every bit as good as Massillon High.

IF IT RAINS, of course, Woody may not even let spectators in. Pasadena will have to have a curfew New Year's Eve.

Wayne Woodrow, you will remember, is the diplomat who came out West in 1955, knocked USC on its haircut, 20-7, and then afterward allowed as how the Trojans would be lucky to finish sixth in HIS conference. When someone gave him a chance to cop a plea later, Woody on the other hand consolidated the insult: "What was I supposed to do — LIE to them?!" he wanted to know.

HE RAGED about the band being on the field, wanted to know why a $750,000 game couldn't afford a tarpaulin. Hardly anything about California satisfied Woody.

Woody is one of the rarest specimens in nature—the non-hyprocrite. When he got caught doling out money to his football players some years ago (prompting someone to suggest the football team should be incorporated), Woody didn't deny it. He merely insisted he didn't provide any "luxuries" for his players. He didn't send any of them to the French Riveria, for instance.

THE NCAA made the team stand in a corner for a year. Woody preferred to think of the transactions as non-interest loans, but since he couldn't come up with the names of the borrowers, and since the only collateral offered was first downs and intercepted passes, the Big Ten shuttered the shop and Woody's career as a pawnbroker was over.

ANOTHER TIME, 20 Midwestern football writers plus the Big Ten commissioner and the assistant on a conference sponsored tour of all fall practice fields arrived at Ohio State where they were summarily and humiliatingly ejected from the premises like common gatecrashers by Wayne Woodrow. The school apologized. Wayne Woodrow was too busy looking down coal mines and up plow furrows and into pool halls for football players.

WELL, YOU can see Woody's a lot more interesting than his football team (which wouldn't be hard). The Last of the Cavemen hasn't been here in 11 years. He probably hopes the West Coast football has improved. I only hope HE hasn't. I like getting beat by guys who relish it publicly, not by ones who pretend it pains them more than it does you. If you want sweetness and light get Helen—I'll take Woody Hayes.

76ers Seem To Be Doing Quite Well Against Wilt

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia 76ers might not be doing quite as well without Wilt Chamberlain as they did with him, but they are doing very well against him.

The 76ers ran their record to 2-0 against the Wilt Chamberlain-led Los Angeles Lakers with a 122-107 victory last night that put them only 1½ games out of the lead in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

Front and center in the victory was Luke Jackson, Chamberlain's replacement in the post, who canned seven of eight field goal tries and assisted on two others during a last half surge that destroyed the Western Division-leading Lakers.

In the only other NBA game, Seattle topped Milwaukee 115-103 on the West Coast.

After 11 lead changes, the host 76ers pulled away from the game's 16th tie at 71 with a 13-2 burst, and Los Angeles never recovered as Chamberlain managed only 13 points and 19 rebounds against his old mates, who he led to a world championship two years ago. The Lakers, too, were playing without Jerry West, who was sidelined with the flu.

Jackson hit three baskets and got the two assists during the spree as the 76ers won their ninth game in 10 starts. He finished with 24 points, while Bill Cunningham led the 76ers with 28. Elgin Baylor had 32 for the Lakers.

Seattle, in whipping Milwaukee, won its fourth straight game—the first time the SuperSonics have registered four victories in a row since they joined the league last season. Three of the triumphs have been at the expense of Bucks while the other came over Chicago.

The Sonics virtually led from the outset and by halftime they were in front 55-48. Twice Milwaukee closed the gap to four points in the fourth quarter but each time Seattle pulled safely ahead.

Breedlove, Two Others Injured

LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz. (UPI)—World land speed record holder Craig Breedlove and two other drivers were injured yesterday when their boats met with mishaps during practice runs for the $30,000 Outboard World Championships.

Breedlove of Torrance, Calif., suffered minor injuries when his boat, powered by two 115-horsepower engines, flipped at high speed. He was thrown clear of the tumbling craft but was taken to Needles Hospital.

Earlier in the day, Bill Hill Jr., of Cullman, Ala., and Ron Del Rosa, of Antioch, were taken to the same hospital.

Hill, former winner of the Mississippi Championships, suffered two broken knees when his boat, powered by three 125-horsepower engines flipped. He was in satisfactory condition.

Del Rosa's twin-engined racer disintegrated at high speed and he suffered three broken ribs and a possible ruptured spleen.

More practice runs were on tap for today, with four hours of racing slated for Saturday and Sunday on this Colorado River lake.

Skipper Wins Third Pennant

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Vern Rapp is the first manager to win two baseball pennants here. When his Arkansas Travelers won the 1968 Texas League flag it marked his third T.L. crown in four efforts.

Rapp's Tulsa team won in 1965. He repeated with the Travs in 1966 when the team was shifted to Little Rock. His 1967 club finished fifth.

The Little Rock team has a working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Majestic Prince Wins Feature

SAN MATEO (AP) — Majestic Prince paid back some of the $250,000 it cost its owner with a Thanksgiving Day victory — its first — at Bay Meadows.

The son of Raise a Native covered six furlongs in 1:09 1-5 to win a $4,000 maiden race for a dozen 2-year-olds and return $3.00, $2.60 and $2.60.

The Prince, with jockey Bill Hartack up, took the lead at the start and finished 2½ lengths in front of Applicator, which paid $3.30 and $2.80.

Eagles Win At Last, On Toe Of Sam Baker

DETROIT (AP) — Sam Baker's talented toe not only got the Philadelphia Eagles in the victory column for the first time this season but he also became the second leading scorer of all time in the National Football League.

Baker kicked four field goals in the rain and mud as the Eagles blanked the Detroit Lions 12-0 yesterday. Philadelphia had lost 11 straight games and hadn't won since the last game of the 1967 season.

The Eagles' kicking specialist said he didn't know he had moved into second place among the NFL's all-time scorers with 893 points because "this hasn't exactly been a year when we've been running checks through the record books."

GROZA FIRST

Only retired Lou "The Toe" Groza of the Cleveland Browns has more points, 1,349.

Baker booted field goals in all four quarters on kicks of 36, 18, 32 and 35 yards. He said he didn't kick any differently than he has been but he praised Joe Scarpati.

"Scarpati is the holder and he just did a good job," Baker said, as he peeled off his wet, muddy uniform.

Baker said the sloppy field, which was like a swamp in some areas, did't bother him.

"You don't think about it because you're doing so much," he said.

Detroit's only real scoring threat was squelched with one minute left in the game when Nate Ramsey intercepted a Gregg Landry pass on the Eagles' five-yard line.

ON GROUND

Landry was Detroit's quarterback in place of the ailing Bill Munson. He completed only seven of 15 passes for 66 yards and due to the sloppy field had to rely mostly on his running game.

"I'll take the blame for it (the loss) because I am the quarterback," Landry said, "but I felt real confident in there."

He said he was forced to throw to secondary receivers on several occasions because of "the defense they gave us."

Philadelphia's Norm Snead had to stick to the ground, too. He completed six of 15 passes for 55 yards.

It was Tom Woodeshick who carried the bulk of the offensive load by rushing 79 yards in 27 carries.

"LIFT"

Philadelphia Coach Joe Kuharich, said the victory gave "a tremendous lift to everybody."

Baker's first and fourth quarter field goals came after interceptions. Halfback Al Nelson intercepted a Landry pass at his own 38 and the Eagles moved 42 yards in eight plays to give Baker a shot at his 36-yarder.

CHICAGO (AP) — The door remains open to women in harness racing and Elaine Leake went through it at Maywood Park last night as a winner.

Mrs. Leake, mud splattered, drove pacer Justly Rebel to victory in a four-horse photo finish. The accomplished horsewoman has won many races at Chicago tracks in the last three years.

COWBOYS WIN

'Skins Graham Raps Officials

DALLAS (AP) — Everyone agreed that Dallas' 29-20 National Football League victory over Washington Thanksgiving night was a steal but there was considerable debate today over who was the thief.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said he felt rookie defensive tackle Larry Cole's theft of a wayward pass and five-yard touchdown return was "the big play of the game."

Cole made his big play with but 8:33 remaining in the nationally televised struggle in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cowboys led only 22-20 at the time. Tackle Jethro Pugh plowed into Redskin Jim Ninowski just as the quarterback released the ball. It fluttered into Cole's waiting arms.

"I don't know how he (Cole) does it, but he always seems to be in the right place each week," said Landry.

Graham was steaming about the 124 yards in penalties his team incurred, including 15 against Graham himself for unsportsmanlike conduct.

"I got that one for picking up the flag and throwing it back at the official," said Graham. "When the kids play their hearts out like this and the officials steal the game from them it's a crime.

"I've written the league officials several times complaining about the officiating. But never has it been this bad.

"I don't mind getting beat and I can appreciate that the officials have some judgment calls to make. But I think it's about time we got some officials who have some judgment."

Referee Norm Schachter headed the crew of officials who also penalized Dallas 97 yards.

Ninowski, subbing for flu-weakened Sonny Jurgensen, threw touchdown passes of 29 yards to Charlie Taylor, 11 to Jerry Smith, and four to Pat Richter. But he was harried by a strong Dallas rush and was dropped six times.

Washington played a strong defensive game but fumbles set up a 18-yard field goal by Mike Clark and led to a one-yard touchdown run by Craig Baynham. Pugh forced Ninowski to fumble out of the end zone for a safety.

Dallas scored but one touchdown on a sustained drive and that was when Craig Morton subbed briefly for starter Don Meredith, who was injured.

Meredith later returned—to the boos of some of the 66,076 fans—and could never light a spark in the Cowboy attack.

The victory pushed Dallas, 10-2, within a half-game of clinching the Capitol Division.

The Long-Awaited Return Of Diplomatic Mr. Hayes

OK, everybody, shape up! Wayne Woodrow Hayes and the Scarlet Scourge of Ohio State is coming to the Rose Bowl.

There'll have to be a few changes made. First of all, of course, the Rose Parade is OUT. Disturbs the concentration of the players.

There'll be no band marching on the field at halftime. It they play their cards right, Woody may let them bring a recording. He hasn't made up his mind about card tricks.

SPORTSWRITERS HAD better learn to take a 9-count. And to duck. Woody decks them when they get too close.

Practices will be open—to God and Woody (not necessarily in that order).

Sportswriters, Tournament of Roses officials and/or spectators will not be permitted to view the team live and in color. But Woody will distribute black-and-white photographs of it to qualified parties—provided they wear the uniform in school colors and have their name, rank and serial number stamped on the back. They will be asked to sign for the photos and to stand in a roped-off area of the room before distribution.

SO THAT those covering the game will be sufficiently backgrounded Woody will permit selected screenings of the 1910 Michigan-Ohio State game.

If Woody wins, we may expect some suitably-muted post-game elation—such as an observation or two that O. J. Simpson couldn't make first string on HIS squad, or the Big 10 All-Conference, or that USC was every bit as good as Massillon High.

IF IT RAINS, of course, Woody may not even let spectators in. Pasadena will have to have a curfew New Year's Eve.

Wayne Woodrow, you will remember, is the diplomat who came out West in 1955, knocked USC on its haircut, 20-7, and then afterward allowed as how the Trojans would be lucky to finish sixth in HIS conference. When someone gave him a chance to cop a plea later, Woody on the other hand consolidated the insult: "What was I supposed to do — LIE to them?!" he wanted to know.

HE RAGED about the band being on the field, wanted to know why a $750,000 game couldn't afford a tarpaulin. Hardly anything about California satisfied Woody.

Woody is one of the rarest specimens. in nature—the non-hyprocrite. When he got caught doling out money to his football players some years ago (prompting someone to suggest the football team should be incorporated), Woody didn't deny it. He merely insisted he didn't provide any "luxuries" for his players. He didn't send any of them to the French Riveria, for instance.

THE NCAA made the team stand in a corner for a year. Woody preferred to think of the transactions as non-interest loans, but since he couldn't come up with the names of the borrowers, and since the only collateral offered was first downs and intercepted passes, the Big Ten shuttered the shop and Woody's career as a pawnbroker was over.

ANOTHER TIME, 20 Midwestern football writers plus the Big Ten commissioner and the assistant on a conference sponsored tour of all fall practice fields arrived at Ohio State where they were summarily and humiliatingly ejected from the premises like common gatecrashers by Wayne Woodrow. The school apologized. Wayne Woodrow was too busy looking down coal mines and up plow furrows and into pool halls for football players.

WELL, YOU can see Woody's a lot more interesting than his football team (which wouldn't be hard). The Last of the Cavemen hasn't been here in 11 years. He probably hopes the West Coast football has improved. I only hope HE hasn't. I like getting beat by guys who relish it publicly, not by ones who pretend it pains them more than it does you. If you want sweetness and light get Helen—I'll take Woody Hayes.

76ers Seem To Be Doing Quite Well Against Wilt

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia 76ers might not be doing quite as well without Wilt Chamberlain as they did with him, but they are doing very well against him.

The 76ers ran their record to 2-0 against the Wilt Chamberlain-led Los Angeles Lakers with a 122-107 victory last night that put them only 1½ games out of the lead in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

Front and center in the victory was Luke Jackson, Chamberlain's replacement in the post, who canned seven of eight field goal tries and assisted on two others during a last half surge that destroyed the Western Division-leading Lakers.

In the only other NBA game, Seattle topped Milwaukee 115-103 on the West Coast.

After 11 lead changes, the host 76ers pulled away from the game's 16th tie at 71 with a 13-2 burst, and Los Angeles never recovered as Chamberlain managed only 13 points and 19 rebounds against his old mates, who he led to a world championship two years ago. The Lakers, too, were playing without Jerry West, who was sidelined with the flu.

Jackson hit three baskets and got the two assists during the spree as the 76ers won their ninth game in 10 starts. He finished with 24 points, while Bill Cunningham led the 76ers with 28. Elgin Baylor had 32 for the Lakers.

Seattle, in whipping Milwaukee, won its fourth straight game—the first time the SuperSonics have registered four victories in a row since they joined the league last season. Three of the triumphs have been at the expense of Bucks while the other came over Chicago.

The Sonics virtually led from the outset and by halftime they were in front 55-48. Twice Milwaukee closed the gap to four points in the fourth quarter but each time Seattle pulled safely ahead.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING — Oh, to be in Detroit when the mud is thick. That's where the Philadelphia Eagles and the Detroit Lions spent Thanksgiving Day, slushing in the mud. Usually clean Eagle quarterback Norm Snead hands off to an unidentified and dirty back in the game won by Philly, 12-0.

Breedlove, Two Others Injured

LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz. (UPI)—World land speed record holder Craig Breedlove and two other drivers were injured yesterday when their boats met with mishaps during practice runs for the $30,000 Outboard World Championships.

Breedlove of Torrance, Calif., suffered minor injuries when his boat, powered by two 115-horsepower engines, flipped at high speed. He was thrown clear of the tumbling craft but was taken to Needles Hospital.

Earlier in the day, Bill Hill Jr., of Cullman, Ala., and Ron Del Rosa, of Antioch, were taken to the same hospital.

Hill, former winner of the Mississippi Championships, suffered two broken knees when his boat, powered by three 125-horsepower engines flipped. He was in satisfactory condition.

Del Rosa's twin-engined racer disintegrated at high speed and he suffered three broken ribs and a possible ruptured spleen.

More practice runs were on tap for today, with four hours of racing slated for Saturday and Sunday on this Colorado River lake.

Majestic Prince Wins Feature

SAN MATEO (AP) — Majestic Prince paid back some of the $250,000 it cost its owner with a Thanksgiving Day victory — its first — at Bay Meadows.

The son of Raise a Native covered six furlongs in 1:09 1-5 to win a $4,000 maiden race for a dozen 2-year-olds and return $3.00, $2.60 and $2.60.

The Prince, with jockey Bill Hartack up, took the lead at the start and finished 2½ lengths in front of Applicator, which paid $3.30 and $2.80.

Skipper Wins Third Pennant

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Vern Rapp is the first manager to win two baseball pennants here. When his Arkansas Travelers won the 1968 Texas League flag it marked his third T.L. crown in four efforts.

Rapp's Tulsa team won in 1965. He repeated with the Travs in 1966 when the team was shifted to Little Rock. His 1967 club finished fifth.

The Little Rock team has a working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Eagles Win At Last, On Toe Of Sam Baker

DETROIT (AP) — Sam Baker's talented toe not only got the Philadelphia Eagles in the victory column for the first time this season but he also became the second leading scorer of all time in the National Football League.

Baker kicked four field goals in the rain and mud as the Eagles blanked the Detroit Lions 12-0 yesterday. Philadelphia had lost 11 straight games and hadn't won since the last game of the 1967 season.

The Eagles' kicking specialist said he didn't know he had moved into second place among the NFL's all-time scorers with 893 points because "this hasn't exactly been a year when we've been running checks through the record books."

GROZA FIRST

Only retired Lou "The Toe" Groza of the Cleveland Browns has more points, 1,349.

Baker booted field goals in all four quarters on kicks of 36, 18, 32 and 35 yards. He said he didn't kick any differently than he has been but he praised Joe Scarpati.

"Scarpati is the holder and he just did a good job," Baker said, as he peeled off his wet, muddy uniform.

Baker said the sloppy field, which was like a swamp in some areas, didn't bother him.

"You don't think about it because you're doing so much," he said.

Detroit's only real scoring threat was squelched with one minute left in the game when Nate Ramsey intercepted a Gregg Landry pass on the Eagles' five-yard line.

ON GROUND

Landry was Detroit's quarterback in place of the ailing Bill Munson. He completed only seven of 15 passes for 66 yards and due to the sloppy field had to rely mostly on his running game.

"I'll take the blame for it (the loss) because I am the quarterback," Landry said, "but I felt real confident in there."

He said he was forced to throw to secondary receivers on several occasions because of "the defense they gave us."

Philadelphia's Norm Snead had to stick to the ground, too. He completed six of 15 passes for 55 yards.

It was Tom Woodeshick who carried the bulk of the offensive load by rushing 79 yards in 27 carries.

"LIFT"

Philadelphia Coach Joe Kuharich, said the victory gave "a tremendous lift to everybody."

Baker's first and fourth quarter field goals came after interceptions. Halfback Al Nelson intercepted a Landry pass at his own 38 and the Eagles moved 42 yards in eight plays to give Baker a shot at his 36-yarder.

Woman Wins Again In Harness Racing

CHICAGO (AP) — The door remains open to women in harness racing and Elaine Leake went through it at Maywood Park last night as a winner.

Mrs. Leake, mud splattered, drove pacer Justly Rebel to victory in a four-horse photo finish. The accomplished horsewoman has won many races at Chicago tracks in the last three years.

COWBOYS WIN

'Skins Graham Raps Officials

DALLAS (AP) — Everyone agreed that Dallas' 29-20 National Football League victory over Washington Thanksgiving night was a steal but there was considerable debate today over who was the thief.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said he felt rookie defensive tackle Larry Cole's theft of a wayward pass and five-yard touchdown return was "the big play of the game."

Cole made his big play with but 8:33 remaining in the nationally televised struggle in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cowboys led only 22-20 at the time. Tackle Jethro Pugh plowed into Redskin Jim Ninowski just as the quarterback released the ball. It fluttered into Cole's waiting arms.

"I don't know how he (Cole) does it, but he always seems to be in the right place each week," said Landry.

Graham was steaming about the 124 yards in penalties his team incurred, including 15 against Graham himself for unsportsmanlike conduct.

"I got that one for picking up the flag and throwing it back at the official," said Graham. "When the kids play their hearts out like this and the officials steal the game from them it's a crime.

"I've written the league officials several times complaining about the officiating. But never has it been this bad.

"I don't mind getting beat and I can appreciate that the officials have some judgment calls to make. But I think it's about time we got some officials who have some judgment."

Referee Norm Schachter headed the crew of officials who also penalized Dallas 97 yards.

Ninowski, subbing for flu-weakened Sonny Jurgensen, threw touchdown passes of 29 yards to Charlie Taylor, 11 to Jerry Smith, and four to Pat Richter. But he was harried by a strong Dallas rush and was dropped six times.

Washington played a strong defensive game but fumbles set up a 18-yard field goal by Mike Clark and led to a one-yard touchdown run by Craig Baynham. Pugh forced Ninowski to fumble out of the end zone for a safety.

Dallas scored but one touchdown on a sustained drive and that was when Craig Morton subbed briefly for starter Don Meredith, who was injured.

Meredith later returned—to the boos of some of the 66,076 fans—and could never light a spark in the Cowboy attack.

The victory pushed Dallas, 10-2, within a half-game of clinching the Capitol Division.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Oceanic Properties Entering South Bay

Oceanic Properties, Inc., land development subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc. and developer of the 5,200-acre Sea Ranch on the Sonoma County coast, is acquiring the 50 per cent interest of its joint venture partner in the 11,000-acre Hamilton-San Jose property in southern Santa Clara County.

The acquisition will be through the exchange of an undisclosed number of Castle and Cooke common shares for the interest of investment companies headed by Harlan Gelderman, Bay Area developer.

Plans have been announced for the development of a complete "new town" on the Hamilton property, which surrounds Lake Anderson on three sides in the foothills of Mount Hamilton.

CROCKER-CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK shareholders have voted approval of acquiring the Bank of Sonoma County through an exchange of stock. Shareholders of the Sonoma bank also voted approval.

SUNSET HOUSE stockholders have approved the merger of this mail order firm with Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc. Sunset House stockholders will receive one share of a new Broadway-Hale convertible preferred stock for every two shares of Sunset House stock.

OCCIDENTAL PETROLEUM CORP. directors have doubled the annual dividend rate on the common stock from 40 cents per share to 80 cents per share. The regular quarterly dividend at the new increased rate of 20 cents per share is payable Jan. 14 to shareholders of record Dec. 10. Regular quarterly dividends have also been declared on convertible preferred stock. There have been four raises in Occidental's quarterly dividend rate in the last three years.

HOST INTERNATIONAL, INC. directors have increased the quarterly cash dividend to 7.5 cents per share, payable Dec. 31 to shareholders of record Dec. 15. The new annual dividend rate of 30 cents per share represents a 20 per cent increase over the prior annual rate of 25 cents per share, after giving effect to a 100 per cent stock dividend paid last month.

BERYLLIUM INTERNATIONAL, INC., Washington, D.C. stockholders will vote Wednesday on a proposed plan to merger into U.S. Beryllium Corp., Pueblo, Colo. The plan provides four shares of Beryllium International stock for one share of U.S. Beryllium. Beryllium International is a nonoperating mineral property holding company. U.S. Beryllium supplies beryllium ores and concentrates and would use Beryllium Interational's properties and assets to expand output.

PACIFIC OUTDOOR ADVERTISING CO., Los Angeles, directors have approved a two-for-one stock split subject to shareholders' approval in January. If approved, there will be 490,568 common shares outstanding. Directors also voted to increase the number of authorized shares from 500,000 to two million and to change the par value of stock from $5 to $2.50. A new name, Pacific American Services Corp., has been approved by the board subject to approval of shareholders.

PACIFIC INTERMOUNTAIN EXPRESS CO. directors have declared an extra dividend of 20 cents per share on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share. Both dividends are payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 12. PIE reported a 130-per cent increase in consolidated net income for nine months of 1968 against nine months in 1967.

FMC CORP., San Jose, a diversified manufacturer of industrial chemicals, and Leesona Corp., a manufacturer of winding and twisting machines have agreed upon a merger of Leesona into FMC.

Marinites Promoted By Macy's

Three Marin County men have received promotions at Macy's of California.

Named senior vice president for sales promotion is Arthur J. Corston, formerly sales promotion director of Shillito's Department Store in Cincinnati. He joined Macy's last month and he and his family now reside in San Rafael.

John J. Egan of Greenbrae, has been appointed senior vice president for real estate. He joined Macy's in 1946.

Appointed vice president of the men's store, luggage group, is Albert A. Artieres of San Rafael, who joined the California division of R. H. Macy and Co., Inc. in 1954.

Dividend Rise

NEW YORK (BW) — Directors of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, Inc., have raised the quarterly dividend to 25 cents a share from 20 cents and proposed a two-for-one split of the company's class A and B common stock of record Feb. 15.

Steels, Motors Up As Market Closes

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors and assorted blue chips were strong as the stock market closed today with a substantial gain.

Trading was active but not as heavy as in the preholiday session.

Gains of around a point were made by some of the top four steelmakers. Auto stocks were uniformly higher.

Prices near the close included:

Cerro Corp., up 2¾ at 51; Standard Oil of Indiana, up 2⅞ at 67½; U.S. Steel, up 1¾ at 42¾; Chrysler, up 1 at 61¾; Procter & Gamble, up 2⅞ at 97⅝; Teledyne, up 4 at 120¼; Pennzoil, up 4½ at 64; National Airlines, off 2 at 43; and American Smelting, up 4¼ at 93¼.

Strength in steels, aided by a price increase, and motors, with an improved sales report, were factors in the rise of the averages. Other blue chips rebounded from a drab performance amidst Wednesday's rising market.

The big boost in the cost-of-living index and an inflow of foreign investment money because of currency problems abroad were also cited as factors.

Cerro, opening late, leaped 3 points in response to plans for its acquisition by Standard Oil of Indiana which rose about 2½.

American Smelting gained another 5 points. Up 4 or better were Pennzoil, Teledyne and ling-Temco-Vought.

Standard Oil, Metal Firm Plan Merger

CHICAGO (BW) — Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) and Cerro Corp. have agreed to present to their boards of directors a proposal that Standard Oil acquire all the outstanding stock of Cerro.

Standard board chairman John E. Swearingen added that if the proposal is adopted Cerro will continue to function under its present management as a subsidiary of Standard Oil. Cerro is a primary producer of nonferrous metals which are marketed worldwide and a manufacturer of copper and copper alloy products sold primarily in the United States.

Swearingen pointed out that the proposal is Standard Oil's first major venture outside of the oil and petrochemical fields.

"The oil industry will supply the bulk of the world's energy needs for many decades to come," Swearingen said, "and oil and its products are and will continue to be our principal business."

General Brewing Sales, Profit Off

San Francisco (BW) — General Brewing Corp. net income for the six months period ended Oct. 31 was $199,898 or 20 cents a share, compared with $342,999, or 34 cents a share, for the same period a year ago, Peter N. T. Widdrington, president, has annoucned.

For the second quarter ended Oct. 31 the company reported a loss of $51,498, or 5 cents a share, compared with a profit of $199,119, or 20 centa a share, a year ago.

The second quarter loss resulted from a decline in gross sales to $13,205,491, compared with $16,503,046 in the corresponding period last year.

Western Air Lines Has October Losses

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Air Lines has reported a loss of $544,000, or 11 cents a share, for the month of October, compared to a profit of $104,000, or 2 cents a share, for the same period last year.

According to J. Judson Taylor, senior vice president and treasurer, the loss was primarily attributed to the present disappointing level of traffic and the continued pressure of inflationary cost increases.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Splits, Stock Dividends Pile Up For Employee

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. As a young worker for Economics Laboratory years ago I bought 50 shares at $10.60 each before the stock went public. I now own 792 shares from splits and stock dividends. We also have 62 American Telephone and 20 Long Island Lighting. My husband, by retiring soon, wants to switch Am. Telephone into more Econ Lab., but I would prefer to sell the latter gradually year by year — after our tax rates drop at age 65 — and buy good income stocks. What do you advise? — W. M.

A. I favor your gradual switching plan from Economics Laboratory into the best dividend payers then available. You will need income to supplement your husband's Social Security. I would also hold Am. Telephone and Long Island Lighting, not only for income but also for the growth anticipated in their respective industries.

Q. Now 50 years old, I am a semiskilled workman responsible for a disabled brother who draws small Social Security benefits. We own an old house in a changing neighborhood and these securities: 14 Alcoa debentures 5¼s of 1991; 100 Std. Oil of California; 100 Tri-Continental and 200 Belding Heminway. Can I make any changes likely to benefit my retirement plans? — M.S.

A. Try to sell your house as advantageously as possible and buy a smaller one — on which upkeep might be less — in an area where values are rising. You are to be commended for selecting a good list of securities which at the present time requires no change.

Belding Heminway, your most speculative holding, is evidencing renewed growth and should be retained for its maximum potential. While you continue to work you probably can afford to keep one situation with a low dividend return. If you come out ahead on your real estate deal, your profits can be reinvested in new growth opportunities presented through this column.

Spur Growth

DAVIS (UPI) — Plant growth regulators may increase grain production, University of California research shows. Milton D. Miller, U.C. agronomist, reports chemical sprays on plant foliage hiked wheat yields by as much as 28 per cent.

THE HOME OF HAPPY SECRETARIES

Just between us we can say that a good share of the ease and success with which we do business is due to our secretaries.

That is why the Kaehler-Farrar building has included so many things for their comfort . . . like perfect weather office temperature control, deep nap carpeting, etc. And then there's the exciting Executive Lounge for lunches or after hours relaxing. There's little doubt the happiest secretaries in Marin are working in the Kaehler-Farrar building—and where you find a happy secretary, you also find a happy boss and lots of happy clients.

Other advantages of the Kaehler-Farrar bldg. are:

- Our answering service
- Daily janitorial service (includes monthly window washing)
- All weather comfort air conditioning and heating
- Our staff to plan and prepare your office specifically to your needs.
- Reserved parking for you and staff.
- Central location—close to Marin business, government headquarters.
- Soft, soundproof corridor carpeting.
- Smooth, silent, speed-right elevators.
- Don Bernard's Executive Lounge Serving Lunch and Dinner.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Oceanic Properties Entering South Bay

Oceanic Properties, Inc., land development subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc. and developer of the 5,200-acre Sea Ranch on the Sonoma County coast, is acquiring the 50 per cent interest of its joint venture partner in the 11,000-acre Hamilton-San Jose property in southern Santa Clara County.

The acquisition will be through the exchange of an undisclosed number of Castle and Cooke common shares for the interest of investment companies headed by Harlan Gelderman, Bay Area developer.

Plans have been announced for the development of a complete "new town" on the Hamilton property, which surrounds Lake Anderson on three sides in the foothills of Mount Hamilton.

CROCKER-CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK shareholders have voted approval of acquiring the Bank of Sonoma County through an exchange of stock. Shareholders of the Sonoma bank also voted approval.

SUNSET HOUSE stockholders have approved the merger of this mail order firm with Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc. Sunset House stockholders will receive one share of a new Broadway-Hale convertible preferred stock for every two shares of Sunset House stock.

OCCIDENTAL PETROLEUM CORP. directors have doubled the annual dividend rate on the common stock from 40 cents per share to 80 cents per share. The regular quarterly dividend at the new increased rate of 20 cents per share is payable Jan. 14 to shareholders of record Dec. 10. Regular quarterly dividends have also been declared on convertible preferred stock. There have been four raises in Occidental's quarterly dividend rate in the last three years.

HOST INTERNATIONAL, INC. directors have increased the quarterly cash dividend to 7.5 cents per share, payable Dec. 31 to shareholders of record Dec. 15. The new annual dividend rate of 30 cents per share represents a 20 per cent increase over the prior annual rate of 25 cents per share, after giving effect to a 100 per cent stock dividend paid last month.

BERYLLIUM INTERNATIONAL, INC., Washington, D.C. stockholders will vote Wednesday on a proposed plan to merger into U.S. Beryllium Corp., Pueblo, Colo. The plan provides four shares of Beryllium International stock for one share of U.S. Beryllium. Beryllium International is a nonoperating mineral property holding company. U.S. Beryllium supplies beryllium ores and concentrates and would use Beryllium Interational's properties and assets to expand output.

PACIFIC OUTDOOR ADVERTISING CO., Los Angeles, directors have approved a two-for-one stock split subject to shareholders' approval in January. If approved, there will be 490,568 common shares outstanding. Directors also voted to increase the number of authorized shares from 500,000 to two million and to change the par value of stock from $5 to $2.50. A new name, Pacific American Services Corp., has been approved by the board subject to approval of shareholders.

PACIFIC INTERMOUNTAIN EXPRESS CO. directors have declared an extra dividend of 20 cents per share on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share. Both dividends are payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 12. PIE reported a 130-per cent increase in consolidated net income for nine months of 1968 against nine months in 1967.

FMC CORP., San Jose, a diversified manufacturer of industrial chemicals, and Leesona Corp., a manufacturer of winding and twisting machines have agreed upon a merger of Leesona into FMC.

Dividend Rise

NEW YORK (BW) — Directors of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, Inc., have raised the quarterly dividend to 25 cents a share from 20 cents and proposed a two-for-one split of the company's class A and B common stock of record Feb. 15.

Steels, Motors Up As Market Closes

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors and assorted blue chips were strong as the stock market closed today with a substantial gain.

Trading was active but not as heavy as in the preholiday session.

Gains of around a point were made by some of the top four steelmakers. Auto stocks were uniformly higher.

Cerro Corp., up 2¾ at 51; Standard Oil of Indiana, up 2⅞ at 67½; U.S. Steel, up 1¾ at 42¾; Chrysler, up 1 at 61¾; Procter & Gamble, up 2⅞ at 97⅝; Teledyne, up 4 at 120¼; Pennzoil, up 4½ at 64; National Airlines, off 2 at 43; and American Smelting, up 4¼ at 93¼.

Strength in steels, aided by a price increase, and motors, with an improved sales report, were factors in the rise of the averages. Other blue chips rebounded from a drab performance amidst Wednesday's rising market.

The big boost in the cost-of-living index and an inflow of foreign investment money because of currency problems abroad were also cited as factors.

Cerro, opening late, leaped 3 points in response to plans for its acquisition by Standard Oil of Indiana which rose about 2½.

American Smelting gained another 5 points. Up 4 or better were Pennzoil, Teledyne and ling-Temco-Vought.

Standard Oil, Metal Firm Plan Merger

CHICAGO (BW) — Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) and Cerro Corp. have agreed to present to their boards of directors a proposal that Standard Oil acquire all the outstanding stock of Cerro.

Standard board chairman John E. Swearingen added that if the proposal is adopted Cerro will continue to function under its present management as a subsidiary of Standard Oil. Cerro is a primary producer of nonferrous metals which are marketed worldwide and a manufacturer of copper and copper alloy products sold primarily in the United States.

Swearingen pointed out that the proposal is Standard Oil's first major venture outside of the oil and petrochemical fields.

"The oil industry will supply the bulk of the world's energy needs for many decades to come," Swearingen said, "and oil and its products are and will continue to be our principal business."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Splits, Stock Dividends Pile Up For Employee

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. As a young worker for Economics Laboratory years ago I bought 50 shares at $10.60 each before the stock went public. I now own 792 shares from splits and stock dividends. We also have 62 American Telephone and 20 Long Island Lighting. My husband, by retiring soon, wants to switch Am. Telephone into more Econ Lab., but I would prefer to sell the latter gradually year by year — after our tax rates drop at age 65 — and buy good income stocks. What do you advise? — W. M.

A. I favor your gradual switching plan from Economics Laboratory into the best dividend payers then available. You will need income to supplement your husband's Social Security. I would also hold Am. Telephone and Long Island Lighting, not only for income but also for the growth anticipated in their respective industries.

Q. Now 50 years old, I am a semiskilled workman responsible for a disabled brother who draws small Social Security benefits. We own an old house in a changing neighborhood and these securities: 14 Alcoa debentures 5¼s of 1991; 100 Std. Oil of California; 100 Tri-Continental and 200 Belding Heminway. Can I make any changes likely to benefit my retirement plans? — M.S.

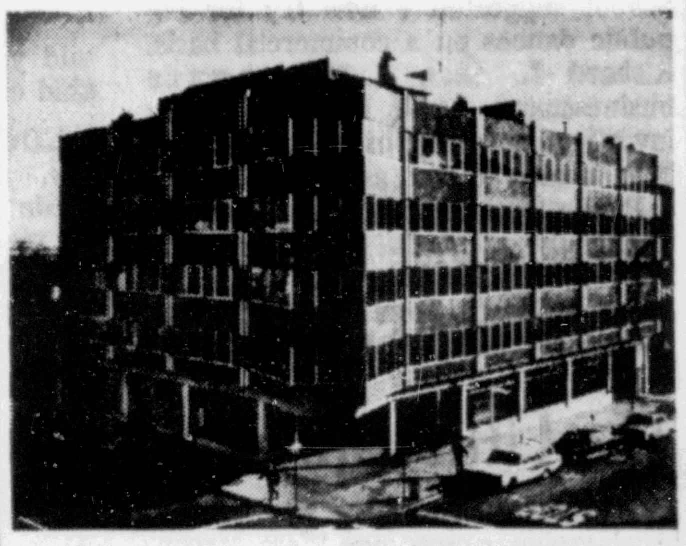
A. Try to sell your house as advantageously as possible and buy a smaller one — on which upkeep might be less — in an area where values are rising. You are to be commended for selecting a good list of securities which at the present time requires no change.

Belding Heminway, your most speculative holding, is evidencing renewed growth and should be retained for its maximum potential. While you continue to work you probably can afford to keep one situation with a low dividend return. If you come out ahead on your real estate deal, your profits can be reinvested in new growth opportunities presented through this column.

Spur Growth

DAVIS (UPI) — Plant growth regulators may increase grain production, University of California research shows. Milton D. Miller, U.C. agronomist, reports chemical sprays on plant foliage hiked wheat yields by as much as 28 per cent.

THE HOME OF HAPPY SECRETARIES



Just between us we can say that a good share of the ease and success with which we do business is due to our secretaries.

That is why the Kaehler-Farrar building has included so many things for their comfort . . . like perfect weather office temperature control, deep nap carpeting, etc. And then there's the exciting Executive Lounge for lunches or after hours relaxing. There's little doubt the happiest secretaries in Marin are working in the Kaehler-Farrar building—and where you find a happy secretary, you also find a happy boss and lots of happy clients.

Other advantages of the Kaehler-Farrar bldg. are:

- Our answering service
- Daily janitorial service (includes monthly window washing)
- All weather comfort air conditioning and heating
- Our staff to plan and prepare your office specifically to your needs.
- Reserved parking for you and staff.
- Central location — close to Marin business, government headquarters.
- Soft, soundproof corridor carpeting.
- Smooth, silent, speed-right elevators.
- Don Bernard's Executive Lounge Serving Lunch and Dinner.

General Brewing Sales, Profit Off

San Francisco (BW) — General Brewing Corp. net income for the six months period ended Oct. 31 was $199,898 or 20 cents a share, compared with $342,999, or 34 cents a share, for the same period a year ago, Peter N. T. Widdrington, president, has annoucned.

For the second quarter ended Oct. 31 the company reported a loss of $51,498, or 5 cents a share, compared with a profit of $199,119, or 20 centa a share, a year ago.

The second quarter loss resulted from a decline in gross sales to $13,205,491, compared with $16,503,046 in the corresponding period last year.

Western Air Lines Has October Losses

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Air Lines has reported a loss of $544,000, or 11 cents a share, for the month of October, compared to a profit of $104,000, or 2 cents a share, for the same period last year.

According to J. Judson Taylor, senior vice president and treasurer, the loss was primarily attributed to the present disappointing level of traffic and the continued pressure of inflationary cost increases.

One Recreation Need That's Easy To Fill

There are, of course, many recreational activities for youngsters in Marin. Most of the cities and a couple of parks and recreation districts conduct such programs. But none of these fills two needs voiced most frequently by the young people.

THESE NEEDS, as emphasized again this week before the county parks and recreation commission, are for public dances catering to adolescents, and for places to meet, drink coffee and soft drinks, and "just fool around."

The dance problem is not easy. All the high schools have dances, but quite reasonably restrict them to students only or to students and their partners. It is not incumbent on the schools to offer dances for other than their own students, and discipline problems are inherent in opening the dances to non-students.

AT TUESDAY night's meeting of the parks and recreation commission, Pete Valerio of Terra Linda High School suggested a new try for big public dances on a commercial basis. Richard L. Less, a Northgate businessman, said he had been investigating such possibility but had been unable to find a suitable hall.

Public teen dances have not proved financially successful in Marin. The most recent attempt was made by Richard Dennis Conn with a hall on Irwin Street in San Rafael. He ran into the usual complaints from neighbors, but they were not what stopped the operation. It just didn't make any money. The same has applied to other attempts in the past.

HOWEVER, THE SECOND need — that of a place for coffee, soft drinks, a juke box and "fooling around" — seems almost ridiculously easy to fill.

There is not a city in Marin that does not have vacant buildings that could easily and cheaply be converted to such use. And while the teens' maintenance of such headquarters might leave something to be desired, there would probably be less window breakage and other damage than when the buildings stand vacant.

Some of the "hangup"—to use the teens' own favorite word — seems to be a variation of the well-publicized generation gap. At Tuesday's meeting, Chet Williams of Sir Francis Drake High School described a joint effort by three church groups to start a coffee house in San Anselmo. They have not yet located a place, he said.

Some members of the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission who were present expressed surprise. It was the first they had heard of the project.

"We haven't gone to the city yet," said young Williams. "I guess we're kind of afraid of the city."

YOUTH NEEDN'T be afraid of the city. Owners of vacant buildings needn't be afraid of youth. The need for teen-agers' gathering places could be quite simply filled if officials, owners and teens would get together.

How about trying it?

The Little Gray Fox

Gray foxes inhabit the wooded and brush-grown country of West Marin, where they make their dens in hollow tree or in rock cavities. In the spring they have from three to five puppies.

Fox parents are devoted to their children and care for them with great solicitude and fierce bravery.

Marin's foxes live mostly on field mice, rabbits and other rodents, with a few crickets and beetles thrown in. However, foxes have a reputation for being chicken thieves. It is true that chickens are considered as tasty by most foxes as they are by most humans, but on a well-regulated farm the chickens are housed at night, and the fox turns its attentions elsewhere.

They are rather shy, but if one spends much time in West Marin and is aware of Nature's world, he is bound to meet the gray fox, later if not sooner.

Legislator Offers Simple Plan To Accomplish Electoral Reform

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Proposals for junking the electoral college, which technically names the President of the United States, are cropping up all over the country, as they do after every presidential election.

The matter always is one to be considered in view of the fact that many people would like to see the system dispensed with in favor of popular vote for president.

It has been pointed out previously that the electoral system maintains checks and balances against any one segment of the population gaining control of the election, although this system appears to be deteriorating in favor of areas of large population taking over such control.

This results in a situation wherein the rural areas and the smaller states eventually will have but little voice in the final naming of the nation's chief executive.

ANY MAJOR change in the present system would have to be accomplished through a constitutional amendment approved by two-thirds of the states. However, State Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, points out a change can be effected without an amendment to the United States Constitution, by action of the individual states, if the people so desire.

"Each state is allocated one electoral vote for each of its congressional districts, and two for its two seats in the U.S. Senate. Each state legislature may provide that the electors representing congressional districts, instead of being lumped together in one state-wide 'winner-take all' package, as they are now, be chosen separately for each district.

"Each district elector could then be required by law to cast his vote for the presidential candidate receiving the largest number of votes in the district. Only the two at large electors would then vote in accordance with the state-wide popular vote total.

"THIS DISTRICT system of choosing electors would reflect the actual popular vote for president much more accurately than the present system, and at the same time would be a safeguard against those politicians who have built national empires based on the solid support of big city bloc voters whose backing often is enough to carry the whole state."

Senator Schmitz says that with sufficient indications of support, he will introduce legislation to this effect in the 1969 session.

Richardson Bay Not Polluted

Your paper, on Nov. 13, in a report of the county supervisors' consideration of legislation to regulate houseboats, misquoted a statement I made, and thereby distorted it's sense. I hope you will publish this correction.

The report, by Mr. (Wat) Takeshita, reads:

Republicans In Congress Must Help Nixon Build His Bridge

WASHINGTON — There is a key to legislative success for President-elect Nixon in dealing with a Democratic Congress: a bridge of moderate Republicans to moderate Democrats over which moderate legislation can pass.

But it can't be taken for granted that the Republicans in Congress will make its building easy. Forces are already at work at two points to block this needed political bridge:

2—There is a tough fight going on between a moderate and an ultraconservative for the No. 2 job in the GOP Senate leadership.

But on the help-Nixon side, there are suggestions that Republican and Democratic moderates in Congress might be able to form a loose, floating coalition which, with some give and take on both sides, could help put through major Administration measures.

THE WORD from Arizona is that Goldwater is returing to his seat in the U.S. Senate determined to see that his brand of Republicanism becomes dominant. It is evident that the Republican who failed to win the presidency in 1964 feels that he reflects the views of more voters than the Republican who won the presidency in 1968.

My information is that Goldwater has been eagerly telling friends that when he gets back to Congress in January the 27 million Americans who voted for him for President will at last be effectively represented.

There is no validity to this claim. The pure Goldwater vote in 1964 was about 3 million — no more. They represent his special constituency. The basis for this statement is that the others who voted for Goldwater constitute the basic partisan Republican vote, nearly the same percentage of the total vote that went to Herbert Hoover in 1932 and to Thomas Dewey in 1948. Beyond this basic party vote Goldwater added three million of his own special supporters, just as Nixon added about seven million voters to rock-bottom Republicanism this year.

It might be better for the Republican Party to let Nixon as President represent his 31 million voters— and others — than for Goldwater to try to represent 27 million of them.

THE POINT is that unless the Republican leaders in Congress are willing to create both an image and an instrument to enable themselves to work flexibly and comfortably with the Democratically controlled Congress, it will be impossible for Nixon himself to do so.

This is one of the reasons why the choice of the assistant GOP Senate leader to replace Sen. Thomas Kuchel, a Republican moderate, is so important. Here, again, Goldwater is making it clear that he wants to install alongside conservative Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen an even more conservative assistant minority leader in the person of Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

The choice is between Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, an articulate leader with whom all shades of Democrats and Republicans can do business, and Hruska. The decision is whether to make the top party leadership in the Senate 50 per cent more conservative than it was all during the Dirksen-Kuchel years at the very time when Nixon, if he is to be able to work effectively with Congress, needs a more balanced party leadership.

RIGHT NOW it looks as though Scott has more support than Hruska and it will probably remain that way unless Dirksen and Goldwater decide to join forces against him.

Nixon will need a bridge to Democratic moderates in Congress and he can't build it all by himself. He will need the help of like-minded Republicans in the Senate and House.

Nixon Urged To Retain Helms As Chief Of CIA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President-elect Richard M. Nixon is being strongly urged to retain career-man Richard Helms as head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Helms, appointed by President Johnson in 1966, has been with CIA since the big spy agency was established in 1947. His retention would go far toward nailing down a precedent for non-political, career directors of Central Intelligence.

Some of the keep-Helms sentiment is being relayed to Nixon by Democratic lawmakers. They are stressing the desirability of career continuity in CIA. They contend that the top CIA job has never been treated as a patronage plum.

RICHARD HELMS
First career CIA chief

THEY ARE RIGHT that, by accident or by design, no President has ever made a purely partisan appointment of a CIA director. Three of the six CIA heads to date have, in fact, been military men, insulated by their profession from partisan politics.

An all-but-forgotten naval officer, Rear Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter, was the first director of Central Intelligence. He had been the head of a predecessor intelligence agency and was appointed by President Truman in 1947, when Congress established the CIA.

President Eisenhower appointed his World War II chief of staff, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to succeed Hillenkoetter in 1950. In 1953 Eisenhower appointed Allen W. Dulles as the first civilian director of Central Intelligence, succeeding Smith.

Dulles had an extensive intelligence background. He had been active in the study process which led to the creation of a civilian agency to coordinate all of the government's intelligence activities. President Kennedy, as one of his first appointments, announced that he was retaining Dulles.

IN 1961, after the ill-fated Bay of Pigs adventure, Democrat Kennedy named a Republican, John A. McCone, to succeed Dulles. McCone had been undersecretary of the Air Force and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission in the Eisenhower administration.

President Johnson named another military man, Adm. William F. Raborn, as McCone's successor in 1965. Helms was named as Raborn's deputy at that time. He was elevated to the top job when Raborn left it a year later.

A reporter in Europe before World War II, Helms became an intelligence officer during the war. He has been in military and civilian intelligence jobs ever since.

The law which created CIA bars appointment of military men to both of the CIA jobs. That requirement has been interpreted as requiring a civilian deputy for an officer director, and vice versa.

HELMS' performance as CIA chief and the performance of the agency under his direction is difficult to assess. No government operation in the world is under as steady a drumfire of criticism as CIA, but the agency gets generally high marks from the insiders who are familiar with the intelligence estimates which it produces.

Low-Quality Photo Called Disgrace

The photographer (?), Roger Bockrath, obviously esteems his professional reputation no higher than he does the young ladies whom the picture supposedly honors.

I trust you will demand that Mr. Bockrath make amends by his coverage of the close of the contest. This will take place Nov. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Marin City Baptist Church.

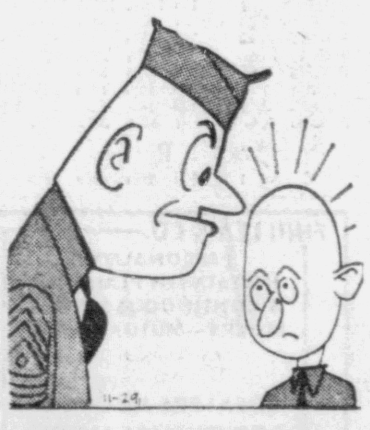
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A GRIZZLED old sergeant lined up a gaggle of new draftees to examine their haircuts. As he passed down the line, his comments ran from, "Barely passable" to "If you don't get a haircut by reveille tomorrow, I'll send you to the guardhouse." Finally he swaggered past one recruit who was bald as an eagle. Without breaking his stride he barked with just the hint of a chuckle, "Above and beyond the call of duty."

OVERHEARD:

Urchin explaining broken window to a cop: "I was cleaning my slingshot and it went off."



Ardent hunter: "I've hunted deer on numerous occasions, but they never seemed aware of it."

Republicans In Congress Must Help Nixon Build His Bridge

WASHINGTON — There is a key to legislative success for President-elect Nixon in dealing with a Democratic Congress: a bridge of moderate Republicans to moderate Democrats over which moderate legislation can pass.

But it can't be taken for granted that the Republicans in Congress will make its building easy. Forces are already at work at two points to block this needed political bridge:

2—There is a tough fight going on between a moderate and an ultraconservative for the No. 2 job in the GOP Senate leadership.

But on the help-Nixon side, there are suggestions that Republican and Democratic moderates in Congress might be able to form a loose, floating coalition which, with some give and take on both sides, could help put through major Administration measures.

THE WORD from Arizona is that Goldwater is returing to his seat in the U.S. Senate determined to see that his brand of Republicanism becomes dominant. It is evident that the Republican who failed to win the presidency in 1964 feels that he reflects the views of more voters than the Republican who won the presidency in 1968.

My information is that Goldwater has been eagerly telling friends that when he gets back to Congress in January the 27 million Americans who voted for him for President will at last be effectively represented.

There is no validity to this claim. The pure Goldwater vote in 1964 was about 3 million — no more. They represent his special constituency. The basis for this statement is that the others who voted for Goldwater constitute the basic partisan Republican vote, nearly the same percentage of the total vote that went to Herbert Hoover in 1932 and to Thomas Dewey in 1948. Beyond this basic party vote Goldwater added three million of his own special supporters, just as Nixon added about seven million voters to rock-bottom Republicanism this year.

It might be better for the Republican Party to let Nixon as President represent his 31 million voters— and others — than for Goldwater to try to represent 27 million of them.

THE POINT is that unless the Republican leaders in Congress are willing to create both an image and an instrument to enable themselves to work flexibly and comfortably with the Democratically controlled Congress, it will be impossible for Nixon himself to do so.

This is one of the reasons why the choice of the assistant GOP Senate leader to replace Sen. Thomas Kuchel, a Republican moderate, is so important. Here, again, Goldwater is making it clear that he wants to install alongside conservative Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen an even more conservative assistant minority leader in the person of Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

The choice is between Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, an articulate leader with whom all shades of Democrats and Republicans can do business, and Hruska. The decision is whether to make the top party leadership in the Senate 50 per cent more conservative than it was all during the Dirksen-Kuchel years at the very time when Nixon, if he is to be able to work effectively with Congress, needs a more balanced party leadership.

RIGHT NOW it looks as though Scott has more support than Hruska and it will probably remain that way unless Dirksen and Goldwater decide to join forces against him.

Nixon will need a bridge to Democratic moderates in Congress and he can't build it all by himself. He will need the help of like-minded Republicans in the Senate and House.

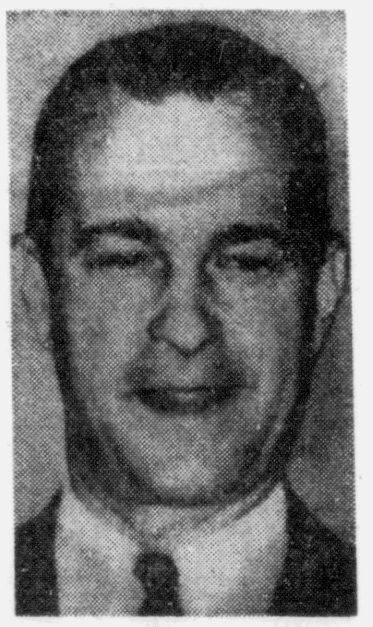
Nixon Urged To Retain Helms As Chief Of CIA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President-elect Richard M. Nixon is being strongly urged to retain career-man Richard Helms as head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Helms, appointed by President Johnson in 1966, has been with CIA since the big spy agency was established in 1947. His retention would go far toward nailing down a precedent for non-political, career directors of Central Intelligence.

Some of the keep-Helms sentiment is being relayed to Nixon by Democratic lawmakers. They are stressing the desirability of career continuity in CIA. They contend that the top CIA job has never been treated as a patronage plum.



RICHARD HELMS
First career CIA chief

THEY ARE RIGHT that, by accident or by design, no President has ever made a purely partisan appointment of a CIA director. Three of the six CIA heads to date have, in fact, been military men, insulated by their profession from partisan politics.

An all-but-forgotten naval officer, Rear Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter, was the first director of Central Intelligence. He had been the head of a predecessor intelligence agency and was appointed by President Truman in 1947, when Congress established the CIA.

President Eisenhower appointed his World War II chief of staff, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to succeed Hillenkoetter in 1950. In 1953 Eisenhower appointed Allen W. Dulles as the first civilian director of Central Intelligence, succeeding Smith.

Dulles had an extensive intelligence background. He had been active in the study process which led to the creation of a civilian agency to coordinate all of the government's intelligence activities. President Kennedy, as one of his first appointments, announced that he was retaining Dulles.

IN 1961, after the ill-fated Bay of Pigs adventure, Democrat Kennedy named a Republican, John A. McCone, to succeed Dulles. McCone had been undersecretary of the Air Force and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission in the Eisenhower administration.

President Johnson named another military man, Adm. William F. Raborn, as McCone's successor in 1965. Helms was named as Raborn's deputy at that time. He was elevated to the top job when Raborn left it a year later.

A reporter in Europe before World War II, Helms became an intelligence officer during the war. He has been in military and civilian intelligence jobs ever since.

The law which created CIA bars appointment of military men to both of the CIA jobs. That requirement has been interpreted as requiring a civilian deputy for an officer director, and vice versa.

HELMS' performance as CIA chief and the performance of the agency under his direction is difficult to assess. No government operation in the world is under as steady a drumfire of criticism as CIA, but the agency gets generally high marks from the insiders who are familiar with the intelligence estimates which it produces.

He Whose Call Is Turned Away Will Have To Call Another Day

One of the first things a reporter learns is not to rely on other people's telephone manners.

"He'll call you back" is the business equivalent of "you must look us up when you're in town," used to brush off fellow tourists at the end of a trip.

When a reporter is trying to reach someone for a story, he soon learns there are five basic replies which mean he'll have trouble reaching his man. There are infinite variations.

"HE ISN'T in the office yet, but I'll have him call you when he comes in." No self-respecting executive answers his phone calls immediately — that would show he has no more pressing business of his own.

"He's on another line right now, but I'll give him a note." The line he is on may be the one he's handing the new steno, but whatever it is, that note is going to get misplaced.

"He's stepped out of the office for a few minutes. Could I take a message?" That means he may not get back from his coffee break today.

"He's been expecting your call but he's just getting his notes together. Can I have him call you right back?" They never do.

"Well, he's in, but he's on the phone and there are 15 calls backed up and five people waiting to see him." This is the secretary's way of cutting down the work load. Anyone whose message isn't essential won't fight through the red tape.

NINETY PER CENT of the time, he man called won't return the call. After all, he gives first attention to his own business, as he should.

All the reporter can do is allow a decent interval and call again. And again and again. Eventually he will get through.

The only person who really is likely to call back is the man swamped with other calls and visitors. He needs the diversion.

History Of Marin's Fair Puts Present Situation In Perspective

Fusselman

It is becoming almost impossible to make any sort of pertinent comment on the Marin transit setup, while it is in such a mixed-up tangle. There has been nothing but stalling, oratory and/or attempts at political hay making for all of these long four years.

This same trademark of the brass out at Brasilia is now being applied to the fairgrounds situation. Suppose we take a look once again at the background.

TWENTY-TWO years ago, in 1946, under the direction of my friend Aaron Rucker, the now famous Marin Art and Garden Show began emerging as a delightful and unique annual affair, a fair that has been thoroughly enjoyed by thousands of Bay Area folks.

Two years later, in 1948, the board of supervisors, on advice of the State Board of Fairs, constituted itself as the Marin County Fair Commission and received an initial $6,000 of pari-mutuel money for conducting the first official county fair. This established it as a going concern and we then became eligible to receive $65,000 a year from that fund for every year we conducted a fair.

We, as a commission, contracted with the Marin Art and Garden group to run the show on their beautiful property. The second year we appropriated $15,000 of the $65,000 for the show and gradually this appropriation was increased to $40,000 or more annually. The county banked the remainder of the $65,000 grant each year in a special fund to be used at some time in the future for a permanent fairgrounds.

WE WERE REQUIRED to submit our trophy lists and programs to Sacramento for approval each year. Roy Brown, the publisher of the I-J, became tremendously interested and drove with the board each year to Sacramento along with Mrs. Norman Livermore, Leon de Lisle, the county auditor-controller and the then director of public works, together with the current fair manager to work out the details. Mike Mitchell, the present auditor-controller, was assigned to the project and has continued actively ever since.

The fund, with accumulated interest, became larger and larger as the years went on, until there was more than enough to purchase 85 acres of the present Civic Center site. The state later evolved a different method of allocation of funds, with the money being reserved in Sacramento to the credit of each county conducting a fair. This has resulted in an appropriation of $1,076,000 of pari-mutuel money toward the present Veterans Memorial building construction. This has been matched by $1,180,000 of the so-called veterans' fund and other local taxes, making a total of $2,256,000.

THE VETERANS' FUND was brought about by Jim Kehoe and myself promoting a nest egg for some type of memorial to be determined, by them, when World War II was over. Small amounts on the tax rate year by year developed into the fund that is being used now.

Next week I would like to comment on the present ball-up that has taken place out at Brasilia respecting the operation.

New System For Holiday Mail Delivery

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson said today he plans to deliver more Christmas mail this year with fewer workers by using a "command post" which will drag some postmasters from bed for 3 a.m. weather and mail load reports.

"We believe we have a plan that will allow us to move what is anticipated to be 10 billion pieces of mail from about Thanksgiving to Christmas day," Watson said in an interview.

PROBLEM AREAS

"We further believe that should there be problems in any given area or given post office, we'll be able to determine the problem, which will allow us some opportunity to transfer some of that mail away from that particular point" for sorting elsewhere.

Watson said the post office will never abandon its "mail early" Christmas campaign because it helps spread the holiday crush. But he said he was optimistic his new system would be cheaper and more efficient than that of past years.

"Last year, I understand, they employed something between 120,000 and 125,000 seasonal and part-time people for the Christmas rush of mail," Watson said. "This year we estimate we will not employ over 55,000.

"We believe that by using trained personnel and paying them some overtime, the economics will be better."

The "command post," down the hall from Watson's gymnasium-sized office, will field phone calls on precise schedules. Postal officials throughout the nation will report on everything from the weather to the length of noontime lines.

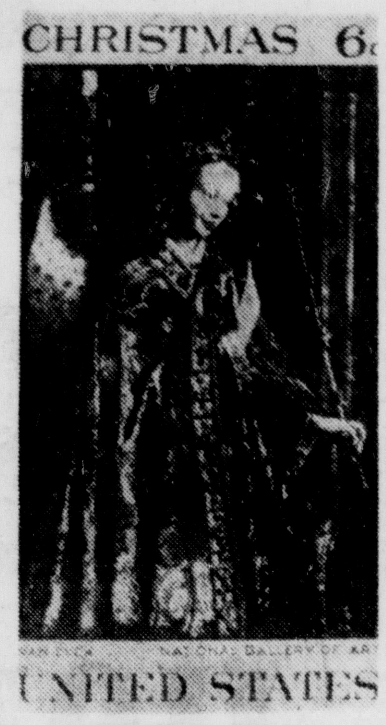
LBJ PRAISE

President Johnson once called Watson "the most efficient man I have ever known" and postal officials say the short, smiling Texan appears anxious to prove the point, although he moved from the White House staff to the postal department just last April and will lose his job Jan. 20 when Richard M. Nixon becomes president.

Watson will leave behind an efficiency plan for the sprawling postal system he claims would triple the speed of letter sorting and save enough money for a "favorable return on investment," a contention he hopes will catch the fancy of Congress and perhaps even Nixon.

The proposal, costing an estimated $500 million, would replace men with machines in the mail sorting operations of the nation's 300 largest post offices.

Christmas Stamp Protested By Jews



CHRISTMAS STAMP
Protest is filed

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Jewish Congress has protested that the 1968 Christmas stamp issued by the U.S. Post Office violates the First Amendment guarantee of the separation of church and state.

The 6-cent stamp shows a detail from "The Annunciation"—a work for the 15th-Century Flemish master, Jan van Eyck, depicting the Angel Gabriel telling the Virgin Mary she has been chosen to bear the infant Jesus.

The AJC said yesterday in a letter to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson that when Christmas stamps were first issued in 1962 they showed "relatively innocuous" designs such a holly wreaths.

But, the letter declared, the Van Eyck painting celebrates "the dogma of the Virgin birth" and charged: "This amounts to government support of specific religious ideas even when those ideas are antithetical to the religious beliefs of others."

The AJC said that by issuing such a stamp "the government seta a precedent for using its power and prestige to support the celebration of a religious holiday."

The painting is in the national Gallery of Art in Washington.

New York Now Facing An Electrical Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television musicians are playing again. Workers at state mental hospitals have returned to the wards, and Long Island Rail Road engineers are back on the track. A labor peace? Not yet—now utility workers are set to walk out.

New Yorkers, who have already weathered police and firemen slowdowns and teachers and sanitationmen's strikes in 1968, braced today for a Sunday walkout by 20,000 workers at the Consolidated Edison Co.

Charles F. Luce, Con Ed board chairman, told 9,000,000 customers yesterday to expect "less than normal service" if the walkout occurs and appealed to the public to limit electrical usage during peak demand hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Luce said 4,000 supervisors would attempt to provide "essential" gas and electrical service for an indefinite period. "We are confident we can operate the system," he said, but added, "It will be a challenge."

The workers, members of Local 1-2 of the AFL-CIO Utility Workers of America, surprised their leaders and Con Ed officials by rejecting a proposed two-year contract Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the commuting challenge for 90,000 daily riders on the Long Island Rail Road appeared ended. Line officials said they expected "full service" but warned of possible delays due to new timetables.

Wildcat strikes by trainmen and engineers snarled service for three days beginning Monday this week. Then holiday snafus caused the cancellation of 20 of 270 runs and delays on 70 more yesterday.

A spokesman attributed the new trouble to problems in getting the men and machinery matched up. "We just didn't get all the guys in the same place with all the equipment," he said.

The line now gets its first test of the new timetables—its first major schedule change in 20 years. The changes, which union members said would cost them overtime pay, were blamed for the walkouts.

Nonprofessional workers who struck four state mental hospitals, disrupting the lives of thousands of patients for more than a week, began returning to the wards yesterday.

State officials said they would begin early next week to effect the return of 4,942 patients who had to be transferred to other institutions.

One patient under state care for 56 years at Manhattan State Hospital declared it was "the best Thanksgiving dinner I ever had" after the workers got back in time to prepare the traditional meal.

Several workers at Bronx State Hospital were notified they were suspended pending a police investigation of alleged acts of violence during the strike.

The striking workers, members of Council 50 of the State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, voted to end the walkout Wednesday after Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller agreed to cease bargaining with the rival Civil Service Employees Association.

Act Passed To Stabilize German Mark

BONN (AP) — The West German Bundesrat, upper house, today unanimously passed an emergency law to ease the world's financial crisis and forestall revaluation of the German mark.

It provides for a 4 per cent tax on West German exports and a 4 per cent cut in import taxes. It goes into effect tomorrow.

Passage by the upper house was only a formality following the Bundestag's parliament approval last night.

Exempted from the export tax are all contracts signed before Nov. 23 and due to be completed before Dec. 23. There also are provisions for exporters to appeal to the Finance Ministry for exemption on contracts which will not be completed by Dec. 23.

President of Mill Valley Rotary Club is Dr. William H. Pemberton.

French Senate Backs Franc Austerity Plan

PARIS (AP) — The Senate today approved by 157 votes to 87 President Charles de Gaulle's austerity finance bill designed to stave off devaluation of the franc.

The bill was approved yesterday by the National Assembly.

The bill provides cuts in government spending, increased sales taxes, a reduction in the tax on exports and service rate increases. It has been estimated the measures will raise the cost of living in France 1.5 to 3 per cent.

Center leader Jacques Duhamel saw De Gaulle's defense of the franc as an effort to ease closer to President-elect Richard M. Nixon in a common monetary front against West Germany.

Duhamel, chairman of the small Modern Progress and Democracy party, told the French Geographic Society last night he belives De Gaulle is aiming for an international monetary meeting on the franc-mark parity dispute.

French officials believe the mark should be revalued upward, while the Germans say France should devalue the franc.

Duhamel said he was happy about a prospect of closer ties between France and the United States.

"But at the same time, I hope the construction of Europe will not be compromized," he said. Duhamel also expressed hope that old sentiments against Germany would not be aroused, despite his view that "the German power appears excessive" and "her monetary superiority has become evident."

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

There's something special about the playground and its equipment at the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School. All the slides, swings and climbing bars have been built by the fathers of the nursery school tots. There's even a treehouse with a fireman's pole for sliding. And the boys and girls enjoy their fun all the more because their playthings were built by the dads. The I-J Marin Magazine presents a pictorial feature on the playground tomorrow.

There are plans for a new library center at the College of Marin. But those facilities are scheduled for a 1972 completion. In the meantime, Calvin Kurzman, the college's library director, is hard at work with his staff providing the students and faculty with the best possible service from present facitities. A report on what Kurzman and his aides are doing, and some of the functions and problems of a community college library, will be spotlighted in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement.

The AJC said yesterday in a letter to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson that when Christmas stamps were first issued in 1962 they showed "relatively innocuous" designs such a holly wreaths.

But, the letter declared, the Van Eyck painting celebrates "the dogma of the Virgin birth" and charged: "This amounts to government support of specific religious ideas even when those ideas are antithetical to the religious beliefs of others."

The AJC said that by issuing such a stamp "the government seta a precedent for using its power and prestige to support the celebration of a religious holiday."

The painting is in the national Gallery of Art in Washington.

New York Now Facing An Electrical Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television musicians are playing again. Workers at state mental hospitals have returned to the wards, and Long Island Rail Road engineers are back on the track. A labor peace? Not yet—now utility workers are set to walk out.

New Yorkers, who have already weathered police and firemen slowdowns and teachers and sanitationmen's strikes in 1968, braced today for a Sunday walkout by 20,000 workers at the Consolidated Edison Co.

Charles F. Luce, Con Ed board chairman, told 9,000,000 customers yesterday to expect "less than normal service" if the walkout occurs and appealed to the public to limit electrical usage during peak demand hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Luce said 4,000 supervisors would attempt to provide "essential" gas and electrical service for an indefinite period. "We are confident we can operate the system," he said, but added, "It will be a challenge."

The workers, members of Local 1-2 of the AFL-CIO Utility Workers of America, surprised their leaders and Con Ed officials by rejecting a proposed two-year contract Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the commuting challenge for 90,000 daily riders on the Long Island Rail Road appeared ended. Line officials said they expected "full service" but warned of possible delays due to new timetables.

Wildcat strikes by trainmen and engineers snarled service for three days beginning Monday this week. Then holiday snafus caused the cancellation of 20 of 270 runs and delays on 70 more yesterday.

A spokesman attributed the new trouble to problems in getting the men and machinery matched up. "We just didn't get all the guys in the same place with all the equipment," he said.

The line now gets its first test of the new timetables—its first major schedule change in 20 years. The changes, which union members said would cost them overtime pay, were blamed for the walkouts.

Nonprofessional workers who struck four state mental hospitals, disrupting the lives of thousands of patients for more than a week, began returning to the wards yesterday.

State officials said they would begin early next week to effect the return of 4,942 patients who had to be transferred to other institutions.

One patient under state care for 56 years at Manhattan State Hospital declared it was "the best Thanksgiving dinner I ever had" after the workers got back in time to prepare the traditional meal.

Several workers at Bronx State Hospital were notified they were suspended pending a police investigation of alleged acts of violence during the strike.

The striking workers, members of Council 50 of the State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, voted to end the walkout Wednesday after Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller agreed to cease bargaining with the rival Civil Service Employees Association.

Act Passed To Stabilize German Mark

BONN (AP) — The West German Bundesrat, upper house, today unanimously passed an emergency law to ease the world's financial crisis and forestall revaluation of the German mark.

It provides for a 4 per cent tax on West German exports and a 4 per cent cut in import taxes. It goes into effect tomorrow.

Passage by the upper house was only a formality following the Bundestag's parliament approval last night.

Exempted from the export tax are all contracts signed before Nov. 23 and due to be completed before Dec. 23. There also are provisions for exporters to appeal to the Finance Ministry for exemption on contracts which will not be completed by Dec. 23.

President of Mill Valley Rotary Club is Dr. William H. Pemberton.

French Senate Backs Franc Austerity Plan

PARIS (AP) — The Senate today approved by 157 votes to 87 President Charles de Gaulle's austerity finance bill designed to stave off devaluation of the franc.

The bill was approved yesterday by the National Assembly.

The bill provides cuts in government spending, increased sales taxes, a reduction in the tax on exports and service rate increases. It has been estimated the measures will raise the cost of living in France 1.5 to 3 per cent.

Center leader Jacques Duhamel saw De Gaulle's defense of the franc as an effort to ease closer to President-elect Richard M. Nixon in a common monetary front against West Germany.

Duhamel, chairman of the small Modern Progress and Democracy party, told the French Geographic Society last night he belives De Gaulle is aiming for an international monetary meeting on the franc-mark parity dispute.

French officials believe the mark should be revalued upward, while the Germans say France should devalue the franc.

Duhamel said he was happy about a prospect of closer ties between France and the United States.

"But at the same time, I hope the construction of Europe will not be compromized," he said. Duhamel also expressed hope that old sentiments against Germany would not be aroused, despite his view that "the German power appears excessive" and "her monetary superiority has become evident."

Retired SAC Chief Has Mild Stroke

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, (AP) — Gen. Thomas Power, retired commander of the Strategic Air Command, was in satisfactory condition today at March Air Force Base Hospital recovering from a mild stroke.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

There's something special about the playground and its equipment at the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School. All the slides, swings and climbing bars have been built by the fathers of the nursery school tots. There's even a treehouse with a fireman's pole for sliding. And the boys and girls enjoy their fun all the more because their playthings were built by the dads. The I-J Marin Magazine presents a pictorial feature on the playground tomorrow.

There are plans for a new library center at the College of Marin. But those facilities are scheduled for a 1972 completion. In the meantime, Calvin Kurzman, the college's library director, is hard at work with his staff providing the students and faculty with the best possible service from present facitities. A report on what Kurzman and his aides are doing, and some of the functions and problems of a community college library, will be spotlighted in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement.

DAMP BUT BEAUTIFUL WEATHER

That evening overcast — with which the weather man seems so often this time of year to threaten the homeward bound commuter listening to his car radio — can be more than a gloomy dampener. It can have, as Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax demonstrates in this photo, a wistful beauty all its own. Seen from the west shore of Belvedere, the waning sun glimmers faintly beyond Richardson Bay, beyond the western hills, beyond Marin itself. A trio of birds silhouetted against the grey sky. A random shaft of sunlight makes a bull's eye of a house window on a Sausalito hilltop.

Hayakawa To Bare Decision Tomorrow

College's Vice President Resigns To Clear Decks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — New acting president S. I. Hayakawa of embattled San Francisco State College is expected to announce a major decision tomorrow. Regardless of what it is, a violent reaction is anticipated.

If the famed semanticist orders the 18,000-student campus reopened Monday, radical blacks and whites are expected to intensify a general strike which has resulted in violence and virtually idled the campus for the past three weeks.

Dr. DeVere Pentony announced today his resignation as deputy president of the troubled state college.

He said he acted so new acting president Hayakawa "should be free to choose his own administrative staff."

STAYS AS DEAN

If Hayakawa postpones the opening, he is sure to draw the ire of the State College Board of Trustees, which appointed him Tuesday after accepting the resignation of President Robert Smith.

Smith was criticized by the trustees and State College Chancellor Glenn Dumke and Gov. Ronald Reagan for closing the campus after a brief melee between militant students and city police.

Hayakawa was scheduled to spend most of today at San Francisco State in closed sessions with attorneys to discuss Wednesday's order by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court that Hayakawa open the campus Monday or appear before him to explain why the campus should remain closed.

The order was the result of a suit filed Wednesday by John Frederick Craemer of Greenbrae on behalf of himself and other students at the strike-bound college. See also page 23.)

Hayakawa was also scheduled to meet with Mayor Joseph Alioto today and to confer with deans and department heads in preparation for tomorrow's scheduled announcement of plans for reopening the campus.

The remainder of the day Hayakawa said he will spend writing a speech for tomorrow's 11 a.m. press conference at the Lake Merced campus.

STRIKE'S CAUSE

The student strike was called by the Black Students Union following the suspension of Black Panther George Murray as a parttime English instructor for urging minorities to carry guns on campus as protection against "racist administrators."

The BSU and another minority group, the Third World Liberation Front, has since made 15 demands designed to give minorities on campus a far greater share in determining the shape of their own educations. They describe the demands as "non-negotiable."

GUARD NEEDED?

Faculty members, some of whom have supported the student strike, fear that regardless of what Hayakawa's decision may be, the presence of police —and possibly National Guardsmen—is inevitable.

But radical students claim it will take more than a token force of National Guardsmen to keep the campus buildings open.

"They'll need a soldier every five feet in the corridor," said one.

Viet Cong Ready Terrorism Sweep

HONG KONG (AP) — The Viet Cong today ordered a new guerrilla and terrorist offensive against American and South Vietnamese units and officials.

Issued in the name of the military high command of the Viet Cong's liberation armed forces, the order was beamed to South Vietnam by Radio Hanoi and monitored in Hong Kong.

It called for a guerrilla and terrorist campaign to "seek out, eliminate, and utterly destroy":

American - South Vietnamese pacification teams working in rural farm and village areas in an attempt to win peasants and villagers over to the Saigon government.

American and combined American - South Vietnamese search-and-destroy units which it said were moving deeper afield and "destroying our villages and occuping our areas."

The order was addressed to the Viet Cong's regular troops, guerrilla units, and "semi-armed" units. The latter are underground units that function as farmers by day and fight by night.

"The military high command," the order declared, "calls upon all the units of the main forces army, the regional army, the guerrilla forces, and the semiarmed units to make certain that the above orders are strictly obeyed in order to obtain greater and more glorious victories for our people."

The command promised to "reward those units and individuals who make outstanding achievements in carrying out these orders."

The command also ordered its military and civilian infiltration

U.N. Doors Closed To Keep Out Students

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. guards temporarily closed the public gates and stood armed with clubs today to block several thousand protesting New York high school pupils from entering U.N. headquarters.

The pupils had been milling about in the area for several hours, protesting the decision by school authorities to keep schools open the day after Thanksgiving. Holiday time off has been curtailed in order to make up ground lost in the recent teachers' strike.

B52s Pound Corridors Into Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—In their heaviest raids around Saigon in a month, U.S. B52s dropped at least a million pounds of bombs yesterday and today onto Communist infiltration corridors toward the capital, most of them from Cambodia.

A semiofficial Cambodian news magazine meantime confirmed that allied commanders have been saying for months—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers are bivouacked in Cambodia, free from American bombs and troops.

The disclosure in the Nov. 22 issue of Realites Cambodiennes said six North Vietnamese soldiers had been captured in Cambodia and were turned over to the Viet Cong emissary in Phnom Penh, the capital.

Ten formations of three to 12 B52s pounded Communist nests around Saigon where allied soldiers listed 511 guerrillas slain since Monday, U.S. headquarters said.

Five of the raids centered in Bien Hoa and Long Binh provinces north of the capital, home of a major U.S. Air Force base and headquarters for the U.S. Army in Vietnam. The other strikes ranged along the Cambodian frontier northwest of Saigon and the Mekong Delta to the Southeast.

U.S. military intelligence pinpointed at least 30,000 Communist soldiers gathered on the Cambodian border last month and sent the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division to help break

Hanoi Charges U.S. Of Bomb Violations

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam charged today the United States carried out new bombing attacks deep in its territory yesterday and demanded an end of what it said "were acts of war."

American comment on the North Vietnamese charge was not immediately available.

Reports from Saigon have carried no mention of bombing attacks north of the demilitariztd Zone dividing North and South Vietnam.

A spokesman for Hanoi's delegation at the Paris peace talks asserted the American bombings had occurred for the third straight day yesterday.

"The United States' acts of war are in violation of national sovereignty and security of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam," he said.

The spokesman charged that three F4 jets of the U.S. Air Force dropped explosives and fragmentation bombs on four villages and hamlets in the Province of Quang Binh. One of the villages attacked, he said, is more than 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

The United States has claimed the right to send planes, under armed escort, over North Vietnam for reconnaissance. It also has warned the North Vietnamese that U.S. authorities will not hesitate to defend Americans imperiled by hostile actions or to go to the rescue of the crews of downed aircraft.

Regardless of that dispute, the spokesman asserted the Americans attecked yesterday and the action was in no way connected with rescue operations.

"We protest against these acts of war, and we demand that they be stopped," the spokesman said in a statement issued by the North Vietnamese delegation to the Peace talks.

Meanwhile the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front issued a statement saying: "If the United States wants to settle the South Vietnamese problem by peaceful means, it should start conversations with the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam ... The puppet administration of Saigon, which is only an instrument in the service of American aggression, represents nobody."

The Front reiterated its stand that it had agreed to take part

Middle East Mission Set For Scranton

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon announced today he will send former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton on a nine-day fact-finding mission next week to Israel and five other Middle East nations.

The announcement was made through spokesman Ron Ziegler, who said Scranton would leave New York Monday and would meet with chiefs of state, heads of government and top officials in Iran, Lebanon, the United Arab Republic, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Israel.

Through diplomatic channels, Nixon wired heads of all the governments involved asking them to receive Scranton "and give him a full and frank exposition of your views of the situation in your country and the region as a whole."

Ziegler said the Scranton mission "will be reportorial in nature" and that the former governor would report promptly to Nixon upon returning to New York Dec. 11.

In his wire to government leaders, Nixon said the trip was being made "in preparation for my administration."

Inasmuch as Scranton made a similar journey to Western Europe at Nixon's behalf during the presidential campaign, the new assignment strengthened speculation that Scranton might eventually emerge as Nixon's secretary of state or ambassador to the United Nations—jobs the Pennsylvanian has said he does not want.

Location Of Cleaver Still Remains Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The whereabouts of Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, sought for three days as a parole violator, remained a mystery today to law enforcement agencies.

Cleaver, 33, was shadowed by plainclothesmen off and on for months while he was free pending appeals on an order which would return him to prison.

But he failed to surrender Wednesday as ordered, and has been listed as a fugitive by the California Adult Authority since that time.

Cleaver was paroled from prison in 1966, after serving nine years of a 13-year sentence for assault and rape. He detailed the crimes in a best selling book, "Soul on Ice."

His parole was canceled last April when Cleaver was wounded and a 17-year-old Black Panther was killed in a gun battle with Oakland police. The latest of a series of appeals, grounds the parole was revoked because of his political beliefs, was denied Tuesday by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Black Panther minister of information also faces trial on assault charges, from which he is free on bail, in connection with the Oakland shootout.

Authorities said Cleaver was not at the house here where he lived with his wife, Kathleen. But the house contained armor plate and several shotgun-bearings Black Panthers, who said they were protecting Mrs. Cleaver.

Cleaver was quoted as saying, "I'd rather be shot down in the street" than go back to San Quentin prison.

A Stockholm newspaper said he may be trying to seek asylum in Sweden as "a political refugee." Other speculation has placed him in Canada, New York and Cuba.

Freezing Weather Hits Nothern Italy

BRESCIA, Italy (AP) — Freezing weather and fog covered northern Italy yesterday and helped trigger a 100-car chain collision on the Bergamo-Brescia highway that killed three persons and injured 20 others.

Visbility was limited to a few yards when the collisions started between the towns of Grumello and Seriate. Police closed the highway to avert more pileups.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Youth Alive?

BERLIN (AP) — A youth who was believed killed when two mines exploded near the Berlin Wall Monday is alive and cared for in an East German hospital, the official Communist news agency ADN claimed yesterday.

Bavarian police had said the youth screamed, "I have no more legs," after two mines exploded. They assumed he was an East German fleeing to the West and said the East Germans left him to bleed to death.

ADN said the youth, identified as Guenther Oppermann, 16, was a West German. It denied reports that the youth had been allowed to bleed to death, saying he was "immediately given first aid by border troops."

Second Wave

SEOUL (AP) — A second group of North Korean commandos is believed to have slipped ashore on South Korea's eastern coast, following 60 guerrillas who landed there Nov. 2 military sources said today.

Of the 60 who landed first, 54 have been killed and five captured.

Evidence found in sweeping operations indicates more Communist infiltrators might have sneaked into the mountainous coastal area south of here the sources said.

South Korean military officials said the manhunt along the Eastern coast would continue "for some time on this assumption."

Salazar On Mend

LISBON (UPI)—Former Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar could be released from a hospital where he has been recovering from a nassive stroke in from two to three weeks, hospital sources said yesterday.

The Staten Island ferry service began in 1713.

A Rare Wine

LONDON (AP) Seven half bottles of Tokay Essence, a rare wine supposed to revive the dying, sold at auction yesterday for $204 each. All went to an anonymous buyer.

One of the sellers was Dennis Wheatley, writer of thrillers, who acquired his two bottles, vintage 1868 and 1906, from the cellars of the King of Saxony before World War I.

The wine is sweet and greenish in color. It was made in a small region of Hungary from grapes dried in the sun.

Michael Broadbent, wine expert at Christies Auctioners, said: "It's said that the life of one of the popes was prolonged for six weeks by small doses sent by the Emperor Franz Joseph. I don't know if it is still being made."

Prince Threat

CAERNARVON, Wales (AP) — Police are investigating a threat to kill Prince Charles, whose July 1 investiture ceremony as Prince of Wales in ancient Caernarvon Castle has been threatened with sabotage by home rule extremists.

Queen Elizabeth II asked the Home Office last summer to provide a security guard for the 20-year-old prince. It is said to be stronger than Secret Service protection for a U.S. president.

Scotland Yard has assigned a special detective force to investigate the risks to Charles in the investiture ceremony and at the University of Aberystwyth, where he will take a crash course in the Welsh language and Welsh affairs next April.

Twins Separated

TOKYO (AP) —Twin 13-day-old sisters joined at the abdomen and the heart area were successfully separated yesterday in Hanoi, the Vietnam News Agency reported today.

The operation was conducted at the Vietnamese-German Friendship Hospital by two s..gical teams directed by Prof. Ton That Tung, ADN said.

One of the Siamese twins was doing well seven hours after the operation, the agency reported. "But the other, whose cyanosis had worsened and required urgent operation, is in less satisfactory condition," it said.

Cyanosis is caused by insufficient oxygen which turns the skin a bluish color.

Water Tank Collapse Kills Three Workmen

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Three workmen were killed today when a huge water tank collapsed at a 10-story building under construction in downtown Buenos Aires.

The 40,000-gallon tank, being installed, fell to street level and tore loose huge chunks of the building as it fell. Several nearby buildings and two cars were damaged, but none of their occupants was injured.

Harvest End Does Not Ease Strike

DELANO (AP) — The grape harvest ended in California but there has been no slackening of activity in the labor dispute that has plagued the rich vineyards of the San Joaquin Valley for four years.

Cesar Chavez' AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee is continuing its boycott of California table grapes. The growers, on the other hand, are girding for the next round of the struggle that will begin with the 1969 harvest.

The committee announced last week plans to step up boycott activity in an effort to cut into holiday sales of stores that have refused to take grapes from the shelves.

MORE PICKETS

Union officials say plans call for establishment of informational picket lines around stores as well as appeals to members of other unions not to buy grapes.

The boycott, which developed political overtones during this election year—it was supported by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and opposed by President-elect Richard M. Nixon—is an outgrowth of "la huelga," Spanish for the strike.

Technically, no strike exists; members of the committee merely are refusing to accept jobs. Nonunion workers harvested this year's crop.

DISPUTE GROWS

For four years, however, the dispute has grown steadily more bitter, reaching a peak early this year when the boycott was established.

The key word in the dispute is table. Wine and raisin grapes are not involved — the union has signed contracts with a number of vintners and raisin producers. No table grape grower has signed.

On one side of the issue are the growers, whose lands lie among fields producing 37 per cent of the fruits and vegetables sold in the United States.

On the other are Mexican-Americans who bring in the harvest, traveling from one spread to another in season. When the harvest is done, so is their job —until the next time.

Chavez insists that these laborers come under the National Labor Relations Act. He contends that growers exploit the farm workers, paying low wages, providing poor housing.

Youth Braves A Snowstorm For Help In Crash Of Plane

EUREKA, Utah (AP) — As his parents and sister lay pinned in the wreckage of their airplane Thanksgiving eve, 15-year-old William Rigby set off into a snowstorm to find help.

"My dad was pinned underneath the instrument panel," William, the son of Beverly Hills, heart Surgeon Dr. Elmer C. Rigby Jr., said yesterday, "My sister was caught beneath two chairs. Mom was trapped beneath the wreckage. I knew I had to get some help."

He freed himself from the wreckage of the twin-engine plane and started walking—in the wrong direction.

Then he spotted headlights on U.S. 50-6 and turned toward the road. He had walked about four miles over snow-covered ground.

An unidentified Nevada motorist stopped, picked up the boy, carefully marked his mileage, drove 10 miles north to Eureka and led rescuers directly to the spot where he picked up the youth, said Sheriff A. Duane Sperry.

"It was good thing, too, because I think those people would have frozen to death if we'd had to search for the plane," Sperry said.

Officers followed the boy's tracks back to the wreckage.

"The plane appeared to have come down hard, rolled on its side and finally came to rest on its top. It was literally torn apart by the impact," the sheriff said.

His 53-year-old father was in poor condition today at University Hospital in Salt Lake City. The prominent physician, one of the first to perform open heart surgery in the Los Angeles area, suffered chest injuries, broken legs, back and head injuries. Nikola Rigby, 16, was in satisfactory condition with a broken leg.

The boy was staying with relatives in Provo.

Another daughter, Judith, 21, would have been on the flight from Van Nuys airport to Salt Lake, to spend Thanksgiving with Dr. Rigby's parents, but she missed a connection in traveling from Berkeley to Beverly Hills. She attends the University of California.

William told officers the flight began in good weather. But snow and fog closed in and the plane began icing up.

"Dad decided to circle for a few minutes. Then he said he was going to make an emergency landing," William told Sheriff Sperry.

Sperry said the doctor apparently mistook a plowed field for a road about a mile west of U.S. 50-6. The plane touched down, hit a depression and flipped over.

Families Flee Gaseous Eruptions In Michigan

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP) — Natural gas cracked through the ground, sending thunderous rumblings through Marshall, hurling water 20 feet into the air and forcing about 15 families to flee from their homes in a half-mile-square area early Thanksgiving Day.

Red tags were hung on the homes to show that they were dangerous and the families would not be permitted to return. Authorities said they did not know when the tags would be removed.

The source of the highly volatile gas was unknown but geologists said it almost certainly came from underground pockets. Gas company workers said they could find no leaks in any lines.

Water pressure in wells rose sharply. Swampland bubbled. A 20-foot section of paved street was torn up as a geyser of gaseous water erupted from the middle of the rubble.

"It looks iike Yellowstone Park down there," said geologist James Woodruff of the State Conservation Department, of the Kalamazoo River bank, were most of the gas appeared to be escaping.

The level of the river dropped roughly seven feet in the area about the same time that an explosion ripped through the house of Raymond Kulzick and his family, who were away on a visit. Damage to the house was estimated to be $25,000.

It was the second time in a month that mysterious underground gas pressure built up in Lower Michigan. Earlier, a seven-mile square area at Lee Township about 12 miles away in south central Michigan, was punctuated by the gas-and-water geysers.

"People are wondering where it is going to stop," said Mrs. George P. Bonnell, one of those forced to flee. "We're all kind of scared at the moment. We don't know if we want to live there."

Synagogues To Receive Torahs

NEW YORK (AP) — Four synagogues which have been targets in a recent series of religious desecrations are each going to receive a priceless torah from the Israeli government.

Saying "if a scroll is damaged we are in mourning," Rehaveam Amir, the Israeli consul general, explained that the ancient documents of the Hebrew scribes would help replace religious articles damaged in several synagogue fires.

Eleven Jewish houses of worship have been desecrated during the last three months. Ten persons, including seven teen-agers, have been arrested in connection with the incidents.

New Jersey Jail Inmates Lock Up Guards, Escape

LAKELAND, N. J. (AP) — Six prisoners described as possibly dangerous overpowered two guards early today and escaped from the Camden County Prison Annex.

Authorities said the guards, Charles Mellon and Eugene Evans, were handcuffed inside the medium security cellblock. They were reported not seriously hurt.

Warden Charles Galasso said one of the prisoners who had been ill feigned sickness and Mellon brought him some prescription medicine. Mellon was overpowered and the noise attracted the second guard, Evans, who also was subdued.

The escape was reported when another inmate heard the shouts of one of the imprisoned guards. The inmate called a Lakeland operator on an emergency telephone, Galasso said. A Lakeland police officer, responding to the call, found the locked up guards, he said.

Galasso said the six escapees "may be dangerous."

He gave their names as Jay Carpenter, 23, of Williamstown, N. J., Charles Long, 30, Camden, Francis Mahon, 24, Philadelphia, Mearle Miller, 20, Camden, Alvin Parker, 24, Albion, N. J., and Stanley Roberts, 20, Camden.

Miller had been convicted on a charge of receiving stolen property, Galasso said, and Carpenter was awaiting grand jury action on an extortion charge.

He said the other four were awaiting trial-Roberts and Mahon on charges of braking and entering, Long on a larceny charge and Parker "on several criminal charges."

The prison annex, located 14 miles southeast of Camden, is mainly a minimum security institution. Inmates serve on work details at various county institutions in the area. Those who escaped were among the few confined to medium security, authorities said.

Testing the allied defense screen Wednesday and yesterday, the Reds clashed seven times with allied troops. Military spokesmen reported at least 317 Communists slain against 16 Americans dead, 37 wounded and light outh Vietnamese casualties.

The 10 B52 strikes followed up the battles, hitting guerrilla troops, supplies and hideouts 28 to 55 miles from the capital and rattling windows in the city.

In Saigon, the semiofficial Vietnam Press Agency said today the guerrillas may be planning to use a Communist Chinese poison against U.S. and government soldiers. There was no report they had tried it yet.

Military spokesmen acknowledged that ground fire was responsible for the losses of three American warplanes, two of them reconnaissance jets, over North Vietnam last Friday and Monday. Their six crewmen are missing in action.

In all but one of the seven battles near the Cambodian frontier Wednesday and yesterday, allied troops turned back the Communists.

The one exception occurred 52 miles northwest of Saigon where the Communists shot down two U.S. helicopters, killed 15 Americans and wounded 19 while leaving behind one of their own dead, American spokesmen said.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam warned two days ago that the Communists, most of them North Vietnamese regulars, were regrouping in the Cambodian border area for an all-out offensive this winter. He said there would be hard fighting ahead.

Vietnam Press identified the new guerrilla poison as chloropenjylmalonotitirle, a product of Communist Chinese laboratories. It said the poison causes blurred vision, dizziness, stomach cramps, then death.

"The poison was tried on a dog by the Communists at Cai Tac village, which died a short time after having drunk water mixed with this poison," the agency said.

units to gain more success in "the campaign of action inside the enemy's army and inside the enemy's administration."

The infiltrators must secure more surrenders of troops and weapons, more military defectors, and more administrative defectors, the order said, adding: "eliminate those who are stubborn and those who stand in the way."

The command said the new campaign was necessary "because the enemies, although in their death struggle agony against their ultimate defeat, are murdering and massacring our people and our forces, kidnaping our compatriots, moving into our villages to control our areas, and trying to revive their so-called pacification program in order to hoodwink our people,"

Wine Binge, Vandalism Jail Teeners

Four Oakland teen-agers were arrested in Larkspur early today after they reportedly tore up the turf in three city baseball parks while on a wine-drinking binge.

Thomas Joseph Harvath Racz, 18, was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of malicious mischief, possession of wine by a minor and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

A 17-year-old boy and two 14-year-old girls were booked at Juvenile Hall for investigation of the first two charges, according to Police Chief Howard Clark.

Clark said the teens were found with their car mired in the mud in the southeast corner of Piper Park. They got there by crossing the Henry C. Hall School, Bundy and Piper Park baseball fields, Clark said.

The teens told police they purchased the wine in Sausalito.

Racz was freed on $1,005 bail and is to appear in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Quiet Ranch Day For President

There were no special announcements from the Texas White House and press secretary George Christian said a relatively quiet day was expected.

Johnson had received a "pouch or two of materials" of normal work items and got busy on them in his ranch office, Christian reported.

Trouble Stalls Liner's Test

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — The Queen Elizabeth II, Britain's newest ocean liner, was forced to cut short speed trials today because of machinery trouble.

The 65,000-ton luxury ship, which made her first run under her own power 10 days ago, asked tugboats to stand by as a precautionary measure, but they were not needed.

John Rannie, managing director of Upper Clyde Shipbuilders which built the ship, said: "We found certain minor defects in the machinery installation."

Two Injured As Car Overturns

A San Francisco woman and her daughter were injured Wednesday afternoon when their car overturned on Highway 101 north of San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Norma G. Boyd, 32, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a broken right wrist and her daughter, Marilyn A. Boyd, 6, was admitted for observation of a head injury. The girl was to be released today.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Boyd was driving north at 3:55 p.m. when her car swerved right, then left, then overturned in the center divider strip near the Lucas Valley overcrossing.

TALKS

in the Paris talks as an independent party, on equal footing with other parties.

The South Vietnamese government, meanwhile, was reported preparing a peace plan to be submitted to the expanded talks when they get under way.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the major priority in his government's plan would be an early cease-fire.

Nguyen Van An, the deputy chief of Saigon's observer mission here, said South Vietnam also will demand "strong and effective international guarantees" in any final settlement.

The North Vietnamese and the NFL have said a cease-fire is unlikely to be discussed until later in the negotiating process. They have said such discussion must be preceded by the withdrawal of American and other foreign troops from South Vietnam.

Van An spoke in an interview as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. delegation, prepared to head home Sunday for a brief Washington visit.

Aides said Harriman plans to carry out duties he has as head of a commission on human rights. He is expected to return to Paris next Thursday or Friday.

Vietnam consultations were not listed as the main reason for his return, but Harriman was expected to confer with Pentagon officials on the fourthcoming conference in which Saigon will participate.

The expanded parley now is expected to get going in the second week in Demcember. The Saigon delegation, whose absence held up the meeting for a month, is due in Paris next week.

Mexican Campus Operates Again

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Most of the 94,000 students in Mexico's National University system returned to class yesterday, but some students and teachers asked for police protection.

This followed a renewal of violence Wednesday when a student who was part of a minority group that wants to continue the strike was shot through the head.

Police said the group of between 100 and 200 students were armed with a submachine gun, several pistols and a quantity of sticks and chains.

Newark Under Emergency Law

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio declared Newark in a "state of emergency" today because of a sick-call strike by hundreds of policemen and firemen.

The mayor clamped a midnight to 6 a.m. curfew on the city and ordered suspension of all liquor sales.

Addonizio also asked Gov. Richard J. Hughes for state aid, but the governor told him there was no way within the law he could send in state police or National Guardsmen unless there was a "civil emergency or insurrection."

Tip Nabs Suspect On Marijuana

After an unknown neighbor called Novato police to report that three young men were smoking marijuana in Pioneer Memorial Park, police found one of them with a dagger in his boot and a plastic bag containing a substance thought to be marijuana.

Released from Marin County Jail on $625 bail on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana was Rodney John Arnold, 18, of 576 Fernando Drive, Novato. He is scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that when they approached the three youths, Arnold challenged them to put him through a drunk test. When Arnold stood on one foot with the other in front of him, police found a dagger in his boot. He was arrested and searched later at the police station where the substance thought to be marijuana was found.

His two companions were not held, according to police.

Novato Woman's Wallet Looted

A wallet taken from a Novato woman at one grocery store Wednesday turned up in the parking lot of another grocery store about three hours later, minus $135 in cash, Novato police reported today.

Mrs. Ethel A. Chillson, 60, of 1695 Indian Valley Road, last used her wallet when shopping at the D and L Market at 850 Grant Avenue about 4 p.m., according to police, who surmised that someone took it out of her open purse as she left the store.

The wallet was found, minus the money, by an unidentified man at 7:25 p.m. the same day in the parking lot at the 7-11 market at 815 Diablo Avenue, and turned over to the clerk, Mrs. Muriel M. Falco, according to police.

Prowler Flees Kentfield Home

There were two startled people when Mrs. Maxine R. Handley opened the front door of her house at 5 Inman Avenue, Kentfield, at 12:40 a.m. today.

The first was Mrs. Handley, who found herself face to face with a strange man, standing in the hallway, said sheriff's officers.

Mrs. Handley said she could not describe him.

Dockworkers Return To Jobs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nearly 2,000 dockworkers returned to work in the harbor today and shipowners called for more to catch up on unloading after a 10-day stoppage because of a rat dispute.

"We've got 44 vessels in port and they're unloading 25 ships," said John MacEvoy, manager of Pacific Maritime Association. "The other 19 are idle for lack of manpower.

"Men will work nights and weekends in an effort to catch up on the backlog."

OBITUARIES

Shirley Lee Sunke Dies Of Fall

Shirley Lee Sunke, 33, of Bel Marin Keys, died at Marin General Hospital yesterday of head injuries suffered when thrown from a horse at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

According to Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine, Mrs. Sunke was riding with her husband, William J. Sunke of 305 Montego Key Boulevard, a salesman, on the Pacheco ranch off Indian Valley Road when her horse reared and threw her.

Mrs. Sunke was taken first to Novato General Hospital, then transferred to Marin General Hospital for brain surgery Wednesday night, but died at 6:41 a.m. yesterday. She never regained consciousness after the accident, Fontaine said.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by six children, William J. Jr., Kim, Gregory, Allison, Darce and Cynthia Sunke, all of Novato; her father, George Stone of San Francisco, and a brother, Douglas Stone of San Bruno.

Funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the funeral chapels of Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley. Interment Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Girl Is Victim Of Indecent Pictures

A 9-year-old Novato girl was the victim of exposure to obscene photographs at the Lynwood School ground, her mother has reported to Novato police.

A man, described as 40 to 50 years of age, greyhaired with a bald spot and wearing a white shirt, beige sweater, brown pants and glasses, showed approximately 15 obscene photographs to the girl about 4:30 p.m. last Friday, according to police. The girl did not tell her mother of the incident until Wednesday when she reported it to Novato police.

Nazis Convicted For Pogrom

DARMSTADT, Germany (AP) — A criminal court today convicted seven former Nazi SS officers of complicity in the World War II murder of 60,000 Jews in the Ukraine. All were sentenced to prison terms.

Three other defendants accused of participating in the slayings in Kiev and Kharkov during the last six months of 1941 also were found guilty. But the court ruled their degree of guilt did not warrant prison terms.

The chief defendant, SS Capt. Kuno Callsen, 55, was sentenced to 15 years in prison. Sentences for the other six ranged from nine to four years.

There were 175 witnesses in the 14-month trial. One defendant, Heinrich Huhn, died during the trial.

They Like Cake

AMSTERDAM (UPI) — The Dutch are consuming about 75 million cakes per year, for an average of 21 cakes per family, according to trade sources. Of the total, 30 million cakes are home-baked.

$63 Million Deficit In Balance Of Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States balance of trade showed a deficit of $63 million in October with both exports and imports falling sharply from their record September levels, the Commerce Department said today.

October exports of $2.594 billion showed an adjusted decline of 20 per cent from the September high. The decrease was spread generally throughout all commodity groups.

Among nonagricultural products, which accounted for more than five-sixths of the drop, notable declines showed in exports of nonelectrical machinery, chemicals, crude materials and fuels.

October imports declined slightly more than 10 per cent from September, totaling $2.657 billion.

The decrease was widespread, with lower shipments reported particularly in coffee and crude materials, including both rubber and iron and other ores, as well as metals generally.

The government said the threat of a dock strike at the beginning of October along the East Coast, appears to have been the most important factor affecting both September and October trade developments.

The strike, which was forestalled by an injunction, tended to boost sea borne trade in September and cut it in October.

The department forecast a trade rebound for November and December as shipping pipelines are refilled before the expiration of the injunction on Dec. 20.

The Commerce Department said it was still looking for an export surplus of between $1 billion and $1.5 billion for 1968 as a whole but that the experience of October suggested the favorable balance will be nearer the lower figure.

This would contrast with the 1967 favorable trade balance $4.1 billion.

The government noted that recent developments in Western Europe could possibly affect U.S. trade in the coming months. Changes in border taxes should improve the trade balance in West Germany, the department said, but the restraints imposed by both Britain and France are likely to make it more difficult for the U.S. to expand exports to those two countries.

Boat Harbor Fire Called Act Of Arson

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A three-alarm boat yard fire, which officials said appeared to have been set, destroyed three buildings and damaged 25 to 40 boats last night, causing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $1 million.

No one was injured. The blaze at Brown's Gloucester Yacht Yard threatened a house before firemen, aided by fire fighters from Manchester and Rockport, controlled it in about two hours.

The fire destroyed a carpentry shop and two storage buildings. Fire officials said some of the yachts stored in the building were valued at between $75,000 and $100,000 each.

Deputy Fire Chief Carleton McKay said someone set the fire, the second at the yard in 15 days. He said the first fire, a two-alarm blaze, probably was set also.

The Thursday night fire also destroyed equipment, such as masts, for boats stored at the yard, located along the ocean in the east section of the city.

News Blackout Is Ordered In Flag Mutilation Case

VAN NUYS (UPI) — A judge has imposed a pre-trial news blackout in the case of an artist accused of mutilating an American flag by converting it into a Nehru jacket.

The defendant is Jared Townley Hill, 25, of La Crescenta, whose star spangled blouse attracted the attention of a Los Angeles policeman in Sunland Park last June 22.

Municipal Court Judge Charles M. Hughes this week ordered prosecution and defense not to discuss the case before it goes to trial Dec. 18. At the same time, the judge ordered th police report of Hill's arrest withheld from the press.

Testimony may be printed if the trial is held, however.

Hill has appealed to the Los Angeles County Superior Court, asking that his arrest be declared illegal, on the grounds that no mutilation of the flag occurred before the arresting officer's eyes.

Hills's motion to that effect has been denied by the municipal court. A ruling from the superior court is expected sometime before the trial date.

Judge Hughes advanced no reasons for the blackout, but said it had been agreed on at a conference with defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Under California law, flag mutilation is a misdemeanor. If convicted, Hill would face the possibility of a sentence of as much as six months in jail and a fine of up to $500.

"SEATTLE'S TOUGHEST FIRE" — That's how Fire Chief Gordon Vickery describes the Thanksgiving Day blaze that raged more than 12 hours, claimed one fireman's life and injured 28 others at the Todd ship yards. (AP Wirephoto)

Seattle Fire In Shipyards Costs A Life

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Fire believed caused by a cable short circuit under a pier roared through a dock area leaving one fireman dead, 28 others injured and an estimated $250,000 damage.

Henry C. Gronnerud, 41, a 12-year veteran fireman, was killed early today when he stepped onto a high voltage wire at the scene. Most of the injuries were from smoke inhalation.

Twenty-six boats helped battle the flames, which broke out on the underside of the dock yesterday.

Quick work by Todd Shipyard officials may have saved three vessels from heavy damage as tugs towed the three—a tanker and two Navy ships—away from their moorings soon after the fire broke out. A small blaze on the tanker was extinguished quickly.

Heavy-creosoted pilings aflame sent clouds of smoke high into the air over Puget Sound.

It was the second major fire at Todd Shipyards since Aug. 13.

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Princess, Margrethe, heiress to the Danish throne, is expecting her second child baby in June, a spokesman for the royal family said yesterday.

Australian City Hit By Bushfire Disaster

SYDNEY (AP) — Five men are dead, seven are missing and about 200 injured in midsummer bushfires that caused millions of dollars worth of damage within a 50-mile radius of Sydney in the past two days.

The fire danger diminished in Sydney's outer suburbs today as the wind abated and temperatures dropped 20 degrees from yesterday's high of 90.

Isolated fires still burned in the Blue Mountains 50 miles west of Sydney but they were reported under control.

A thousand firefighters including professionals, volunteers and soldiers stood by to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's disaster when flames destroyed 150 houses, shops, churches and other buildings.

Train service resumed today and roads in the region reopened.

New South Wales Chief Secretary Eric A. Willis said damage would run into millions of dollars. Relief funds for about 600 persons left homeless were begun.

"It was a taste of hell," said one firefighter.

An Englishwoman said in a radio interview: "It was worse than the blitz in London. You knew then when it was coming. Here it just came on you, the noise, smoke and flames."

Doctors Sue Medical Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four physicians have filed suit in Superior Court challenging the State Board of Medical Examiners which had performed the abortions illegally for women who had been exposed to German measles. Women so exposed run a risk of giving birth to deformed babies.

Licenses of the doctors had been suspended for 90 days, although that suspension had been suspended on condition of good conduct for one year.

The four filing the suit Wednesday are Dr. Gregory Smith, Dr. Anthony J. Franzi, Dr. Andrew Chogos and Dr. Maxwell V. Parker, all of San Francisco.

Pink Pachyderm, White Sheep Stolen

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Police, perhaps wondering whether someone been observing Thanksgiving with something more than somber reverence, received reports yesterday of a white sheep and pink elephant being stolen.

Investigation revealed that the sheep was a rubber specimen stolen from a nativity scene at an artificial flower company shop. The elephant was of the stuffed variety, and was taken from a drug store display window.

Giant LSD Haul In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Federal authorities reported seizure of LSD described as the biggest such haul in California history along with the arrest of a young writer for an avant garde newspaper.

Thomas David Farber, 24, was caught with 75,000 tablets of the hallucinatory drug — valued at between $350,000 and $750,000 — which he planned to sell to a "customer" from New York, said Emmett Warner, chief of the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Warned said yesterday Farber was arrested in a Mission Street motel after the "customer" turned out to be an undercover agent.

Farber was booked on a federal charge of illegal sale of a dangerous drug and was held for appearance before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith.

Cosmos 255 Aloft

Eastern States Hit By Cold, Wet Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold and wet storm spread rain from Pennsylvania and New Jersey through New England today. Light snow and snow flurries fell along the Great Lakes in the storm's wake.

Gale warnings were posted from Maine to Massachusetts along the Atlantic Seaboard and from Lake Michigan to Lake Ontario. The fierce storm prowled the Northeast after it dumped rain, sleet and snow on the Midwest.

The storm, which crept out of Mexico early in the week, then dawdled over Texas storing up moisture and power, galloped across the Southern plains, the Midwest and Ohio Valley Thanksgiving Day.

The holiday weather effects were numerous and widespread: flood-swollen rivers and streams in middle Tennessee, snow-coated landscape and highways intermittently from Missouri to Michigan. Rains measuring more than six inches swamped Tennessee from the Mississippi River to the Cumberland Mountains yesterday. After a day of warnings of possibly serious flooding on the Harpeth River near Nashville, the Weather Bureau stopped its flood bulletins late Thursday and indicated the threat had passed.

Heavy rams ranged northward across Illinois and South and West into Mississippi and Arkansas, where some flooding was reported.

Snow mixed with sleet made holiday travel treacherous north of the rain area. Two to 5 inches of snow whitened the area from northeastern Missouri into central Lower Michigan. Up to 8 inches covered some northern Lower Michigan communities.

High winds accompanied the daylong downpours across the Midwest, and into the Northeast today. Gale warnings continued on all the Great Lakes and were extended to include the Northern Atlantic Coast.

The winds tore down part of the steel superstructure for a high school auditorium being built north of Indianapolis. Damage was estimated at nearly $250,000. Eastward in Ohio, the gusts knocked out power in many part of Cincinnati and smashed numerous store display windows.

Outside the storm area, portions of Colorado and Wyoming received up to six inches of snow, and Colorado ski areas reported in unusually large number of skiers for a Thanksgiving.

Ahead of the storm, much of the Eastern seaboard was fanned by September-like mildness during the night. Low temperatures in the 60s were common from Washington to Boston.

And heavy-snow warnings were issued for mountain areas of New Mexico.

Some early morning reports: Boston 60 rain, New York 63 partly cloudy, Philadelphia 65 partly cloudy, Washington 67 partly cloudy, Atlanta 48 clear, Miami 72 partly cloudy, Detroit 45 cloudy, Chicago 36 snow, Minneapolis-St. Paul 29 cloudy, St. Louis 37 cloudy, Kansas City 32 cloudy, Dallas 39 clear, Denver 17 partly cloudy, Phoenix 52 clear, Los Angeles 54 clear, San Francisco 48 clear, Seattle 44 cloudy, Anchorage 21 snow, Honolulu 70 rain.

World War Relic Wounds Teener

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A 15-year-old American boy suffered severe injuries yesterday when a World War II 70 mm shell he was playing with exploded, U.S. military authorities said.

The youth, John Howland was admitted to Camp Kue hospital yesterday. The exploding device reportedly severed both his legs below the knees, nearly severed a left hand and caused wounds in his chest and throat, officials said. His condition was listed as very serious.

TITO RETURNS — Citizens of the Yugoslavian town of Jajce welcome President Josip Broz Tito and his wife. The independent Communist leader returned yesterday to the town where he formed a parliament 25 years ago, defying both the royalist regime in exile and the occupying Germans.

Tito, who broke with Moscow in forging Yugoslavia's Communist regime and who championed Czechoslovakia's attempt to go its own way, called in his speech for each country to find its own destiny.

Speaking at the spot where he founded his regime 25 years ago today, Tito said, "Our conception of the role and position of the working man as a free and independent creator in a self-managing society also assumes the full freedom and independence of each people and nationality."

He said every nation must respect other countries' independence. "If these principles which include the fundamental right of each people to be master of its own country are not respected, new crises and focuses of trouble will arise and there will be no stabilization of international conditions," he said.

His statement did not jibe with the Soviet justification for its Aug. 21 invasion and occupation of Czechoslovakia. The Kremlin said it can intervene in any Communist state if it believes communism is being threatened.

Tito broke with the Soviet Union in 1948 because he wanted Yugoslavia to run its own affairs.

Today he told the crowd gathered in this Bosnian mountain town where his regime was proclaimed during a pause in anti-German guerrilla warfare that he views "with alarm the serious deterioration in the international situation, particularly of late."

He did not mention the Soviets by name in this connection. Western observers said Tito's plea for self-determination applied to the West as well as the East.

In Belgrade, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug today gave casualty figures in antigovernment demonstrations Wednesday in the provincial capital of Pristina. Tanjug said 41 persons including 10 policemen and four firemen were injured and one person was killed. The demonstration in Pristina, and others in the nearby area, came in a section heavily populated by persons of Albanian origin.

Relations between Yugoslavia and Albania are brittle at best. Albania is the sole European ally of the Chinese Communists, who have made Tito a favorite propaganda target because of his national brand of communism.

Tanjug quoted Veli Deva, a party leader in the troubled area, as blaming the demonstrations on "foreign forces which have sinister goals toward Yugoslavia."

On Nov. 29, 1943, Tito, then a guerrilla leader fighting Adolf Hitler's troops, called together a parliament of peasants and workers who laid the groundwork for a Communist nation.

Now 76, Tito came back yesterday in a six-door black limousine. The town's 8,000 residents showered him with flowers and regaled him with slogans wishing him long life and good health.

Jajce gave him a key to the city and told him how much it appreciated what he and his followers had done. Tito climbed from his limousine and walked the streets, shaking hands and chatting with the townspeople.

From Washington, President Johnson sent his greetings "to confirm again our interests for Yugoslavia's independence and the well-being of its peoples."

From Moscow, the ruling Soviet troika told him it was "deeply convinced" that friendly relations between the two nations would promote "the cause of building socialism and communism and strengthening world peace."

Tito broke with the Soviets' Eastern European economic bloc in 1948 and sought economic ties with the West. Yugoslavia's economy embraces Marxist principles and some capitalist methods and prospers from the mixture.

Relations with the Soviet Union were further strained in August when Tito sympathized with Czechoslovakia's liberal reform movement before the Soviet bloc invasion. Tito warned the Kremlin any attempt to invade Yugoslavia would be met with force.

Tito, dapper in a dark suit and fedora, took Jajce's welcome with a smile and a wave. He opened a new bridge across the Vrbas River and then rested for the anniversary of the day he called together the Parliament in a gymnastic club hall that is now a national museum.

The year 1943 saw Tito's guerrillas, recruited from the peasantry and working class, fighting a furious campaign arainst the Germans in the hills of Yugoslavia.

King Peter and his political advisers had fled to London where they were recognized as the government in exile. The Germans had a puppet government in Belgrade. And Tito had his guerrilla Parliament, which has survived to this day.

Terrier dogs were bred chiefly for hunting rabbits and foxes.

Power Saw Stolen

A hand-held power saw valued at $85 was stolen Wednesday from J. B. Madden of Building R, Hilarita housing, Tiburon, while he was working at the Boys' Club of Southern Marin in Marin City, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Novato Man Found Dead In San Rafael

The body of Andre Bernard Bottini, 26, of Novato, was found hanging from a beam in the basement of his mother's San Rafael home Wednesday night, the Marin County coroner's office reported yesterday.

Bottini, who was separated from his wife and living temporarily with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Bottini Sr. of 509 C Street, apparently hanged himself between noon and 7 p.m., said Eugene R. Fontaine, assistant coroner.

Bottini had been hospitalized from Monday to Wednesday morning with a concussion suffered at his job as a frame man for Western California Telephone Co. in Novato, according to Fontaine.

When Mrs. Bottini Sr. did not find her son at home when she returned at 5 p.m., she called her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Horton of Novato, and Horton found Bottini's body in the basement at 7 p.m.

Bottini, whose home was at 9 Romar Court, is survived by his wife, Sheryl Bottini, a son, Troy Bottini, both of Novato; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bottini Sr. and his sister, Mrs. Horton.

Private funeral was held today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Seven Bodies Removed From Sunken Vessel

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — The bodies of seven men were found entombed yesterday in the work boat Triple Crown on the floor of the Pacific Ocean. Two others were sought.

The men still missing, unlike the others, were on the deck working when the vessel suddenly capsized and sank Monday.

Six deep sea divers, making five trips, recovered the seven bodies from inside the sunken hull of the 174-foot boat resting in 250 feet of Santa Barbara channel water.

The bodies recovered were those of William M. Thomasson of Torrance; Mark Von Mills, 46, Newport; Alvin Dean Taylor, 37, and Frank L. Calloway, 27, both of Ventura, Jack William McDaniel of Lakewood and Lloyd E. Voight Jr., 19, of Santa Barbara, crewmen of the Triple Crown, and Richard Taylor of Ventura, a surveyor.

The divers found a door to the main cabin buckled and another blocked by radio equipment. With special equipment, they got to the cabin where six bodies were found. The surveyor was found in the lower port bunk room.

Trial On Striking Two Women Slated

Trial for Peter L. Goldstein, 34, a former San Anselmo publicist now living in San Francisco, has been set for Jan. 20 in San Francisco Municipal Court on charges he struck a woman acquaintance and her daughter in that city July 28.

Goldstein, brother of Marin Municipal Court Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., allegedly struck a friend, Mrs. Patricia Rogers, and her daughter, Jillian, 19, at Rogers' home.

Humphrey Eyes Post At University

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says he is seriously considering "a very attractive offer" from the University of Minnesota involving part-time teaching after he leaves office in January.

Humphrey said the job would not make heavy demands on his schedule and would leave him time to work toward strengthening the Democratic party. He said he wanted to broaden its base and encourage young people to participate.

Humphrey, who lost the Nov. 5 presidential election to Republican Richard M. Nixon, made the comments to reporters during a duck-hunting visit Wednesday at the game preserve of James P. Wilmot, millionaire Rochester real-estate developer.

The vice president said he intended to join an organization raising money and helping to select candidates for key elections in 1970, when 25 Democratic senators may be up for re-election.

He said he had not decided whether to run for the Senate himself that year.

Humphrey called the Democrats' Chicago convention "a catastrophe" that left the party in a "shambles." Had the convention been held in July instead of August, he said, his election chances would have been better.

Humphrey said he had a contract to publish his memoirs.

Gold Reserves Increase Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States boosted its gold stocks by $33 million last month despite the current monetary crisis.

A federal reserve board report yesterday showed U.S. $10.755 billion in September to $10.788 billion in October.

Treasury Department spokesmen said most of the gain came from French sales of bullion for the dollars needed to support the sagging franc.

Sonoma County Nurses Picketing Supervisors

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors — who on Tuesday approved salary hikes averaging 5 per cent for most county employees and a better than 13 per cent raise for themselves — are now faced with lines of picketing nurses who got no raise.

Nurses on the county payroll have been carrying placards with slogans threatening a strike and parading in front of the county administration building here, since Tuesday's action.

Justifying the strike threat, James Gallagher, economic advisor for the California Nurses Association, said the nurses were protesting, because the 10 to 15 per cent increase they had requested was denied. He said the shortage of nurses, forcing them to work dougle shifts, is also at the top of the grievance list.

The threatened strike is not expected to affect Southern Sonoma hospitals. Mrs. Loree Smith, administrator at Hillcrest Hospital, Petaluma, said she has heard no grumbling among her staff. "The nurses here seem to be pretty satisfied," she said.

David Nichols, assistant county administrator, said the salary review committee is continuing to collect data on nursing salaries and will present its finding at the Dec. 12 meeting of the civil service commission. A recommendation will be presented to the supervisors the first week of January, but any pay hikes recommended would not go into effect until July.

The approved salary increases were granted to 562 employees in 75 job descriptions. The highest raises of 10 per cent were given employees in five classifications in Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Supervisor Arthur R. Ruonavaara, who served on the salary study committee, said the raises would cost $83,382 for the period between Jan. 1 and July 31, 1969.

The supervisors approved salary increases for themselves, raising pay from $10,000 to $13,200 starting Jan. 1. Two years ago they were paid $8,400.

The board recently passed a resolution requiring future salary studies to be completed by January of each year so that supervisors can act on them by mid-February and decisions may go into effect on July 1.

Chase Leads To Charges By Builder

A partner in a construction company, which is building homes on Vivian Court in Novato, felled a thief with a piece of lumber Wednesday night, police reported today.

The partner, Billie R. Evans of Novato, said he saw two men loading plywood onto a truck at 8:15 p.m. at the site at 17 Vivian Court.

When they saw him, Evans said, the men ran. But Evans reported he overtook one, Theodore Henry Pilat, 38, of 7530 Redwood Highway, Novato, and knocked him down with a piece of lumber after Pilat threw a punch at him.

Police were called and Pilat was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of grand theft of 30 sheets of plywood and a pickup truck belonging to the Roberts and Aguirre Co., of which Evans is part owner.

The other man was later apprehended by police, but freed after reporting that Pilat had paid him $20 to help move a supply of plywood. Police confirmed his story.

Pilat was identified as a former employee of Roberts and Aguirre. No bail was set today and Pilat was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Monday.

San Franciscan Hurt In Accident

Louise M. Hansen, 57, of San Francisco, was treated for a cut upper lip, a chest bruise and a cut hand Wednesday at Marin General Hospital after her car hit a center divider on Highway 101 as she tried to avoid an earlier crash, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Hansen was northbound at 4:45 p.m. when she came upon a five-car noninjury accident on Alto Hill entering Corte Madera. Her car swerved into the divider when she braked, the patrol said.

High Winds Hit Hawaiian Islands

HONOLULU (UPI) — High winds, up to 50 miles an hour, struck the Hawaiian Islands yesterday, felling power lines, uprooting trees and creating dangerous conditions in some areas of the state.

The winds, accompanied by driving rain as a result of a cold front moving eastward across the islands, shattered a large plate-glass window of a bank in Honolulu late Thursday forcing police to provide guards at the building.

Rug Sale Try Leads To $60,000 In Loot

Police pounced yesterday on a posh Pacific Heights apartment, crammed with $60,000 worth of reportedly stolen furnishings, after one of its occupants made a one-in-a-thousand mistake — he tried to sell a stolen rug back to its original owner in Sausalito.

Among the loot found in the apartment was a 1750 Russian muzzle-loading rifle which Sausalito Detective Jack L. Heringer said was taken Monday from the Sausalito home of William F. Roche in a burglary of $14,000 worth of paintings and antiques.

Police arrested one occupant of the apartment, Les Aubin, 26, on suspicion of possessing stolen property. They are seeking his roommate, Ed Hoffman, 26, an unemployed beautician. Aubin, police said, is a bank trust department employee.

Heringer said a third occupant of the apartment unknowingly made the mistake of offering a stolen rug to an acquaintance — the Sausalito man it was stolen from. The Sausalitan reported the offer to Heringer, and said the seller told him he had several antiques in his San Francisco apartment.

Heringer said police are also searching for the hapless third occupant, whom he did not name, for questioning about the apartmentful of stolen luxuries.

Heringer called San Francisco police and joined two burglary inspectors in an all-night stakeout of the apartment at 2200 Sacramento Street. Heringer left the stakeout at 6 a.m. and the San Francisco police closed in and arrested Aubin at 1:30 p.m.

Heringer went through the apartment late yesterday, but said the antique rifle was the only item he could identify from the Sausalito burglary.

He was to return to the apartment this afternoon to take inventory and see if any other Sausalito loot is there.

San Francisco police said the stolen furnishings came from other burglaries in Pacific Heights, including some thefts within the same building, and included lobby palms, rugs, chairs, silverware and even the food found in the apartment.

$2.5 Billion Hike Asked For Financing Of Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen called today for an increase in federal spending for elementary and secondary education from $1.5 billion to the full $3.5 billion authorized by Congress.

Speaking before the annual conference of the National Council for Social Studies, Cohen said the federal government now provides 8 per cent of the expenditures for elementary and secondary schools. This share, he said, should be sharply increased.

"I believe," he said, "that we should increase our appropriations under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, year by year, from $1.5 billion to the full authorization of $3.5 billion annually within the next four years."

Cohen also voiced new support for a national assessment of learning across the country.

"Without such an assessment, the federal government cannot know where its financial help is most needed," Cohen declared.

Some state school administrators have opposed the assessment program as a step toward possible eventual federal control of public school curricula.

Cohen noted that the federal investment in expanding and improving American education has more than tripled over the past five years. But he said the nation still is only "barely keeping pace" with growing and constantly changing educational needs.

"We must resolve that sufficient federal resources be made available to see that no student of ability will be denied an opportunity to develop his talents because of financial inability to meet the cost of obtaining an adequate education beyond high school," Cohen said.

Cohen also called for increased investment of attention, time and money in stimulating very young, pre-school children to learn and develop.

Looking ahead to the 1970's, Cohen said the nation's goals in education should include enriched high school education for every child, genuine equality of educational opportunity, expanded vocational education and training for all who want it and the elimination of all financial barriers to higher education.

An 18th Century practice was to have servants whistle when carrying food to the dining area so that they could not taste the food they were carrying.

Hamilton Helps In Plane Search

Aboard were Sid Beamer, 49, Ukiah civic leader and businessman, and his wife, Audrey, 42.

Hunting for the missing Beechcraft Muskateer were Coast Guard and Civil Air Patrol planes along with a liason craft from the Air Rescue Service at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The search area extended 60 to 100 miles out to sea, along the coast from Mendocino County to Santa Cruz, and inland to Reno.

Beamer's father, Steven R. Beamer of Sacramento, has offered a $10,000 reward to anyone locating the missing plane or the Beamers.

Pakistan Police Use Tear Gas On Students

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Police fired tear gas and made repeated baton charges today to disperse nearly 2,000 demonstrators in Rawalpindi.

The protesters, mainly teenagers, had paraded through the main streets for three hours carrying banners and chanting slogans demanding the release of political prisoners, freedom of the press and reforms in the government.

Riot police charged into the crowds of onlookers in the crowded market areas in an apparent effort to prevent the size of the demonstration from growing.

More police arrived in open trucks but they too were stoned and tear gas shells were fired to disperse the crowd.

Army patrols were stationed in key parts of the city and around President Mohammed Ayub Khan's residence. An army spotter plane flew over the demonstrating students for their entire three-mile route.

Many shops remained closed in response to a call by student leaders for a citywide strike, although most businesses generally do not open on Friday which is the traditional off-day in Pakistan.

In Lisbon, Portugal, three thousand Lisbon University students held an unauthorized meeting today to demand education reforms and the return of professors living abroad for political reasons.

The students, all belonging to the liberal arts school, appointed a committee to express their stand to university authorities.

It was the second such meeting this month. The students have been agitating for removal of the university from government control, for a greater voice in school affairs, for better facilities and for more teachers.

They want the government to facilitate the return of professors they say were forced to work abroad because of their opposition to the authoritarian regime of ex-Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

Bus Driver Slain During An Argument

Killed as the result of a bullet through the shoulder which ranged down to his heart was Fred Butler, 31, who, police said, was in the act of threatening merchant seaman James W. Nethers, 60, with a tire iron.

No charges were filed against Nethers pending an investigation by the district attorney's office.

Police said Butler went to the apartment of Dolores Thomas, 27, a divorcee who lived in an apartment below her father, and demanded return of an expensive radio he had given her as a gift.

Police said Butler rushed upstairs to Nethers' apartment and demaned the father help him get the radio. Butler, in a rage, got a tire iron from his car and "ran back screaming threats," according to witnesses.

Nethers said he shot Butler in the left wrist and fired again when he kept coming at him.

Field Trips Schedule Set By Audubons

Field trips, a bicycle ride, a canoe trip and a lecture are among the December activities scheduled by the Marin Audubon Society.

A trip across Golden Gate Bridge for bird-watching bicyclers is planned for Dec. 16. Cyclists will meet at 10 a.m. in the toll plaza parking lot, then cycle to Fort Baker and Sausalito to see migrating waterfowl.

Next Friday, Prof. Emanuel Fritz, professor emeritus of forestry from the University of California, will speak on the ecology of the coast redwoods at the society's meeting at 8 p.m. in the county supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Fritz will also lead a Dec. 14 field trip to Muir Woods National Monument, which will start at 10 a.m. in the Muir Woods parking lot.

Another field trip is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Dec. 8 in Rutherford, Napa County, at the junction of highways 29 and 128.

A canoeing trip is scheduled for Dec. 9 on Lagunitas Creek. Canoers will meet at 10 a.m. at the White House Pool parking area at Bear Valley Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Reservations are required and may be made with Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger of 308 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Terwilliger will also lead a hike Monday on Mount Tamalpais. Hikers will meet at 9:15 a.m. at Purity Market in Mill Valley or at 10 a.m. at Pan Toll Ranger Station on the mountain.

Guest Organist

Lyn Larsen will be guest organist at the Christmas dinner and concert of the Marin Baldwin Organ Club at 6 p.m. Sunday at Dominic's restaurant in San Rafael.

More Tests Set; Blasts Rock Mine

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Officials today decided to drill two more holes in the Mannington No. 9 coal mine to determine if 78 men trapped nine days ago could have found life-sustaining air in any of the mine's many "rooms" deep underground.

Another "major" explosion shook the mine's Llewellyn portal today at 1:16 a.m. It was the 16th major explosion since the men were trapped before dawn Nov. 20. The 15th major blast occurred at the Mahan portal early Thanksgiving Day. There also had been about a dozen minor explosions.

The decision to bore two additional holes, the 9th and 10th, meant officials were not ready yet to give up all hope for the possible survival of some of the trapped men.

The seventh hole was completed last night and the eighth early today.

Thus far, all air samples brought up through the eight bore holes drilled to levels between 700 feet and 900 feet underground showed the presence of lethal gases.

Senator Asks Truth At Gasoline Pumps

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., today called for "truth in gasoline" regulations to require service stations to post the exact octane rating of their gasoline at the pumps.

In a letter to Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, Proxmire said consumers now have no way of determining the octane rating of different brands of gasoline supposedly of the same grade.

New telephone rates effective December 2.

Your December telephone bill will reflect the new telephone rates which become effective on December 2, 1968. While the cost of basic Exchange Service has been increased, many Long Distance rates have been reduced and the local calling area of many exchanges will be enlarged.

Saturday rates reduced for long distance calls within California— other long distance rate reductions

Beginning December 2, you can call anywhere within California all day Saturday at the lowest night discount rates. These lowest rates now apply all weekend — starting at 6 p.m. Friday evening and ending at 6 a.m. Monday morning for all Long Distance calls between California communities.

In addition, Station-to-Station Long Distance rates between California communities, primarily between 36 and 80 miles distance, have been reduced.

As soon as we are able to complete the necessary changes and additions to our equipment and lines (within three years), Long Distance calls for which you now pay 10¢ for three minutes will become toll free. Similarly, three-minute message unit calls for which you are now charged two message units will become local (toll free) calls.

Residence party lines to be eliminated in the San Francisco-East Bay metropolitan area

Also as soon as we are able to make the necessary equipment and line changes (within three years), all Party Line Residence Service will be discontinued in the San Francisco - East Bay metropolitan area.

Instead, One-Party Flat Rate (unlimited) Service and One-Party Measured (limited) Service will be offered. Measured Service will be available in two ways—with an allowance of 60 local calls per month without extra charge, or an even lower cost service with an allowance of 30 local calls per month without extra charge.

Business phones

Beginning December 2, the basic monthly rate for message business telephones will include an allowance of 80 local calls per month without extra charge.

Important Change

The message unit allowance for residence and business Measured Service will apply to local calls only. It will no longer apply to calls outside your local calling area.

Israel Will Allow Arabs Entry For Holiday Worship

TEL AVIV (AP) — Christians and Moslems from the Arab states will be permitted to celebrate Christmas and Moslem religious rites at the Israeli-held holy places, Prime Minister Levi Eshkol said today.

"The Ministry of the Interior will issue an order shortly to permit anyone from any Middle East country into Israel for Christmas unless he is considered a security risk," Eshkol told a group of Israeli editors.

"We have a long account to settle with Jordan, which never permitted Jews to visit holy places in their territory. But we have decided to act differently."

The announcement came as a series of restrictions went into effect on travel between Jordan and the occupied West bank after a bomb explosion in Jerusalem that killed 12 persons.

Israel offered to let all citizens of Middle East countries visit Bethlehem and Jerusalem last Christmas, but the offer was not taken up.

Turning to world affairs, Eshkol referring to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, said: "The same man who declared his support for us at the United Nations in 1947, today says some shocking things about us."

In reply to a question, he said he would visit Washington "when the United States has sorted out its affairs."

It was understood he meant he was putting off his visit, originally scheduled for January, until President Richard M. Nixon's administration was firmly established in Washington.

San Marin High Will Open Monday

Alarm clocks for 620 students and 28 teachers of San Marin High School will be set ahead Monday as they go to school at 8 a.m. in the new $2,327,000 high school on Novato Boulevard and San Marin Drive in Novato.

The students and teachers thus far in the fall term have been able to sleep late as they went only in the afternoon. San Marin was on split sessions with Novato High which used Novato High facilities in the mornings.

Now the students of both high schools will be on full schedule of six 50-minute periods starting at 8 a.m.

All 32 classrooms in the first phase of the high school are ready for occupancy now, according to Henry Moroski, principal of San Marin High.

The shop building, which has been used for storage, is going through the final finishing of the floors with equipment being moved into place. It should be ready by late Tuesday or Wednesday, Moroski said.

Workers were still hanging drapes and installing furniture in the administration building this week but the other buildings were ready for occupancy, according to building inspector Arnold Grewe.

These buildings are: the library, the science building, the social science building, the business education building and one small utilities building, he said.

The lockers and showers in the gymnasium are nearly completed and should be finished in a few days. The gymnasium itself will not be ready until about Christmas, Moroski said.

In the meantime, the physical education classes will be taught theory and first aid, Moroski said.

The football and basketball teams will practice at Novato High until the new gymnasium is completed he said.

The Novato Unified School district purchased the 40-acre site for $445,215, preparation cost $149,784, and the buildings at $1,651,543 or $19.37 per square foot, according to Asst. Supt. Eugene De Brecht. Furniture, paving, sidewalks, playing field equipment and other such items constituted the rest of the total cost of the school, De Brecht said.

In spite of all of the careful planning and a delay of three months, there are still a few minor items which will need immediate attention. The main one is that three classrooms do not have thermostats installed and will not have heating on Monday morning.

Otherwise, it will be a complete new high school ready to receive its first students.

Homeowners' Tax Refund Due In June

The homeowners' property tax relief payment of $70, approved Nov. 5 by passage of Proposition 1-A, will be made by the state to individual homeowners by next June 15, the state Board of Equalization reported yesterday.

H. F. Freeman, executive secretary of the state board, wrote to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, outlining the steps that must be taken to process the payments.

Freeman announced that the equalization board will hold a hearing in Sacramento at 1:30 p.m., Dec. 4 to discuss a procedure by which county assessors can identify each property so that duplicate claims and payments will not be made.

Forms for claiming the $70 payment will be made available by each county assessor by March next year, Freeman reported. He said homeowners will have until April 15, 1969, to file for the $70 payment.

Board Of Education Due Bus Contract

The Marin County Board of Education, meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the county schools office in Corte Madera, is scheduled to consider approval of a contract to provide bus transportation to Marin City students.

Under the agreement, the county board will lend the Tamalpais High School District enough money to continue busing of students from Marin City to Tamalpais High School until the end of the school year.

Corte Madera Denies Permit To Javelin Club

The Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission has denied the use of Town Park to the Javelin Club for Boys.

The Commission on Wednesday said permission would be granted if the club were limited to boys from Corte Madera and Larkspur and if the club could qualify as a nonprofit agency under California laws.

The Club, directed by Frank J. Selas, includes boys from Terra Linda to Sausalito. For an hourly fee, activities include golf, judo, tennis, swimming, horseback riding, crafts and archery. Selas said 35 boys ranging in age from 5 to 13 are now involved in the program.

The commission suggested that Selas work with Robert Bundy, town recreation director, to involve more local boys in the club.

Commission members cancelled the December meeting because of the Christmas holidays. The next meeting will be Jan. 22.

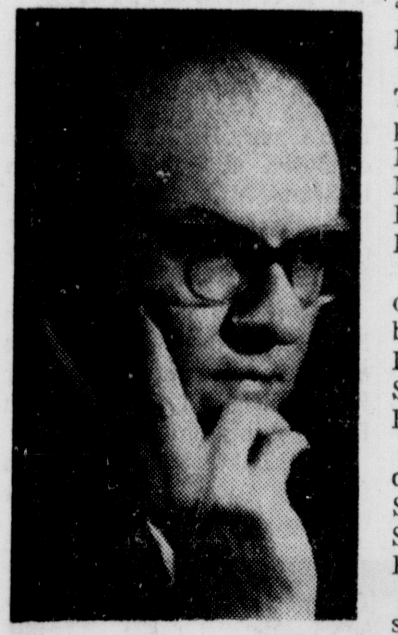
Philip Burton Will Speak On Shakespeare

"Everything I've learned about the theater, I've learned from Philip," Richard Burton has said of his foster-father, Philip Burton, who appears on this season's new A.M. morning series in a program "The Miracle That Was Shakespeare," on Dec. 6 at 10:30 a.m. in the Tamalpais Theatre in San Anselmo.

Shakespeare and Philip Burton are inextricably intertwined. Since 1962 when the noted British director-actor and teacher came to the United States he has instructed American actors in the works of Shakespeare at the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in New York City. Among the artists he has worked with as director or teacher are Celeste Holm, Mildred Dunnock, Betty Field, Rosemary Harris, Elizabeth Ashley, Dina Merrill, Water Slezak, James Daly, Maximilian Scheil and George Grizzard.



PHILIP BURTON

He presented a notable series of 20 lectures on "The Actor's Shakespeare" in New York's Steinway Hall, did a series of Shakespeare programs at the Library of Congress and during the summer of 1967 directed what turned out to be a recordbreaking production of "Hamlet" for the Washington, D.C., Shakespeare Festival.

In his program, "The Miracle That Was Shakespeare," he presents selections from Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, The Merchant of Venice, Cymbeline, Henry IV (Part I), Henry V, Henry VI (Part III).

Admissions are available both on a single and season membership basis through Mrs. Lloyd Bergstrom, Family Service League secretary, 242 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley.

John Brebner, managing director of the Marin Shakespeare Festival and a Sausalito resident, will introduce Philip Burton.

The A.M. lecture series is sponsored by the Family Service League of Marin.

Anesthesiologists—The Unsung Surgical Heroes

By Barbara J. Culliton
Science Service

For every publicized surgeon wielding the scalpel, there is an anesthesiologist — the unsung linebacker of the operating room — to keep track of the patient's life signs, maintaining the delicate balance between sleep and catastrophe.

But they are more than linebackers.

Moving slowly but surely from the world of everyday medicine into basic research, these men are using their sleep-inducing drugs as tools for exploring everything from the world of the unborn to the behavior of genetic material. And they are finding things of which their scalpel-wielding colleagues must be aware. Results of new studies were reported at the annual meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists in Washington, D. C.

For some time, obstetricians have generally agreed that for a woman in labor a local anesthetic is the best method of relieving pain. Using a new method of analyzing a few as three drops of blood from the scalp of a fetus, San Francisco researchers find reason to challenge that assumption. Dr. Sol M. Shnider and coworkers at the University of California Medical Center ran tests on the infants of 13 healthy women given a common anesthetic called mepivacaine to relieve labor pains and found that high concentrations of the anesthetic migrated to the fetus, where they caused an abnormal slowing of heart beat prior to birth. Concentrations of the anesthetic drug were higher in the infant than in its mother.

Mepivacaine, like many local anesthetic drugs, is injected into tissue on either side of the womb where it spreads widely and blocks the nerve fibers which carry pain sensations during labor.

Dr. Shnider believes that the scalp blood sampling technique for measuring drug levels in the fetus before birth opens the door to study of other compounds frequently used in obstetrics, including Demerol, a common narcotic.

In another test, Dr. John J. Bonica of the University of Washington learned that the anesthetic pentobarbital causes a sharp drop in maternal blood pressure and hence a decrease in blood flow to the womb. Dr. Bonica monitored the placenta — the protective environment which serves as the lungs, kidney, liver and intestines of the fetus — studying maternal and fetus circulation and arterial pressure by means of tubes inserted into both mother and child. In this case, experiments were conducted on pregnant rhesus monkeys, but the results appear to apply to humans as well.

In other research, anesthesiologists have discovered that halothane, a sweet-smelling anesthetic, commonly used because it induces unconsciousness rapidly and smoothly, affects antibody production and cell division.

Following surgery, patients are known to be particularly susceptible to infection. According to Drs. Daniel W. Wingard and Loren J. Humphrey of the University of Kentucky Medical Center this may be explained by the fact that the anesthetic reduces the quantity of infection-fighting antibodies in the body. Experiments on 130 rats showed that antibody production is usually at its lowest in the first hour or two after halothane anesthesia.

Halothane also slows the process of cell division — the normal process by which the body repairs and replaces tissue cells. Again, experimental evidence comes from animal studies — rats,

Tips On Cooking For The New Bride

By BETTY FROST

What bride wouldn't like to have the advice of a cooking expert? A chance to ask some questions about the many bewildering details of cuisine of an acknowledged authority?

That's the opportunity that Mrs. Edward E. Hutchison, the former Barbro Eddy of Ross, had one afternoon last week. That was the day she met Shirley Sarvis, author of "Table for Two," the recently published book of recipes, menus and guidance for the new cook starting out, or the older cook who finds she's back to setting the table with only two places after the children are grown.

The bride, who was married at St. John's Church in Ross on Oct. 12 to Edward Eric Hutchison, the son of the Edward Hutchisons of Kentfield, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eddy of Ross. Her new home is in San Mateo.

Shirley, who majored in both home economics and journalism, at Kansas State University, was staff home economist at Sunset Magazine for five years, and has published five books on food. "Table for Two," just published by Doubleday and Co. is her newest book.

For serving two Miss Sarvis suggests a simple menu, "with one major item that is extremely good, surrounded by a few things that are complimentary."

In response to a question from Barbro about garnishes, the writer said "Garnishes are good for color, and eye appeal. I believe that there should be some appropriateness about it. If there is lemon in the recipe or lemon is good with the dish, use a slice of lemon and perhaps lemon leaves as garnish. If the dish has crushed red peppers, pimiento strips make an appropriate garnish. If there is rosemary in the recipe and the cook has fresh rosemary, it makes an attractive garnish. If the dish is made with wine, a small bunch of grapes is a pleasant accompaniment."

FOR A TWOSOME, Shirley finds a main dish with a vegetable-meat combination, or a fruit-meat combination, with the blending of flavors is both tasty and practical. With this as a basis the hostess need add only a few items to make a complete and attractive meal.

"I enjoy cooking now, and I always want to be happy cooking," said Barbro. "I want everything to look nice, and to be easy to serve, because we like to linger over dinner and talk."

Shirley agreed, "I believe good things happen in the kitchen when you're happy and things do work. Kitchen disasters seem to happen when you're hurried and not very enthusiastic. But," she continued, "some people can make a success out of a flop. If something doesn't turn out just as you had hoped, patch it up the best you can and present it with assurance.

"Develop your own style. Don't be terrified of establishing your individuality. Do what you feel like doing, not what is expected. Don't be nervous about what is appropriate."

Barbro said that when cooking on a budget, she finds that she doesn't always have the appropriate seasonings and herbs, "So I make do with what I have in the pantry."

"WHEN WE have less to work with, it often causes creativity," Shirley told the bride, whose open attitude and willingness to experiment she approved.

When a turkey, large roast, or other traditional holiday fare seems too large for a twosome," why not celebrate the holiday season by indulging in favorite things?" the home economist asked.

An intriguing menu featuring Cornish game hens would be festive fare for the novice and an interesting addition to the repertoire of the accomplished cook.

"Roast one Cornish game hen per person," Miss Sarvis advises. "Perch the brace of them on a bed of watercress, and surround with small roasted potatoes. Serve chilled sliced oranges for salad and a light-bodied but smooth red wine.

Italian prosciutto interlines the flesh of each bird. Peppered cream cheese makes the stuffing and saucing; as you eat, fork it over meat and potatoes."

CORNISH GAME HENS WITH HAM INTERLINING

2 Rock Cornish game hens, about 1 pound each
Salt
4 ounces very thinly sliced Italian Prosciutto or ham
4 ounces (half of a large package) cream cheese softened
Freshly ground black pepper
About 2 tablespoons melted butter
6 small new potatoes, peeled

Thaw game hens if necessary. Sprinkle cavity of each lightly with salt. Loosen skin from flesh over breast and back of each bird by gently slipping fingers between, reaching from neck and body openings. Insert prosciutto slices so they cover breast and back meat of each bird. Mix cream cheese and about one-quarter teaspoon coarsely ground pepper and spoon half into body cavity of each bird. Close body and neck openings with small skewers. Place birds, breasts up on rimmed baking sheet. Brush with melted butter. Coat potatoes with melted butter, season with salt and pepper and place alongside birds. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 50 minutes.

Another recipe which could be a happy holiday choice features spareribs and artichokes. This is one of the meat-vegetable combinations which Shirley favors for two at the table. To complete the meal, she suggests only corn bread, or French bread, and a smooth red table wine.

SHERRY GLAZED SPARERIBS AND ARTICHOKES

1 side pork spareribs (about 2 pounds), cracked
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ cup each dry sherry and honey
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
3 tablespoons minced fresh onion
1 clove garlic, minced or mashed
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 package (about 9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts, thawed just to separate

Sprinkle spareribs generously on both sides with salt and pepper. Place in shallow roasting pan, and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for 40 minutes. Drain off accumulated fat. Mix together remaining ingredients, except artichokes, and pour over spareribs. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees, and bake ribs for 40 minutes more, basting occasionally. Add artichokes to roasting pan, and stir into sauce to coat. Bake for 10 minutes more or until artichokes are tender. Arrange spareribs on serving platter with artichokes and sauce spooned over.

Recognizing that not all eating for two is dining, "Table for Two," has sections on paired picnics, significant snacks, soup and pie suppers, breakfasts and brunches, and midnight breakfasts.

One interesting suggestion for an after-the-party repast is

SWEDISH OVEN PANCAKE

3 slices bacon, cut into small pieces
⅔ cup sifted flour
1½ tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1⅓ cups milk
About ⅔ cup heavy cream, whipped
About ⅔ cup lingonberry preserves or cranberries in sauce

Cook bacon in 9 inch frying pan until crisp (do not pour off drippings unless in excess of 3 tablespoons). Sift flour, sugar and salt together into bowl. Beat eggs lightly with milk, add to dry ingredients, and beat until smooth. Pour batter over bacon in hot frying pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 30 minutes or until set and golden brown. Serve immediately: cut into wedges, top with whipped cream, then lingonberries or cranberries.

Toppings for Swedish Oven Pancake can be varied. A savory topping of unsweetened whipped cream and parsley or a sweet topping of whipped cream sprinkled with cinnamon and drizzled with mild honey are also suggested by Miss Sarvis.

"IF THE COOK only has one cookpot it should be a large one," Shirley Sarvis tells Barbro Hutchison. She points out other essentials from her check list—a French knife, spatula, slotted pancake turner, rolling pin, beaters, pepper grinders. "It's nice to have a blender," the author of five cookbooks tells the recent bride. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

"TWO PLACES CAN be set on a coffee table for dining in a small apartment when no dining room is available," Shirley Sarvis, author of "Table for Two," advises Mrs. Edward E. Hutchison, a recent bride. "The centerpiece must be low," the cooking expert suggested.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mid-Teen Puzzled With Results Of Communication Attempt

DEAR HELEN:

My boy friend who is 15, wrote me a poem. At the bottom he put "P.S. Please excuse my awful spelling. I can't help being dumb."

He isn't dumb, and I didn't want him to think he is, so I casually suggested he use a dictionary when unsure of a word.

He looked very hurt and said he wished he'd never written the poem.

I only wanted to help. What did I do wrong? — D.T.H.

DEAR D:

If a boy brought you flowers, would you tell him a few are wilted? This was no time to play teacher, Honey. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The new morality as I understand it, is making your own decision, based on the common good. That is, toss out rigid rules like "Good girls don't" and ask, "Is this right for us, and will it hurt anyone?"

Well, maybe that works for very mature people. But the mature ones aren't buying the philosophy as much as the immature ones who figure it means "Anything goes, and if I don't go along, I won't get to go out with anyone."

If we were very wise, we could live without rules. Isn't it a shame we aren't taught first to be wise — through sex education in schools for one thing — before we're handed a new concept we aren't ready for? — PHILOSOPHER J. G.

DEAR PHIL:

Certainly is. The greatest shame is that the too-young latch on to the idea without understanding the concept. What may sometimes work for mature, thinking adults can turn a teen's life into a shambles. And I have thousands of letters to prove it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We started dating when I was 16 and he was 18. He was the first fellow I really loved. I didn't want to go all the way, but he convinced me it was right.

About two weeks later, he broke up with me because he had found another girl. In a month, he was back, and he almost cried when he apologized for dumping me. He said he'll always love me, and — well, I tried to tell him I didn't want any more sneaking, but somehow he won because I love him.

It's now kind of like we're an old married couple, except we aren't, and I hate the physical part because it's all shame and worry, and being afraid someone will catch us when we park on lonely roads. But if I stop that part, he'll drop me. He gets mad and says I'm foolish to be so old-fashioned, but I can't help the way I feel. Can you tell me where all this will end? — GUILTY

DEAR GUILTY:

All this can end several ways — either in pregnancy, a bitter break-up, or a so-so marriage; but I can almost guarantee you won't "live together happily ever afterward." You have too much guilt and resentment between you — and there are no surer stifflers of love. — H.

SKETCHES BLOSSOM

An organized paint-in was completed this week at Marin Montessori School in San Rafael. Pre-school youngsters were joined by students from the College of Marin art classes to paint on a wall, sketches of a toy train, giant snail, sunflower and other objects of interest to children. Preparing more paint as children wield brushes are COM students Mark Stevens (pouring paint), Johanna Hausle with back to the camera and Margery Craig, looking at the wall. Children in the foreground are, left to right, Scott Shihadeh, ChiChai Broman, Kerry Stack, Heidi Blum and Lydia Smith. In the background are Shawn Robinson, Jocelyn Nerrie, Ellen Turner and Randi Schoenstadt.

Miss Hoppe To Be Wed On Jan. 30

Announced at a family party Sunday given by Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hoppe at their home in Mill Valley was the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Hoppe, to Michael Browning. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Browning of Helena, Mont.

DEBORAH HOPPE

The couple will be married on Jan. 30 in Mill Valley.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Deborah is in her first year at the College of Marin. She is the sister of Stephanie and Peter Hoppe of Mill Valley.

Michael was graduated from high school in Helena and is attending City College of San Francisco.

Beds Present Delivery Problems

NEW YORK (UPI)—Beds may be getting bigger, but bedroom doors are the same old size. That just about sums up the supersize bedding delivery problem. The Latex Foam Rubber Council surveyed the top furniture retail stores in the country and found they are selling more king and queensize bedding, despite supersize headaches when it comes time to deliver.

Conventional innerspring supersize mattresses are heavy and rigid and cause difficulty in both king and queen sizes. Bending an innerspring to get it through a door can permanently damage the mattress. Modern latex foam rubber supersizes have the answer here. They are light and fold in half, easily, for trouble-free delivery, yet are sufficiently firm to support the body evenly and comfortably.

Boxsprings for a kingsize bed are easy to deliver, because two twin boxsprings are used and joined together in the home.

Queensize boxsprings, measuring 60 by 80 inches, do present a delivery problem, since they are made "all in one," and are completely inflexible. Recognizing this problem, bedding manufacturers now make and deliver queensize boxsprings in two parts.

this time. Dr. David L. Bruce and co-workers at Northwestern University Medical School gave rats radioactive thymidine (one of the basic components of genetic material) and exposed them to halothane for between 10 minutes and 24 hours. Cells divide in regular cyclic patterns, in which the synthesis of the genetic material DNA preceeds mistosis or actual cell division. In control animals, exposed only to air, DNA synthesis took 6.1 hours. In animals exposed to 0.1 percent halothane in air, synthesis took 7.9 hours and in those exposed to 0.5 percent of the anesthetic systhesis lasted 10.2 hours.

MARRIED SATURDAY at the Mill Valley Community Church were Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur Badger. The bride is the former Lynn Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crawford of Mill Valley. (Faulkner photo)

ATTACKING A WALL of the Marin Montessori School and adding their ideas to the paint-in are, left to right, Gail Richardson, Bart Hoey, Heidi Blum and Patrick Bennett. The 14 by 50 foot wall is located in the play yard of the school. "Montessori students are led to believe they have the freedom to affect their environment" commented Miss Margy Craig, director of the school. Miss Craig was assisted in planning the project by Allen Widenhofer, design instructor at COM who expanded an idea for the paint-in from a suggestion made during a parent's meeting at the school.

Patricia Eckhard Will Be Wed To John Wieben

Mr. and Mrs. Henry William Eckhard of Mill Valley announce the engagement of their daughter Patricia (Patty) Merle Eckhard, to John Stewart Wieben, son of Col. and Mrs. John Douglas Wieben.

The Wiebens are in Israel, where Col. Wieben is with the U. S. Defense Attache Office. With them is another son, Eric Wieben.

Both of the young people were graduated from Tamalpais High School. Patty attended College of Marin and is employed with Rathbone, King and Seeley in San Francisco and part-time in the offices of Dr. John W. Hoag and Gerald W. Belanger in Mill Valley.

She is the sister of Michael Eckhard, a freshman at Tamalpais High School.

John attended the University of Colorado, College of Marin and is now at the University of California at Irvine.

The couple will be married in January at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

PATRICIA ECKHARD

Ronald Lakeman Wed In Rite Saturday In Alabama

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Colburn of Centreville, Ala., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lakeman of San Rafael.

Mrs. Paul Cook of Selma was the bride's only attendant. Church Ledger of Americus, Ga. was best man, and Jack Harari of New York ushered.

Peggy was graduated from Bibb County High School and is employed at Beautyfair Salon in Selma. Mrs. Paul Johnson of New Orleans, La., and Janice Colburn of Centreville are her sisters.

Ronald is a graduate of San Rafael High School. He is a jet engine mechanic in the Air Force. Richard Lakeman of San Rafael is his brother.

The couple will live in Selma following a wedding trip to New Orleans.

ON THE AGENDA

Marin Children Will Share Christmas With Youngsters

Children in Marin County are starting early to plan gifts for other children who will be spending Christmas day in residence at either Sonoma State Hospital or Children's Center at Napa State Hospital.

Their preparations have been sparked by plans for the second annual Children's Party to be held at Marin Co-op in Corte Madera, Dec. 14. Admission fee to either the 2 p.m. or the 3 p.m. party will be one new or like-new gift for a child, unwrapped. Barrels will be placed in the Co-op store Sunday where gifts may be dropped earlier by adults and others wishing to brighten the holidays for the young patients at Sonoma and Napa.

Plans are proceeding under the guidance of a committee that includes Mrs. Lee Collor of the Co-op staff; Mrs. Dan Beittel, Mrs. Larry Mishkind and Mrs. Donald Wolter of Marin Association for Mental Health Auxiliary; Mrs. Fernando Herrera representing Marin Aid to Retarded Children, and Mrs. Bradford Godfrey of Ladies Aid to Retarded Children.

Scout troops, Brownies and even nursery schools are involved in the decorating for the party and making gift items.

Entertainment highlight will be two puppet shows by Joanne Syrek's Migrant Theater of Berkeley. At 2:30 p.m. she will present "The Gift of the Magi," and at 3:15 p.m. "Mrs. Santa and the Toy Thieves." Group singing will be led by Mrs. William Lamers and her guitar, with the help of Brownie Troop 499 of Kentfield.

Christmas Collages is the theme of the decorating that will be the work of Girl Scout Troop 2058 of Terra Linda, assisted in this project by Mrs. Arthur Reiss. Among groups making gifts are Brownie Troop 499, hand puppets; Corte Madera-Larkspur Cooperative Nursery School, bean bags and Ross Nursery School.

Marin Association for Mental Health's Auxiliary is handling publicity, will help conduct the party and will be in charge of sorting the gifts before they are collected by the hospitals.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS Wiggin have been installed as worthy patron and worthy matron of Novato Chapter 609, Order of Eastern Star.

Special escorts were the Wiggins' children: Janet, Jeff, Shirley and Mrs. Joel Hollander.

Installing officers were Mrs. Joseph Wilson and Earl Marshall, the retiring worthy matron and worthy patron; Mrs. Ida Chilcoat and Robert Coursey, installing officers; Mrs. Robert McKeay and Mrs. Lee Wise, marshals; and Mrs. Marie Tubb, chaplain.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bussman are associate patron and matron and Mesdames Calvin Ball, secretary; George Weatherstone, treasurer; Wallace Campbell, conductors; Earl Marshall, associate conductress; Joe Lewis, marshal; Lee Conyers, organist; Mr. Earl Marshall, chaplain; and Mesdames Stephen Shoemaker, Adah; Henry Torget, Ruth; Stanford Warner, Esther; Fred Meggers, Electa; and Miss Sharyn Betts, Martha.

Mrs. Roy Butler will serve as warden and George Weatherstone as sentinel.

MRS. DAVID DUNHAM of Terra Linda will be in charge of a booth for Gamma Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi tomorrow. The sorority members will be selling Christmas wreaths at the Co-Op Food Store in Corte Madera from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. The sale is in cooperation with other organizations in a community effort to display holiday ideas.

INTERNATIONAL ORDER of Job's Daughters Bethel 48 will hold initiation Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in San Rafael. Girls to be initiated are Kristine Adamson, Sharon Benedict, Kathryn Burke, Sheryl Cazheaux, Sharon Vincilione, Kathryn Weichert and Claudia Woodland. Presiding will be honored queen Jonna Peden.

Installation of the guardian council will follow: Mrs. Thelma Tabor, guardian; Henry Aubel, associate guardian; Mrs. Louise Stephens, secretary; Mrs. Life Ostern, treasurer; Mrs. John Peden, director of music; Mrs. Richard West, director of epochs; Mrs. Frank Bertch, promoter of sociability; Mrs. Robert Wales, custodian of paraphernalia; and Lawrence Hollman, director of finance.

The council members will be installed by Mrs. Angie Goulder, deputy grand guardian of the state of California.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Two English Players Know How To Win International Laurels

The world's best women's team didn't play in the women's Olympics last June since Great Britain stayed out because of a dispute over the eligibility of Terence Reese. The British women showed their mettle a few weeks later by winning the open pair championship in the international tournament in Deauville.

NOT TYPICAL

Mrs. Fritzi Gordon and Mrs. Rixi Markus, who defended against six spades in the hand shown today, don't sound typically English; and perhaps they're not. Members of the world championship Viennese team of 1937, they made their way to England during the years of turmoil in Europe. By now they are considered as English as marmalade.

Mrs. Gordon led the queen of diamonds, and South won, drew trumps, cashed the clubs and the other top diamond and got out with a diamond.

Mrs. Gordon knew that she had to return a heart since a club return would abviously allow dummy to ruff while South discarded a heart. The question was which heart to lead.

UNUSUAL RETURN

Most players would thoughtlessly return a low heart from the West hand. South would play dummy's eight, and East would have to put up the queen to drive out the ace. South would then lead a heart to win a finesses with dummy's ten, making the slam.

HIGH RETURN

Mrs. Gordon was familiar with the problem, and also with the solution. Upon being given her diamond trick she returned the jack of hearts.

Now declarer still had to lose a heart trick. If he won in his own hand, he would later have to lose a trick to East's queen; and if he won in dummy, he would later lose a trick either to the queen or to the nine.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠—6
♥—Q 7 4
♦—8 7 5 2
♣—J 9 8 5 2.
What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs.

You have only 3 points in high cards, but you should count 3 points for the singlteon, and 1 point for extra length in partner's suit. The total is enough for a raise.

No Holes Here

NORFOLK, England (UPI)—There were no holes in one—or in 10 or 20 or 30 either—at Gorleston golf course one day recently. Players found all 18 flags had been cemented into the cups by vandals. Workmen had to cut new ones.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 29, the 334th day of 1968 with 32 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1948 opera was telecast from the stage of the Met in New York City for the first time.

A thought for the day: Henry David Thoreau said, "How many a man has dated a new era in his life from the reading of a book."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

Battle Beneath the Earth — Science fiction. War Lord has constructed network of tunnels in U.S. complete with atom bombs. Marine combat team foils the enemy.

Mrs Brown, You've Got a Lovely Daughter — Lighthearted comedy with music by Herman's Hermits. Mrs. Brown is a prize greyhound.

The Parent Trap — Happy farce-comedy of teen-age twins separated when infants by parents' divorce and kept in total ignorance of each other.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Dr. Zhivago — Superb photography that produces an unforgettable picture of life in Russia during the revolution.

For the Love of Ivy — A romantic comedy, shiny and unreal, exploit comic misconceptions on both sides of race question. Torrid bed scene and some language startlingly frank.

From Russia With Love — A preposterous James Bond espionage. Perplexing action punctuated by sexy situations and spectacular refinements of death-dealing gadgets.

In Enemy Country — Well told World War II counter-espionage drama keeps up goodly amount of surprises and excitement.

Up the Down Staircase — Excellent drama. Realistic portrayal of young woman who teaches school in New York's slum area. Touchy moments delicately handled. Humor smoothly interwoven.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

Never Too Late — Intimate marriage relations held up to ridicule, a silly and tasteless attempt at comedy.

Thunderball — James Bond uses much sex and violence to provoke laughter. Unpalatable cruelty is passed off as "Spoof" and morals simply do not exist.

ADULTS ONLY

Barbarella — Adult comic strip goes so far beyond mere vulgarity in sex, nudity and perverted brutality that it is close to pornography.

Coogan's Bluff — Deputy sheriff from Arizona is assigned to bring back escaped killer being held by New York police. Sadistic suspense film with undertones of sexual promiscuity and nudity.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklas — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

Lady in Cement — Tony Rome again searches the haunts of the underworld gangsters; crime is treated as comedy.

Ulysses — Straight adaptation of James Joyce's controversial novel. More candid and explicit in its treatment of sex than any film to date.

'Tartuffe' Slated By San Rafael High Students

"Tartuffe," Moliere's classic farce about an unfrocked priest and the family he fleeces, will be presented by San Rafael High School at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Dec. 7 in the school auditorium.

David Kirschner will play the title role. Other players are Derek Taylor as Orgon, Leslie Corston as Elmire, Cindy Prescott as Mariane, Michael Allen as Valere, Greg Shore as Damis, Sherri Friedman as Dorine, Holly Vernon as Madame Pernelle, Charles Langlais as the bailiff, Frank Riggs as a policeman and Colette Savage as a maid.

ART REVIEW

A Practitioner Of The Art Of Mosaics

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Since around the 13th Century when frescoes supplanted mosaics in mural art, mosaics have found few fine arts practitioners. Most artists seem disinclined to bother with the laborous tile-setting process.

A present day exception is Belveder artist, Helen Steinau Rich. In her show of mosaics and cartoons (drawings for the finished product) through Dec. 21 at the Mill Valley Library gallery. Mrs. Rich revitalizes the ancient technique with shimmering interest.

Her thick, multi-leveled interpretations of birds, bugs and other things have the excitement of stained glass colors and natural stone, fractured by crusty grout and metal and set into motion with sweeps of Van Gogh-like lines.

The effect can be strangely prehistoric as in "Pelican," its spreading form winging darkly through ribbons of glistening night and sunset colors. In fact, a Fantasia aura resides in much of Mrs. Rich's work as in the triple panel "Insects Imaginary," where insect shapes emerge from a network of boiling lines and colors which spin suddenly from quiet tones.

The materials Mrs. Rich uses are her greatest strength. Soft opaque stones changing to rows of opalescent shells and mirrored or transparent chips create depth and catch the light in myriad ways. They take full advantage of the angle of incidence as do up-ended chunks which feather many of her birds.

Her colors add even more. Blues are deep and intense building to torquoise and greens and offset against hot colors, hammered gold and corroded copper.

As for the cartoons which accompany many of the finished pieces, they are of interest in showing how flexible even the final tile setting remains. These drawings do little more than establish design and subject matter in loose, usually grayscale terms.

The rush of life and motion is omitted, showing that in mosaics, as in other media, immediacy and unmechanical freshness depend of the moment of creation and on the mind and hand of the individual artist.

Schools-Police Report On Tap

The Fairfax School District Board will hear a report Tuesday on recent staff meetings with Fairfax Police Chief James R. Orr to improve liaison between police and schools. The board will meet at 7:45 p.m. in the district office, 58 Park Road.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said he will report a proposal to have school principals meet regularly with policemen to discuss potential problems.

The board will also consider renewal of Hammond's contract, which will expire July 1, 1969, and will hear a committee report on plans for family life education.

Pueblo Crew Statements Confirmed

An American spokesman denied, however, that the tapes contained Christmas messages to families of Pueblo crewmen being held in North Korea.

"They are not Christmas greetings from Pueblo crew members," the spokesman said, "but contain material that already has been received by Pueblo next of kin." He did not elaborate.

The spokesman added that the U.S. government has copies of the tapes in its possession and that the originals "now (are) being held by West Berlin authorities."

A West Berlin newspaper reported last Saturday that the tapes had been found and seized and that they apparently were Christmas messages from Pueblo crew members.

The newspaper account said the tapes had been brought here by a West Berlin buyer with trade connections to the North Korean Embassy in East Berlin. Police said only that investigation is continuing.

Filming Moves To Formosa City

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Shooting began today in Taipei on sequences of a film "The Chairman" that originally were scheduled to be shot in Hong Kong.

The government in the British crown colony refused to allow producer Mort Abrahams to film there after supporters of Chinese Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung threatened violence.

Abrahams denied yesterday that the film was anti-Mao or against the Chinese people. He said it was "an entertainment picture and totally nonpolitical."

College Band Sets Concert On Dec. 7

The winter concert of the College of Marin Community Band will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 7 in the fine arts theater on the college campus.

John H. Myers will conduct the band in works by Sousa, Douglas Moore, Don Gillis, Gustav Holst and other composers. Admission is free.

African Pact Set

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI)— Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania announced through a spokesman yesterday they will sign on agreement soon for joint construction of Africa's first satellite communication system making possible television transmission and direct dial telephone calls from Europe.

Troubador Pablo Castro Brings His Own New Songs To Ramona's

If the repertory of troubador Pablo Castro at Ramona's these days seems to be more varied — it is.

Pablo, a composer of no mean talent, has been turned out some catchy Latin-American songs of his own and at the same time increasing his knowledge of others, mostly in Spanish. He's added many of the recently popular and several old standards to his supply.

One exception, with the words in English, is a song you might have thought he'd have learned long ago. But while it's a familiar tune here it evidently never made the hit parade as far south of the border as Chile, and that's Ramona. It's a natural theme song for this restaurant.

In any event he's finally learned the English words and you can tell that he's quite proud of the accomplishment. Pablo, by the way, is developing a strong outside following and is in great demand for private parties with his guitar and excellent voice.

And increasing in demand at Ramona's is her carne asada, teamed up with an enchilada verde, chalupa, rice and beans, beverage and Ramona's special sundae for dessert. This is quite a spread; meat is juicy and tender and you should enjoy it.

THERE'S A NEW MENU out at Sabella's, with more classic seafood selections and combinations than the average person is likely to try in his lifetime. All the old Sabella favorites are represented: abalone a la Giovanni, stuffed turbot, craviolis, baked flounder gourmet, plus many more.

And I see something that I believe was not on the menu before — a $3.75 "Shore Dinner," with a choice of rex sole, sand dabs, filet of sole or Farallon Island rock bass.

Just in case your family is split on red flesh or fish, there is a fine choice of steaks, brochettes, chops, chicken and scallopini.

Lou Sabella is continuing his research into the early development of the Italian fishing industry in the Bay Area and the part the Sabella family played in it. A number of early photographs are on display and so, too, is a beautiful model of the Flying Cloud, an early clipper ship he had specially prepared for the restaurant exhibit.

The new menu, by the way, carries a historical summary of the Sabella family from the time Luciano Sabella at the age of 15 migrated to San Francisco in the 1880s.

Organ music still is furnished by Bob Stewart Tuesdays through Saturdays and by Jean Denning on Monday nights. Hours are from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

And in case you haven't noticed lovely Rosalind Sabella, youngest daughter of the late Angelo Sabella, who suddenly grew up and has been getting more and more into the family picture. She is in charge of much of the restaurant's publicity work.

SO YOU THINK Thanksgiving is all over except for the leftovers and the wishbone. Not so. Jean's Kitchen in Ross, closed yesterday as were many Marin restaurants, is offering up a Thanksgiving turkey dinner tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday for those who didn't get enough white meat or got none at all. Trimmings include Jean Dobson's usual fine home-cooked food, including cornbread dressing and Tennessee pumpkin pie.

But if you're fed up on turkey for awhile, you might look in at Jean's tonight and order her crab lasagne complete dinner at $3.25. It's in great demand.

COMES NOW the season of holiday parties. Many dineries have spacious banquet rooms to offer for gatherings. Space for such affairs, however, has a way of booking up fast. If you have a group event on the calendar and haven't tied it down, don't tarry in checking out the possibilities and making a reservation.

Christmas Day itself is not an especially big day for restaurants and you will find a number of them closing, with a few giving token recognition to scattered diners who prefer not to eat at home.

Next big event is New Year's Eve and it won't be necessary to go to the city to look for adequate facilities for celebration if space is reserved early enough in advance. In particular, where a full evening of dinner, music and dancing is provided reservations book up fast during December.

Based on what happened last year, here are a few places likely to close out their reservations early:

Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai in Tiburon — You'll need early reservations for the upstairs party, but probably not for dinner downstairs.

Windjammer, Tiburon — Early reservations suggested.

Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera — This is likely to be much more popular this year and you should at least make an early inquiry.

Sabella's, Mill Valley, is a large place and occasionally tables are available at a late hour — but don't count on it.

Inn Marin, Strawberry, is bound to have some kind of New Year's Eve program under Ron Hennig's management. Worth checking early.

Rancho Nicasio — Usually has a package arrangement every year for the entire evening and closes reservations very early.

Rubini's, Fairfax — Partytime dinner is from 10 p.m. on New Year's Eve. Make reservations soon. Early diners will have to be out by that time.

La Petite Auberge, San Rafael — Another place that books up its 10 p.m. party quickly. Don't wait on this.

Executive Lounge, San Rafael, a newcomer on the scene this year, is expected to have a "package New Year's Eve party" by reservation only. This could book up fast.

Taberna, San Rafael — While the schedule here has been changed recently it may be changed again for a big New Year's. Keep in close touch.

Le Chalet Basque, Santa Venetia — Frequently is booked up a week or more before New Year's.

Nero's Room, Nave Lanes, Ignacio — There's usually a big party here. Inquire early.

Between now and New Year's Eve more information will be given on this page as it received.

ANOTHER FASHION SHOW is scheduled for the Executive Lounge in the Kaehler-Farrar Building, San Rafael next Friday evening. The same winsome ex-Playboy bunny is putting it on. Styles are different, of course.

THIS IS THE LAST weekend Manka's Czech Restaurant at Inverness Lodge will be open for a month. On Monday it will close down until Dec. 31 while Milan and Judy Prokupak spend their annual winter holiday skiing in Aspen, Colo.

AFTER BEING CLOSED since last Saturday, Rubini's in Fairfax is open again tonight with its usual excellent choice of steaks and seafoods.

Larkspur artist Katy Blades will have her award winning paintings on display here throughout the month of December.

Students Search For Addition To Allegiance Pledge

The daily pledge of allegiance has "lost meaning for many students through constant repetition," according to three Terra Linda High School students, and might be replaced or augmented by other observances.

The school student council has appointed a five-member committee to study "meaningful alternatives" to the pledge after Ken Downs and two other students complained that the pledge has "lost its meaning and there are no alternatives."

Downs said the state law calls for a daily "patriotic observance," but not specifically the pledge. He suggested patriotic songs as an alternative and said the pledge need not be dropped but other observances could be added.

Downs, Mark Manion and Skip Whitney asked the student council for the study and were named to the committee along with council members Sue McCue and Al Kerr.

Erosion Concerns Bolinas Board

Concern over the continual erosion of Bolinas Harbor at the end of the Kent Estates was expressed at the Bolinas Harbor District Board meeting Wednesday night.

Planner Norman T. Gilroy said the sandy beach has been undercut by ocean waves with some areas being eroded as much as 300 feet. He said high tides in mid December, coupled with occasional sea storms could endanger the nearby tennis courts.

Parents Who Spare The Rod May Change Child's Hormone Pattern

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — Man's poor adjustment to civilized life has been blamed for everything from stomach ulcers to warfare. According to theory, he has the adrenaline system of a primitive and the social needs of a civilized man.

The stress hormone — adrenaline — enabled primitive man to fight or flee for his life, but modern man can't express himself so easily that way.

This argument depends, however, on how stable the adrenaline system is and how impervious to experience.

According to a growing body of information, human adrenaline patterns are not at all immune to the effects of early experience. There is reason to believe that the kind of discipline a child receives in his early years greatly affects his adrenaline pattern, and not only the kind of punishment, but the specific age at which it is given.

Very early punishment — a good hard smack a day for children less than 21 months old — seems to create an adrenaline pattern suggesting aggressive traits. But later punishment at the same rate appears to have opposite effects — creating anxiety rather than aggressiveness.

The theory is that early punishment may habituate the child to stress, making him aggressive, while the same discipline given after a critical period results in intense reaction to stress, and a fearful child.

Evidence of such correlations between child discipline and adrenaline patterns comes from a cross culture study of Swedish and Formosan children. The study is not yet complete.

An individual's adrenaline pattern can best be understood as the ratio between two substances, one called noradrenaline and related to aggression; the other called adrenaline and related to fear. Much work suggests that these two substances represent very different, opposing functions, says Dr. Patsy Sampson, a physiological psychologist at Wellsley College in Massachusetts and one of the investigators in the cross cultural work.

Apparently, the higher the ratio of noradrenaline over adrenaline, the more aggressive the individual will be, says Dr. Sampson.

In Sweden and Taiwan, the ratios vary according to the kind of punishment a child receives and its timing.

Formosan mothers start punishment late, compared to Western practice, but it can be quite severe. Of 64 children studied by Dr. Arthur Wolf of Cornell University, about half were hit rather than scolded as the typical means of discipline. These children had high adrenaline levels. The others, typically scolded, did not.

In a first draft of their preliminary work, the authors, which also include Dr. William Lambert, Cornell sociologist, speculate that the combination of late and rather harsh punishment could raise adrenaline levels to a point where children are living biochemically like laboratory subjects under stress.

The Swedish material gave quite different results and pointed up existence of a critical age period. Dr. Lambert found that those children who were consistently smacked prior to 21 months of age had much lower adrenaline levels than those whose punishment began later.

The findings reflect early adaptation to frequent punishment, says Dr. Lambert.

They can also, of course, reflect genetic differences between children or cultures, which in turn cause parents to use different punishment methods.

"That is always a possibility with correlation studies," says Dr. Sampson. But she points out that the data looks much neater if punishment is viewed as a cause rather than an effect of adrenaline patterns.

"At this point, the material is suggestive and very interesting, but tentative," she says.

Further confirmation should come from analysis of actual behavior among the Swedish and Formosan children, now in process, and from experimental work on animals, which so far supports the findings.

Perhaps the main argument in its favor, however, is its logic. The adrenalines, along with other hormones of the nervous system, have now been thoroughly implicated in personality. The level of noradrenaline, for instance, affects mood, and a common treatment for depression is to raise noradrenaline levels with antidepressant drugs.

If the hormones are viewed as personality traits, it only makes sense that parents, in shaping the child's personality, also shape his biochemistry.

Annual Rice Raids Started

BANGKOK (AP) — Communist troops in Laos have begun their annual rice raids in the Mekong Valley and foreign observers expect them to last a month or more.

Some 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in Laos together with thousands of Pathet Lao soldiers and supporters. They live mostly in food-short mountainous areas.

If they don't raid the lowlands, the rice has to be brought down the Ho Chi Minh trail from North Vietnam, where rice is far from plentiful.

Besides feeding the resident Communist troops, the rice also goes to infiltrating North Vietnamese troops passing through Laos on their way to battle zones in South Vietnam. The current infiltration rate is estimated at 15,000 to 20,000 a month.

Women Lead The Money Losing List

NEW YORK (AP) — Women are twice as likely to lose money as men, reports a study of what happens to the roughly $2 billion cash Americans lose each year.

About seven million Americans last year had money lost, stolen or accidentally destroyed. The loss figure is double that of 1965, and up from about $700 million Americans lost in 1961-1962.

Women are most likely to lose money at home or shopping, when they give a clerk a $10 bill instead of a $1 or when they don't bother to count their change. Setting a pocketbook down on a counter for a few minutes—enough time for a thief to grab it—is another common way women lose money.

Men are less likely to lose money at home, but lose it about twice as often on the job or at a place of entertainment.

The study for American Express Co. showed a college-educated person is more loss prone than one with a high school education or less. Managers are more than twice as likely to let money slip through their fingers as workers, farmers or professional people.

Among age groups, youth is more loss-prone and older people are the most tight fisted. The tendency to lose money starts to decline at about age 30 and drops off permanently after 50.

Most people who lose money remember where they lose it, but more than half don't recall how the loss occurred. People with lower incomes tend to recall how they lost money more often than more prosperous Americans.

About 21 per cent of losses involves sums of $200 or more and roughly 9 per cent are losses of less than $9.

George D. Gazulis is president of the Marinwood Association.

SLEUTH'S INTUITION

Predawn Bike Theft Rash Solved By Chief

Terra Linda Fire Chief George A. Walser was credited today with cracking a one-boy bicycle theft ring which has plagued Terra Linda's two-wheeler set for the past three weeks.

Walser, a special deputy sheriff, told San Rafael police his peace officer's intuition paid off with the capture of a 15-yea-old Terra Linda boy, peddling on a stolen bike, at 5:15 a.m. today.

Several bicycles have been stolen in the area in recent weeks, the chief said. As he worked the case, Walser said, he began to notice a modus operandi.

Apparently, the bikes were stolen in the early morning hours, he said. The thief always seemed to abandon the stolen two wheelers somewhere near the point of theft. To Walser, this looked like the work of a newspaper delivery boy.

This morning, he proved his theory correct. His suspect, caught at the corner of Del Ganado and Las Raposas roads, admitted stealing the Stingray he was riding at from a house near Vallejo Way and Duran Drive.

What's more, he admitted stealing nine other bikes in the past three weeks. His bicycle has been broken and he needs one for his morning newspaper route, he reportedly told the chief.

San Rafael police said the boy sees nothing wrong with the thefts. He prefers to think of it as borrowing, since he always leaves the bikes in the neighborhood where he steals them.

He was turned over to his father and told to come to the police department Wednesday for a talk with the city's juvenile officer.

Color TV Stolen

A $400 color television set was stolen from the loading dock of Pacific Motor Transit Terminal at 35 Jordan Street, San Rafael, sometime Tuesday night, San Rafael police reported today.

House Fire A Surprise To Guests

A Woodacre man who arrived home last night at about 10:20 found his guests in the living room unaware that the other end of the house was in flames.

Tommas Tomplins of 249 Redwood Drive drove to the fire department a few blocks away to report the fire because he had no phone, firemen said.

When the Marin County Fire Department's trucks arrived, a few minutes later, the fire had spread from the garage and back bedroom throughout the wood-paneled house, Chief Louis J. Bloom said.

The four guests, whom Bloom described along with Tompkins as "hippies," had noticed the fire by this time and were standing outside.

The $15,000 house, owned by Alexander Eagle of San Francisco, was totally destroyed. Bloom said that the furnishings, valued at $6,000 which mostly belonged to Eagle, were also lost.

The fire apparently started in the garage in a chimney to a wood stove in the back bedroom, according to Bloom.

Man Is Arrested In Name Fuss

A 21-year-old Oakland man was arrested early today by Mill Valley police after he refused to identify himself when officers found him sitting in a police car parked behind city hall.

William B. Peavey Jr. was booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of resisting arrest and failure to identify himself. He posted $785 bail. He was scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said a matron on duty at 1:30 a.m. today noticed Peavey standing by the parked police cars. When Sgt. John Castellani went to investigate he found Peavey getting out of one of the patrol cars.

Castellani said he asked Peavey to identify himself several times and when he refused, placed him under arrest. Peavey then struggled to escape but was subdued and taken to jail, Castellani reported.

College Is Neutral On Careers Plans

The College of Marin administration declined today to endorse either of two proposals for a New Careers program administered by the County of Marin.

Dr. Louis H. Herkenoff, acting president of the college, said it was up to county government to decide on the best program to introduce members of minority groups to new fields of employment. The college, expected to play a large role in educational, counseling and tutorial services for the new careerists, would then join in implementing the program, Herkenhoff said.

The county board of supervisors on Tuesday endorsed in principle a plan by the county administrator's office to create 26 jobs for new careerists in the next fiscal year at a cost of $245,000, with the county paying $185,000.

Dr. Arthur Pearl, a consultant hired by the county last spring, has proposed a conflicting program that would absorb disadvantaged persons into present county positions at, he claimed, little cost.

Although Herkenhoff said the college was interested in the program, he declined on KTIM's Sounding Board to be drawn into the controversy between Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella and Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the human rights department, over which proposal was best.

Campanella and Thompson also appeared on the radio program, with Campanella defending the administrator's plan and Thompson reaffirming support of Pearl's proposal.

A fourth panelist on the show was Robert H. Elliott, county personnel director, who said a New Careers program would not disturb the county employees' merit system.

Leake Sees Student Civil War At Hand

I-J Special Report

RICHMOND — Paul R. Leake, state Board of Equalization member and Woodland editor, told Richmond Rotarians today that "anyone who isn't hot and bothered about what is going on in our colleges has to be high on an LSD trip. The civil war is not just around the corner . . . it is here and in full bloom."

However, Leake said at the luncheon meeting, "it is a war that is too one-sided. If a majority of students really want an education, why do they kowtow to a handful of faculty scarecrows and a small mob of roughnecks, many of whom don't care a damn about an education and are only out to promote turmoil."

He praised the suit, brought by John Frederick Craemer, 20, of Greenbrae, which earned a Marin Superior Court order that acting president S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State open the college Monday or show cause why he should not. (See also, page 1.)

Craemer, a student at the strike-bound college, filed his action on behalf of himself and the colleges 17,000 other students.

"Let's hope that the Craemer lad's idea will catch on with the other students who represent the silent majority of San Francisco State College," Leake said.

Burglary Case Hearing Is Set

Benney Jones, 28, San Francisco street sweeper arrested on suspicion of burglary of a Corte Madera Shopping Center store yesterday, will appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday. He was released from Marin County Jail after paying $3,750 bail.

Police were still seeking today a second man allegedly involved in the burglary of 50 suits from Mr. Smith's, a men's clothing store.

Jones was arrested after a pre-dawn high-speed chase along Highway 101, near the Mill Valley exit when he fled his car which had jumped a curb and landed on a divider. The other man being sought for questioning after escaping in the shopping center, according to police, is Charles Edward, 29, of San Francisco.

Crash Hurts Prove Fatal To Teen-Ager

Richard Michael Adams, 18, of 312 Washington Street, Petaluma, died yesterday at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital from head injuries suffered in a one-car accident Tuesday on Petaluma Boulevard South near McNear Avenue.

Adams had been a passenger in a car driven by Daniel W. David, 19, of 832 Wilmac Avenue, Novato, which struck a parked garbage truck, according to the California Highway Patrol. Yesterday David was transferred from Memorial Hospital to Sonoma County Community Hospital in Santa Rosa where he was reported in critical condition today.

Born in San Luis Obispo, Adams had lived in Petaluma for two years and was a senior at Petaluma Senior High School. He is survived by his parents, Mrs. Colleen Heidecker of Sparks, Nev., and Edgar Adams, of San Luis Obispo, and a brother, Louis Heidecker of Sparks, Nev.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Innocent Pleas To Murder Count

Daniel Nyhan, 43, of Tiburon, and his mother, Mrs. Elsie F. Nyhan, 72, of San Francisco, have pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of murder.

The mother and son, held without bail in San Francisco County Jail, are accused of killing Mrs. Genevieve Dolan, 61, whom Mrs. Nyhan called "my best friend."

Mrs. Dolan was found dead of head injuries in Mrs. Nyhan's apartment Oct. 25.

The mother and son are to appear in San Francisco Superior Court Tuesday for setting of a jury trial date.

Car Pilfering Suspect Arrested After Chase

A 41-year-old San Francisco man who eluded a Corte Madera police officer in a foot chase was arrested shortly after yesterday and booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of auto theft and petty theft.

The man, Leonard Paul Jason, was held in lieu of $1,515 bail.

Corte Madera Officer Martin van Drunen, on duty but going to a Greenbrae restaurant for a sandwich about 4:15 a.m. said he saw Jason beside a parked car at the rear of the Union service station at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bretano Way.

Jason was apparently pilfering an outdoor soft drink machine, the officer said. He reported that when he halted his own vehicle, Jason fled across the lot. Van Drunen said he gave chase afoot, lost Jason, and returned to the vehicles and gave a radio alert.

A check disclosed the second vehicle had been stolen in San Francisco from Virginia M. Russel of Red Bluff.

Van Drunen said the drink machine had been pried open but it wasn't determined if any money had been taken.

Jason was seen and arrested by sheriff's officers about 90 minutes later near the Hi Ho restaurant, 707 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley.

Corte Madera Burglars Take $1,200 Home Goods

Theft of $1,200 worth of items including a $500 color television set in a burglary of the home of Raymond Paul Paganini, 14 Paloma Drive, was reported today by Corte Madera police.

Paganini told officers he discovered the loss when he returned home about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. He said a key apparently was used to enter the house.

Included in the loot were two clock radios, three men's suits, a portable stereophonic set and kitchen items.

Officers said a witness told of seeing a station wagon with three men and a woman halt at the home. Three persons entered the house and loaded several items in the vehicle before departing, the witness added.

Mill Valley Teeners Accused Of Marijuana

Two Mill Valley boys, ages 16 and 17, were cited yesterday afternoon for possession of marijuana after police reportedly found the two smoking marijuana cigarettes in a vacant lot at East Blithedale and Kipling avenues.

A check of the cigarettes they attempted to get rid of when approached revealed they contained marijuana, Mill Valley police said.

Petaluman Among Laos Crash Dead

A Petaluma man with the U.S. Agency for International Development was killed Monday along with 23 other persons when an Air America aircraft crashed at Savannakhet, Laos.

Donald Kobayashi, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kobayashi, 865 Liberty Road, had been working in Laos for three years as an irrigation engineer.

A native of Whittier, he is also survived by a brother, Hitoshi Kobayashi of Petaluma, and three sisters, Nancy and Helen Kobayashi of Petaluma, and Mrs. Catherine Nagarenda of El Cerrito.

SPLENDID ANACHRONISM
This is the kind of home that people don't often live in these days, but should. Obsolescent, impractical, inconvenient, and absolutely delightful. Completely fenced three quarters of an acre with fabulous landscaping attributed to John McLaren, a big absolutely private swimming pool and a moon-viewing terrace. Rambling old house with a view of Mt. Tamalpais, 2 fireplaces, quarry tile floors, and old-fashioned charm. House and grounds are private, serene, and sun-drenched. The price for all this glory? A mere $47,500, far below present owner's cost. Exclusive.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Thursday, December 19, 1968, at the hour of 10:00 a.m. at the Fourth Street entrance of the Marin County Courthouse, San Rafael, State of California, DOMENIC J. CANNIZZARO, as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States of America, all payable at the time of sale, real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the center line of Wilson Avenue, which point is the Southwesterly corner of lot 221, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "AMENDED MAP NO. 1 OF SUBDIVISION C OF THE NOVATO RANCH, MARIN, COUNTY, CALIFORNIA", filed for record July 6, 1910 in Book 3 of Maps at page 53, Marin County Records; running thence from said point of beginning along the center line of said Wilson Avenue, North 34° 57′ 30″ East 90 feet, thence leaving said last mentioned line, South 60° 45′ East 200 feet; thence South 29° 15′ West 90 feet to the Southerly line of said Lot 221; and thence along said Southerly line North 60° 45′ West 200 feet to the point of beginning.

The sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession, or encumbrances to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by LEO JAMES BENNETT, a married man, as his sole and separate property, and LOIS VERZUH, a married woman, as her sole and separate property, to CALIFORNIA LAND TITLE COMPANY, a California corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of MARIAN W. DE LANEY, the named beneficiary, dated June 27, 1966, and recorded June 29, 1966, in Book 2061 at page 109 of Official Records of the County of Marin, State of California.

The undersigned Trustee was appointed and substituted as Trustee under the mentioned Deed of Trust by an instrument dated June 14, 1968, recorded on June 14, 1968, in Book 2218 at page 271 in the Official Records of Marin County and executed by CHARLES W. DE LANEY as special administrator of the Estate of MARIAN W. DE LANEY, pursuant to the provisions of said Deed of Trust.

Notice of Default and Election To Sell the described real property under the aforementioned Deed of Trust was recorded on June 21, 1968 in Book 2220 at page 65 of the Official Records of Marin County.

Said substitution of attorney and Notice of Default and Election to Sell, and the contents thereto, are specifically referred to hereby and incorporated herein by reference.

DATED: November 14, 1968.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Driver Error Still Ranks High As Cause Of Traffic Fatalities

VAN DELLEN

The driver is becoming traffic's forgotten man. For many years, it has been stressed that the most important aspect of any car is the man behind the wheel. We still believe this, despite the publicity associated with mechanical designs. Time will tell whether manufacturing safer automobiles will offset human error and other factors that influence driving.

To avoid misunderstanding, we are aware that the driver is not always responsible for accidents. And that the small group of accident repeaters do not cause the largest proportion of them.

On the other hand, mounting evidence indicates that heavy drinkers are responsible for half our traffic fatalities.

BECAUSE I AM not sold on the idea that boozers are sick, I go along with the theory that they have a responsibility, sober or drunk. The marked reduction in highway accidents in England since it is required that those involved in accidents undergo alcohol tests, tends to bear this out.

Many accidents also are traced to speeding, failure to yield, tailgating, and inattention. In addition to these violations, a questionnaire survery of 370 Maryland state police officers listed ignorance of and or disregard for the law; unqualified, untrained, inexperienced drivers; recklessness, carelessness, lack of courtesy; attitudes; temperament; emotions; and improper passing and turns. All of these involve driver error.

THE EXCEPTION was an inadequate magistrate system. Officers believed that heavier penalites and more stringent enforcement of traffic laws were needed. Enforcement obviously reduces speeding violations and injuries.

Our federal government might insist on building automobiles so heavy and solid that nothing could make them crumble — except a careless driver.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

TUMOR OVER COLLAR BONE

Mrs. P. wrties: I thought the lump on my collar bone was cancer, but the doctor called it a lipoma. He didn't recommend any treatment. Are these lesions dangerous?

REPLY

Lipomas are fatty tumors; they rarely become cancerous. Removal is advised only when the lesion is in the way or unsightly.

WARNINGS OF STROKE

REPLY

Normal, unless symptoms of an underlying disorder exist. The person suffering from high blood pressure, for example, may develop headache, dizziness, or a disturbance of vision.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Child Stealing Held A Crime

Tilly divorces Tom, and the court awards custody of their two daughters to Tilly. Tom, who is attached to his little girls, is not satisfied with weekly visiting rights. One day Tom takes off with his daughters and goes to another country.

For child-stealing the law has a criminal as well as a civil penalty. It is both a public crime, for which the court could sentence the offender to jail or prison; and a tort, a private wrong for which the court can make the offender pay damages to the injured person.

Any person who forcibly or fraudulently keeps and hides a child from his parents or his lawful custodian is guilty of a felony. For this crime he may have to serve a twenty-year prison term.

In a child-stealing charge one must prove to the court that the offender meant to hold and hide the child from the parent.

Child stealing was not proved in one case where two 16-year-old girls had planned to run away to a distant city. A neighbor got them to go to a nearby resort instead, where they were well-treated and under no restraint. But the neighbor did not tell the parents where they were. The parents charged the neighobr with child-stealing. But the court ruled that although there was "concealment," there was no "detention." The girls could have gone home any time.

As a rule where there is no divorce both parents have equal custody. Third persons, like grandparents who help a father with custody to take the child from the mother who also has custody, are still guilty of child-stealing. Taking the child can cause anxiety and grief-for which a parent can sue the third person in the civil court for damages.

In one such case, a girl's mother and father had separated, and the mother took care of the girl. The father and grandfather took the child and hid her from the mother in another state. The mother spent much money looking for her. Finally, unable to find her husband, she sued her father-in-law. The court upheld her suit. Even though her husband had the right to custody, the father-in-law did not.

Child stealing and kidnaping are two quite different crimes.

In kidnaping, the victim (of any age) is forcibly taken and held against his will. In child stealing there is an element of malice—the law regards child stealing as a crime against the parent, not against the child.

University Totals Rise In State

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Fall enrollments at the University of California's nine campuses total 98,725 students—an increase of 3,405 students or 3.6 per cent over last fall.

The figure represents an increase of 2,290 undergraduate students and 1,115 graduate students. Of total enrollment, 68.9 per cent are undergraduates, 31.1 per cent are graduates and 31.1 are new students.

Best-seller time is tonight

For every I-J advertiser, an advantage in selling

When you, as an advertiser, purchase space in the I-J, your message gains a TIME ADVANTAGE worth dollars and cents in the till. For as an EVENING NEWSPAPER, the I-J reaches your customer prospects at the PRIME BUYING TIME . . . in the evening, when people have the MOST TIME to read and consider your merchandise and prices.

This EVENING READING TIME is nothing to pass over lightly. This is when buying decisions are made . . . when people are relaxed, receptive, actively in search of advertised values. Contrast this with radio, with morning newspapers, with circulars. In the I-J, readers search the ads, page by page. They WANT TO READ, have TIME to read . . . have time to "talk it over," compare, decide. Even the kids get into the act! Small wonder the I-J is Marin's first choice for advertising . . . by both readers and advertisers.

MORE FOR YOUR STORE

The I-J out-sells all other newspapers in Marin. More daily Marin circulation than the Chronicle and Examiner combined.

Everyone's reading

UP... UP and AWAY

Though Russia claims Furvin Kryakutskoi trapped foul-smelling smoke in a bag and rose to the height of a birch tree in 1731, historians credit Joseph and Etienne Montgolfier with the invention of the hot-air balloon in 1783. Today this invention is almost unchanged, and hot-air ballooning is again touching the imagination of adventuresome people.

Of the approximately 50 registered hot-air balloons owned in America, two belong to the Stateline, Nev., Quicksilver Productions Corp., of which Deke Sonnichsen is president when not a Lockheed Missiles and Space Company Senior Vehicle Test Coordinator who resides in Menlo Park, Calif.

Deke, co-founder of the Sport Balloon Society of the United States of America, which is affiliated with the Balloon Federation of America, last year filed claim for six new world records to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, which formulates records and sanctions all air events and rules throughout the world.

But it is not merely for competition that Deke, wife Joanne and son Kirke, use the two flying machines.

On weekends, neighbors are invited over and the smaller balloon, tied to a lengthy tethe lifts friends and children above the treetops. At other Deke helps train future balloonists at the Daedalus Sch Free-Ballooning, the first in the country, at the Menlo Balloon Field in his city, or at nearby Tracy, Calif. and during firing up the balloon, he explains its histor workings, then joins the student to rise skyward.

When speaking before flying clubs, aeronautical and schools, Deke discusses the relation between ballo and the mighty rockets for outer space which Loc produces.

In the sport of hot-air ballooning, there are two contro directions: up and down. The winds create lateral mov and any ascension might end miles from take-off.

For Deke, whose brightly-colored aircraft (represe the orange, red and yellow of the heat spectrum's lower have replaced his parachuting efforts (he led the U.S. chute Team in 1962, 1963 and 1964 to FAI meets), moments of free-flight have replaced free-fall. He share silent ride above the rolling California country with who seek to be up, up and away in that magnificent machine.

Off for a day's drifting.

Back-yard ballooning with friends and children.

Teachers Decry Felony Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two high school teachers have demanded that felony charges be dropped against at least some of the 33 persons arrested after a takeover of the San Fernando Valley State College administration building.

"Our students are not criminals," said Dorothy Milhause and Levi Dangerfield, teachers at Manual Arts High School. Some of their former students were among those arrested. The teachers said yesterday that between 35 and 50 other Manual Arts teachers also support them.

"We cannot be silent when they are made scapegoats for a long-standing problem of American society," they said.

They said they knew three of the students very well. They were "the cream of the crop . . . the very best students we had," they said.

Sign For Service Station Approved

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee Wednesday night approved a free standing sign for a proposed Union Oil Co. service station at 930 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The round sign measures 21 feet high and five feet in width. The committee asked the company to modify landscaping plans by adding larger trees to the design.

Guns, Money Taken After Door Forced

Burglars forced the door of Albert A. Huillade's home at 53 Castle Rock Drive, Homestead Valley, Tuesday and stole guns and money valued at more than $700, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Items stolen from the house included a pistol, a shotgun, and anti-tank rifle, another rifle, a radio and 100 silver dollars, deputies said.

Other burglaries reported by the sheriff today included:

Theft of two diamond rings, valued at $1,250, from the home of Charles Hedberg at 28 Rhinestone Terrace, Marinwood, sometime within the last week.

Houston Heart Patient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — George Henry BeBord, 46, is dead after living about five months with a transplanted heart.

DeBord, a Helotes, Tex. contractor who received a new heart July 2, died yesterday in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said DeBord was readmitted about a week ago showing signs of rejecting the donor heart. The spokesman said he failed to respond to treatment and suffered a series of cardiac arrests during the past two days. Doctors were able to restart the heart during a failure yesterday, the spokesman said.

Decision On Freeway In January

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A final decision by the state on the controversial Junipero Serra Freeway route is not expected until January, according to San Francisco officials.

City administrators expect their choice of routes to win approval over a state - preferred route, thus ending a lengthy battle between San Francisco and Sacramento.

The dispute has concerned a 4.5 mile segment of the 50 mile freeway that will run near the Crystal Springs Lake. The lake is San Francisco's main water supply and the city has insisted that the freeway be built on a ridge away from the shore to prevent pollution of the water.

City officials also objected to the freeway separating the lake from a 23,000 acre land area that could be developed for recreational purposes.

The state has persistently backed the shoreline route but recently received a serious setback when the federal government, which supplies 92 per cent of freeway funds, threw its support to the city-backed ridge route.

Federal Highway Administrator Lowell K. Bridwell also warned that if San Francisco and state officials did not reach agreement soon, the federal government would abandon the freeway and try to "recover all funds already spent."

State Transportation Secretary Gordon Luce said at the time the federal action was "unwarranted intervention" in a local dispute.

However, the state agreed to reconsider the ridge route and has been holding hearings on the plan. The district engineer of the state Division of Highways is expected to report his recommendations to the state highway engineer within a few days.

The next and possibly final step will then be up to the state highway commission.

Typhoon Rakes Past Manila

MANILA (UPI) — Typhoon Ora ripped across the Philippines' main population centers and rice farmlands on Luzon today. Its eye passed within 80 miles north of Manila.

Ora's peak winds slightly diminished from 103 to 88 miles per hour roaring inland from the Pacific along a west northwest course across central Luzon —the Philippines' rice bowl.

Authorities closed down schools for the weekend.

Hungary Opens Colleges To Wes

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hunga announced today it has open its universities to students fro the West.

The news agency MTI sa "interest in Hungarian univers ties and colleges has been i creasing in recent years in t developed capitalist countri such as the United States, Can da and even Australia.

"This was the reason for t latest decision of the Hungari Ministry of Education to adm to Hungarian universities in vidual applicants from "t West."

Up to now the universiti were restricted to students fro Communist countries and deve oping areas. There are 1,500 fo eign students at Hungarian u versities from 70 countries.

Raiders Beat Lowly Buffalo Bills—Barely

Atkinson, the Oakland Raiders' rookie cornerback, played a key role in the Raiders' important 13-10 American Football League victory yesterday over the Buffalo Bills, who are suddenly in the running for Simpson, Southern California's great running back who will be the prize of the college draft.

The victory kept the Raiders tied with Kansas City, also a winner yesterday, for the Western Division title.

All Atkinson did to beat the plodding, but fired-up Bills was:
— Intercept a pass that led to a field goal by George Blanda, putting the Raiders ahead 6-3 in the third quarter.

—Intercept another pass moments later and run it back for a 33-yard touchdown that gave the Raiders a 13-3 lead.

—Make a bone-crunching tackle of Buffalo quarterback Ed Rutkowski on the Oakland one-yard line with less than three minutes to go, forcing a fumble that ended a Bills' drive.

—And bat down two passes on the last Buffalo effort that culminated in a short 42-yard field-goal attempt by Bruce Alford.

Buffalo, with only one game left in its dismal season, is now 1-11-1. The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League are 1-11 with two games remaining. The team with the poorest record gets the first draft choice, who will almost certainly be Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

"Hell no, we weren't worried about Simpson," answered Johnson to someone who dared submit the question. "If we were, we wouldn't have been throwing late in the game. We're trying to win football games, not worry about the draft or anything else."

Naturally," Johnson added, "I think Simpson will go in the first round. I'd hate to be the club that had a chance at him and passed him up."

The Raiders, who have been averaging nearly 500 yards a game in their last five contests, played poorly, losing the total offense yardage battle to Buffalo 343-186.

"There's no doubt about it," said Coach John Rauch, "We just came up with a flat ball game. But if you can win when you're playing a flat game, you must be pretty good."

"It's just a psychological thing," he said. "But we'll take it any way we can get it."

Tars Fall To Fresno City College In Playoffs

PARDON MY CLEATS — Marin halfback Tim Garvin steps over blocker Doug Guillon while struggling for extra yardage in Marin's 20-13 loss to Fresno City College in the State J. C. football playoffs yesterday in Fresno. Other Marin players are tackle Ron Heidinger (74) and fullback Jim Finnegan (rear).

Gridders Suffer 20-13 Defeat

By KIMO CAMPBELL

For the second straight year, Marin lost a game it could well have won, bowing 20-13 yesterday afternoon at Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium to the Fresno City College Rams, sixth-rated in the state.

But even the most rabid Fresno fan in the Turkey Day crowd of 3,500 would admit that a) the Tars had by far the worst of the breaks and b) that they killed themselves as much as Fresno beat them.

FIVE STEALS

Five interceptions and two crucial clipping penalties were the difference as Marin outpassed, outgained, and out-first downed the host team, only to bog down whenever a score seemed likely.

Two first-quarter passes were underthrown to open receivers, and three second quarter passes were intercepted. Marin also failed on three scoring chances in the second quarter, once when a field-goal try was blocked and twice on clips that nullified long gains.

Fresno, quarterbacked superbly by cool Mike Rasmussen, moved 79 yards to score on its second possession of the game, with Rasmussen scrambling for 24 yards on a play where his receivers were covered, and then passing 26 yards to halfback Vic Lamanuzzi (who ran for 115 yards for the day) for a first down at the Marin six. On second down, Rasmussen found star end Steve Natsues (who was contained well on all but this play) for the touchdown. Lamanuzzi's kick was good.

FIRST DOWN

Marin then got a first down on pass interference, but on successive plays, a pass was underthrown to an open receiver at the goal line, and another went to a Fresno defensive back. Three short passes set up Fresno's second touchdown moments later, as John Figueroa bulled over from four yards out. The kick was no good, leaving it 13-0 for the Rams.

Marin had interceptions on their next two series, but the defense, which played possibly its best game, held at the Tar 23 to stop the only dangerous drive. On the third series, a weird progression of agonizing errors began. Marin's Tim Garvin, brilliant as usual, tore off a classic Garvin run, sifting through the pursuit and scampering down the sidelines for 39 yards to the Fresno six, only to have the play called back for clipping.

PIERI STARS

Marin gave up the ball, held Fresno, and Len Pieri —who played one of his best games in his last appearance in a Marin uniform — took the kick back 74 yards for a touchdown. Forget it. Clipping again.

Third time's the charm. Val Sabuco hit Garvin on the sideline, with the same pass that has been the Tars' best this year

Some Ex-Footballers Don't Forget Coach

JIM SHORTS:

Paul A. Miller hasn't coached a team at San Rafael High School for more years than I care to remember, but he will be honored by a bunch of his former Bulldog athletes next Friday night at Nave Lanes near Ignacio. Committeemen George Pfeffer, Ray Taylor and Milt Schwartz, three of Miller's better athletes in the glory days of yesteryear, are planning a rollicking night — strictly stag ("No broads," said Schwartz). Space is limited, so you'd better make reservations pronto by calling Nave Lanes.

YES, THAT Joe DeMaestri who led the Novato High junior varsity basketball team to victory over Vallejo the other day is the son of Joseph Paul DeMaestri, the former New York Yankee shortstop, now a prominent beer baron (distributor). Young Joe should become "one of the best basketball players ever to come out of Marin County," according to former College of Marin All-American Walt Moreno.

Mike's Record Certified

Suyderhoud's jump was another of sportsdom's barrier breakers because no one had ever cracked the 160-foot mark in sanctioned competition.

RACING BUFFS will be interested to know that Radio KTIM will broadcast the Rex Mays "300" from Riverside International Raceway this Sunday. It is similar to races that will take place at the new Sears Point Raceway complex that is nearing completion.

PARTICIPANTS IN the Jan. 18 Novato-San Rafael high schools alumni football game will be issued equipment tomorrow, 11 a.m. at the San Rafael High gym.

Whereas And Therefores

GOLLY, THEY do things right proper up Rohnert Park way. Town fathers in that city in southern Sonoma County have issued resolutions extending heartiest congratulations to the Rohnert Park Junior High School football team and the College View Pop Warner Conference teams for their recent 1968 championships. I hope the City of San Anselmo has passed out some whereases and therefores to its junior grid champs, the Drake Junior Pirates.

ON THE SUBJECT, our heartiest congrats to Coach Dick Read and his College of Marin Tars for their championship in the new Camino Norte Conference. It was Marin's first season in the state's "large schools" classification and the title points out the tremendous job Read has done in bringing the Kentfield school into football prominence — on a par with its always great basketball program.

ROOS-ATKINS at San Rafael's Northgate Shopping Center will serve as Marin County ticket outlet for the sixth annual All-American Games track and field meet, scheduled Jan. 4 at the Cow Palace, San Francisco. The ducats range from $3 to $6.

UPI ALL-COAST FOOTBALL

USC Lands Six Players

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The University of Southern California, with Heisman Trophy winner O. J. Simpson showing the way, placed six men on the 1968 United Press International All Pacific Coast college football team announced yesterday.

The team included five All-Americas in all and was selected for UPI by a panel of sportswriters, sportscasters and coaches.

Simpson was the only unanimous selection on the team with Stanford flanker Gene Washington, Oregon State fullback Bill Enyart and center John Didion and defensive backs Mike Battle of USC, Al Worley of Washington and Mark Gustafson of UCLA next in the balloting.

All but Washington were named to the UPI All-America team as well and all except Didion are repeaters from the 1967 All-Coast team. The other repeater on this year's team was defensive back Ken Wiedemann of California.

Quarterback Steve Sogge, offensive end Bob Klein, offensive guard Steve Lehmer and defensive end Jim Gunn were the other Trojans on the first team besides Simpson and Battle.

Chiefs Knock Off Oilers To Give Jets East Title

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There is no letup in the pressure on the three teams battling for the Western Division championship in the American Football League's photo finish. And the big prize still belongs to "the team that wants it the most," Kansas City's Hank Stram said.

Stram's Chiefs dispatched fallen Eastern Division champion Houston almost routinely yesterday, 24-10, for a 10-2 record in the West, but still remain tied with Oakland for first place. The Raiders also won yesterday.

TITLE TO JETS

The New York Jets claimed the Eastern Division title by virtue of Houston's loss, and the Jets will be host to the AFL championship game Dec. 29.

"The pressure is still on all of us," Stram said.

"It's still up in the air, and the team that wants it the most can grab it. We know we've got to win our last two games to assure ourselves of anything."

Kansas City plays at San Diego Dec. 8 and at Denver Dec. 14 in its final two games.

17 OF 23

Dawson, whose season passing statistics are impressive considering the fact that injuries to his receivers and to him almost wiped out the Chiefs' aerial game in midseason, completed 17 of 23 for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

He hit Mike Garrett on a 37-yard touchdown strike just before halftime for a 7-3 Kansas City lead, then kept the Chiefs comfortably in front with scoring tosses of 33 and 43 yards to Frank Pitts in the second half. Jan Stenerud added a 17-yard field goal for Kansas City.

"I didn't know for sure how well I was doing out there," Dawson said when told he had completed 10 passes in a row from his first touchdown completion to the third scoring toss.

THROW AWAYS

"I know one thing: They were coming in so strong early in the game I had to throw away the first two passes I tried."

Wayne Walker put the Oilers in front 3-0 with a 39-yard field goal 2:12 before halftime, but Dawson's pass to Garrett wiped that out.

Houston scored again late in the third quarter on Pete Beathard's 66-yard pass to Jim Bierne to trim the Chiefs' lead to 14-10 but it wasn't close after that.

"We finally got good field position and that made all the difference in the world," said Stram.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Texas Wins, It's On To Cotton Bowl

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Houston and Florida State play a college football game tonight in the Gator Bowl but their high-powered offenses may turn it into the Scoreboard Bowl.

The game is the only one on tonight's schedule. Four major college games were played yesterday as two bowl berths were settled and 16 more are on tap tomorrow as the regular season comes to a close, save for the Dec. 7 meeting in University Park, Pa., between Penn State and Syracuse.

Texas won its way into a Cotton Bowl date against Tennessee by trouncing traditional rival Texas A&M 35-14 yesterday.

The victory gained the Longhorns a share of the Southwest Conference championship with Arkansas but Texas goes to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of a 39-29 win over the Razorbacks. Arkansas settled for the Sugar Bowl against unbeaten Georgia.

Elsewhere, Liberty Bowl-bound Virginia Tech walloped VMI 55-6, Tulsa sent Wichita State to a winless season 23-7 and, in a night game, Louisiana Tech, which is in the Grantland Rice Bowl, knocked off its fourth major opponent 42-24.

Tomorrow's slate is hightlighted by the meeting in Los Angeles between second-ranked Southern California and No. 9 Notre Dame. Other top attractions include Army-Navy, Georgia Tech-Georgia, Tennessee-Vanderbilt, Oklahoma-Oklahoma State, Alabama - Auburn and Arizona State-Arizona.

Tonight's pairing should be a wild one. Houston, ranked 10th, is the top offensive team in the nation with an alltime mark of 5,185 yards. The Cougars also lead in scoring with an average of 45 points a game.

Paul Gipson is fifth in rushing with 1,386 yards and the Ken Bailey-to-Elmo Wright combination is a passing threat. The Cougars have slaughtered Idaho 77-3 and Tulsa 100-6 in their last two starts. To make matters worse, they rank fifth nationally in total defense.

Texas raced to a 35-0 halftime lead over the Texas Aggies behind a balanced attack and a defense that intercepted five of Edd Hargett's passes. Chris Gilbert gained 85 yards in 25 carries and finished his regular season career third among alltime runners with 3,231 yards.

Baylor's Football Coach, John Bridgers, Is Fired

Baylor President Abner McCall announced that he had decided to uphold a recommendation by the five-man athletic council that the 43-year old Bridgers be dismissed.

McCall said no one had been contacted for the coaching job but that, in the interim, R.E. Henderson would serve as athletic director.

"I would speculate that we will seek out a top assistant in some successful football program across the country," McCall said.

McCall said he believes it would have been better to have announced Bridgers' dismissal after Saturday's final game of the season— against Rice.

But, he said, some members of the athletic council wanted to go ahead and get the business over with.

Tar Cagers Open Slate In Kentfield

College of Marin's basketball team opens its 1968-69 basketball season tonight at 8 o'clock in Kentfield against an old Golden Valley Conference rival, Sierra College.

Coach Cal Riemcke's five, entering its first season in the new Camino Norte Conference, has a long and rowdy history of tough games with Sierra's Wolverines, usually tight, high-scoring affairs, and Riemcke expects more of the same tonight.

"Sierra has about the same type of club we do—young, mostly freshmen, but good freshmen. I always anticipate first-game jitters, but it ought to be a good game, high-scoring. We like to run a lot, and Sierra plays the same type of game, so it should be a good game".

Marin will start veteran Andre Horn and transfer Joe Smith at guards, both 5-10. Center will be 6-7 transfer Ken Kramer, while frosh Tom Seidenberg and Pat Schafer (6-5 and 6-4 respectively) will be at the forwards.

The COM frosh will play Marin Catholic High at six p.m. in the preliminary.

The Tars play Diablo Valley College in Concord at 8 tomorrow night.

In other Marin County high school cage action, Redwood hosts Lincoln of San Francisco in Larkspur and San Rafael plays Napa, at Napa. Both games are at 7 p.m.

Mental Attitude Key To Pro Grid Success

A football field is no place to day dream. Even a temporary mental lapse is dangerous. All pros are aware of this and consequently try to stay alert every second they are on the field.

Personal safety is a sufficient reason for an intelligent and watchful attitude of a player involved in the action. Common sense and natural instinct of survival dictate an alert attitude.

But there is another reason for a constant state of concentration. It is essential to success.

"In a game like pro football, you've got to concentrate on every play," said Donny Anderson whose punting, ball carrying and pass catching has kept the Green Bay Packers in contention for another possible title this year.

"YOU'VE GOT to think. If you forget, somebody will hit you hard enough to remind you. It's best to remind yourself. It's sometimes difficult to do."

Anderson is averaging 42 yards on 41 punts this season, has caught 24 passes for 315 yards and carried the ball 134 times for 595 yards.

Without the 6-3, 220, backfield ace the Packers, plagued by injuries to aging veterans this year, would not still be in contention in the National Football League's Central Division.

THE 5-5-1 record of the Packers is identical with that of the 49ers. While the Packers are only half a game behind the Minnesota Vikings whose 6-5 record leads the Central Division, the 49ers are out of the Coastal Division race. The 49ers could win all three of their remaining games, including Sunday's session in Kezar with the Packers, and still not catch the Baltimore Colts (10-1) even if the Colts lost their remaining games.

SOME YEARS ago when Joe Perry was establishing 49er and NFL fullback records he was asked the secret of his success. Perry attributed it to mental attitude.

"All teams in the league have capable men, physically able men," he said. "So the difference in winning or losing must be in the mental approach to each game.

"To win you must be alert every minute you are on the field. If you are alert, there never is any hesitation in making a split second decision.

"IF YOU are mentally sluggish, the muscles hesitate momentarily. A moment's hesitation invariably is fatal to an indecisive cut inside or outside a potential tackler. That's the way I explain it."

Anderson and Perry may not use the same words but they arrived at the same point in a most logical manner.

Game Crucial For Packers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers go into Sunday's contest against the Green Bay Packers a four-point underdog.

The game is a crucial one for the Packers, defending National Football League and Super Bowl champions. They have a 5-5-1 record and are only one-half game behind Minnesota, the leader in thek Central Division.

The 49ers are also 5-5-1 and are in third place in the Coastal Division behind Baltimore and Los Angeles.

TOMORROW

Cal Faces Explosive Hawaii '11'

HONOLULU (AP) — California closes out its first winning football season in a decade tomorrow when it visits the University of Hawaii in a night game.

The Bears take a 6-3-1 record in against high-scoring Hawaii, which is 7-2 against college-division opponents.

The Bears are heavily favored but aren't taking the Rainbows lightly since, according to Assistant Coach Bill Dutton who did the scouting, "they have football players who can play for any major college team. They pass a lot and have a very explosive offense."

Hawaii has amassed 300 points for a 33.0 point-per-game average and has yet to be held to less than 14 points.

TALENT, SPEED

"They can score from anywhere," warned Dutton. "They have the talent and speed to give us trouble."

Cal will have to shake off the effects of its 20-0 loss to Stanford last week, the first shutout suffered by the Bears since 1966.

All-American guard candidate Ed White, down with the flu last week, says he is fully recovered and should be at top speed for his last college game.

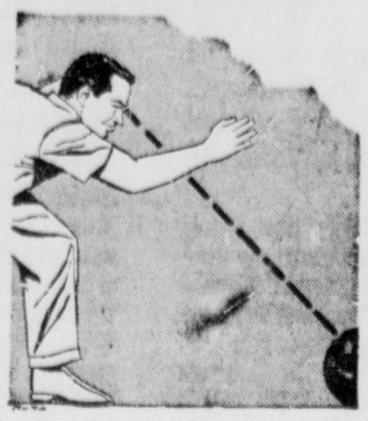
Calgary Gridders Hit By Flu Bug

TORONTO (AP) — The Calgary Stampeders were confined to their hotel yesterday, two days before the Grey Cup football game against Ottawa here, after seven players were stricken with influenza.

A scheduled afternoon practice was called off because not enough players were well enough to participate. Trainer Larry Chase said the illness usually takes two or three days to wear off.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you're using the spot system, really use it. Some bowlers have a target spot in mind and watch it as they start their approach, but then fail to see if the ball actually goes over the spot. The whole theory of spot bowling goes out the window if you don't know whether you're hitting your target or not.

Arkansas Vs. Georgians In Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Sugar Bowl football game New Year's Day will send Southwest Conference co-champion Arkansas against Southeastern Conference champion Georgia.

Arkansas officially accepted its Sugar Bowl invitation yesterday. Coach Frank Broyles said he'll be here today to sign the contracts.

Georgia and Arkansas have never clashed in football. The Razorbacks ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, Georgia was fourth.

Arkansas, 9-1, finished its season last Saturday by whipping Texas Tech 42-7.

Arkansas shared the SWC title with Texas. Since Texas beat the Razorbacks in regular season play, the Longhorns got the post spot in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

The Bandage Bowl Game At San Jose

SAN JOSE, (AP) — San Jose State's football team, minus its seven Negro members, closes out its disappointing and troubled 1968 football season tomorrow when it hosts Brigham Young University.

Coach Harry Anderson, in his last game with the Spartans, has named a patched-up lineup to fill in for the Negroes who say they are boycotting the game as a protest against what they say are the discriminatory racial policies of the Morman Church, which runs Brigham Young.

Anderson is resigning at the end of the season in which San Jose won only two games while losing seven. The Cougars have an identical record.

MANY INJURIES

The game has been dubbed "The Bandage Bowl" because of numerous injuries suffered by both sides.

"The game ball should go to the trainer of the winning team," quipped San Jose publicist Larry Close.

The latest Spartan to bite the dust is split end John Crivello, the team's leading receiver, who suffered a shoulder separation during the second quarter of a 66-0 loss to Arizona State last week.

Brigham Young, which has lost 14 regulars during the season, is led by sophomore fullback Chris Reading, who scored three touchdowns in a 35-6 victory over winless New Mexico last week.

Very Lucky Winner

USC, Notre Dame In TV Grid Battle Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame and the unbeaten Trojans of Southern California collide on the football field for the 40th time tomorrow in their finale of the regular season.

The contest will be televised nationally — ABC at 1:30 p.m. — and viewed by some 75,000 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

For the Irish, there is the will to close out the campaign on a winning note. Coach Ara Parseghian's lads, as ex-coach Frank Leahy was fond of calling the players, have won seven games but they lost two big ones.

Those were to Purdue, 37-33, and Michigan State, 21-17.

Coach John McKay's Trojans are 9-0. They have won 19 of their last 20 games and are Rose Bowl-bound, with O.J. Simpson leading the charge to play Ohio State. If the Trojans needed more incentive, they got it this week when The Associated Press pollsters dropped them from No. 1 to No. 2 behind Ohio State.

"We still think we are No. 1," said Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

Notre Dame has been damaged by injuries to key players. The most serious was the loss of quarterback Terry Hanratty. A sophomore, Joe Theismann, is his replacement. He guided ND past Georgia Tech 34-6 and Pittsburgh 56-7.

"Notre Dame is as good a looking team as I have seen in years," says McKay. "That quarterback Theismann looks like Steve Preece of Oregon State when he runs and like Jim Plunkett of Stanford when he passes."

"Stopping Southern Cal is a big order," counters Parseghian. "First you have to contend with the finest running back in college football.

"The one thing that surprises most of all is that many people have over looked the great job Steve Sogge has done at quarterback.

"They have lots of weapons and McKay utilizes all of them so well that you can't concentrate on any one person or phase of their offense."

Southern Cal has a few stops to make, also, such as halfback Bob Gadieux, who has led the Irish rushers with 133 carries for 596 yards and 11 touchdowns.

And there is pass-snagging Jim Seymour—49 for 671 yards and four touchdowns.

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The Oakland Oaks hope to widen their Western Division lead tonight when they take on the Kentucky Colonels in an American Basketball Association game.

The Oaks, 15-2, maintained their 5½-game lead over Los Angeles Wednesday night with a 130-116 victory over the Miami Floridians.

MENACE TO RAIDERS

SEASON IS OVER

—a halfback pass in the flat — and Tim did his thing, outracing, outfaking, and just plain beating a selection of Rams on his way to the end zone. Sixty-nine yards and a Bill Hickerson conversion later, it was 13-7.

Marin recovered a Fresno fumble at the Rams' 23 with four seconds left, but Hickerson's field goal try was blocked.

BOG DOWN

The Tars moved to the Fresno 23 and 35 yard lines on their first two possessions of the second half, only to bog down. Fresno was being stymied at every turn on defense, as Bill McClelland, Hickerson, Rick Woodall, Tom Heacox and Rick Smith were outstanding as pass rushers and as tacklers.

Finally, Fresno got the break it needed when a Marin punt went 22 yards, setting up Rasmussen and Co. at the Tars' 34. A 26-yard run by Lamanuzzi was the big play, followed by Rasmussen's nine-yard toss to tight-end Bob Burdick. The PAT was good, leaving the score 20-7 with 4:13 to go.

Marin threw four incomplete passes, held Fresno at the Tar 30, and went back to work. Pieri made a fine grab of a Kevin Wilson pass for 28 yards, then capitalized on the one big Marin break of the afternoon-a pass that bounced off a defender into his hands — for 48 yards and a much-needed TD. Hickerson's boot was blocked, putting more pressure on the Mariners.

DOESN'T WORK

With 1:55 left, Marin tried an unsuccessful onsides kick, but held Fresno and got the ball back with 45 seconds left and 88 yards to go. Wilson ran for eight when trapped, then hit Pieri and Mike Fowler to bring the ball to the Tar 39, from which point his last-play pass was intercepted as the receivers desperately fought to get free.

Marin coach Dick Read felt his team gave a good effort but beat themselves. "We've done this all year. It's natural with so many freshmen and with two inexperienced quarterbacks," Read said, and added, "But Val and Kevin have improved, they've done a good job all year. We did a fine job representing the conference. We were happy to make the playoffs for two years in a row, and I was real pleased with the job the players and coaches did this year."

PRAISE

Read and assistant coaches Ed Grimm (backs) and Pete Limm (line) praised the defensive line for its best pass rush of the season, the defensive backs for holding Rasmussen to 78 air yards, only 20 to Natsues on four catches, and the running backs for good all-around performances, blocking and catching as well as carrying the ball.

Hickerson, McLelland, offensive guard Doug Guillon, Pieri, and Garvin drew the most praise, with Read saying of Garvin: "He's great — a superback, like Tim Harr was last year. He did a great job, has tremendous ability."

Grimm had perhaps the last word on Marin's luck in playoffs: "Two years in a row like this is hard to take. Always the bridesmaid, never the bride."

But Read was happy, if subdued. Many of his squad are coming back next year, and as he said, "This club came a long way with what it had. It was a real pleasure coaching them. This was one of the most courageous teams we've had — it came back all year long, and we're proud of it."

Seals Take On The Canadiens

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals return to their home ice tonight against the high-flying Montreal Canadiens, leaders in the National Hockey League's East Division.

In uniform for the first time for the Seals is Bob Dillabough, center-forward acquired from Pittsburgh in a straight player swap for Bill Harris.

Penny Ann May Give Up Her Fight

The 25-year-old blond divorcee, unsuccessful in three attempts to ride at Churchill Downs, did not make a reported appearance at the track either as a rider or a spectator, a track official said.

The spokesman said he had been informed that Miss Early would not try again to be a woman jockey because she was tired, apparently from her brief professional basketball debut Wednesday night with the Kentucky Colonels.

TENNIS

NEW YORK — Veteran Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles upset second-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia 7-5, 5-7, 6-4 in the opening round of the $20,000 Madison Square Garden Invitation Tennis Tournament.

TRACK

NEW YORK — Terry Harrison of Colorado State, the winner two years ago as a sophomore, won the U.S. Track and Field Federation cross country championship with a time of 30 minutes, 5.2 seconds over the six-mile course at Van Cortland Park.

HOCKEY

ST. LOUIS — Bob Plager, St. Louis Blues' defenseman will be sidelined for at least three months with a knee injury suffered in a NHL game with the Boston Bruins.

MONTREAL — Montreal goalie "Gump' 'Worsley said he would quit hockey unless "suitable arrangements" can be worked out so that he is not required to fly.

JIM MURRAY

The Long-Awaited Return Of Diplomatic Mr. Hayes

OK, everybody, shape up! Wayne Woodrow Hayes and the Scarlet Scourge of Ohio State is coming to the Rose Bowl.

There'll have to be a few changes made. First of all, of course, the Rose Parade is OUT. Disturbs the concentration of the players.

There'll be no band marching on the field at halftime. It they play their cards right, Woody may let them bring a recording. He hasn't made up his mind about card tricks.

SPORTSWRITERS HAD better learn to take a 9-count. And to duck. Woody decks them when they get too close.

Practices will be open—to God and Woody (not necessarily in that order).

Sportswriters, Tournament of Roses officials and/or spectators will not be permitted to view the team live and in color. But Woody will distribute black-and-white photographs of it to qualified parties—provided they wear the uniform in school colors and have their name, rank and serial number stamped on the back. They will be asked to sign for the photos and to stand in a roped-off area of the room before distribution.

SO THAT those covering the game will be sufficiently backgrounded Woody will permit selected screenings of the 1910 Michigan-Ohio State game.

If Woody wins, we may expect some suitably-muted post-game elation—such as an observation or two that O. J. Simpson couldn't make first string on HIS squad, or the Big 10 All-Conference, or that USC was every bit as good as Massillon High.

IF IT RAINS, of course, Woody may not even let spectators in. Pasadena will have to have a curfew New Year's Eve.

Wayne Woodrow, you will remember, is the diplomat who came out West in 1955, knocked USC on its haircut, 20-7, and then afterward allowed as how the Trojans would be lucky to finish sixth in HIS conference. When someone gave him a chance to cop a plea later, Woody on the other hand consolidated the insult: "What was I supposed to do — LIE to them?!" he wanted to know.

HE RAGED about the band being on the field, wanted to know why a $750,000 game couldn't afford a tarpaulin. Hardly anything about California satisfied Woody.

Woody is one of the rarest specimens in nature—the non-hyprocrite. When he got caught doling out money to his football players some years ago (prompting someone to suggest the football team should be incorporated), Woody didn't deny it. He merely insisted he didn't provide any "luxuries" for his players. He didn't send any of them to the French Riveria, for instance.

THE NCAA made the team stand in a corner for a year. Woody preferred to think of the transactions as non-interest loans, but since he couldn't come up with the names of the borrowers, and since the only collateral offered was first downs and intercepted passes, the Big Ten shuttered the shop and Woody's career as a pawnbroker was over.

ANOTHER TIME, 20 Midwestern football writers plus the Big Ten commissioner and the assistant on a conference sponsored tour of all fall practice fields arrived at Ohio State where they were summarily and humiliatingly ejected from the premises like common gate-crashers by Wayne Woodrow. The school apologized. Wayne Woodrow was too busy looking down coal mines and up plow furrows and into pool halls for football players.

WELL, YOU can see Woody's a lot more interesting than his football team (which wouldn't be hard). The Last of the Cavemen hasn't been here in 11 years. He probably hopes the West Coast football has improved. I only hope HE hasn't. I like getting beat by guys who relish it publicly, not by ones who pretend it pains them more than it does you. If you want sweetness and light get Helen—I'll take Woody Hayes.

76ers Seem To Be Doing Quite Well Against Wilt

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia 76ers might not be doing quite as well without Wilt Chamberlain as they did with him, but they are doing very well against him.

The 76ers ran their record to 2-0 against the Wilt Chamberlain-led Los Angeles Lakers with a 122-107 victory last night that put them only 1½ games out of the lead in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

Front and center in the victory was Luke Jackson, Chamberlain's replacement in the post, who canned seven of eight field goal tries and assisted on two others during a last half surge that destroyed the Western Division-leading Lakers.

In the only other NBA game, Seattle topped Milwaukee 115-103 on the West Coast.

After 11 lead changes, the host 76ers pulled away from the game's 16th tie at 71 with a 13-2 burst, and Los Angeles never recovered as Chamberlain managed only 13 points and 19 rebounds against his old mates, who he led to a world championship two years ago. The Lakers, too, were playing without Jerry West, who was sidelined with the flu.

Jackson hit three baskets and got the two assists during the spree as the 76ers won their ninth game in 10 starts. He finished with 24 points, while Bill Cunningham led the 76ers with 28. Elgin Baylor had 32 for the Lakers.

Seattle, in whipping Milwaukee, won its fourth straight game—the first time the SuperSonics have registered four victories in a row since they joined the league last season. Three of the triumphs have been at the expense of Bucks while the other came over Chicago.

The Sonics virtually led from the outset and by halftime they were in front 55-48. Twice Milwaukee closed the gap to four points in the fourth quarter but each time Seattle pulled safely ahead.

The Sonics' Bob Rule and the Bucks' Wayne Embry shared scoring laurels with 27 points apiece.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING — Oh, to be in Detroit when the mud is thick. That's where the Philadelphia Eagles and the Detroit Lions spent Thanksgiving Day, slushing in the mud. Usually clean Eagle quarterback Norm Snead hands off to an unidentified and dirty back in the game won by Philly, 12-0.

Breedlove, Two Others Injured

LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz. (UPI)—World land speed record holder Craig Breedlove and two other drivers were injured yesterday when their boats met with mishaps during practice runs for the $30,000 Outboard World Championships.

Breedlove of Torrance, Calif., suffered minor injuries when his boat, powered by two 115-horsepower engines, flipped at high speed. He was thrown clear of the tumbling craft but was taken to Needles Hospital.

Earlier in the day, Bill Hill Jr., of Cullman, Ala., and Ron Del Rosa, of Antioch, were taken to the same hospital.

Hill, former winner of the Mississippi Championships, suffered two broken knees when his boat, powered by three 125-horsepower engines flipped. He was in satisfactory condition.

Del Rosa's twin-engined racer disintegrated at high speed and he suffered three broken ribs and a possible ruptured spleen.

More practice runs were on tap for today, with four hours of racing slated for Saturday and Sunday on this Colorado River lake.

Skipper Wins Third Pennant

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Vern Rapp is the first manager to win two baseball pennants here. When his Arkansas Travelers won the 1968 Texas League flag it marked his third T.L. crown in four efforts.

Rapp's Tulsa team won in 1965. He repeated with the Travs in 1966 when the team was shifted to Little Rock. His 1967 club finished fifth.

The Little Rock team has a working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Majestic Prince Wins Feature

SAN MATEO (AP) — Majestic Prince paid back some of the $250,000 it cost its owner with a Thanksgiving Day victory — its first — at Bay Meadows.

The son of Raise a Native covered six furlongs in 1:09 1-5 to win a $4,000 maiden race for a dozen 2-year-olds and return $3.00, $2.60 and $2.60.

The Prince, with jockey Bill Hartack up, took the lead at the start and finished 2½ lengths in front of Applicator, which paid $3.30 and $2.80.

The winner, trained by Johnny Longdon, was purchased last year by Frank McMahon of Vancouver, B.C., Canada.

Eagles Win At Last, On Toe Of Sam Baker

DETROIT (AP) — Sam Baker's talented toe not only got the Philadelphia Eagles in the victory column for the first time this season but he also became the second leading scorer of all time in the National Football League.

Baker kicked four field goals in the rain and mud as the Eagles blanked the Detroit Lions 12-0 yesterday. Philadelphia had lost 11 straight games and hadn't won since the last game of the 1967 season.

The Eagles' kicking specialist said he didn't know he had moved into second place among the NFL's all-time scorers with 893 points because "this hasn't exactly been a year when we've been running checks through the record books."

GROZA FIRST

Only retired Lou "The Toe" Groza of the Cleveland Browns has more points, 1,349.

Baker booted field goals in all four quarters on kicks of 36, 18, 32 and 35 yards. He said he didn't kick any differently than he has been but he praised Joe Scarpati.

"Scarpati is the holder and he just did a good job," Baker said, as he peeled off his wet, muddy uniform.

Baker said the sloppy field, which was like a swamp in some areas, did't bother him.

"You don't think about it because you're doing so much," he said.

Detroit's only real scoring threat was squelched with one minute left in the game when Nate Ramsey intercepted a Gregg Landry pass on the Eagles' five-yard line.

ON GROUND

Landry was Detroit's quarterback in place of the ailing Bill Munson. He completed only seven of 15 passes for 66 yards and due to the sloppy field had to rely mostly on his running game.

"I'll take the blame for it (the loss) because I am the quarterback," Landry said, "but I felt real confident in there."

He said he was forced to throw to secondary receivers on several occasions because of "the defense they gave us."

Philadelphia's Norm Snead had to stick to the ground, too. He completed six of 15 passes for 55 yards.

It was Tom Woodeshick who carried the bulk of the offensive load by rushing 79 yards in 27 carries.

"LIFT"

Philadelphia Coach Joe Kuharich, said the victory gave "a tremendous lift to everybody."

Baker's first and fourth quarter field goals came after interceptions. Halfback Al Nelson intercepted a Landry pass at his own 38 and the Eagles moved 42 yards in eight plays to give Baker a shot at his 36-yarder.

Woman Wins Again In Harness Racing

CHICAGO (AP) — The door remains open to women in harness racing and Elaine Leake went through it at Maywood Park last night as a winner.

Mrs. Leake, mud splattered, drove pacer Justly Rebel to victory in a four-horse photo finish. The accomplished horsewoman has won many races at Chicago tracks in the last three years.

COWBOYS WIN

'Skins Graham Raps Officials

DALLAS (AP) — Everyone agreed that Dallas' 29-20 National Football League victory over Washington Thanksgiving night was a steal but there was considerable debate today over who was the thief.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said he felt rookie defensive tackle Larry Cole's theft of a wayward pass and five-yard touchdown return was "the big play of the game."

Cole made his big play with but 8:33 remaining in the nationally televised struggle in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cowboys led only 22-20 at the time. Tackle Jethro Pugh plowed into Redskin Jim Ninowski just as the quarterback released the ball. It fluttered into Cole's waiting arms.

"I don't know how he (Cole) does it, but he always seems to be in the right place each week," said Landry.

Graham was steaming about the 124 yards in penalties his team incurred, including 15 against Graham himself for unsportsmanlike conduct.

"I got that one for picking up the flag and throwing it back at the official," said Graham. "When the kids play their hearts out like this and the officials steal the game from them it's a crime.

"I've written the league officials several times complaining about the officiating. But never has it been this bad.

"I don't mind getting beat and I can appreciate that the officials have some judgment calls to make. But I think it's about time we got some officials who have some judgment."

Referee Norm Schachter headed the crew of officials who also penalized Dallas 97 yards.

Ninowski, subbing for flu-weakened Sonny Jurgensen, threw touchdown passes of 29 yards to Charlie Taylor, 11 to Jerry Smith, and four to Pat Richter. But he was harried by a strong Dallas rush and was dropped six times.

Washington played a strong defensive game but fumbles set up a 18-yard field goal by Mike Clark and led to a one-yard touchdown run by Craig Baynham. Pugh forced Ninowski to fumble out of the end zone for a safety.

Dallas scored but one touchdown on a sustained drive and that was when Craig Morton subbed briefly for starter Don Meredith, who was injured.

Meredith later returned—to the boos of some of the 66,076 fans—and could never light a spark in the Cowboy attack.

The victory pushed Dallas, 10-2, within a half-game of clinching the Capitol Division.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Oceanic Properties Entering South Bay

Oceanic Properties, Inc., land development subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc. and developer of the 5,200-acre Sea Ranch on the Sonoma County coast, is acquiring the 50 per cent interest of its joint venture partner in the 11,000-acre Hamilton-San Jose property in southern Santa Clara County.

The acquisition will be through the exchange of an undisclosed number of Castle and Cooke common shares for the interest of investment companies headed by Harlan Gelderman, Bay Area developer.

Plans have been announced for the development of a complete "new town" on the Hamilton property, which surrounds Lake Anderson on three sides in the foothills of Mount Hamilton.

CROCKER-CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK shareholders have voted approval of acquiring the Bank of Sonoma County through an exchange of stock. Shareholders of the Sonoma bank also voted approval.

SUNSET HOUSE stockholders have approved the merger of this mail order firm with Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc. Sunset House stockholders will receive one share of a new Broadway-Hale convertible preferred stock for every two shares of Sunset House stock.

OCCIDENTAL PETROLEUM CORP. directors have doubled the annual dividend rate on the common stock from 40 cents per share to 80 cents per share. The regular quarterly dividend at the new increased rate of 20 cents per share is payable Jan. 14 to shareholders of record Dec. 10. Regular quarterly dividends have also been declared on convertible preferred stock. There have been four raises in Occidental's quarterly dividend rate in the last three years.

HOST INTERNATIONAL, INC. directors have increased the quarterly cash dividend to 7.5 cents per share, payable Dec. 31 to shareholders of record Dec. 15. The new annual dividend rate of 30 cents per share represents a 20 per cent increase over the prior annual rate of 25 cents per share, after giving effect to a 100 per cent stock dividend paid last month.

BERYLLIUM INTERNATIONAL, INC., Washington, D.C. stockholders will vote Wednesday on a proposed plan to merger into U.S. Beryllium Corp., Pueblo, Colo. The plan provides four shares of Beryllium International stock for one share of U.S. Beryllium. Beryllium International is a nonoperating mineral property holding company. U.S. Beryllium supplies beryllium ores and concentrates and would use Beryllium Interational's properties and assets to expand output.

PACIFIC OUTDOOR ADVERTISING CO., Los Angeles, directors have approved a two-for-one stock split subject to shareholders' approval in January. If approved, there will be 490,568 common shares outstanding. Directors also voted to increase the number of authorized shares from 500,000 to two million and to change the par value of stock from $5 to $2.50. A new name, Pacific American Services Corp., has been approved by the board subject to approval of shareholders.

PACIFIC INTERMOUNTAIN EXPRESS CO. directors have declared an extra dividend of 20 cents per share on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share. Both dividends are payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 12. PIE reported a 130-per cent increase in consolidated net income for nine months of 1968 against nine months in 1967.

FMC CORP., San Jose, a diversified manufacturer of industrial chemicals, and Leesona Corp., a manufacturer of winding and twisting machines have agreed upon a merger of Leesona into FMC.

Marinites Promoted By Macy's

Three Marin County men have received promotions at Macy's of California.

Named senior vice president for sales promotion is Arthur J. Corston, formerly sales promotion director of Shillito's Department Store in Cincinnati. He joined Macy's last month and he and his family now reside in San Rafael.

John J. Egan of Greenbrae, has been appointed senior vice president for real estate. He joined Macy's in 1946.

Appointed vice president of the men's store, luggage group, is Albert A. Artieres of San Rafael, who joined the California division of R. H. Macy and Co., Inc. in 1954.

Dividend Rise

NEW YORK (BW) — Directors of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, Inc., have raised the quarterly dividend to 25 cents a share from 20 cents and proposed a two-for-one split of the company's class A and B common stock of record Feb. 15.

Steels, Motors Up As Market Closes

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors and assorted blue chips were strong as the stock market closed today with a substantial gain.

Trading was active but not as heavy as in the preholiday session.

Gains of around a point were made by some of the top four steelmakers. Auto stocks were uniformly higher.

Prices near the close included:

Cerro Corp., up 2¾ at 51; Standard Oil of Indiana, up 2⅞ at 67½; U.S. Steel, up 1¾ at 42¾; Chrysler, up 1 at 61¾; Procter & Gamble, up 2⅞ at 97⅝; Teledyne, up 4 at 120¼; Pennzoil, up 4½ at 64; National Airlines, off 2 at 43; and American Smelting, up 4¼ at 93¼.

Strength in steels, aided by a price increase, and motors, with an improved sales report, were factors in the rise of the averages. Other blue chips rebounded from a drab performance amidst Wednesday's rising market.

The big boost in the cost-of-living index and an inflow of foreign investment money because of currency problems abroad were also cited as factors.

Cerro, opening late, leaped 3 points in response to plans for its acquisition by Standard Oil of Indiana which rose about 2½.

American Smelting gained another 5 points. Up 4 or better were Pennzoil, Teledyne and ling-Temco-Vought.

Standard Oil, Metal Firm Plan Merger

CHICAGO (BW) — Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) and Cerro Corp. have agreed to present to their boards of directors a proposal that Standard Oil acquire all the outstanding stock of Cerro.

Standard board chairman John E. Swearingen added that if the proposal is adopted Cerro will continue to function under its present management as a subsidiary of Standard Oil. Cerro is a primary producer of nonferrous metals which are marketed worldwide and a manufacturer of copper and copper alloy products sold primarily in the United States.

Swearingen pointed out that the proposal is Standard Oil's first major venture outside of the oil and petrochemical fields.

"The oil industry will supply the bulk of the world's energy needs for many decades to come," Swearingen said, "and oil and its products are and will continue to be our principal business."

General Brewing Sales, Profit Off

San Francisco (BW) — General Brewing Corp. net income for the six months period ended Oct. 31 was $199,898 or 20 cents a share, compared with $342,999, or 34 cents a share, for the same period a year ago, Peter N. T. Widdrington, president, has annouced.

For the second quarter ended Oct. 31 the company reported a loss of $51,498, or 5 cents a share, compared with a profit of $199,119, or 20 centa a share, a year ago.

The second quarter loss resulted from a decline in gross sales to $13,205,491, compared with $16,503,046 in the corresponding period last year.

Western Air Lines Has October Losses

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Air Lines has reported a loss of $544,000, or 11 cents a share, for the month of October, compared to a profit of $104,000, or 2 cents a share, for the same period last year.

According to J. Judson Taylor, senior vice president and treasurer, the loss was primarily attributed to the present disappointing level of traffic and the continued pressure of inflationary cost increases.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Splits, Stock Dividends Pile Up For Employee

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. As a young worker for Economics Laboratory years ago I bought 50 shares at $10.60 each before the stock went public. I now own 792 shares from splits and stock dividends. We also have 62 American Telephone and 20 Long Island Lighting. My husband, by retiring soon, wants to switch Am. Telephone into more Econ Lab., but I would prefer to sell the latter gradually year by year — after our tax rates drop at age 65 — and buy good income stocks. What do you advise? — W. M.

A. I favor your gradual switching plan from Economics Laboratory into the best dividend payers then available. You will need income to supplement your husband's Social Security. I would also hold Am. Telephone and Long Island Lighting, not only for income but also for the growth anticipated in their respective industries.

Q. Now 50 years old, I am a semiskilled workman responsible for a disabled brother who draws small Social Security benefits. We own an old house in a changing neighborhood and these securities: 14 Alcoa debentures 5¼s of 1991; 100 Std. Oil of California; 100 Tri-Continental and 200 Belding Heminway. Can I make any changes likely to benefit my retirement plans? — M.S.

A. Try to sell your house as advantageously as possible and buy a smaller one — on which upkeep might be less — in an area where values are rising. You are to be commended for selecting a good list of securities which at the present time requires no change.

Belding Heminway, your most speculative holding, is evidencing renewed growth and should be retained for its maximum potential. While you continue to work you probably can afford to keep one situation with a low dividend return. If you come out ahead on your real estate deal, your profits can be reinvested in new growth opportunities presented through this column.

Spur Growth

DAVIS (UPI) — Plant growth regulators may increase grain production, University of California research shows. Milton D. Miller, U.C. agronomist, reports chemical sprays on plant foliage hiked wheat yields by as much as 28 per cent.

THE HOME OF HAPPY SECRETARIES

One Recreation Need That's Easy To Fill

The problem of what to do for recreation is a real problem and a big one for many teen-agers in Marin.

There are, of course, many recreational activities for youngsters in Marin. Most of the cities and a couple of parks and recreation districts conduct such programs. But none of these fills two needs voiced most frequently by the young people.

THESE NEEDS, as emphasized again this week before the county parks and recreation commission, are for public dances catering to adolescents, and for places to meet, drink coffee and soft drinks, and "just fool around."

The dance problem is not easy. All the high schools have dances, but quite reasonably restrict them to students only or to students and their partners. It is not incumbent on the schools to offer dances for other than their own students, and discipline problems are inherent in opening the dances to non-students.

AT TUESDAY night's meeting of the parks and recreation commission, Pete Valerio of Terra Linda High School suggested a new try for big public dances on a commercial basis. Richard L. Less, a Northgate businessman, said he had been investigating such possibility but had been unable to find a suitable hall.

Public teen dances have not proved financially successful in Marin. The most recent attempt was made by Richard Dennis Conn with a hall on Irwin Street in San Rafael. He ran into the usual complaints from neighbors, but they were not what stopped the operation. It just didn't make any money. The same has applied to other attempts in the past.

HOWEVER, THE SECOND need — that of a place for coffee, soft drinks, a juke box and "fooling around" — seems almost ridiculously easy to fill.

There is not a city in Marin that does not have vacant buildings that could easily and cheaply be converted to such use. And while the teens' maintenance of such headquarters might leave something to be desired, there would probably be less window breakage and other damage than when the buildings stand vacant.

Some of the "hangup"—to use the teens' own favorite word — seems to be a variation of the well-publicized generation gap. At Tuesday's meeting, Chet Williams of Sir Francis Drake High School described a joint effort by three church groups to start a coffee house in San Anselmo. They have not yet located a place, he said.

Some members of the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission who were present expressed surprise. It was the first they had heard of the project.

"We haven't gone to the city yet," said young Williams. "I guess we're kind of afraid of the city."

YOUTH NEEDN'T be afraid of the city. Owners of vacant buildings needn't be afraid of youth. The need for teen-agers' gathering places could be quite simply filled if officials, owners and teens would get together.

How about trying it?

The Little Gray Fox

Gray foxes inhabit the wooded and brush-grown country of West Marin, where they make their dens in hollow tree or in rock cavities. In the spring they have from three to five puppies.

Fox parents are devoted to their children and care for them with great solicitude and fierce bravery.

Marin's foxes live mostly on field mice, rabbits and other rodents, with a few crickets and beetles thrown in. However, foxes have a reputation for being chicken thieves. It is true that chickens are considered as tasty by most foxes as they are by most humans, but on a well-regulated farm the chickens are housed at night, and the fox turns its attentions elsewhere.

They are rather shy, but if one spends much time in West Marin and is aware of Nature's world, he is bound to meet the gray fox, later if not sooner.

Legislator Offers Simple Plan To Accomplish Electoral Reform

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Proposals for junking the electoral college, which technically names the President of the United States, are cropping up all over the country, as they do after every presidential election.

The matter always is one to be considered in view of the fact that many people would like to see the system dispensed with in favor of popular vote for president.

It has been pointed out previously that the electoral system maintains checks and balances against any one segment of the population gaining control of the election, although this system appears to be deteriorating in favor of areas of large population taking over such control.

This results in a situation wherein the rural areas and the smaller states eventually will have but little voice in the final naming of the nation's chief executive.

ANY MAJOR change in the present system would have to be accomplished through a constitutional amendment approved by two-thirds of the states. However, State Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, points out a change can be effected without an amendment to the United States Constitution, by action of the individual states, if the people so desire.

"Each state is allocated one electoral vote for each of its congressional districts, and two for its two seats in the U.S. Senate. Each state legislature may provide that the electors representing congressional districts, instead of being lumped together in one state-wide 'winner-take all' package, as they are now, be chosen separately for each district.

"Each district elector could then be required by law to cast his vote for the presidential candidate receiving the largest number of votes in the district. Only the two at large electors would then vote in accordance with the state-wide popular vote total.

"THIS DISTRICT system of choosing electors would reflect the actual popular vote for president much more accurately than the present system, and at the same time would be a safeguard against those politicians who have built national empires based on the solid support of big city bloc voters whose backing often is enough to carry the whole state."

Senator Schmitz says that with sufficient indications of support, he will introduce legislation to this effect in the 1969 session.

What Drives Trade From San Francisco

Last week when starting my car, the motor turned over sluggishly; after I finished my business in San Francisco later that day, the car barely sprang to life. Full of apprehension, I stopped in a large service station and requested them to check my battery. I was advised that the battery was defective, and they attempted to sell me a replacement for $46! When I refused and my battery would not start the car, they charged me $2.50 to get me on my way. Back in Marin, I called on a well known automotive repair dealer; he checked my battery, indicated that it was indeed faulty and that he would be more than happy to sell me a first line replacement for about $22 but suggested that I first call the dealer from whom I purchased the vehicle to ascertain if any of the prorata warranty still applied. This proved to be the case, and I had a new battery installed for a little more than $16.

In conclusion, I would tell Mayor Alioto of San Francisco that he better get this merchants to give a little service before boasting about the fine facilities and services in the same breath that he proposes a commuter tax. As for me, if you haven't guessed it by now, I shall buy strictly in Marin from hereon!

Violence Accepted, But Sex—No

Here's hoping that either you of your readers can clear up a modern day dilemma.

This Sunday we took our children to see a movie that we ourselves had seen the night before (we prefer to do this as you never know what kind of torture they may be allowed to witness) and had decided was perfectly acceptable, namely "Alyce B. Toklas, I Love You" and "It's Never Too Late," one being a mod escapade into a very real world, the other a not quite so believable romp into the home of a 65-year-old looking man becoming a father.

The children were turned away, being told "no one under 16 was allowed," children in question being 10 and 12; while just a few blocks down the street children were lined up and being allowed in to see two James Bond "thrillers."

I will not bore you with the case against James Bond, but it is surely less acceptable that forementioned movies. The day we all dreaded was really come: violence, gore and deceit are more acceptable than sex.

MONETARY ELBA

Richardson Bay Not Polluted

Your paper, on Nov. 13, in a report of the county supervisors' consideration of legislation to regulate houseboats, misquoted a statement I made, and thereby distorted it's sense. I hope you will publish this correction.

The report, by Mr. (Wat) Takeshita, reads:

"Piro Caro, who lives on a houseboat on Donlon J. Arques' property, challenged the statement that houseboats cause water pollution. 'How do we pollute the water?' he demanded.

"'Why, I saw human refuse floating by the houseboats,' replied Kettenhofen.

"'That's not pollution,' pooh-poohed Caro. 'That's just an affront to your sense of esthetics.'

"Kettenhofen tossed up his hands: 'I give up.'"

But I did not ask "how do we pollute the bay?," nor had anybody previously charged that the bay is polluted. I said it is not polluted, and asked the supervisors what safety, health or welfare is protected by requiring us to connect to sewers? . . .

No responsible agency, the county health department, the state health department, nor any other, has brought forward charges that the parts of Richardson Bay occupied by houseboats, or affected by houseboats, is contaminated by the sewage of houseboats. No such charge can be brought forward nor can it be substantiated.

My point was that the board of supervisors should not enact spurious legislation, claiming the need to protect health and safety when such important concerns are not involved.

And when, as the supervisors acknowledge, the laws they are proposing (and will enact) cannot possbily be met. I urged that they are simply forcing us to appeal against them to the courts. . . .

Low-Quality Photo Called Disgrace

The photographer (?), Roger Bockrath, obviously esteems his professional reputation no higher than he does the young ladies whom the picture supposedly honors.

I trust you will demand that Mr. Bockrath make amends by his coverage of the close of the contest. This will take place Nov. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Marin City Baptist Church.

As he passed down the line, his comments ran from, "Barely passable" to "If you don't get a haircut by reveille tomorrow, I'll send you to the guardhouse." Finally he swaggered past one recruit who was bald as an eagle. Without breaking his stride he barked with just the hint of a chuckle, "Above and beyond the call of duty."

Republicans In Congress Must Help Nixon Build His Bridge

WASHINGTON — There is a key to legislative success for President-elect Nixon in dealing with a Democratic Congress: a bridge of moderate Republicans to moderate Democrats over which moderate legislation can pass.

But it can't be taken for granted that the Republicans in Congress will make its building easy. Forces are already at work at two points to block this needed political bridge:

1 — Sen.-elect Barry Goldwater is blowing back into Washington from Arizona in a take-charge, no-compromise mood, aiming for right-of-Nixon control of the Senate Republicans.

2—There is a tough fight going on between a moderate and an ultraconservative for the No. 2 job in the GOP Senate leadership.

But on the help-Nixon side, there are suggestions that Republican and Democratic moderates in Congress might be able to form a loose, floating coalition which, with some give and take on both sides, could help put through major Administration measures.

THE WORD from Arizona is that Goldwater is returing to his seat in the U.S. Senate determined to see that his brand of Republicanism becomes dominant. It is evident that the Republican who failed to win the presidency in 1964 feels that he reflects the views of more voters than the Republican who won the presidency in 1968.

My information is that Goldwater has been eagerly telling friends that when he gets back to Congress in January the 27 million Americans who voted for him for President will at last be effectively represented.

There is no validity to this claim. The pure Goldwater vote in 1964 was about 3 million — no more. They represent his special constituency. The basis for this statement is that the others who voted for Goldwater constitute the basic partisan Republican vote, nearly the same percentage of the total vote that went to Herbert Hoover in 1932 and to Thomas Dewey in 1948. Beyond this basic party vote Goldwater added three million of his own special supporters, just as Nixon added about seven million voters to rock-bottom Republicanism this year.

It might be better for the Republican Party to let Nixon as President represent his 31 million voters— and others — than for Goldwater to try to represent 27 million of them.

THE POINT is that unless the Republican leaders in Congress are willing to create both an image and an instrument to enable themselves to work flexibly and comfortably with the Democratically controlled Congress, it will be impossible for Nixon himself to do so.

This is one of the reasons why the choice of the assistant GOP Senate leader to replace Sen. Thomas Kuchel, a Republican moderate, is so important. Here, again, Goldwater is making it clear that he wants to install alongside conservative Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen an even more conservative assistant minority leader in the person of Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

The choice is between Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, an articulate leader with whom all shades of Democrats and Republicans can do business, and Hruska. The decision is whether to make the top party leadership in the Senate 50 per cent more conservative than it was all during the Dirksen-Kuchel years at the very time when Nixon, if he is to be able to work effectively with Congress, needs a more balanced party leadership.

RIGHT NOW it looks as though Scott has more support than Hruska and it will probably remain that way unless Dirksen and Goldwater decide to join forces against him.

Nixon will need a bridge to Democratic moderates in Congress and he can't build it all by himself. He will need the help of like-minded Republicans in the Senate and House.

Nixon Urged To Retain Helms As Chief Of CIA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President-elect Richard M. Nixon is being strongly urged to retain career-man Richard Helms as head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Helms, appointed by President Johnson in 1966, has been with CIA since the big spy agency was established in 1947. His retention would go far toward nailing down a precedent for non-political, career directors of Central Intelligence.

Some of the keep-Helms sentiment is being relayed to Nixon by Democratic lawmakers. They are stressing the desirability of career continuity in CIA. They contend that the top CIA job has never been treated as a patronage plum.

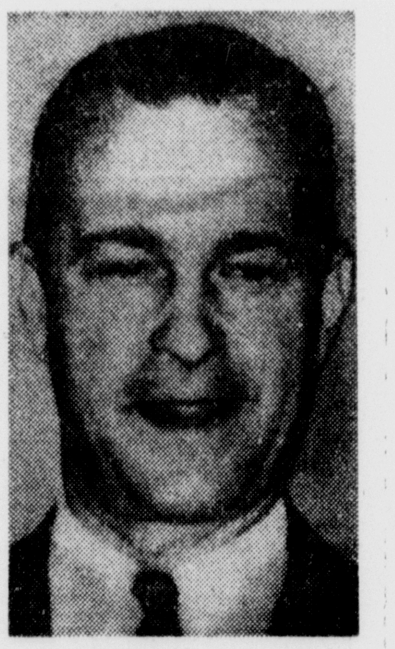
THEY ARE RIGHT that, by accident or by design, no President has ever made a purely partisan appointment of a CIA director. Three of the six CIA heads to date have, in fact, been military men, insulated by their profession from partisan politics.

An all-but-forgotten naval officer, Rear Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter, was the first director of Central Intelligence. He had been the head of a predecessor intelligence agency and was appointed by President Truman in 1947, when Congress established the CIA.

President Eisenhower appointed his World War II chief of staff, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to succeed Hillenkoetter in 1950. In 1953 Eisenhower appointed Allen W. Dulles as the first civilian director of Central Intelligence, succeeding Smith.

Dulles had an extensive intelligence background. He had been active in the study process which led to the creation of a civilian agency to coordinate all of the government's intelligence activities. President Kennedy, as one of his first appointments, announced that he was retaining Dulles.

IN 1961, after the ill-fated Bay of Pigs adventure, Democrat Kennedy named a Republican, John A. McCone, to succeed Dulles. McCone had been undersecretary of the Air Force and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission in the Eisenhower administration.



RICHARD HELMS
First career CIA chief

President Johnson named another military man, Adm. William F. Raborn, as McCone's successor in 1965. Helms was named as Raborn's deputy at that time. He was elevated to the top job when Raborn left it a year later.

A reporter in Europe before World War II, Helms became an intelligence officer during the war. He has been in military and civilian intelligence jobs ever since.

The law which created CIA bars appointment of military men to both of the CIA jobs. That requirement has been interpreted as requiring a civilian deputy for an officer director, and vice versa.

HELMS' performance as CIA chief and the performance of the agency under his direction is difficult to assess. No government operation in the world is under as steady a drumfire of criticism as CIA, but the agency gets generally high marks from the insiders who are familiar with the intelligence estimates which it produces.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

He Whose Call Is Turned Away Will Have To Call Another Day

One of the first things a reporter learns is not to rely on other people's telephone manners.

"He'll call you back" is the business equivalent of "you must look us up when you're in town," used to brush off fellow tourists at the end of a trip.

When a reporter is trying to reach someone for a story, he soon learns there are five basic replies which mean he'll have trouble reaching his man. There are infinite variations.

"HE ISN'T in the office yet, but I'll have him call you when he comes in." No self-respecting executive answers his phone calls immediately — that would show he has no more pressing business of his own.

"He's on another line right now, but I'll give him a note." The line he is on may be the one he's handing the new steno, but whatever it is, that note is going to get misplaced.

"He's stepped out of the office for a few minutes. Could I take a message?" That means he may not get back from his coffee break today.

"He's been expecting your call but he's just getting his notes together. Can I have him call you right back?" They never do.

"Well, he's in, but he's on the phone and there are 15 calls backed up and five people waiting to see him." This is the secretary's way of cutting down the work load. Anyone whose message isn't essential won't fight through the red tape.

NINETY PER CENT of the time, he man called won't return the call. After all, he gives first attention to his own business, as he should.

All the reporter can do is allow a decent interval and call again. And again and again. Eventually he will get through.

The only person who really is likely to call back is the man swamped with other calls and visitors. He needs the diversion.

INTERESTING slipup on a radio broadcast Wednesday when S. I. Hayakawa became acting president of San Francisco State College.

"Sessue Hayakawa has been named to head San Francisco State," the announcer said.

It might be a good idea at that. The noted Japanese actor and swordsman might bring his seven Samurai onto campus and settle the strike for once and all.

ANOTHER ERROR that made sense was a typo in a San Francisco paper that reported "special air passenger service between the bar area and Long Beach over the holiday season."

That's what I call service. And with San Francisco's alcoholism rate, a needed one.

MILLER AVENUE in Mill Valley looks vastly better than last year with the construction of three new buildings — Valley Park Convalescent hospital, Small World Auto Leasing, and the Malugani Tire Center.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

History Of Marin's Fair Puts Present Situation In Perspective

Fusselman

It is becoming almost impossible to make any sort of pertinent comment on the Marin transit setup, while it is in such a mixed-up tangle. There has been nothing but stalling, oratory and/or attempts at political hay making for all of these long four years.

This same trademark of the brass out at Brasilia is now being applied to the fairgrounds situation. Suppose we take a look once again at the background.

TWENTY-TWO years ago, in 1946, under the direction of my friend Aaron Rucker, the now famous Marin Art and Garden Show began emerging as a delightful and unique annual affair, a fair that has been thoroughly enjoyed by thousands of Bay Area folks.

Two years later, in 1948, the board of supervisors, on advice of the State Board of Fairs, constituted itself as the Marin County Fair Commission and received an initial $6,000 of pari-mutuel money for conducting the first official county fair. This established it as a going concern and we then became eligible to receive $65,000 a year from that fund for every year we conducted a fair.

We, as a commission, contracted with the Marin Art and Garden group to run the show on their beautiful property. The second year we appropriated $15,000 of the $65,000 for the show and gradually this appropriation was increased to $40,000 or more annually. The county banked the remainder of the $65,000 grant each year in a special fund to be used at some time in the future for a permanent fairgrounds.

WE WERE REQUIRED to submit our trophy lists and programs to Sacramento for approval each year. Roy Brown, the publisher of the I-J, became tremendously interested and drove with the board each year to Sacramento along with Mrs. Norman Livermore, Leon de Lisle, the county auditor-controller and the then director of public works, together with the current fair manager to work out the details. Mike Mitchell, the present auditor-controller, was assigned to the project and has continued actively ever since.

The fund, with accumulated interest, became larger and larger as the years went on, until there was more than enough to purchase 85 acres of the present Civic Center site. The state later evolved a different method of allocation of funds, with the money being reserved in Sacramento to the credit of each county conducting a fair. This has resulted in an appropriation of $1,076,000 of pari-mutuel money toward the present Veterans Memorial building construction. This has been matched by $1,180,000 of the so-called veterans' fund and other local taxes, making a total of $2,256,000.

THE VETERANS' FUND was brought about by Jim Kehoe and myself promoting a nest egg for some type of memorial to be determined, by them, when World War II was over. Small amounts on the tax rate year by year developed into the fund that is being used now.

Next week I would like to comment on the present ball-up that has taken place out at Brasilia respecting the operation.

New System For Holiday Mail Delivery

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson said today he plans to deliver more Christmas mail this year with fewer workers by using a "command post" which will drag some postmasters from bed for 3 a.m. weather and mail load reports.

"We believe we have a plan that will allow us to move what is anticipated to be 10 billion pieces of mail from about Thanksgiving to Christmas day," Watson said in an interview.

PROBLEM AREAS

"We further believe that should there be problems in any given area or given post office, we'll be able to determine the problem, which will allow us some opportunity to transfer some of that mail away from that particular point" for sorting elsewhere.

Watson said the post office will never abandon its "mail early" Christmas campaign because it helps spread the holiday crush. But he said he was optimistic his new system would be cheaper and more efficient than that of past years.

"Last year, I understand, they employed something between 120,000 and 125,000 seasonal and part-time people for the Christmas rush of mail," Watson said. "This year we estimate we will not employ over 55,000.

"We believe that by using trained personnel and paying them some overtime, the economics will be better."

The "command post," down the hall from Watson's gymnasium-sized office, will field phone calls on precise schedules. Postal officials throughout the nation will report on everything from the weather to the length of noontime lines.

LBJ PRAISE

President Johnson once called Watson "the most efficient man I have ever known" and postal officials say the short, smiling Texan appears anxious to prove the point, although he moved from the White House staff to the postal department just last April and will lose his job Jan. 20 when Richard M. Nixon becomes president.

Watson will leave behind an efficiency plan for the sprawling postal system he claims would triple the speed of letter sorting and save enough money for a "favorable return on investment," a contention he hopes will catch the fancy of Congress and perhaps even Nixon.

The proposal, costing an estimated $500 million, would replace men with machines in the mail sorting operations of the nation's 300 largest post offices.

Christmas Stamp Protested By Jews

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Jewish Congress has protested that the 1968 Christmas stamp issued by the U.S. Post Office violates the First Amendment guarantee of the separation of church and state.

The 6-cent stamp shows a detail from "The Annunciation"— a work for the 15th-Century Flemish master, Jan van Eyck, depicting the Angel Gabriel telling the Virgin Mary she has been chosen to bear the infant Jesus.

The AJC said yesterday in a letter to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson that when Christmas stamps were first issued in 1962 they showed "relatively innocuous" designs such a holly wreaths.

But, the letter declared, the Van Eyck painting celebrates "the dogma of the Virgin birth" and charged: "This amounts to government support of specific religious ideas even when those ideas are antithetical to the religious beliefs of others."

The AJC said that by issuing such a stamp "the government seta a precedent for using its power and prestige to support the celebration of a religious holiday."

The painting is in the national Gallery of Art in Washington.

New York Now Facing An Electrical Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television musicians are playing again. Workers at state mental hospitals have returned to the wards, and Long Island Rail Road engineers are back on the track. A labor peace? Not yet— now utility workers are set to walk out.

New Yorkers, who have already weathered police and firemen slowdowns and teachers and sanitationmen's strikes in 1968, braced today for a Sunday walkout by 20,000 workers at the Consolidated Edison Co.

Charles F. Luce, Con Ed board chairman, told 9,000,000 customers yesterday to expect "less than normal service" if the walkout occurs and appealed to the public to limit electrical usage during peak demand hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Luce said 4,000 supervisors would attempt to provide "essential" gas and electrical service for an indefinite period. "We are confident we can operate the system," he said, but added, "It will be a challenge."

The workers, members of Local 1-2 of the AFL-CIO Utility Workers of America, surprised their leaders and Con Ed officials by rejecting a proposed two-year contract Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the commuting challenge for 90,000 daily riders on the Long Island Rail Road appeared ended. Line officials said they expected "full service" but warned of possible delays due to new timetables.

Wildcat strikes by trainmen and engineers snarled service for three days beginning Monday this week. Then holiday snafus caused the cancellation of 20 of 270 runs and delays on 70 more yesterday.

A spokesman attributed the new trouble to problems in getting the men and machinery matched up. "We just didn't get all the guys in the same place with all the equipment," he said.

The line now gets its first test of the new timetables—its first major schedule change in 20 years. The changes, which union members said would cost them overtime pay, were blamed for the walkouts.

Nonprofessional workers who struck four state mental hospitals, disrupting the lives of thousands of patients for more than a week, began returning to the wards yesterday.

State officials said they would begin early next week to effect the return of 4,942 patients who had to be transferred to other institutions.

One patient under state care for 56 years at Manhattan State Hospital declared it was "the best Thanksgiving dinner I ever had" after the workers got back in time to prepare the traditional meal.

Several workers at Bronx State Hospital were notified they were suspended pending a police investigation of alleged acts of violence during the strike.

The striking workers, members of Council 50 of the State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, voted to end the walkout Wednesday after Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller agreed to cease bargaining with the rival Civil Service Employees Association.

Act Passed To Stabilize German Mark

BONN (AP) — The West German Bundesrat, upper house, today unanimously passed an emergency law to ease the world's financial crisis and forestall revaluation of the German mark.

It provides for a 4 per cent tax on West German exports and a 4 per cent cut in import taxes. It goes into effect tomorrow.

Passage by the upper house was only a formality following the Bundestag's parliament approval last night.

Exempted from the export tax are all contracts signed before Nov. 23 and due to be completed before Dec. 23. There also are provisions for exporters to appeal to the Finance Ministry for exemption on contracts which will not be completed by Dec. 23.

President of Mill Valley Rotary Club is Dr. William H. Pemberton.

French Senate Backs Franc Austerity Plan

PARIS (AP) — The Senate today approved by 157 votes to 87 President Charles de Gaulle's austerity finance bill designed to stave off devaluation of the franc.

The bill was approved yesterday by the National Assembly.

The bill provides cuts in government spending, increased sales taxes, a reduction in the tax on exports and service rate increases. It has been estimated the measures will raise the cost of living in France 1.5 to 3 per cent.

Center leader Jacques Duhamel saw De Gaulle's defense of the franc as an effort to ease closer to President-elect Richard M. Nixon in a common monetary front against West Germany.

Duhamel, chairman of the small Modern Progress and Democracy party, told the French Geographic Society last night he belives De Gaulle is aiming for an international monetary meeting on the franc-mark parity dispute.

French officials believe the mark should be revalued upward, while the Germans say France should devalue the franc.

Duhamel said he was happy about a prospect of closer ties between France and the United States.

"But at the same time, I hope the construction of Europe will not be compromized," he said. Duhamel also expressed hope that old sentiments against Germany would not be aroused, despite his view that "the German power appears excessive" and "her monetary superiority has become evident."

Retired SAC Chief Has Mild Stroke

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, (AP) — Gen. Thomas Power, retired commander of the Strategic Air Command, was in satisfactory condition today at March Air Force Base Hospital recovering from a mild stroke.

Power, 62, was hospitalized Nov. 21 after he was stricken at his Palm Springs home.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

There's something special about the playground and its equipment at the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School. All the slides, swings and climbing bars have been built by the fathers of the nursery school tots. There's even a treehouse with a fireman's pole for sliding. And the boys and girls enjoy their fun all the more because their playthings were built by the dads. The I-J Marin Magazine presents a pictorial feature on the playground tomorrow.

There are plans for a new library center at the College of Marin. But those facilities are scheduled for a 1972 completion. In the meantime, Calvin Kurzman, the college's library director, is hard at work with his staff providing the students and faculty with the best possible service from present facitities. A report on what Kurzman and his aides are doing, and some of the functions and problems of a community college library, will be spotlighted in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement.
